As you know this is the last issue of our county paper before the primary. I would like to say to you that I would like to have the place as Commissioner in the Third District if you think I can do the job. I believe I can with your help and cooperation.

I have seen lots of people, and you seem to be favorable; yet, I know I have not seen near all of them and won't get to see all of them. In this way, I am asking you who feel in favor of me to please tell your friends about me. Tell them I will appreciate their vote and cooperation enough to do my best to serve them in an honorable way.

I do not know a man that I would not have respect for; still, it is a little imbarrassing to me to walk up to you and ask you to vote for me. It is just a little like begging. If I could help you first, it would not be so bad.

I do not want to live for self alone but also for others. Therefore, if you vote for me—thanks, and if for some one else—thanks also.

C. L. WILKINS.

To The Voters Of Chilton County

I am a candidate for ALTERNATE DELEGATE to the Democratic National Convention from the 6th Congressional District of Alabama.

I am a married woman and have one child. I was born in the South and have lived in Alabama all of my life.

I am deeply interested in its problems and its welfare.

All of my people, and I, have always been good Democrats. I feel that any person who goes to the next Democratic Convention should have strong convictions with regard to the issues facing the South today. I want to go to the Convention; and if the people of this District send me, I promise to actively and vigorously support all measures for the benefit of the South—and to actively oppose all things detrimental to the South.

I have never before run for office, but throughout the years I have taken an active interest in politics and club work. I am a member of the Calera Methodist Church; I have served for four terms as resident of the American Legion Auxiliary Post at Calera; I am President-Elect of the Unique Study Club, and I am a member of the Calera Garden Club.

I want to thank you for your help and influence in connection with my campaign.

MRS. A. E. (Bud) NORWOOD.

Letters Endorsing Jim Dunlap For Commissioner

Dear Friends:

I would like for all my friends to know Mr. Jim Dunlap as he is in everyday life. I have worked for him some several years and found him honest, a good man to handle labor and it seems natural for him to handle construction work of all kinds. Help us elect him for Commissioner of the Fourth District.

Sincerely,
DEWIE CLECKLER.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

I would like to speak to all of you through the papers about my neighbor who is a candidate for the office of Commissioner from the Fourth District. Through many years of various dealings, I have found Jim Dunlap to be honest, sincere and a progressive citizen. I heartily endorse him for Commissioner from the Fourth District.

Thank you,
GEORGE THOMPSON.

We know Jim Dunlap asks for the office meritoriously and will execute the duties, not experimentally, but in a veteran, wise like manner, and will work for the public's benefit at all times. We know Jim Dunlap is the man we need for Commissioner from the 4th District:

J. L. Penton, J. O. Jones, Archie Bates, Morris Taylor, Leonard J. Easterling, Alvin Cleckler, J. A. Headley, Walter Maddox, Willie L. Moore, W. M. Mims, Clinton Smith, Fonzie Shaw, Cecil Armstrong, Frank Smith, W. J. Watson, Robert Rhodes, Vincent Ward.

To The Public:

I feel we are very fortunate in having a man of Jim Dunlap's calibre offering his services to the public in the capacity of Commissioner from the Fourth District. I have had personal contact and business dealings with Mr. Dunlap for some twenty odd years and have always found in him, a just and honest man. I believe he will make a Commissioner for all the people.

Very Sincerely,
MATHEWS MINOR.

To All Electors of Chilton County:

Since this week finishes for my appeals—through the papers—before our first Primary Election, I would like to first thank all who have been helping so much by assuring me of their able help now and at the polls. The mutual greetings I have found everythat your bestowed confidence will be where gratify and I again assure you cherished and executed cautiously.

My campaign has been clean and one that has brought me closer to many and close to newly made friends. I want everyone to know this is a grand feeling.

My last appeal now—through the papers—will be simple. I honestly ask your support on my merits. I will work hard to make you a Commissioner from the Fourth District like I want, an honest, efficient man.

Solicitously,
JAMES M. (Jim) DUNLAP.

MACEDONIA

There was a large crowd here last Sunday and Sunday night.

There was a successful W.M.U. meeting here last Saturday afternoon. There was a large crowd of women who attended the meeting along with Bro. Hand and wife.

This is a correction to my mistake in last week's News about the quartets who attended the all-day singing here. I want to ask the apology of the Firestone Quartet for leaving out their name. We enjoyed their singing and we invite them back.

The ones who attended the singing convention at Clanton last Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Moore, Mr. William Rasberry, Douglas Hayes, Harold Hayes, Hansel Rasberry, Hyman Rasberry, Mrs. Bronzelle Langston and J. W. and Floyd Langston.

ENTERPRISE SCHOOL NEWS

If you like your entertainment served in a jolly mood with each course becoming more humorous until you are stuffed with the joy of living, don't fail to see 'The Rainbow Girl," a play which will be presented by the graduating class of Enterprise Junior High School on the stage of the school auditorium on Wednesday night, May 12th, at 8 o'clock.

It is sparkling humor from start to finish. Each player in the cast has an excellent role and the play has the distinction of being a farce comedy on social welfare, a subject that has [illegible] been considered anything but humorous. Come to see "The Rainbow Girl" and find out as we have that the "blues" are just as in need of aid as the unemployed and the hungry. Bring lots of handkerchiefs — you will laugh until you cry. Admission 25c and 50c.

MACEDONIA — BEAT 11

There will be a cemetery cleaning at this place Friday, May 7. Everyone who has people buried here, please come and help clear the graveyard and fix it up. So bring tools to work with and come.

Next Sunday, May 2, is our preaching Sunday. Everybody come and be with us. We are still having Sunday School, if we do have a small crowd, but one thing we do have, is a real good teacher, Bro. Wallace Mims. Come and hear him teach.

Don't forget both services—Sunday School at 10; preaching at 11.

HOME-COMING

There will be a home-coming for Mrs. Paralee Martin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin who live about 3½ miles from Clanton on the Lay Dam Road Sunday, May 2. All of her relatives and friends are invited to bring their lunch and help her enjoy the day.

NOT TOO LATE

There is still time to plant crotalaria. Farmers are finding it to be a wonderful crop for improving land that is planted to corn every year, and for their thin eroded cropland.

Jarman Voted Against School Lunch Bill

Congressman Jarman voted against the School Lunch Bill. (The Bill did not contain the Bender substitute amendment which would deny funds to any State with separate schools, or segragation of pupils, it having previously been rejected by voice vote). The Bill was sponsored by the Democratic majority then in control of Congress, and Representative John W. Flannagan (D. Va.) Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, declared that never before in his long service in the House had he seen legislation so widely backed by people of all sections of the country. I can find no recorded vote in the Congressional Record, nor does Editorial Research Reports show any recorded vote in the Congressional Record where Jarman voted in favor of the Lunch Fund Program. 165 Democrats voted for the Bill which Jarman voted against and only 45 Democrats voted against it.

Jarman Fails To Vote On 68 Bills

The present congressman was absent from the House, or is not recorded as having voted on 68 bills dealing with important legislation during his stay in office.

Jarman Votes 5 Times Against Income Tax Reductions

Congressman Jarman voted 5 times against income tax reductions since June 1, 1947, and was absent or failed to vote twice on income tax reduction.

Jarman Votes To Send Fertilizer And Farming Implements Overseas

Congressman Jarman voted against restricting much needed fertilizer and farm implements from being sent to Europe and voted against the interest of the farmers of this District when the Interim Aid Bill was voted on. He further spoke against the restricting or eliminating amendment.

Jarman Fails To Vote On Veterans Housing Bill

Congressman Jarman was absent and failed to vote on the Emergency Veterans Housing Bill on March 7, 1946.

Jarman Fails To Vote On Marshall Plan

Congressman Jarman was absent and failed to vote on the Foreign Assistance or Marshall Plan Bill on March 31, 1948, and stated in a recent speech that he was glad to READ IN THE PAPER where it had passed the House.

Jarman Has Not Expressed Opposition To Truman

Congressman Jarman has traveled along with Truman, is closely aligned with the administration, and while saying he is opposed to the "Civil Rights" Program has not expressed opposition to Truman himself.

Jarman Thinks Communists Are After Him

Congressman Jarman, like Don Quixote fighting imaginary windmills, likes to picture communists and radical groups on his trail, especially in the Black Belt. As far as I am concerned I am a pro-Southern Democrat, not only against the "Civil Rights" issues, believing they are matters to be settled by the various State Legislatures, but I am also against Truman being the nominee for President of the Democratic Party.

I am not aligned with any group or organization and have not received any endorsement or financial aid from any organization or group.

I want the votes of all of the qualified voters of this District, and will serve all of the people fairly and impartially as congressman of the District.

If you elect me to congress I will stay on the job and vote for the welfare of the people of this District.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude for the wholehearted and enthusiastic support my friends have given me in this campaign. With your continued help we will not fail. I sincerely thank each of you from the bottom of a grateful heart.

Clanton, Ala., April 27, 1948.

DEAR FRIENDS:

This will be my last opportunity to speak to you through the columns of this Newspaper prior to the election next Tuesday. I have no last minute propaganda to use against my opponents. If I have done or said anything during my campaign to reflect on their character or integrity it was wholly unintentional on my part.

Too, I have tried to remain strictly to the Tax Assessor's race and not to interfere in any wise in the affairs of Candidates for other offices.

I have not and will not align myself with any other Candidate as I consider this Primary purely a family affair and no undue advantage should be taken of any Candidate.

I would like to repeat here that I will actively support the Nominees of the Democratic Party regardless of the outcome of my race.

Now, in going over the County, I have found some to express surprise when they discovered that I was married and had a family. I would like to note here that I have three boys, one in High School, one in the Clanton Grammar School and another of non-school age. Too, we all belong to the Methodist Church here in Clanton and try to attend church as regularly as conditions will permit.

Being born and reared in Chilton County, I naturally am interested in anything that would improve the status and well being of its people. You will always find me actively supporting anything pertaining to the improvement and upbuilding of our County.

Your Tax Assessor is somewhat limited officially in the services that he can render the people. The financial affairs and the policies directed are, of course, in the hands of your Commissioners Court. However, I have possibly gone somewhat beyond the scope of my duties in attempting to keep inflationary or high tax values, so to speak, off of the tax books of Chilton County. I think I can truthfully say that we have little, if any, inflationary values on your tax books. Your Board of Equalization, of course, is to be congratulated for this, for they and not the Tax Assessor, have final authority on tax values. I have worked with the Board with the idea always in mind to keep inflationary values off of our books. It would be well for you to consider this for if your Tax Assessor does not give good judgement or his personal attention to each individual assessment, tax values would sooner or later take a jump. I own real estate in Chilton County and know what paying taxes feels like. I do not think any of us object to paying taxes if we pay on an equal basis with our neighbors. If you have any objections, then come see me. Others have and they have gotten results. That is part of my job and I am not dodging it.

In closing, I wish to thank each and every one of you for your continued support and efforts in my behalf. Your vote and influence in behalf of my bid for a second term, as your Tax Assessor, will be highly appreciated.

Very sincerely yours, N. L. "Buck" ROBERTS.

Farm Ownership Has Proven successful In Chilton County

Since the passage of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act of 1937, a total of 82 families have bought land in Chilton County through the Farm Security and now the Farmers Home Administration, according to Boadman N. Ivey, County Supervisor. All of these loans are repayable over a 40 year period. However, up to date 28 of these have paid for their farms in 10 years or less, instead of taking 40 years.

Mr. Ivey states there are 49 families who are now tenants, (veterans and non-veterans), who have been tenatively approved for the purchase of a farm. This many families are in the market to buy a family type farm, that is, one about 60 to 120 acres in size, having about 30 to 40 acres of cultivatable land; the rest in pasture and woodland. The minimum buildings are a good house, barn, smoke house, and a sanitary toilet.

According to Mr. Ivey, the maximum price is based on a long time agricultural value of land. If the buildings mentioned above are not present, of course, the price would have to be low enough for the building to be built and still come within the agricultural value of the land.

In order to assist these families, (veterans and non-veterans) to locate a farm, Mr. Ivey asks that if you have a farm similar to the above description, that it be listed with his office which is located over the Chilton County News.

Shoppers Will Find Fruits, Vegetables in Plentiful Supply

Auburn, Ala. — Homemakers who keep one eye on the household food budget will find plenty of vegetables and fruits in May.

Topping the list of "plentifuls" listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the field of fresh vegetables will be cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce, Irish potatoes, and celery from commercial producing areas. These, of course, will be supplemented by a wider variety of early spring vegetables from home gardens.

The USDA points out also that citrus-producing states have reported near-record crops of oranges, grapefruit, and lemons. Chickens are in the plentiful class again, with prices relatively low compared with those for competing foods. Eggs also are in liberal supply, and at prices well below the winter peak.

Save Seed To Plant Big Legume Acreage

Winter legume seed should be harvested on several thousand acres in Alabama during May and early June, J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist, predicted this week. A good part of the seed will come from crimson clover, Caley peas, and lupine.

County agents report that these seed will be needed this fall in large amounts. Farmers have found that for best yields of cotton, corn, and other crops they must use winter legumes in crop rotations. In corn demonstrations of the last two years highest yields were made where farmers turned legumes before planting corn, surveys by county agents show.

Lowery reminded farmers of the trouble they have had for several years in getting enough nitrogen. "Very likely there still will not be as much nitrogen as we would like to have even in 1949. So growing winter legumes will help meet needs next year. Every pound of seed you can save and plant this fall for soil improvement will be a profitable investment," he said.

Saving winter legume seed is now out of the experimental stage in Alabama, combines are available in most areas, and operators are experienced in saving winter legume seed.

Thirteen years ago there was very little equipment for seed saving and practically no recleaning machinery in the state. In 1935 less than 1,000,000 pounds of winter legume seed were saved. But Lowery stated that in 1947 more than 19,000,000 pounds of seed were saved and recleaning outfits served most of the state.

Make More Plantings Gardeners Are Urged

Auburn, Ala. — To have more vegetables over a longer period this summer, make more plantings in early May.

J. C. Ford, API extension gardener, suggests that bush and pole beans, sweet corn, field peas, turnips, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes be planted. "Too often gardeners do not stretch the plantings over a long period. This means that the family runs out of fresh vegetables long before the actual growing season is half over," added Ford.

When hanging pictures on a plastered wall, if you will stick some adhesive tape or Scotch tape on the wall and then nail the tack through this, it will prevent cracking the plaster.

Farming Is Far Cry From 50 Years Ago

Auburn, Ala. — No doubt about it, today successful farming is a far cry from what it was in Grandpa's time.

Fifty years ago a farmer grew most of the things he needed and used most of those things he grew. He lived at home, as did the great majority of people in that day, and there was little surplus to sell and few to buy it

But farming today is a highly competitive commercial business. A. W. Jones, API extension marketing specialist, points this up by stating that now only one out of five people live on farms and they grow what the other four need. The surplus produced by today's farmer must bring a fair price so that he may buy the goods and services produced by non-farm people.

If a farmer is to be successful under present-day conditions, Jones says:

(1) He must have good land or make it good. Better equipment, machinery breeding stock, seed, and fertilizer cannot be sacrificed on land unsuited to the exacting requirements of his crop and livestock production.

(2) He must have power and equipment to produce more abundantly and economically.

(3) He must produce the kind and quality of food and fiber that consumers want, when they want it, and at a price that wil compete with every other farmer.

(4) He must make enough to pay for land, machines, fertilizer, seed, etc., and then have enough left to buy goods and the services needed for today's standard of living.

(5) He must develop and support his own farm organizations to make farm problems known and to get fair economic treatment.

SARDIS

We had a good attendance at church Sunday evening. Bro. Woodward was there and brought the message which everyone enjoyed very much.

Our Sunday School is planning a Mother's Day program for the second Sunday in May and as this is our regular preaching day we are all going to carry lunch and spend the day. We invite all who will to come out and be with us. There will be preaching, singing and talks throughout the day.

BETTER CONDITION

A little tankage mixture and a lot of alfalfa or crimson clover, or white Dutch, along with a limited corn feeding, will insure hogs being in a thrifty vigorous breeding condition.

U. S. ARMY NEWS

High school graduates have a twofold opportunity to continue their education by enlisting in the Regular Army, Sgt. Aussant, Commanding Officer of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station, announced today.

Volunteers enlisting for a minimum of three years can either be trained in an occupational skill of their own choosing, or, if they wish, they can receive college credits by enrolling in a self-study program sponsored by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute (USAFI).

The Army recently launched an unprecedented pre-selected school plan Sgt. Aussant explained, which permits a qualified high school graduate to pick his own field of specialization before he enlists. Following basic training he is then assigned to the school which gives the training in the subject chosen before enlistment.

Since USAFI's inauguration in 1942, more than 1,800,000 students have broadened their education by taking courses ranging from literature and history to accounting and drafting. Enlisted men, with high school educations, can enroll for university correspondence courses and receive credits toward a college degree. Fifty-nine colleges and universities are cooperating with USAFI in this educational program.

All U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Stations now have complete information and material on the Armed Forces Institute and will be glad to discuss the USAFI program with interested high school graduates. Here in Chilton County, the station is located in the New Wade's Building, Clanton, Ala.

Pete Jarman Has Failed To Assist The Old People Of His District

[illegible] ional race in our [illegible] all the old people and everyone else in this county to vote for him. Mr. de Graffenried has promised to use his best efforts in Congress to have the Social Security law amended so that everyone will be covered by Social Security. It is my understanding that the Social Security law has been in effect for eleven years. Mr. Jarman has been in Congress for twelve years, and during this twelve years I can't remember a single instance where he has done anything to have the law extended to cover the farmers and small business men. The farmers are just as important as any other type of labor. They are called on to feed the nation and what is more important than food? The farmers raise large families, get old and broken down just like anyone else, and if our Government has made provisions to take care of other people it should make provisions to take care of the farmers and other people who are not under Social Security now. Most Government workers are covered by a pension program. Why is a Government worker any more important and entitled to a pension when he gets old than the farmers or anyone else?

If Pete Jarman and other Congressmen and Senators had been on the job, many old people who are not now drawing Social Security would have been drawing a pension from the Government each month.

Our Congressman does not realize that the farmers need help in [illegible]. He has been out of touch with the people [illegible] his district [illegible] their needs. Mr. Jarman draws a [illegible] $12,500 [illegible] 500 a year [illegible] wife makes [illegible] month [illegible] the [illegible] others. [illegible]

Mr. Edward de Graffenried has the record of being one of the most [illegible] lawyers in Alabama. The people of Tuscaloosa have full confidence in his ability to serve in Congress. He received a vast majority of the votes there two years ago, and according to reports from Tuscaloosa County he will receive a much larger vote this time. He has served as Solicitor of Tuscaloosa County being elected by the people. We need to make a change in Congressmen and now is the time to do it.

Jemison FFA Tours Poultry Processing Plant April 21st

Forty-one FFA members from the Jemison Chapter visited the new poultry processing plant in Montgomery on Wednesday, April 21. We received a hearty welcome from Mr. Walsh, acting manager of the plant, who gave us a brief outline of the organization and operation of the plant. He then carried us through the plant showing and explaining the different phases of operation.

Mr. Walsh explained to us that this plant could process 6,000 birds per day running at full capacity, but they are only processing this number each week due to the lack of chickens. About two-thirds of the chickens processed each week come from Georgia.

We found that the price of friers at the plant that day was 41c while the price in Georgia was 38c and the local price was 35c per pound.

When we left the plant we visited Mr. Walsh's Poultry Farm where he explained breeding, feeding and incubating chickens.

This trip was very educational and was enjoyed thoroughly by all.—Reece Nichols, Reporter.

Mastitis Expensive For State Dairymen

Mastitis is costing Alabama dairymen more money than any other disease and strong measures need to be taken to combat it.

A disease that attacks the cow's udder, mastitis causes the animal to lose at least 25 per cent of her productive ability, explains John Parrish, extension dairy specialist, Alabama Polytechnic Institute. The greatest loss is butterfat production.

The dairy specialist advises farmers to inspect the conditoin of udders in their present herds and to sell badly infcted cows at once. Future purchases should be only cows with sound, healthy udders.

Clean hands and milking machines will do much to reduce the spread of mastitis, says Parrish.

WE'RE SORRY — BUT IT CAN'T BE HELPED

Several correspondents sent in community news this week that reached us too late for this edition. We're sorry, but there is a time limit involved in publishing a newspaper that just cannot be ignored. If the copy fails to reach us Tuesday, it is impossible for us to get it all in the paper Wednesday afternoon, when the News goes to press. If it is possible for you to get your news in earlier it will be greatly appreciated.—The Editor.

Freedom doesn't mean that you have the right to say and do as you please—all the time.

Nineteen Forty Eight is also a "leap" year for pedestrains.

There is always a little person to criticize those who are trying to do something worth while.

THE PEOPLE HAVE SPOKEN

It is the duty of all candidates now to make the rounds of their county and shake hands with all the other candidates, winners and losers, and wish them well. No one likes a poor loser and the people have spoken at the polls. They have made their choice for the run-off on June 1, and every loser should be sport enough to wish the winners good luck.

TAX SALE TIME

Jack Hayes reminds us this week that it is time to advertise property for sale for delinquent taxes. According to [illegible] will be a few more than last year, that year being [illegible]. You can still save yourself some ex[illegible] embarrassment by going at once to Collector [illegible]e and attending to same.

SPRING OFFERS BEAUTY

[illegible] year the youngsters of Chilton County [illegible] their elders and inquire into the mystery [illegible] the natural beauty that delights us all [illegible].

The hard-pressed adult, with a hazy knowledge of the [illegible] the seasons, will go into a dissertation about Summer, Winter and Spring. He will dwell, no doubt, upon the [illegible] of leaf and bloom that transforms the landscape as winter passes on.

Without going into the scientific explanation and without knowing too much about the revolution of the sun around the earth and the inclination of the earth's axis, we pause long enough to welcome the advent of what is perhaps the loviest exhibition of nature.

The dead hand of winter loosens its grip upon the earth and the vegetable world stages the greatest spectacle that man ever witnessed. The elixir also affects animals and men as physical bodies appear refreshed for earthly existence.

When we witness the apparent resurgence of vital forces, we are prone to seek a moral and to grasp a hope. All that is certain, however, is that the inexorable laws of nature continue their inevitable procession, inviting men and women to enjoy the delightful experience and to seek an understanding of its fundamental cause.

Naturally, as nature dresses herself in this hemisphere, we like to think that human beings will refurnish their habitations and brighten the areas upon which they dwell. Men and women feel the urge to challenge nature in a contest of beauty. In fields and gardens they begin to plant, expecting to reap the harvest that attends their efforts. House-cleaning, house-painting and the beautification of towns and cities seem to be the logical enterprises for us as nature paints a panorama of riotous color and bloom.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

So successful were we in our pick in the recent election that we have decided that we are an authority on politics. And, that being the case, puts us in line for Mayor. You know we have to elect a mayor this summer, so, what we say is, why not elect a winner. Now let's see. What ticket will we run on? Can't run on the laundry ticket—Leo runs on that. We could run on a parking ticket, but every cop in town would give us away. The voters wore out the democratic and republican tickets in the past election. Come to think of it we don't have a ticket left and more than likely after this week we will have to run for the City Limits—we live outside anyhow and can't vote in the city. Another dream blasted.

What a job Wallace Cox is doing with his machinery over at the Grammar School playground. Property owned by the school and for years doing no good what-so-ever is fast being turned into a spacious playground for the youngsters. It is costing money, that is true, but it is certainly going to be worth every penny it co[illegible] [illegible]ildren some place to play [illegible] on those "rolling stones" [illegible]

[illegible], Clanton Route, wrote us last week about printing a list of the Delegates to the National Democratic Convention. We run the names of the Delegates on page 12 last week and we hope this answered his needs. We are always glad to get letters from our readers and if it is possible we will always try to comply with their requests. Also we are glad to print letters to the editor at all times and if they are not too long or involve libel, we will do so.

Seen around the Country Club Sunday: Mrs. Milton Barth, and we will bet a cookie that she is Clanton's champion woman golfer. . . .Dock Levine and Myron. Dock's drive hooked and dropped about 15 yards from the tee and he bragged that it was one of his longer shots. The ones previous had just been short drives. . . .R. C. Williams, Buck Tucker, Sam Johnson, Dewey Rockett, Frank Callen.

Dewey Rockett had some pine cut on one of his places and dressed at his mill. Later the pine was sold to, we believe, a northern concern. Anyway, the other day the pine was returned to Clanton in the form of window frams, ready for use. Now how they knew it was the same pine we couldn't say. That's just the story that was told to us.

A campaign begins in the county this week to which each of us should give much thought and much aid. It is the "Crusade for Children." The Crusade is headed by Dr. Henry M. Edmonds and is designed to provide food, clothes and medical care for the millions of helpless, starving children in war-torn nations. It is a world-wide organization and deserves all the help that we can afford to give.

While we are speaking of drives remember the drive for the American Cancr Society is now in progress. No doubt Mrs. N. S. Johnson and Mrs. Bob Oglesby have called on you, or some of the good ladies who take part in those worth while things in our town. It, too, is a worthy cause and deserves your support.

The cafes should be commended for their part in the Cancer Drive. Last Friday they gave coffee away free and the guzzlers could donate anything they wanted to, a five-cent piece to a five-dollar bill, for the cancer drive. We haven't been able to learn how much was raised by the coffee method but in Clanton, we bet it was a pretty penny.

Bet you are tired of hearing about politics for awhile. Well, there's no rest for the weary. Now we have to start thinking who we will support in the run-off. Oh well, there ain't near as many in this next one to vote against as there was in the last one.

Hugh Webb is for starting a Press Club here and we're for it. The purpose of course would be for swaping ideas on advertising and the study of improved methods. It could be of great benefit to the business men of the county as well as to the advertising people of this county. Who knows things might develop.

Threefold Prosperity

(By REV. A. T. HICKMAN)

Text 3, John 2: "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth."

I will also ask that you read for yourself Joshua 1:2-8; and notice the words spoken to Joshua after the death of Moses. Moses had led the Children of Israel from Egypt, across the Red Sea; and through the wilderness; and was about to enter the Promised Land. But Moses failed the Lord. He failed to glorify God when he was told to speak to the Rock. Instead of Moses speaking to the Rock as God had commanded him, he smote the Rock twice. For this failure, Moses was cut off, and was not permitted to lead Israel on into the Promised Land.

But God had a man to take up where Moses laid down. This man was none other than Joshua. Now Joshua felt his inability to lead Israel as Moses had lead them. God [illegible] encourage Joshua, gave him this [illegible]e in Joshua 1:2-8 Telling him to arise up and go over Jordan and [illegible] the land God promised Joshua that he would be with him as he had been with Moses. God gave him the receipt to success and prosperity.

Joshua was to be strong and of a good courage. Now this is important in any undertaking. A strong will and a courageous spirit is half of the success of any undertaking. Those who are determined to success rarely fail. For determination and courage is the bed-rock to success.

Please note that Joshua was to meditate in the Law of God day and night. He was not to turn from it to the right hand or to the left, but was to keep the commandments written therein; and observe all its teaching; with the promise that he would prosper whithersoever he went; and that he would have good success. This requirement reminds us of the First Psalm, saying, "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners; nor sitteth in the seat of the corful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord. And in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in season, his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper." Friends, the untrodden paths lie out before each of us. How rough the going, or how smooth the sailing, we do not know. But I am sure of one thing; it will take faith in God, and obedience to His Word for us to have the success in life, and the prosperity, we desire, and which will be the will of God for us to have.

Now let me call your attention to the text. "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper, and be in health, even as thy soul doth prosper." This verse of Scripture reveals a "Threefold" prosperity. Natural prosperity; bodily prosperity; and spiritual prosperity. In other words, we have the prosperity of the pocket-book; prosperity in health, and prosperity of the soul. This kind of prosperity I wish for one and all. It is my desire that every need shall be supplied to you throughout life. That each of you may be as prosperous as you desire, just so you prosper honestly. I also wish for one and all prosperity in health. That is, that sickness and illness will not come your way, but that you may be able to enjoy the very best of health in the long years to come. And then last, but not least, I wish for you a spiritual prosperity. That if you are not a Christian, you will be soon by accepting Jesus Christ as your Lord and Saviour. Then that you may grow in grace and in knowledge of our Lord. That there will be no temptation to overtake you, but what you will have power and grace sufficient to overcome, and triumph in Jesus Christ; that every stumbling stone that befalls your pathway will become stepping stones to higher grounds with you. That your faith might be increased from day to day.

Now let us consider a receipt to such a "threefold prosperity." First, that of the soul. To prosper spiritually one must feed his soul daily with the Word of God. "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Matt. 4:4. Then the Christian as babes should desire the sincere milk of the Word that they may grow thereby. To prosper in soul you must learn to observe, obey and do, the things that are taught for us in the Word of God. Not just a hearer of the Word, but a doer of the Word. . .If so, this man shall be blessed in his deeds. James 1:22-25. Spiritual exercise is also necessary for spiritual prosperity.

Second, prosperity of the body. In Ex. 15:26 we have this promise, though it was made direct to Israel, it may be applied today for our benefit. "The Lord said, if thou wilt diligently harken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and will do that which is right in his sight, and will give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statures; I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptains, for I am the Lord that healeth thee." With this promise from God, the children of Israel were assured that many things that befelled the Egyptians in the way of diseases would never come upon them, if they kept His Word. We also find in Psa. 107:17. "ools gecause of their transgression, and because of their sins, are afflicted. Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death, then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses." Indeed there are thousands suffering ill-health today because of a life lived in sin. Indulgence in the life of sin has wrecked their lives, weakened their strength, and robbed them of good health and happiness. You cannot violate God's spiritual laws, and his natural laws, without paying the penalty. aithfully keeping the commandments of God, and co-operating with the laws of nature will assist us in bodily prosperity.

Third, natural prosperity. I will not tell you how to get rich, only to have what you need. After all a man's life does not consist in the abundance of the things he hath. Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all necessary things will be added unto thee. Things that are needful for the body. Food, drink, clothing, and everything that we might need. Then in Prov. 3:9-10. "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruit with all thine increase, so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine."'. ..And again he said, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sake, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you blessed; for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord." Mal. 3:10-11.

Though you may say this will not hold good today. . .Yes, but it will. Too many Christians have already tried it, and proved that God means what he has said in His Word.

Now, I commend you to God, who is able to supply all your needs according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. Amen.

HOGS ON SERICEA

Some farmers over the state are grazing sericea with hogs. They report that hogs eat it reasonably well when confined on it and while it's young and tender.

KUDZU

Cultivation of new kudzu plantings keeps down weeds and helps runnners "peg down." If kudzu was not fertilized at plantings, apply some when you cultivate.

BEFORE JULY RAINS

Due to the rush to get crop planted in the spring, many farmers neglected to repair broken and weak terraces. This needed repair work should be done before July rains set in.

Early Cultivations Give Weed Control

There will be fewer weeds to kill later in row crops if a good job is done soon after planting, farmers have learned in past years.

They follow the row planter with a tooth weeder, section harrow, or rotary hoe exactly four days after planting. This operation is repeated four days later and then again after four more days. J. B. Wilson, extension agricultural engineer, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, says this method gives cheapest and easiest control of weeds and grass in row crops.

SAVE SEED

Harvest and properly store winter legume seed, white clover, and small grain. There will be a demand for these seed later on, and prices will be high.

TREAT FOR WORMS

Spring pigs that give evidence of worm infestation and that have not been treated with sodium fluoride should be treated this month. Ask county agent for details.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the Title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages and judgments or other liens, affecting the Title, which an Abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an Abstract of Title be furnished. The 4-Wheel-Drive UNIVERSAL 'Jeep' Gets Through to the Job

Whenever men, tools and equipment must be taken right to the job, the "Jeep" is the answer. It goes wherever the work requires—through mud, sand or bad roads and over terrain impossible to cross with ordinary vehicles. It operates with speed and economy on the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive; yet shifts instantly to 4-wheel drive for sure traction and steady pulling over rough country.

POWER WHERE NEEDED

The Universal "Jeep" provides power when and where needed. With power-take-off the "Jeep" operates compressors, welders, generators, winches, blowers and other equipment which can be mounted on it.

Four Candidates Prepare For Race In June Run-Off Election

Committees Named On Peach Festival Program

At a recent Peach Festival planning meeting committees were named and work was started to make this year's peach festival the event of the year.

With a good outlook for a very heavy peach crop, the festival planning committee feels that this year's festival should be carried out in such a way as to advertise Chilton County peaches to the very best advantage. each producers of the county feel that now is the time to improve the quality of their fruit and establish new market [illegible]. [illegible] also feel that [illegible] they are badly pressed for markets for their fruit it may be too late to start.

Last year's peach festival produced excellent results. With the first festival behind us, the planning committee feels that this year's festival should accomplish even more than last year's in creating new markets for Chilton County peaches.

This year's peach festival can be larger and will be accompanied by even more fan fare and color than the previous year. During the week of the festival the Lee Amusement Company will play at Clanton and will be an added attraction at the festival. Since the Lee Amusement Company carries no gambling device or game of chance, the committee felt that it can add a great deal to the festival.

Most of the various peach festival committees [illegible] the various committee chairmen are contacting members of their committee in [illegible] listed the [illegible] committees [illegible].

IN RUN-OFF ELECTION JUNE FIRST

ABNEY BROWN

N. H. HARRELL

RE-ELECTED ASSESSOR

N. L. (Buck) ROBERTS

For the past six years your Tax Assessor, he was re-elected in Tuesday's election to another term. Mr. Roberts also received a clear majority over two opponents.

WINS AGAIN

M. C. (Jack) HAYES

Mr. Hayes was re-elected Tuesday to six more years as your Tax Collector. He received a clear majority over his two opponents.

IN RUN-OFF

JAMES M. (Jim) DUNLAP

James M. Dunlap, who was runner-up in the election Tuesday, will be in the run-off election to be held June 1st, with Robert Holley. They are candidates for the place as Commissioner of District Four.

Robert F. Holley's Thanks

I wish to express to the voters of Chilton County my appreciation for the good vote I received in the Primary May 4th. I saw many of you good voters before the primary, some of you saw fit to vote for my opponents, which was your Democratic privilege.

I will be in the run-off in the Primary June 1st. I now want to solicit the vote, support and influence of those who saw fit to vote for my opponents in the first Primary.

I fully realize that the office of road commissioner of district four is one of the most important offices in the county. That official is entrusted with working hundreds of miles of public roads, and with working and handling many men and the handling of thousands of dollars worth of road machinery and equipment. He is also entrusted with the handling and careful expending of thousands of dollars of the taxpayer's money. To do this successfully it is my judgment that the official elected should have much business experience. I have stated in the papers before that I have held responsible positions with the Alabama Power Company, the Tennessee Valley Authority, Georgia Light and Power Company and the Arkansas Light and Power Company for 26 years With this experience and background I feel that I could do the road work efficiently and handle the finances in a business-like way.

I want to assure each of you that I have made no political alignments or political tie-ups with any person, political group, or organization. If elected your Commissioner on June 1st, I want to be the County official or servant of all of the people and free of any tie-ups or entanglements.

Again thanking you for your continued support and influence through the Second Primary June 1st.

Your friend,

ROBERT (Bob) F. HOLLEY.

A RESOLUTION

In a joint meeting of the Executive Committees of the Unity and Chilton Associations on the 14th day of March, 1948, the following resolution was offered and adopted:

Whereas: Brother H. A. Harris served Unity Association in various office capacities, said services extending beyond the Unity Association into the Chilton Association, and whereas, Brother Harris was ever loyal and faithful in the performance of his Christian duties, even beyond his physical ability, we do hereby wish to express our deep appreciation for his faithful services, and extend our heartfelt sympathy and prayers to his family.

We are led to believe the good work Brother Harris has done in his church and school relationship will live on in the lives he touched. Surely, he has gone to meet his rewards, which are many. We think of Felix Adler's article, "The Torch Bearer."

"The hero is the one who kindles a great light in the world, who [illegible] up blazing torches in the dark st[illegible] of life for men to see by. The saint is the man who walks through the dark paths of the world, himself a light."—J. Z. Mims, W. J. Billingsley, S.J.M. Webb, Committee.

Mrs. Kathryn Browning and W. A. Collins, Jr., were quietly married on last Friday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the Rev. Collie Seymour of the United Protestant Church, who read the marriage vows. Attending this couple were Miss Bettye Ogburn and Orrville Martin, Jr. The bride wore a suit of grey with pink blouse with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias. They are at home in the McClain home on Thorsby Highlands. Our congratulations and best wishes to this young couple.

Mrs. Ellis Jones is confined to her home on account of illness.

The Thorsby Garden Club will meet on next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, May 12th, at the home of Mrs. James Bosworth. All members and any one interested are urged to attend.

The Thorsby Civic Club met at the Town Hall on Monday night. They voted to build some bleachers over in the park, and the work is expected to get under way in a short time.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Enterprise School News

Don't forget. "The Rainbow Girl," a new play to be presented by the graduating class of Enterprise Junior High School from the stage of the school auditorium Wednesday night, May 12, at 8:00 p.m.

The play is based on social welfare work. If you doubt that this is an interesting subject for a play, come and be convinced we have been prone to treat welfare work as a serious obligation and so it is—but it has the most excrutiatingly humorous element in its benevolence which we have completely over-looked until the advent of this unusually clever play. What we need is more laughter in our philanthropy says the author, and believe us, he has certainly given it to us. From the start until the final curtain, it is one round of merriment.

Following is the cast of characters in the play:

Roxanna Real, The Rainbow Girl Elaine Edwards; Potter Carrington, a financier, John William Hill; Mrs. Potter Carrington, a social leader, Ruby Cox; Odele Carrington, a social welfare worker, Magdelene Neeley; Eugene Carrington, the cynic of the family, Glenn Hamm; Elbert Chippendale, a soap king, Barney Henderson; Mrs. Chippendale, a jewel case, Bobby Knight; Claudette Chippendale, the charming daughter, Myra Davis; Preston, a butler in name only, Leo Hamm; Nina, a Russian maid, perhaps, Frances Hathcock; Gardenia, a discolored cook, Mildrel Taylor.

Mrs. Reuben Gaylor and her music pupils will give a recital Friday night, May 14th. The graduation exercises will be held Thursday night, May 20.

Sets Record Despite Handicap

LAFAYETTE, VA.—Thirty-two years without missing a Sunday at her church school, in spite of the handicap of helpless invalidism, is the record of cheerful Miss Lillian Wallthall of this community.

She and her father, J. G. Wallthall, her wheelchair chauffeur, have just been honored in a commendation from Dr. M. Leo Rippy of Nashville, Tenn., director of the Department of Christian Education of Adults of The Methodist Church.

Their citation for fidelity was made in connection with the April-May "Crusade for Christ" effort to increase adult attendance in the 37,450 Sunday schools of the denomination.

DDT Spraying Needed For Control Of Ticks

Auburn, Ala. — A complete DDT spray program on Alabama farms is more important than ever, W. H. Gregory, livestock specialist of the extension service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, warned this week.

"There are Texas fever ticks in Florida and we are trucking many cattle into Alabama from that state. we must use DDT to keep down serious infestations of these ticks," explained Gregory. He added that the time is right to practically eliminate mosquitoes and flies as well as ticks on farms in the state.

When your pie or casserole dish runs over in the oven, simply throw a little salt on the mixture that boiled out onto the stove. This will prevent that unpleasant burned odor.

Opportunities Open In In Farm Marketing

Auburn, Ala. — Opportunities to increase the sale of a wide variety of farm products that grow successfully in Alabama is almost unlimited.

With this statement, A. W. Jones, extension marketing specialist, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, told farmers, "What you as an individual farmer may market best will depend upon your own farm set-up, what other farmers in your community are producing, and demands of the market you can leach. Study each of these factor closely."

In producing or expanding production of any item Jones cautioned farmers to be sure that: (1) It is produced economically. (2) There is enough volume from your farm or community to interest the buyer you want to sell. (3) It is available when your market needs it. (4) The quality is good and the item is attractively packed and labeled and will stand close inspection.

"You will find these factors of economical production and efficient marketing about the same whether you are growing strawberries, tomatoes, sweetpotatoes, other fruits and vegetables, or poultry and eggs, dairy products, beef cattle, hogs or any other product," concluded the marketing specialist.

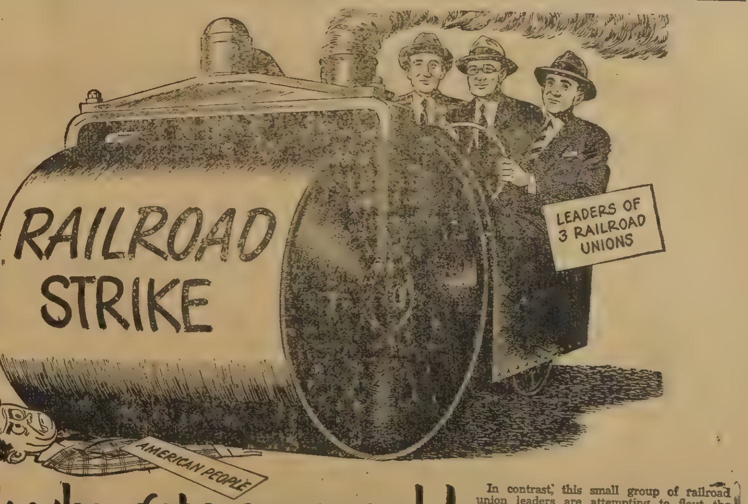
AFFILIATE OF THE KEYSTONE BROADCASTING SYSTEM



Look who gets squeezed !

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You* will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and fireman for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

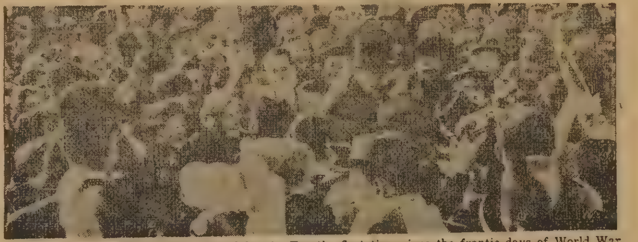
Churchill Backs a Winner



CROYDON, ENGLAND—(Soundphoto)—For the first time since the frantic days of World War II, Winston Churchill, derbied, cigar-smoking and with a bland smile on his face, went among his throngs of well-wishers flashing a V-sign now and then and submitting to the friendly back-pats of the crowd. Thousands (some of them shown here) tried to touch him for luck. The occasion was the Croydon (Surrey) By-Election in which "Winnie" made a 12-mile tour on behalf of Conservative candidate Fred Harris who was victorious. Harris' seat had been contested by Labor candidate Harold Nicolson and Liberal candidate Air Vice Marshal D. Bennett. Harris won a victory by the slim margin of 607 votes.

STRAWBERRY CROP BRINGS $131,863

'Biggest Crop In Years,' Says Farmers; Average Of $7.06 Per Crate

Chilton County strawberries grossed farmers $131,863 this year. There were 18,404 crates of strawberries sold in Chilton County this year for an average of $7.06 per crate.

The Clanton Strawberry Growers Association, managed by Mr. J. N. Dennis, sold 7,700 crates for $54,393.00. The Thorsby Strawberry Growers Association, managed by Mr. Dave Childress, sold 6,700 crates for $47,336.00. The Jemison Berry Growers Association, managed by Mr. A. A. Langston, sold 2,604 crates for $19,634.00. The local market and roadside stand sales has been estimated at 1,400 crates that sold for $10,500.

Strawberries are a good crop for Chilton County farmers. The cash from strawberries comes in at a time that most farmers need money for seed and fertilizer.

Berry buyers want more berries. More than a dozen buyers stated that they would like to get three times as many strawberries as they were able to buy in this county. This is a challenge to you people who want some good money for some hard work. Plan now to grow all the berries you can with the labor you have available.

TELEVISION AHEAD!

The nation now boasts of twenty-three television broadcasting stations and the number is expected to double by the end of this year and to double again next year.

Seventy stations have been given construction permits and about 18 other applications are on file with the Federal Communications Commission.

So far, it is estimated that there are close to 300,000 receiving sets, with half of them in and around New York City. However, television is expected to spread throughout the nation, with the speed depending in part upon the charges for coaxial cable lines and by the possible development of mountain-top micro-wave relay stations.

Those familiar with the markets say that the manufacturers expect to sell hundreds of thousands of sets during the next two years. They say that the fast-moving process has been speeded up by the decision of the FCC to give the industry the go-ahead signal for black and white broadcasts and putting the damper on color broadcasts.

NEGROES AND THE ARMY

Some weeks ago, several of the so-called leaders of the Negroes in the United States advised a Congressional committee that they would seek to promote a "civil disobedience" movement among the Negroes of this country unless all forms of racial discrimination are removed from military training.

The attitude was not approved by many intelligent Negroes, but more recently, a score of Negroes, who have been serving the Army in an advisory capacity in connection with matters affecting their race, decided not to continue such service because of dissatisfaction with the policy of segregation that is being followed by the Army.

The history of the world reveals many instances where nations, with populations of diverse origins, have made it a practice to form military units on the basis of homogeneous groupings. In many instances, the policy resulting in raising the esprit de corps of the military units because each group would take pride in its record and seek to increase its prestige by accomplishments.

We have no idea that the majority of the Negro race in the United States will be anything but completely loyal to the United States in the event of any future war. If, through error or the bad advice of leaders, the race adopts any other policy, it would be most unfortunate, both for the nation and for the Negro race, but mostly for the Negro race.

Are you going to vote for, and support, Brown? No comment.

Are you going to vote for, and support, Dunlap? No comment.

Are you going to vote for, and support, Harrell? No comment.

Are you going to vote for, and support, Hoiley? No comment.

Now just in case anyone wants to know there is the question and the answer that anyone asking will receive about the coming run-off election.

Not giving any short answers, but we ain't taking sides. We had a candidate, one. Mr. Neal Harrell, come in and compliment us on our impartial stand in the past election and we appreciated the kind words. And we'll be just as impartial in this one coming up.

We gotta opologize to Miss Ruth Hicks for doing her bad about her correspondence for the past two weeks. Miss Ruth is one of our favorite correspondents and is faithful with her news coverage of the Stanton Community. but the mail service from that end of the county is terrible. It is very seldom that the Stanton mail reaches us before Wednesday morning and that is too late for the current week—especially if it is during a political fight. However, this is to assure Miss Ruth that we will exert every effort to get that news in each week and we hereby make public apology.

Beginning next week Miss Mary Evelyn Vines takes over as Chief of our office staff—in fact she will be the office staff. Miss Vines comes to us from the County Health Office and comes highly recommended, having been employed there for the past fifteen months. To make her weekly column of news and socials more interesting call her each week and tell her what's been going on in your community.

You have heard of the fellow who when told they were going to give the bride a shower, said: "Count me in. I'll bring the soap."

Let us close out this week with congratulations to all those winning candidates. It is the duty of all now to get behind the winners and cooperate with them in doing a good job in administering the office they won.

We learned today that for the past twenty-eight years a certain lady in Clanton has presented Mrs. Mamie C. Smith a silver basket of flowers on Mother's Day. The thoughtful person is Mrs. Frank Callen and it all started the year Mr. and Mrs. Callen were married—1920. Who could guess the happiness brought to Mrs. Mamie through the years, by the continued remembrance of this basket of flowers. Nothing is so appreciated as being remembered, and we might add that the lady who received the flowers scatters quite a bit of happiness herself as she visits her many friends around Clanton.

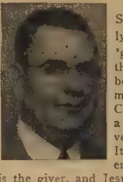
Talked to Mr. J. N. Dennis down at the City Grill the other morning. He was telling us that Clanton Berry Growers shipped a thousand more crates of berries than were shipped last year. They also brought several thousand dollars more than the grand total last year. Mr. Dennis said that the season was over now though and only a few scattered berries were left. The Chilton County Berry Growers enjoyed a profitable season.

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

RADIO SERMON, TEXT JOHN 3:16

"God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."



This verse of Scripture has rightly been called the "golden text" of the Bible. It has been used to lead more people to Christ than perhaps any other one verse of Scripture It speaks of a Giver, and a Gift. God is the giver, and Jesus Christ His Son is the Gift. Whosoever will is the recipient of the gift.

It was love that inspired God to give his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. When God manifested his justice he sent a deluge over the whole earth. In manifesting his power he divided the waves of the sea, and delivered a nation from bondage, but when He desired to manifest his love for fallen mankind, he sent his Son into the world, made of a woman, made under the law that he might redeem them that were under the Law. Jesus came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

If sin has dimmed your vision of the love of God, and the power of Christ to save, let the Word of Truth enter your heart. The entrance of His word giveth light. And then in the light of his word, behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.

The Lord Jesus Christ is the Bright Morning Star; the Star of David that has risen to give hope to Israel, and hope and faith to the whole world. God's purpose in giving his Son to the world, is that the world might not be condemned, but that the world through Christ might be saved. Jesus came to seek and to save the lost. This is proof that man without Christ is lost. All we like sheep have gone astray, every one has turned to his own way, and God has laid on Jesus the iniquity of us all. We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God. but one look by faith at the Lamb of God will take away our sins. We do not have to perish, but the only thing to prevent our being lost forever, is to believe in God's only begotten Son, Jesus Christ. He is the way, the truth, and the life. No man can come unto the Father but by Him. Neither is there Salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. (Acts 4:12). Jesus said again, "I am the door of the sheep, by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved; but he that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber."

When Jesus came unto his own, received him not, but as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to every one that believe on his name. John wrote his Gospel for the purpose that we might have life through his name. (John 20:31.)

In closing I'll say, believe on the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. But he that believeth not shall be damned.

COSTS LESS TO USE THAN BEFORE THE WAR

Before the war, it cost you about 3½c to use a floor lamp with a 300-watt bulb for four hours.

Today, you can operate that same floor lamp (or one of the new ones) at only a little more than 2½c for a 4-hour evening.

Dependable electric service is being supplied at rates lower than pre-war. The average urban residential rate per kilowatt hour at the end of 1937 was slightly less than 3c. Today it's less than 2¼c.

Bro. Stuckey brought a very inspiring message to a nice congregation at Mulberry Sunday. He has begun a series of five sermons on his reasons "Why I believe once saved, always saved."

The entire Training Union of Mulberry visited Sardis Baptist Church Sunday night and rendered our program in our different union there with the Sardis people, followed by a message from Rev. R. W. Stuckey on B. T.U. work.

Mulberry W.M.S. will meet at the church Wednesday, May 19th, at 7:30.

The Senior II play of Isabella High was well presented and enjoyed by a large audience last Friday evening in the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White had all their children with them for Mother's Day, except their son, Hermon, from Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Calfee and children from Eglin Field, Fla., are here visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Calfee.

Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Lecroy and son, and Miss Lorine Lecroy were with their parents for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Emma Manning spent last week end in Birmingham with her daughters and son. She found her granddaughter, Judy, very much improved.

Mrs. J. V. Cavender and daughter returned home from South Caolina last week.

Rev. and Ms. R. W. Stuckey had as their guests for the past week end. Mr. and Mrs. Mack Harper, from the Seminary, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Henson and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fox and grandson, Pat, of Detroit, Mich., visited his mother, Mrs. Julia Fox, and other relatives here this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Harris and daughter of Birmingham visited the latter's sister, Mrs. E. C. Lecroy, and other relatives here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Renfro Veasey and family spent Sunday in Birmingham.

Miss Truman Stuckey spent the past week end in Birmingham.

Mrs. K. S. Weeks and son, Karl. of Tuscaloosa, Ala., spent a while with her mother, Mrs. Emma Manning here.

Mr. anl Mrs. Walter White Roper of Birmingham were home Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Lecroy remains ill at her home.

SOIL CONSERVATION

B. F. Rouse, O. H. Lawrence, R. W. Kendrick, Thomas Klinner, and J. C. Moore have sowed sericea meadows during the last week. G. L. Boyd, Bonnie Wilson, G. U. Mims, Roy Downs, Frank Lessley, Aubrey W. Bullard, and Gentry Mixon have sericea meadows that will be planted soon.

In spite of no lime, the five trial plantings of Caley peas on the following farms: J. N. Dennis, Ben Brinker, C. R. Childress, Sam Johnson, and O. M. Harper are good and making plenty of seed for a volunteer crop this fall. All of the above farmers like the Caley peas enough to expand their plantings this fall.

* * *

G. L. Boyd, L. T. Evans, B. F. Rouse and Helleny J. Boulton planted wildlife borders of lespedeza—Bycolor and partridge peas to afford cover and feed for quail.

Henry Pelham has cut and put in the barn his grandifloria vetch. After it has dried thoroughly and the major field work completed, Henry will thrash the seed. The interest in this new reseeding vetch is growing each year. Five pounds per acre sowed with small grain will give a good cover the second year. Combine the grain and replant to get you a start.

* * *

If you break the law of nature it will break you. Why not put in conservation crops and a water disposal system and make money.

Sericea makes quality hay when cut with an average growth of 12 inches. Check yours, it might be ready to cut.

Watering Saves Gardens

Many times a dry spell of two or three weeks in June or later will ruin a garden. Farm families having electric pumps or windmill tanks can hold up their gardens during these dry periods. It takes 1,000 gallons to put an inch of water on a spot 40 by 40 feet.

INSECTS MAKE CULLS

Insects and diseases can make lots of culls out of good fruits and vegetables. These culls will not be saleable or else will bring very little on the market. A small investment in spray or dust material may mean greater profits at harvest time.

KEEP A STAND OF COTTON

Poor stands of cotton cost money because you can't pick cotton in skips. If you have a good stand, keep it. Leave enough cotton to have two to three stalks per hill, 15 to 18 inches apart, at laying by time, advises O. N. Andrews, Extension Service cotton specialist.

For a taste treat that's different cut biscuits with a doughnut cutter and bake as usual; then fill the centers of the hot biscuits with creamed ham or chicken and serve.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the Post Office Department in Washington is setting aside the week of May 15-21, 1948, as a period of observance of the 30th Anniversary of the United States Air Mail Service, and,

WHEREAS, the development of an air communications system unequalled in the world has played an important role in the economic and cultural advancement of our people and our nation, and,

WHEREAS, I believe that the citizens of Clanton are vitally interested in the continued development and growth of aviation as it benefits the people, the nation, the postal service, and our relations with the peoples and nations of the world,

NOW THEREFORE, I, F. Leo Thompson, Mayor of the City of Clanton, do hereby designate the week of May 15-21 as a period to observe the 30th Anniversary of the United States Air Mail Service, and do call upon our people to take cognizance of this week by taking part in events and activities commemorating this historic event, and by patronizing the Air Mail Service.

Done at the City of Clanton this 7th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight and in the one hundred and seventy-third year of our America Independence.

F. LEO THOMPSON, Mayor.

Members of Circle Five were the guests of Mrs. George Tucker Monday night at the regular monthly meeting.

The chairman, Mrs. R. K. Gaylor, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. J. C. Wright, a visitor, who gave the opening prayer.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Gaylor after which Mrs. Maggie Wilson gave an interesting article on "Prayer".

The meeting was then adjourned and a delightful social hour was enjoyed by everyone.

BIG SAVING

When spring pigs are carried on pasture from weaning time until they are ready for market, or until the end of the pasture season, each acre of good pasture should save approximately 800 to 1,000 pounds of corn plus 500 pounds or more of tankage in comparison with dry lot feeding.

Peanut butter frosting is delicious on spice cake. Simply take one and one-half cups of powdered sugar and add one tablespoon of peanut butter and enough cream to spread.

TEMPLE

A wonderful service was enjoyed by all those attending the Temple Church last Sunday.

A very inspiring message was delivered by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Hickman.

After the message, a corsage of white carnations was pinned on the oldest mother and one of pink carnations was pinned on the youngest mother. Then roses were pinned on all the mothers.

Truly all who were present, received a great blessing.

STANTON

Home-coming at the Baptist Church Sunday very enjoyable. A large crowd and plenty of good eats.

Now that the election is over we'll settle down and get some of the much needed work done. Speaking of elections, there is a note of pathos in all of them as well as many expressions afterwards that are funny. In this recent election a few days afterwards one of the candidates for Commissioner, 3rd District, walked in a place of business where he was well known and was told what one of the other candidates was doing since he wasn't elected—this candidate listened well and then remarked, "Wel, since the election I guess I'd better carry a gun, as I found out I had only six friends in this town."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovelady and daughter and Mr. J. T. Cox of Cox's Chapel, spent one day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sample.

Honoring their mother, Mrs. Lelia Sample, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lovelady entertained a number of their family at a spend-the-day recently. Those enjoying this day together were: Mr. Jess Terry and daughter, Mrs. David Henry, and two children of Tuscaloosa. Ala.; Mr. E. M. Terry, of Greensboro; Mr. L. R. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sample, of Stanton, Ala.; and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Barnes of Plantersville Ala.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marsh Lovelady was the scene of a family reunion May 2, 1948. in celebration of Mr. Lovelady's 74th birthday. Many friends also joined in the occasion.

On April 25, 1948, Mr. Millard Reynolds, Mr. S. B. Rogers and Mr. Russell Shoults entertained The Montgomery Motorcycle Club, The Eagle Motorcycle Club of Montgomery, Ala., and The Dixie Motorcycle Club of Selma, Ala., with a woods ride in the form of an endurance run.

There was approximately 42 miles of varied rough riding (mud holes, sand beds, plank riding, hill climbing and creek, fording) through Talladega National Forest and surrounding communities in Chilton County, Ala. Of the 26 starting riders 16 crossed the finish line some 4 to 5 hours after starting.

At the 23-mile point a very delicious plate lunch was served, picnic style, to 80 visitors.

Some of the boys did not feel up to starting the second half of the ride, but almost everyone was on hand at the finish line with approximately 400 spectators witnessing the finish.

The run was won by "Hot" Brady of Selma, Ala., riding an English Motor; 2nd place was won by "Rocky" Stone of Montgomery, Ala., riding a Harley-Davidson; 3rd place was a tie between Rayburn Chambless of Montgomery, Ala., riding a Harley-Davidson, and Bub Walters of Selma, Ala., riding an English Motor.

This was the second year of this event and it is hoped that the sponsors will make it an annual affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gay and son, Leinard, of Greensboro, Ala., spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim W. Gay, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fulford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay spent Sunday with their son, J. D. Gay, and his family in Brent, Ala.

We regret that Miss Elmira Osborne isn't doing so well at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bryant and daughter, Janet, of Tuscaloosa.

(Too Late For Last Week)

Mrs. J. B. Davis underwent a major operation in Selma Baptist Hospital recently. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Venice Chism visited her sister, "Miss Ruth," in Birmingham, Ala., last week and while there visited other relatives and friends.

I'm sure most of our people read with interest the article in Birmingham News about a former resident of this comunity, Miss Helen Heifner. This article stated Helen was now self-supporting and able to help with the support of her father and mother. The late Mell Martin of Clanton, Ala., was interested deeply in Helen's behalf and your correspondent feels confident he did much to encourage and help her in many ways.

Mr. Alvin Davis and Mr. Aubrey Hutt [illegible] in an accident [illegible] Hill, just out of [illegible], Ala., as first reported.

On [illegible] 25, 1948, Mr. Millard [illegible] P. Rogers and Mr. [illegible] gave an endurance run [illegible] and invited Montgomery [illegible] Club, Montgomery, Ala. [illegible] Motorcycle Club, Montgomery, Ala. and The Dixie Motorcycle Club, Selma, Ala. This run was a [illegible] over 42 miles. Starting line was at 10:00 a.m. at John O'Neal's Store—noon day check and eating place at Forest Tower—finish line in the Reynolds's pasture. A picnic plate was served. The weather was ideal and many spectators all along the route and especially a large crowd at the finish line.

Mrs. Bill Grammer, nee Mary Maness, and daughter, Charlotte, of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. A. C. Maness of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Daniels and children of Maplesville, Ala., visited the Frank Reynolds' over the week end.

We are glad to report that Mr. Houston Morris did not have to enter a Selma Hospital as first planned. Mr. Houston is seen around these days and is able to carry on his duties of farming.

Mrs. Mable Rush of Mobile, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Jack McFarland and family of Mobile, Ala., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Morris recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Lee Lawley and daughter, Mary Lee, visited the John McKinney's over the week end. Visitors also to this family on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and daughter of Clanton, Ala., and Mrs. Cherman Motley and children of Maplesville, Ala.

Stanton Baptist Church

Ebenezer Church at Stanton had one of the most enjoyable days last Sunday for Mother's Day that the church has had for many years. people and former members came from different parts of the State and one man from Georgia. A very large crowd was present throughout the day.

Mrs. Ora Davis and the children of the Sunday School that she had trained rendered a beautiful program suitable for the occasion, each one did their best and are to be highly commended for same.

Many churches were represented from all around who enjoyed this program, and the good fellowship. The program being ended, our pastor, Bro. E. C. Hand, brought the message at the 11 o'clock hour, his message was well thought out and delivered to a crowded house, in a deeply spiritual manner that will long be remembered by those who were present. The Scripture used was the first chapter of the Book of Ruth.

At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served with plenty for all and lots left over to be carried back home.

The afternoon was given over entirely to singing, everyone who could sing took part and helped in a splendid way to make the afternoon session enjoyable to all.

The church some time ago voted to have an annual home-coming service each year on Mother's Day—the second Sunday in May.

When the service was ended for the day every one went away happy, after having said that the day had been a happy one and well spent in the cause for the Master.

LOWER LEFT: Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wilson looking over the enrichment feeder recently added to his mill in Jemison.
LOWER RIGHT: T. W. Lumpkin, District Extension Agent of Auburn, Dr. H. M. Nix, and M. R. Glasscock, County Agent, looking over the enrichment feeder now in operation on Dr. Nix's mill at Maplesville.

Dr. Nix says that the addition of Calcium to the corn meal consumed by Chilton County folks will help prevent dental troubles in future years, and that he is happy to have the enrichment feeder on his mill for the sake of better health for the men, women, boys and girls that eat enriched corn meal.

Chilton County Grist Mills Have Added Enrichment To Corn Meal

Nineteen Chilton County grist mill owners and operators have joined in improving the health of the people of the county by adding enrichment to the corn meal they grind.

As announced by M. R. Glasscock, County Agent, and Miss Mattie Jo Barber, Home Demonstration Agent, the millers who have added enrichment attachments to their mills and are now enriching the meal they grind are:

H. J. Littlejohn, Harris Hardy, Cliff Jones, Thompson and Easterling, H. H. Miller, E. C. LeCroy, A. T. Dawson, Dr. H. M. Nix, Willard B. Hicks, Lee Boockholdt, H. T. Williams, Jr., H. J. Taylor, Stroud Brothers, F. W. Glenn, Grady Wilson, B. C. Lenoir, T. A. Maddox, T. A. Davis and C. L. Wilkins.

The Chilton County group makes a total of 190 millers in 20 counties in Alabama who are now adding enrichment ingredients to their corn meal, reports John P. Bell, Extension Specialist in Food Enrichment of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Ingredients being added are Calcium, Iron, Thiamin, (Vitamin B1), Riboflavin, and Nicacin. A total of 14,500 pounds of the enrichment mixture are now being used by the 190 millers. The mixture is going into thousands of bushels of corn.

Relative to the importance of this program and the way it looks in improving the health of the people, Mr. Bell says:

"The 190 millers in the twenty counties worked to May 1, have certainly been magnificent in their willingness to cooperate with the Extension Agents by installing enrichment feeders on their mills and even assisting the Extension workers in educating the public to call for enriched corn meal at the mills and grocery stores. Enriching of corn meal simply "makes a good food better."

"The little enrichment hopper the miller installs on his mill cost him only $24.00 and the enrichment mixture cost him 24c per pound. The Extension Service, in order to be of assistance to the millers in this healthful program, installs the feeders on the mills at no extra cost. The program is a state-wide Extension and Experiment Station nutrition program and all counties will be worked as fast as we can get to them."

L. O. BRAKEEN.

SARDIS

There was a large crowd at our Mother's Day program and home-coming Sunday. We appreciate the attendance of every one. There were lots of the members there that live out of the community now and don't get to come often. We were glad to have them back with us and everyone seemed to enjoy the day together. It was decided to make Mother's Day our annual home-coming.

We enjoyed the good program that Mulberry people put on at our church Sunday night. We also enjoyed Bro. Stuckey's message Sunday night and Bro. Charlie Headley brought the eelven o'clock message. We enjoy having our neighboring churches to come worship with us and invite each and everyone back at any time. We expect to organize our B.T.U. soon, and we would like to see you young people as well as the older ones to come and help us out. Remember our Sunday School next Sunday at 10 o'clock. —Reporter.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose . . . no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Thorsby News

(By MISS C. N. TURNQ UIST — Correspondent)

Thorsby Institute News—

Friday night a real surprise party sponsored by the ladies Guild and Ladies Aid was given Miss Lois Leech, matron for twenty-six years at T. I. She has resigned and will leave in the summer for Demorest, Ga., where she and two sisters plan to have a home for elderly people. She will be greatly missed at Thorsby.

There was a short program. Bernice Williams, a T. I. freshman, from Collins Chapel, opened the program with a piano solo. This was followed by a vocal solo by Roy Wood of Clantn, a last year's T. I. graduate. Mrs. Kathryn Foss Ellis of Clanton, also a T. I. graduate, rendered a vocal solo. This was followed by a skit, "Cheerful Caller," Nelda Wade of Anniston and Benny Jean Gamble of Thorsby were the two characters. Both girls are sophomores at T. I. After the skit Miss Marguerite Davison of Thorsby directed the Grand March in which almost everyone participated.

Mrs. Charles Howard, President of the Ladies Guild. made a speech and presented Miss Leech with a pocketbook containing money donated by the Guild and Ladies Aid, some of the merchants, and other friends of Miss Leech. Other gifts were feceived. Miss Leech responded, saying the party was a real surprise to her and she appreciated very much the kindness of everyone. She said that she hoped the Thorsby people would visit her in her new home.

Delicious refreshments were served after which Roy Wood sang again, and Mrs. Ellis played "Auld Lang Syne." The singing of the "Alma Mater" closed a very pleasant evening.

The T. I. Seniors with their chaperon, Miss Jenkins, had a very pleasant trip to Birmingham Tuesday, May 4th. Many points of interest were seen—also the rodeo. The school wishes to thank the Bank of Thorsby for sponsoring the trip.

Thursday, May 6th, the Chilton County chapter of the A.A.U.W. entertained the Seniors of the Chilton County High Schools and a few of the teachers at a garden party at the home of Mrs. Sam Johnson in Clanton. It was a lovely spot in which to have a garden pary. Refreshmens of punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served on the lawn.

On May 18th the Junior Music Recital will be given at the Studio Cottage at 2:45 p.m. The Senior Recital will be on Friday, May 21st, at 7:30 p.m. in the T. I. auditorium.

Holley Asks Term As Commissioner

ROBERT F. (Bob) HOLLEY

With twenty years of construction experience in his favor Mr. Robert F. (Bob) Holley is asking the voters of Chilton County to elect him County Commissioner of District Four.

Mr. Holley promises a clean, efficient and honest administration. For every dollar spent he promises a dollar value in return. He has no political ties and no political obligations if elected. He will devote his full time to the office of County Commissioner.

These are the things he promises and he is a man of his word.

Go to the polls June 1st and cast your vote for F. (Bob) Holley and let's give our county four years of progressive administration.

(Pd. pol. adv. by friends of Robert Holley).

Success to the GRADUATES of '48

"God give us men! A time like this demands Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands . . ."

In these bewildering days, the world has an urgent and abiding need for men and women with "strong minds and great hearts."

There is a place for you—and a need for you—in a chaotic and badly battered world. As you set out to find your niche, retain that lofty purpose and high resolve which have marked your high school career. Success in full measure will greet those who embark on their every task with "true faith and ready hands."

OUR TRIP TO MONTGOMERY

For some time we had discussed and planned for our trip. We were anxious to see some of the things which we had been studying in our Alabama History. Friday, May 7th, was the day selected. We are indebted to Mrs. Sorrell, Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Clyde Patterson, Mrs. John Patterson and Mr. Will Gulledge, who were kind enough to take us in cars.

We arrived at the Department of Archives and History. The guides escorted us through, giving us a wonderful explanation of the various departments. We were especially interested in the Bankhead room, the silver from the battltship, Alabama, the furniture of William Rufus King and the many and different kinds of birds and animals.

The trip through the Capitol was most interesting. We enjoyed the House of Representatives and the Senate Chamber, where our laws are made. The greatest thrill was in visiting Governor Folsom and shaking hands with him. He was spending a very busy day, but he was kind enough to give us some of his time.

We had lunch at Oak Park and enjoyed the many animals and the lovely flowers there.

How we did enjoy the swings! We arrived home safely, but tired. We all thanked our teacher, Mrs. Gulledge, for taking us.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS
ONE OF ALABAMA'S LEADING WEEKLIES
DEDICATED TO SERVE THE CITIZENS OF CHILTON COUNTY AND CENTRAL ALABAMA

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

MRS. MARK L. TUCKER, Owner R. M. TUCKER, Editor

Subscription Rate $2.00 Per Year

WHAT ABOUT THIS NEWSPAPER?

"The influence of the individual newspaper," declares Sevellon Brown, of the Providence, Rhode Island, Journal and Bulletin "is not to be measured by circulation but by the intellectual capacity of the editor's correspondents and reporters of the individual newspaper."

The speaker was talking to newspaper men who were conscious of the great improvement in American newspapers but also alert to the need of steady self-improvement.

Erwin D. Ganham, editor of The Christian Science Monitor, and W. S. Gilmore, editor of The Detroit News, likewise warned that American newspapers must deepen their areas of penetration and responsibility if they are to meet increasing criticisms of the press in today's world.

We call attention to the statement of these newspaper men for the purpose of making a few observations about Chilton County News. As the editor of this newspaper, we are quite conscious of the shortcomings that exist and more acutely aware of the difficulties, financial and otherwise, that confront the publishers of a newspaper in areas similar to that which we strive to serve.

Considering all the difficulties involved in the production of a newspaper in Chilton County, we do not feel that any apology is necessary for Chilton County News. This does not mean, however, that we are not very much aware of the possibility of improvement. In fact, just as fast as financial support is available, it is our purpose to enlarge the contents of Chilton County News in an effort to make it more useful than ever to its readers and advertisers.

It is necessary, of course, to realize that a newspaper, like a church, a school, or a government, can rarely exceed the intelligent demands of its readers and advertisers. While it might be asserted, from a theoretical standpoint, that newspapers should dig more deeply into subjects now given [illegible] or superficial treatment, the fact is that a newspaper, like a business corporation, must deliver the goods that the readers demand and, in so doing, attract a following which makes it profitable for business houses to advertise in its columns.

Unlike many business enterprises, the vast majority of the newspapers in the United States, observe, in the fullest degree, a sense of responsibility to the public. There are very few businesses in the nation which attempt, while depending upon public goodwill for support and success, to publish news and express opinions which, at times, offend individuals or organizations which are powerful and in a position to inflict financial injury upon the newspaper.

So far as we know, no person connected with Chilton County News is completely satisfied with it or what it gives to its readers. The idea in mind and the ideal behind it is to publish the best newspaper possible under the circumstances and to make progress toward a better newspaper just as fast as financial conditions permit. These, unfortunately, depend upon others and are without the control of those who make the newspaper.

Let no one believe that Chilton County News finds fault with the people it attempts to serve. Certainly, we make grateful acknowledgement of the many kind acts of assistance that come to us regularly and we deeply appreciate the goodwill that has been evident through the years.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Several Chilton County farmers have been asking for some of the grandifloria vetch (yellow flowering vetch) that the Soil Conservation Nursery at Thorsby will gather along with some oats and wheat. The majority of the vetch seed have already popped out on the ground; and the acreage of vetch and small grain is small. In addition to serving Chilton County and Alabama, this nursery supplies planting stock for the Southeastern States. So, from the small acreage and large territory to cover, you should understand why the seed and planting stock won't go around.

Mrs. Roberta Langford of Birmingham, has a small acreage of this vetch that she will rent. Henry Pelham has already gathered, but all his seed are sold. This leaves the nursery and Mrs. Langford with a limited amount. Contact this office for further information.

* * *

J. N. Dennis is a very enthusiastic grandifloria vetch grower. If you are not sold on such a reseeding vetch, talk with Mr. Dennis. A receeding legume is the only sure way of a winter cover crop.

Farmers with lespedeza sericea in their orchards should mow now. This will slow the sericea's capacity to draw water that the peach trees need so badly now. Carson Boockholdt has a 2-acre peach orchard sodded to sericea. Carson states: "I can mow my orchard in five hours and it will take me all day to work it out. It looked like my orchard held up better last fall during the drouth than my neighbors who worked theirs."

* * *

Hugh Champion, W. B. Crow, and Dewey Collins sowed 35 acres of sericea lespedeza and they all working toward completing their soil and water conservation farm plan.

* * *

"Uncle" A. B. Jones of Plantersville, cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation district, states: "It looks like this grandifloria vetch is the thing. I want some to plant in my orchard."

* * *

Melton W. Matson, Rt. 1, Verbena, cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District, planted 25 pounds of Manganese Bur Clover in September, 1946. In the Spring of 1947 he sold 150 pounds and increased his planting 200%. This spring he has harvested 500 pounds. Manganese bur clover is a reseeding winter legume that requires no machinery to harvest —harvest with a broom or rake.

Free News, Classing Available To Farmers

Free classing and market news service is available again this year to members of all one-variety community cotton improvement associations in Alabama.

In urging farmers to avail themselves of this service, O. N. Andrews, API extension cotton improvement specialist said that one-variety communities must be properly organized for it. They must have officers including a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and at least two other members on the executive committee. They also should be following a definite seed renewal and multiplication program of the adopted variety.

It is wise to make application for classing service and arrangement for sampling as soon as possible after cotton has been planted, Andrews suggests. The final date for filing applications is midnight, August 1. However, if applications are not filed early, members may fail to get classing of early-ginned cotton, he warns.

Side Cotton For Highest Yields

Cotton crops that get a side-dressing at the first cultivation after chopping make highest yields, farmers and agricultural leaders agree.

Farmers who use 500 to 700 pounds of 4-10-7 or 4-10-4 fertilizer under cotton, find it pays to side dress each acre with 100 to 150 pounds of nitrate of soda, or equivalent nitrogen from other sources. O. N. Andrews, Extension Service cotton specialist, says a good rule of thumb is to use 20 pounds of 4-10-7 put under cotton. If 10-10-0 is used, side dress with 160 to 250 pounds per acre, he suggests.

Based on four-year results at the Sand Mountain substation farmers in that area will make higher yields by putting down more nitrogen side-dressing than most are using, explained Andrews. The experiment shows that 600 pounds of 9-8-6 per acre made about the same amount of cotton as 900 pounds of 6-8-6. Based on this, farmers who used 500 to 700 pounds of 4-10-7 per acre should side dress with 200 to 300 pounds of nitrate of soda, or equivalent.

Snack Between Meals Needed By Children

You boys and girls had better check to see if mother okays it—but Mary Hulsey, Extension Service nutritionist, is sure that a bite or so between meals is good for you.

In fact she says these bites may be healthful snacks. "Growing boys and girls, especially when spending long hours at work or play, may need something between meals. A glass of milk, a sandwich, a hard cooked egg, or fruit helps to keep one's energy up without spoiling the appetite for the next meal," Miss Hulsey explains.

But no candy, cakes, or a sweet drink shortly before a meal. That, of course, spoils the appetite for vegetables and other essential foods, says the nutritionist.

More processing time is required in canning in a pressure sauce pan than in using a pressure canner.

Strawberry Plants Need Attention Now

After strawberries have been harvested, thin and fertilize plants to make sure the crop will be in good condition for another season.

This is necessary in commercial fields and in the home garden, states Lyle Brown, Extension Service horticulturist. He says to bar off the rows, leaving six or eight inches along one side. Then chop this out in the same manner as cotton is chopped.

Brown says to next put on 6-8-4 fertilizer at the rate of 500 pounds per acre and begin working soil back to the rows. Keep out weeds and grass and let a mat of strawberry plants form for next year's crop.

Air Cleaner Care Adds Life To Tractor

To keep the tractor running smoothly this summer, one of the most important jobs is to help the air cleaner do its work.

The air cleaner removes dust and dirt from the air before it passes into the engine. Farmers who clean the air cleaner and replace the oil once or twice a day when working under dusty conditions find they save money on repair bills, declares J. B. Wilson, API extension engineer.

Those who neglect the air cleaner find that dirt and sludge collect in the bowl and pass directly into the engine. This causes rapid wear of rings, pistons, and cylinder walls, Wilson explains.

Local Baptists Will Attend Southern Baptist Convention

Ten thousand Baptists from 20 states will converge on Memphis, Tenn., May 19-23, for the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention—expected to be the largest religious gathering in America in 1948, Rev. Luther W. Woodward, Associational Missionary of the Unity and Chilton Baptist Associations of Clanton, said today the 26,764 churches cooperating with the Convention have a total membership of 6,270,819. This represents a membership gain of 191,514 during the year 1947.

The Convention at Memphis will hear reports of the many agencies supported by it both in this country and in foreign mission areas and will plan for future activity, Rev. Woodward said. Evangelism is slated as the primary emphasis in the years just ahead.

Climax of the session will be a giant Sunday afternoon specialistic service in Crump Stadium, with 30,000 people in attendance. Dr. Robert G. Lee, a Memphis pastor and one of the nation's leading evangelists, will preach, concluding the sermon with a strong evangelistic appeal.

The Southern Baptist Convention is one of the most uniquely organized groups in the world. The cenvention made up of "messengers," not "delegates," from the churches, in that no one carries authority to bind his congregation back home to the decisions of the Convention. The denominational program is purely one of cooperation, with its evangelistic, educational and benevolent activities planned in accordance with New Testament teaching, and the churches left free to cooperate or not cooperate as they choose.

That the churches do choose to cooperate is evidenced by the fact that their gifts exceeded $7,000,000 for the Southern Baptist Convention's worldwide program in 1947. Colleges, seminaries, hospitals, benevolent institutions and mission work in a score of countries bear testimony to their united work in fulfilling the Great Commission.

"The unity of the Southern Baptist Convention is a modern miracle," says Dr. Duke K. McCall, executive secretary of the Convention's executive committee. "With less authority in their organization than the United Nations possesses, Southern Baptists have welded together more than 26,000 churches in a compact force for Christ. With diverse economic interests running from the farmer to the financier and without any appeal to class or race prejudice, more than 6,000,000 individuals have been enlisted in a common spiritual enterprise."

Dr. McCall suggests the Baptist belief in "the competency of the soul of man in matters of religion" as the distinctive and fundamental principle of Baptist faith out of which all other Baptist beliefs grow.

Curtains Important As Home Furnishing

Window curtains are part of the furnishings for a home and wise homemakers select them as carefully as they do a piece of furniture.

Alice Peavy, API extension home economist, says that several reasons for using curtains may well be considered in planning the furnishings for a home. Six of the most important reasons listed by Miss Peavy are:

(1) To soften hard lines of the window frames, thereby making the room more attractive.

(2) To screen out unattractive views.

(3) To frame attractive views

(4) To soften light entering the room.

(5) To lend privacy.

(6) To change proportions of windows and walls.

Information about selecting curtains can be obtained from home demonstration agents, Miss Peavy says.

ALABAMA TOPS THE LIST

Alabama leads all other Southeastern states in the number of one-variety cotton communities applying for Smith-Doxey Classing Service in 1947. Records show that 203 one-variety communities were approved for classing service and that 176,592 samples were classed by the Birmingham and Montgomery classing offices for members of those one variety communities. This represents about 20 per cent of the bales ginned in Alabama in 1947.

Holley Asks Term As Commissioner

With twenty years of construction experience in his favor, Mr. Robert F. (Bob) Holley is asking the voters of Chilton County to elect him County Commissioner of District Four.

Mr. Holley promises a clean, efficient and honest administration. For every dollar spent he promises a dollar value in return. He has no political ties and no political obligations if elected. He will devote his full time to the office of County Commissioner.

These are the things he promises and he is a man of his word.

Go to the polls June 1st and cast your vote for F. (Bob) Holley and let's give our county four years of progressive administration.

(Pd. pol. adv. by friends of Robert Holley)

Abney Brown Writes Voters

T. A. (Abney) BROWN

As a candidate for commissioner of the Third District, Chilton County, I am sponsored by no political group nor clique, and so if elected by the voters of our county, I will be indebted to no single group nor individual. My gratitude and duty will be to you—the citizens and voters of Chilton County as a whole.

I am a life-long resident of Chilton County, having been born on a farm in this county as have most of you. It is my intention and my family's intention to remain in this county and do all within our power to help it grow toward a more prosperous county. Like all of you, I have always been a God-fearing man and tried to be a good member of the Protestant Church, with which I have my affiliation.

My qualifications for road commissioner include 10 years experience with the Alabama Highway Department in highway construction and engineering. I was assistant to the Materials Engineer on February 9, 1942, when I obtained a leave of absence in order to join the Third Naval Construction Battalion (3rd Sea Bee Battalion). For four years I served with this group in constructing and engineering work in the Southwest Pacific.

Since the war, I have been in the hardware business in Maplesville with my brothers. I am also a member and former commander of V.F.W. Post 6331, Maplesville, and am an alumnus of the University of Alabama.

I ask your vote and influence, and will appreciate any assistance given my candidacy for the office which I seek in the Democratic run-off on June 1.

Sincerely yours,
T. A. (Abney) BROWN.

You can make sour milk by adding two tablespoons of vinegar to one cup of sweet milk. This is convenient when a recipe calls for sour milk, and you have only sweet milk available.

Career and a Hobby

CHICAGO—According to Doris Helfenberger, careers and hobbies mix very well — and she should know. Before Doris was out of high school she had become an expert silversmith and her talent was in commercial demand.

Then came the war and Doris started out to "capture caps" Her first was an army cap which she donned at 19 and became a pilot in the Civilian Air Patrol, flying regularly with her squadron over Illinois and Indiana.

At 22 she has just won a brand new cap, starched and white. She has entered first year duty as a student nurse at Cook County Hospital here. Doris considers this the first step in her serious life work and medicine was her first love. She plans to specialize in anesthesiology.

There is a course for summer credits opening at the school on June 21st, and Edna S. Newman, director, also announces that several scholarships are available for students planning to enter the September classes. Men as well as women are welcomed in the training course for nurses, and many opportunities are open to them in the nursing profession, especially at Cook County, said to be the largest institution of its kind in the world.

To The Voters of the Sixth District

The veterans who are solidly behind Fred Nicol in his race for Delegate to the Democratic National Convention from the Sixth Congressional District want to tell you something about this man we support.

Fred Nicol is a native of the Sixth District. He served his country with distinction as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and later for four years as an enlisted man in the United States Army, thirty-one months of which was spent overseas in China, Burma and India.

Fred Nicol is a Southern Democrat. He has stated clearly his intention to fight to the finish in the convention to prevent the inclusion of any of the so-called civil rights planks in the Democratic platform and to block the nomination of Harry Truman. To accomplish this he proposes to work for the nomination of a candidate acceptable to the people of the Sixth District who will unify the party and lead it to victory.

We urge you to go to the polls on June 1st and mark your ticket in this way.

Tip On Bridal Gift

NEW YORK—When the cast of the Broadway play "Joy to the World" heard that their fellow player, Blanche Zohar, was going to be married, their bridal gift was a Yale tip toe iron. She is shown playing at flexing the tipping toe with one finger, with a cold iron, of course. Living a very busy life, Miss Zohar will find the new lightweight, maneuverable tip toe iron an appreciable aid in keeping that well-pressed look for her many activities.

The reason why so many Americans lose so much money to stock swindlers is because so many Americans want to get something for nothing.

Some Poisons Not Good For Cotton

Experiments conducted throughout the cotton-growing states last year show that some insecticides should not be used on cotton. "Boll weevil spray," "chlordane-DDT, 2-3 mixture,". and "chlordane," may cause more damage than good, declares W. A. Ruffin, API extension entomologist. Also, boll weevil catchers are not recommended. Ask your county agent about controlling cotton insects.

Give it a good hard try, anyway, will you?

Competitive Enterprise And The Individual

When the Old-World settlers came to America, they were ready to set up their own government, worship God in their own way, and live their lives just as they liked. They were tired of having to do this or that at the command of someone else. To express it briefly, they wanted a fuller and richer life and a society without any class distinctions. They believed that people were created equal and were entitled to the same rights. The New World offered an opportunity for the realization of such a belief.

A factor greatly influencing the attitude of these adventurous settlers was the environment. With a stimulating climate and practically unlimited natural resources, they began building a new nation. Everyone had to work to live. The struggle was desperate, and competition was keen all the way. Fortunately, this same brand of competition has lasted to the present day in the form of organized competitive enterprises in big business.

It should be understood at the beginning that the United States has never been a country where the government has nothing whatever to do with business. In America business is regulated, not controlled, by the government. For example, the initiative of inventors is encouraged and protected by the granting of patents. Along other lines protection is afforded by issuing copyrights and franchises. Certain noncompetitive activities—public schools, roads, post offices—are entirely monpolized by the state. When labor unions intend to call strikes, they sometimes find that the government interferes. But this interference is for the good of the country as a whole. Americans believe that the few cases under governmental control can best be handled by the state. At any rate, this minute participation of government in business is far from the complete control found in Russia.

As the American economic system stands, it is considered capitalistic. Since in every person the law of self-preservation is dominant, everyone is vitally interested in a way of life which recognizes the individual as an important being. Americans do not believe in a government that pushes the individual into the background and holds up the state as supreme. Albert B. Wolfe speaks for all true Americans when he says: "The only final value is human life, or rather human living, with all its richness and fullness of experience . . . No social institution, not even the state, is an end in itself. The only end is the human individual . . . The view that the individual is the only end is . . . the only doctrine consistent with fundamental democracy."[1] It is American capitalism which gives just such supremacy to the individual.

In the democratic society of the United States, the dignity of every person is respected. The people are never thought of as servants of the state. Just the reverse of this is true. The government is an instrument through which the people work for a better life. Felix Frankfurter very clearly describes in this statement the thoughts of the American people: "The kind of civilization we cherish is . . a society in which the dignity of every individual is central. . . .a society in which there is no unimportant people; a society in which institutions are progressively to be shaped so as to bring to maximum fruition the potentialities of men."[2] Free competitive enterprise is working incessantly toward just such a civilization.

"In the United States real wages are higher than anywhere else . . . it takes one work-hour to earn the price of a cotton shirt; it takes four hours in Great Britian and took nine and one-half hours in prewar Germany."[3] What is responsible for the high wages received by the common working man of the United States? American business men believe that competition is a factor exerting powerful influence on the wage level in this country. Manufacturers have discovered that skilled workmen, who demand high wages, are their best producers. Naturally these workers are in demand everywhere; therefore they work for employers paying the hghest prices for their services. Manufacturers also know that their employees constitute a major part of the consumers of their goods. When working people are paid sufficient wages, they buy goods on the market and enable employers to receive a profit. In this way the cycle is kept up, and everyone enjoys a gain.

President Truman says, ". . . the living standards of our working people have increased steadily until they are today the highest in the world."[4] What is responsible for the high plane of living enjoyed by the masses of the United States? Again the answer is found in American individual competition. Commenting on the relation between competition in business and prosperity of the people, Willis J. Ballinger said:

> The fundamental effect of competition is to diffuse prosperity. Under competition, the modern world was to make more progress in a few hundred years than it had in all the thousands of years since man had appeared. Everywhere in the world, where competitive business developed and capitalistic enterprise broke down old feudal restraints on trade, the standard of living of the people rose.[5]

Travelers abroad confirm the fact that the masses of other continents live in deepest misery and poverty. Returning from a tour of Europe and South America, R. T. Haslam told of the low standard of living of the common people he saw. In capitalistic America the picture is decidedly different. Of the United States Mr. Haslam made the following significant statements:

> Only six per cent of the world's population live in the United States. Yet we use three-fourths of the world's automobiles, half the radios, more than half the refrigerators. We consume a third of the world's wool, a fourth of the cotton, half or more of the rubber, a third of the soap —and similar percentages of nearly all the materials which contribute to the enjoyment of life.[6]

It is the masses, not merely a small percentage of the upper class, that enjoy this incredibly high plane of living made possible by copetitive enterprise. How competitive enterprise provides more goods for more people is found in competition itself. Competing on an equal basis with other producers, manufactures must keep quality up and prices down in order to have a large market for their commodities. In this way the average person gets first-class goods at reasonable cost.

As long as free government lasts, competition will have to be an important factor in business. How true are these words: "Eliminate competition from a capitalistic system and capitalism ceases to exist. Eliminate capitalism and free government cannot survive."[7] It is clear that the government must stay out of business as much as possible. To maintain a government "of the people, by the people, for the pople,"[8] the people must run their own business on a competitive basis.

If the world is ever to be a better place to live, more countries must have government of a kind that permits the development of the individual in a broad, general way. Since competitive enterprise places emphasis on the individual, not the state, capitalism could be used effectively for many of the ills of the world.

THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

On a cold and cloudy day in 1620 a group of people landed on the rocky coast of a newly discovered continent. Little did these people dream that they were seeds which were to germinate the most powerful force in the world —the United States of America. What has made this powerful force? What has made America great? Could it be a way of life—the American way of life?

The American Way of Life is based upon free, individual, competitive enterprise. To the pioneers, work and survival were synonymous. Moreover survival not only meant hard work, but also meant dangerous work. Those pioneers who got ahead were those who worked the hardest in a never-ceasing competition with nature and barbarous savages. Thus competition became a heritage of later generations as they crossed rivers, mountains and deserts in their search for land.

Land! Always the pioneer wanted land—the symbol of independence. In the old countries only a few were alowed to own land. When the new settler realized the reward for his efforts was directly proportional to the intensity and perfection of his efforts, he worked harder and with more enthusiasm. Since "it was every man's recognized right to make an honest dollar in any way he could; to climb as high as his skill and hard work would take him," the only limit to his progress was himself. With his extra money he bought more land or invested in business. These businesses grew by leaps and bounds.

Then in the late 1800's came a time when this way of life—free, individual enterprise—began to be abused. Several businesses engaged in the same kind of production would combine to form one large company or corporation. This large corporation would force other smaller companies in the same kind of production to join them or otherwise force them out of business. This was the wrong use of the system of free enterprise. These large corporations could control prices, forcing any price upon the people. The government saw the need for regulation of these large trusts and so passed laws checking them. At other times the government has found it necessary to regulate businesses even more. During times of war and emergency the government has even found it necessary to take over and operate essential businesses for more efficient service.

These trends toward socialism, though neccessary, have been looked upon by the American people with disfavor, since from the beginning they have been a people impatient of restraint, eager to strike out for themselves. There are evils in too much government operation and regulation of business. Perhaps the chief argument against government control is that it stifles competition and incentive, both tending to bring the best product at the cheapest price to the public. It would also probably be impossible with government control to keep politics from entering into and lowering management efficiency.

There is a balance between labor and capital which is very hard to reach and even harder to maintain in the system of free enterprise. Deviation from this balance probably give critics their chief objection to the American system of free enterprise. In the early days man usually worked for himself. As the country expanded and the population increased, the need for greater production was emphasized With the coming of the factory system and mass production, a new element entered the field of free enterprise. This was the mass employment of labor. At first labor was mistreated. Especially during the time of the trusts were hours too long and pay too little. So labor organized and began to advance its cause. The government saw the need for fairer wages and shorter hours and so enacted legislation procuring these advantages. But agreements on exactly what is fair have always been and continue to be hard to reach. Labor began and continues to use strikes, picketing, and other violent methods to further their ends. Of course capital always resists. This problem of labor versus capital remains the chief friction in the American Way of Life. It is said that the labor union by insuring the worker of a job kills his incentive, and that capital is making excessive profits at the expense of labor. But as Captain Eddie Rickenbacker has said, "There's nothing wrong with our country that more work won't eradicate."

The two chief ways of living today are the American Way and Communism. Perhaps a contrast between the two will make us more appreciative of the American Way. In Russia, the champion and proponent of communism, the economic system has supplied her people with one automobile for 1,130 people, one telephone for every one hundred people, and one radio for every forty-eight people. In America the system of free enterprise has supplied one car for every five persons, one telephone for every five persons, and one radio for every two and one-half persons.

The American Way of Life not only has showered its people with material possessions, but also has blessed them with unparalleled cultural opportunities. For every one thousand Americans sixteen and two-thirds are attending college while in Russia only three out of every thousand are attending. In America there are 1,749 daily newspapers but only twenty-eight in Russia.

Lenin, the father of Russian communism, ordered, "Down with religion! Long live atheism." This is not so in America, where all men are free to worship as they please. Americans attend more than 250,000 churches while there are only twenty thousand churches in Russia all of which are dominated.

This in answer to the question, "What has made America great?" Robert Quillen makes this statement, "Free enterprise and free competition, have made Americans and America what they are. No other people has done so well because no other (economic) system permits and encourages such development."

American Competitive System

Our forefathers were brave, adventurous and anxious to find a land where they could do as they wished. There was no class distinction between them. All of them were interested in only one thing, finding a land of freedom of religion, speech, and press. They had a vast continent to explore and little money for their maintenance. The environment was tremendously wild, and there was a great need for leaders. Most of the early colonists were servants of chartered trading monopolies, which were created to explore the new continent. They wanted to set up a government that would give them freedom of all the things that they had been deprived. The people back in England expected the colonies to be a source of gold, silver, and valuable raw materials. This system was based on the absolute supremacy of the state. These early colonists had the spirit of competitive enterprise. Not long after they had settled the people revolted against too arbitrary rulers, not the system. Finally there came the Revolutionary War and the Declaration of Independence, which included individual freedom among the rights of men. After the Revolution, the economic chaos showed a need for a stronger government. They made the United States Constitution, which recognizes private property rights, and limits of states control. Protection of individual enterprise and free competition were also assured.

Since the early settlers of our country had to clear land for homes and farms, they didn't have time to think about industries. When the Civil War came, the Southern States were practically all agricultural. After this war, they began to manufacture several types of material. The Northern States showed good salesmanship and were making good in industries. This rapid advancement in industrial work caused the South to wake up. Factories were built and competition then started. The main reasons industry and business developed were to acquire food, clothing, and shelter. When large scale production developed, new and more machinery was invented. Thus each worker became more specialized. In the colonial days it took longer time and much harder work to make one pair of shoes. Now in one day, ten thousand pairs of shoes can be produced in one factory.

The division of labor both between groups or companies and within the groups or companies has caused productive efficiency and certain standards of products to be ncreased many times. There are many advantages of division of labor, some of which are increased production, lower costs, gain in efficiency, greater speed in production and more accuracy. Like all other things there are disadvantages to division of labor. Some of them are problems of management, control, price, supply, demand, profit, wages and ownership. The workers have attempted to gain shorter hours, higher pay, and a right to a voice in working conditions. Unlike communism the democratic government does not take control of ownership unless it harms social welfare. In some cases the government has to make a few restrictions or levy taxes. Some of the problems of the factory system are training the workers, strikes, unemployment, and labor unions.

Competition means two or more independent sellers offering identical goods for sale. Individual and competitive free enterprise has* "brought more blessings to the average man than any conomic system the human race has yet devised." Competition keeps people alert and makes every fellow try to have the best things. There are no officials that tell the educational enterprise what it can do. The money from private ownership combined with public funds from local sources is used as the people see fit for the educational needs. This work shows a competitive spirit of local responsibility for local affairs. In a dictator-ridden city the people would not be allowed to carry on this work for such an institution. Competition between individuals, which is the freedom of the individual to select the things that seem important to him and offer the greatest reward in service, money, and power, has kept this nation from becoming stratified into rigid non-competing classes. In communism the state owns all productive facilities and the people do not have the same interest in their work as they would if they owned it. Under the competitive enterprise system in America, a worker does not have to spend all he ears to live, but he has a savings account. In communism the government gets everything. The worker gets only enough for a mere existence. Freedom of competition is the best regulator of prices. It causes better salesmanship and service, assures minimum prices and profits, and gives better products.

The United States is the greatest economic nation because it is a government* "of the people, by the people, and for the people." Since it is by the people and for the people, naturally it is made in the way most suited for the needs of the people. The development of the economic system, with achievements, has been dependent upon the money system. Because the United States does have the competitive system, money has been made in great quantities; yet it takes money to develop a country's economic system. There are four important features in economic development. They are changes in size and number of business units in the country, the relation of large business units to our economy as a whole, the financing of business, and the effects of technological improvements upon the production of goods and employment.

The American system of political and economic relations is not imposed upon us, and it is not over and above us; but it is our everyday life It has developed as an altogether distinct departure from other systems. Two problems of operation of the economic system are first, price of product and second, distribution of proceeds of sale. Individual enterprise is regulated to assure the greatest benefits to society and to protect the individual. Freedom of competition is the best regulator.

From the American and French Revolutions came the basic philosophy that the state is the servant, not the master of the people. The republic of the United States of America was based upon the belief in the individual citizen being supreme. The individual ownership of property and the citizen's rights to say what could be produced or sold in the market place, were the bases for the economic plan of our republic. In the economic life the government was to protect, to help, and to administer justice for all citizens, but not provide for them. In communism the people have no bill of rights to protect the individual.

*"The purpose of education is to prepare men and women to live, to think, to see, be happier and better members of the family, better neighbors in the community, and better citizens of the state." Since we are given the power from God to think and do what is right, we should understand that democracy is better for the people than communism. Communism is a theory or system of social organization, where the government owns everything. It is a system by which the whole community or state controls the means of production and the distribution of industrial products. As individuals of our country we must understand how we work together to make the political, economic, and social atmosphere in which we live. If our competitive system between individuals was taken away we would lose the right to own our businesses, the chance to get to better positions, and the speed of our progress. One thing most of the early forms of organization had in common was the fact that each had a master with great power over his subjects. In The Republic Plato tri to develop an ideal state. Many o er writers tried to develop an id state. All were trying to esca despotism, tyranny, and dominati of the individual by the governme In our country we have what all forefathers fought for. We have system of government where the p ple rule. The spirit of individual developed partly to the deep nec sities of frontier life, partly to adventurous nature of the colon and partly to the fact that the he of authority were so far away were not so strict in their pov Competition is the pedestal for progress of our nation. Since have it, let us keep it.

LESSON

One practical lesson 4-H Club members and farmers learned at recent hog shows is the price penalty for feeding to "heavy" weights. In addition, the cost per pound of gain is excessive.

STANTON

Invitations have been received to the marriage of Miss Florence Evelyn Gregg. daughter of Mrs. Henry Gregg to Mr. Gerald Waddell Everett on Tuesday, the first of June, at seven o'clock in the evening, Southside Baptist Church, 19th Street and 11th Ave. South, Birmingham, Alabama. A reception immediately following the ceremony at the Senior Nurse's Home.

Appearing in The Birmingham News Saturday May 15, was a picture of Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, known throughout the world as the father of Boy's Town. Father Flanagan died Friday in Berlin at an army hospital after a heart attack. The Nebraska Priest founded his world-renowned home for needy boys in 1917 on the outskirts of Omaha. He gave sanctuary to boys accused of crimes ranging from petty thievery to murder. He pleaded in many courts for custody of the youths — contending that proper environment was the most effective cure for curbing juvenile delinquency. Father Flanagan's creed, "There's no such thing as a bad boy." His work was a wonderful work — working so faithfully with the underprivileged, loving youths so well, regardless of nationality.

Mr. Walter C. Hand of Washington, D. C., underwent a very serious operation on his right eye at the Bethesda Naval Hospital last Tuesday afternoon. Messages to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hicks, stated that he stood the operation all right; that the outcome of the operation wouldn't be known for some weeks.

Mrs. Gay Watts, Miami, Fla., isn't doing so well since her fall in the bathtub. She can't use her hands or arms and has fallen twice since her accident. Her entire left side is terribly bruised and giving her quite a bit of pain.

Many attended the final rites Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., Jones Baptist Church, Jones, Ala.. for Mr. James Francis Apperson. 69. whose death occured unexpectedly at 9:15 a.m.. Saturday. A twin brother, Mr. Will Apperson, of Plantersville, Ala., preceded his brother to the grave some years ago. Surviving is the widow, Mrs. Emma Belle Smedlep Apperson; two daughters, Miss Jessie Mae and Miss Frances Apperson; a brother, Mr. David B. Apperson; four sisters—Mrs. L. O. Olive, Mrs. Laura Walburn, Miss Fannie Apperson and Mrs. J. F. King. Spmpathy is extended to this family.

Mr. G. Vann Martin, Conception Street. Mobile, Ala., was badly burned last week. Mr. Arthur Martin is in a Gulfport, Miss., hospital. These men are former residents of this community. Our well wishes to both of them. They are brothers of Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

You should keep a stiff brush near the laundry tubs as brushing is more efficient and easier than rubbing on a board. The brush is good for cleaning out pockets and for brushing soapsuds onto stubborn stains.

Thumbtacks on the bottom of pictures will keep them out from the wall and thus will keep dust from collecting behind the pictures and staining the wall.

Chesnutt Named Extension Editor

Auburn, Ala.—Appointment of Robert Chesnutt as API extension service editor was announced this week by Director P. O. Davis. Chesnutt succeeds L. O. Brackeen, who recently was made director of publicity for the Alabama Polytechic Institute.

He joined the Extension Service in 1941 as assistant editor and later became state AAA editor. After three years in the Army, he returned to extension editorial work in 1945. He was graduated from A.P.I. in agriculture in 1939.

Right Wringing Saves Clothes Plus Washer

Like ways of doing most things, there's a right and wrong way of wringing clothes in the washing machine. Careless wringing can damage both clothes and machine.

Rules for wringing the right way were listed this week by Stella Mitchell, Extension Service home management specialist:

(1) Before putting clothes into the wringer, fold them smoothly so that the thickness is evenly distributed across the roll.

(2) Let the machine wring at its own pace. Never try to rush the job by putting or forcing pieces through.

(3) Large buttons or buckles should not go through the wringer. Fold small buttons or other fastenings under a layer of the fabric before wringing so they will not scrape the rubber off the rolls or be torn off.

(4) To keep small articles from sticking to one roll and being turned over and over, fold them inside a towel or other large piece before wringing.

(5) As soon as the laundry is finished, release the pressure on the wringer so that the rolls separate.

(6) Wipe rolls dry before leaving the machine, or wash and dry them if they are stained by colored clothes.

Timely Harvesting Means Good Quality

Harvesting fruits and vegetables at the right time—when they are not too green or too ripe—assures the customer of a good product, declares John Bagby, API extension marketing specialist. And a good product means satisfied customers and repeat sales, he explains.

Immature peaches, watermelons, tomatoes, and other products have a poor flavor. Yet they must not be overripe when harvested. Snap beans and sweet corn become tough if left in the field too long. The more perishable products like strawberries, tomatoes and peaches break down before they reach market if over-ripe when harvested.

Bagby suggests that county agents be consulted about proper time for harvesting.

GRATITUDE AND INGRATITUDE

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

The Scripture lesson for the subject chosen may be found in Luke 17:11-19. It is the story of ten lepers that stood afar off from Jesus, and lifted up their voices, and cried to Jesus, saying, "Master, have mercy on us." And Jesus told them to go show themselves to the priest. And as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed of his leprosy, returned to give thanks to Jesus. He glorified the Lord with a loud voice But he was the only one of the ten that did return to express his thanks and gratitude for his being healed.

Jesus expressed disappointment in the other nine, saying, "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this one stranger.

Friends, did you ever stop to think, everybody appreciates the spirit of gratitude? It isn't vanity in mankind to want gratitude for favors rendered. Jesus Christ wanted men to give unto him thanks and express gratitude for his favors bestowed upon them. He expressed disappointment when he did not receive such appreciation. To desire gratitude for our service is pure soul hunger. Most of us are willing to work, toil, and struggle, if in the end, we can be sure that what we do is appreciated by those for whom we work, toil and struggle.

A faithful pastor desires above all else appreciation for his service. Just to know that the people of his church, and the community are greatful for all he does in their behalf. The family doctor should receive gratitude for his untiring service, as well as pay in dollars and cents. School teachers should receive more gratitude from their students, and even from the parents of the students which they teach. Our city officials should be highly compensated for their interest in public safety. The city firemen are another set of men that should receive gratitude from everybody. Too many people never think of the city firemen until their home or their neighbor's home catch fire. Then they grumble if the firemen are a little late coming, or do not succeed in putting the fire out as quickly as they think. . .This is down right ingratitude.

Ingratitude has been described as the blackest of sins. It is one of the meanest of sins. Ingratitude is a dark cloud without a silver lining. And is the bitterest of medicine any one can take. The effect of ingratitude never quite leaves the system. Personally, I had rather be stung with the criticism than with the sting of ingratitude. Every one should cultivate the spirit and habit of showing gratitude, for it is one of the rarest flowers that blooms in the garden of virtues. Ingratitude manifest itself in graumbling, murmuring, and complaining. One of the sins of Isael was that of murmuring. But it is the lean pig that squeals the most. Thankfulness is the tune of angels. Many of the Psalms are like winged angels coming down across the celestial region; because they bring praises to the Most High. Real gratitude is the memory of the heart and soul. I read a story one time telling of a man who had been befriended by another man, but he had never shown his appreciation. He telephoned his friend across the country a thousand miles just to express his gratitude and appreciation for the friendship and favor he had received from this friend of his. Yes, real gratitude is the memory of the heart and soul.

Shakespeare says that "Sharper than a serpent's tooth is a thankless child." I will add that sharper than a serpent's tooth is a thankless anybody. Ingratitude is a deadly thing. It kills friendship; it destroys trust and confidence. It imbitters the soul. We should guard ourselves against the bitter bite of ingratitude. When you do a favor for others, forget it yourself. Mark it up to the credit side of your own character development. Never expect anything from anyone anytime, for anything you might do for them. . .Then if you receive no gratitude you will not be disappointed. . . Do this, if you can. If it becomes your lot to comfort yourself in this manner, bear in mind, that no effort for good is ever lost, but that bread cast upon the waters will return in time to those who cast it there. So be not weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Commissioners Court of Chilton County until 10:00 a.m., Saturday, May 29, 1948, and at that time publicly opened for the following equipment:

One tank car of diesel fuel; one tank car of gasoline.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

VOTE TUESDAY

Once again Tuesday we go to the polls to vote. This time it will be to select our standard bearers in the November election and to select our representatives in Philadelphia next July at the Democratic National Convention.

All indications are that the vote will be very light. To a lot of people the interest will be little and any excuse will be sufficient to keep them away from the polls. See that you are not oen of these slagers.

It is of utmost importance who we select to run against a Republican in November and it is of great importance who we send to Philadelphia.

In the local race is Jim Dunlap and Bob Holley for Commissioner of District Four and Abney Brown and Neal Harrell running for Commissioner of District Three.

In the Sixth District race for Delegates to the Democratic Convention at Chicago is Coleman Long, Fred Nicol, Henry J. Mayfield and Thomas H. Maxwell. You will vote for two.

In the State-At-Large run-off there will be seven names and you will choose four of the seven. They are Miller Bonner, A. A. Carmichael, James E. Folsom, Gessner McCorvey, Joe Money, Hardy Riddle and Albert Stapp.

So you see there are plenty of reasons for you to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast your vote.

Make it your first duty next Tuesday.

Two Persons Burned To Death . . . . Fire Destroys Farm Home . . . . Two Children Killed . . . . Little Girl Burned As Clothing Catches Fire . . . .

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

After next Tuesday we can all start lining up our candidates for City Council and Mayor. Boy, this has been some election year hasn't it—never a dull moment. Going to the gulf shores this week end, maybe it would be a good idea to wait until next Wednesday to come back. Then the second act would be over anyway There's a bright side though. We have three months to rest until the third and fourth acts.

Lotta fish being caught now down on the river. Lotta fish going down there that ain't catching any fish, tco. Clint Jones and Evelyn Williamson caught as pretty a string the other week as we ever saw. Ten of the beauties weighed about twenty-three pounds.

Clanton always gets a lot of motorcycle traffic whenever there's motorcycle races in Montgomery. It looks like about half the people in the magic city ride motorcycles and attend the races. Sunday was no exception. There were two-day races in the Capitcl city and the darn things whizzed through town continuously for two days.

A country doctor in Spain came upon a peasant whose burro had just balked. The peasant asked for help, and the doctor reached down into his medicine case, found some powders and gave them to the animal. The burro switched his tail, tossed his head and started on a mad gallop down the road.

The peasant looked at the doctor, "How much did the medicine cost, Senor Doctor?" he asked.

"About two pesetas," answered the doctor.

"Give me five pesetas' worth, then" said the peasant. "I've got to catch that burro"

Guess you heard about the young fellow who was worried about what to call his mother-in-law. He felt that "mother-in-law" was too cold. Yet, he thought to call her "mother" was a little too effectionate. He asked a friend about it and was told: "It den't matter the first year; and the second you can call her "grandma."

A Chaplain, serving his first day on an aircraft carrier somewhere in the Pacific, sat down for mess with some enlisted men. The speed with which the navy men stowed away their food intruged him. His own account of what happened was:

'I bowed my head to say a few words of grace, and when I looked up again, a waiter asked me what I wanted for dessert."

The first name we have heard mentioned as a candidate for city counciiman this fall is that of Charles Wade. We haven't checked with Chas. yet, but that is "town-talk." He is the present Chief of our Fire Department and if he really decides to make the race would make a faithful and intelligent city official.

The other day Mrs. L. A. Lambert invited us up to see a picture she had painted for the Chapel at Veterans Hospital at Montgomery. Knowing nothing at all about the subject we still say that it is a beautiful piece of work. In oil, it is of Jesus with His arm around the shoulder of a young man in a hospital robe and is taken from the picture titled "Go Teach." It is large enough to reach across the end of the chapel and according to Mrs. Lambert took four long, hard days to complete. The time and talent was a gift to the veterans from Mrs. Lambert. She also has some other beautiful pictures.

IN MEMORY

On May the 8th the death angels visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jones. And took with them their most loved posession in this world. Their loving baby girl, Little Shirlie Jean Jones.

Just a beautiful young flower,
Weaving in the sun,
Until the Angels called her
To that precious World Above.

There is a vacancy in our home
Which can never be filled.
But we will meet our darling baby in heaven,
If it's our blessed Saviour's will.

Our hearts are burdened heavy,
Since the Lord called her away,
And we pray the Lord to guide us from day to day.
So our feet shall not wander on the roads that are astray;
So that we shall meet our darling on that bright and happy day.

O Lord, how we miss her,
No one will ever know.
She was called for a purpose,
Which we will never know.
Until we reach the safety of heaven;

POULTRY PRODUCTION A MONEY MAKING PROJECT

No doubt there are several farmers in Chilton County that would do a good job in producing broilers for the market. It is a very attractive 4-H or adult project.

We have the new poultry marketing cooperative in Montgomery and we will need to step up our production if this plant is to function in processing and marketing poultry. We should not put broiler production on a basis of just supplying this facility but on the basis of producing some additional farm income for better living.

This cooperative plans to confine its operation to poultry processing and marketing at present and add eggs when their present operation gets to running smoothly.

Information on recorded poultry results should be of interest to many Chilton County farmers.

a. A 4-H project should have a minimum of 300 chicks and an adult project 1,500.

b. We are enclosing some studies from Cullman and Limestone counties that give you basic information. Some of these poultrymen have been raising poultry for many years.

c. We understand you can secure broiler type chicks from: The Gainsville Hatchery, Gainsville, Ga.; The Alabama Hatchery, Dothan, Ala. The cost of these chicks are 14 to 16 cents each.

d. It requires about 10 pounds of feed to get broilers up to 2¼ to 2½ pounds each at 8 to 10 weeks of age.

e. Some feed dealers are offering poultry producers workable propositions whereby the farmer can get into the broiler business without having to bear the cost of feed and baby chicks immediately.

If you are interested in broiler production and your county agent's office can be of assistance to you, call on us at your convenience.

Studies of broiler production in Cullman and Limestone counties reveal the following facts:

CULLMAN COUNTY—

1. Sold at 12 weeks of age.
2. Mortality, 12.1%.
3. Weight, 2.68 pounds.
4. Selling price, 33c pound.
5. Feed used, 9,855 pounds. per 1,000 chicks.
6. Labor income, $134.00 per 1,000 chicks.
7. Labor, 67 minutes per 1,000 chicks, per day.
8. Broilers paid farmers $1.43 per hour for time spent in caring for birds.

LIMESTONE COUNTY—

1. Sold at 10.5 weeks of age.
2. Mortality, 5.6%.
3. Weight, 2.75 pounds.
4. Selling price, 34c pound.
5. Feed used, 9,500 pounds, per 1,000 chicks.
6. Labor income, $173.00 per 1,000 chicks.
7. Labor, 102 minutes per 1,000 chicks per day.

The Montgomery Processing Plant is now operating only two days per week. It needs more good quality Alabama grown broilers to operate efficiently. Poultry projects are paying others. Chilton County farmers are as well equipped and industrious as any farmers in the state. Why not add a broiler project to your present farming operations?

EVERY FARM WIFE A FIRE CHIEF, COUNTY AGENT SUGGESTS

"Every farmer's wife a fire chief." That's what County Agent M. R. Glasscock is urging to cut down the number of farm fires that kill approximately 3,500 persons annually in American's rural areas.

Over fifty per cent of farm fires start in the farmhouse. "The housewife, therefore, is the logical person to be home fire chief and check up on others in the family so they won't start fires through carelessness."

This means she must be especially careful in her own everyday tasks. "Electric irons alone start [illegible] fires a day in American homes [illegible] tion of hot grease and c[illegible] fires account for many more."

As home fire chief, the farmwife should deputize a man in the family to check electric connections and outlets regularly to prevent fires from sparks and short circuits. "She also should see that dry cleaning is not done near stoves or open flames. Home dry cleaning fires kill more than 800 people every year. Careless smoking causes more than one-third of the 300,000 fires that happen in the home every year, according to figures of the Fire Protection Institute. Smoking in bed kills more people than any single cause and should be forbidden."

Housewives should see that their families use common sense and not take needless fire risks. An extra precaution is to have approved fire extinguishers within easy reach in case fires do occur. Properly used, they can keep fire from spreading while help from volunteer or other fire companies is on the way. But the greatest fire-preventive is fire-elertness. And housewives can make their families alert and keep them alert to fire dangers better than anyone else in the family.

On Wednesday, May 13th, the pupils of Alabama Mills School presented their May Day Festival. The Festival featured a Rhythm Band and Folk Dances. The following band program was given: Drummer Boy, First and Second Grade Band; Shoemakers Dance, entire band; Onward Christian Soldiers, entire band; Pop Goes the Weasel, entire band; Anvil Chorus from Ill Travatore, Third and Fourth Grades. The Folk Dances were: The Primrose Ball, by the First Grade; Old Zip Coon, by the Third and Fourth Grades; Hansel and Gretal from the Opera, Humperdink, by the Second Grade; Captain Jinks, Third and Fourth Grades; Good Night, Ladies, First and Second Grades.

GOVERNMENT WILL PAY PART OF WINTER LEGUME SEED COST

According to a report from the local County PMA Office, the government will pay part of the cost of the seed of winter legumes to be seeded this fall. Austrian winter peas—3.3.
Hungarian vetch or chaffy crimson clover—3.9.
Hairy or woolypod vetch—7.7.
Common vetch, Willamette vetch (certified), or bur-clover (in bur)—4.4.
Willamette vetch (uncertified)—4.2.
Blue lupine—3.5.
Crimson clover (clean)—7.8.
Caley peas—4.0.
Monantha vetch—6.4.
Mixed vetches (70-89%)—7.1.

Mr. Campbell stated further that as soon as the total cost of the legumes was deermined, the farmers would be notified immediately.

Who Are We, Anyway?

The subject came up at Bill Webster's, the other day, as we were sitting and chatting over beer and pretzels. Just who are the folks who make up our town? Where'd they come from?

Doc Hollister's Scotch-English ancestry; Will Dudley's folks were Pennsylvania mining stock; Skip Powell's family were brewers back in Holland.

Guess our bloodstream's got a bit of every country on the globe—and every section of America. We still got differences in taste and background —whether they apply to music, history, or beer. Only those differences don't matter—because we're self-respecting people, in a free, united land.

And from where I sit, that's what makes our towns and cities—our America—so strong and tolerant. Our championship of individual liberties has brought us people from all faiths, all lands—to prove that respect for one another's rights is the greatest bond humanity can know!

The Ogburn family and Mrs. Ogburn's mother, Mrs. Lula Willis, spent Sunday in Eclectic, Ala., visiting with Mr. Ogburn's uncle, Mr. J. A. Waldrop.

The Ladies Guild will meet today at the home of Mrs. Owen Carter. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. A. E. Reagan, Mrs. James Bosworth and Miss Naemi Turnquist spent Thursday in Birmingham visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Lula Willis of Center Point is visiting here for a few days with the Ogburn family. She came to attend the graduation of her granddaughter, Miss Bettye Ogburn, who graduated Friday night from the Jemison High School.

We are glad to see Mr. W. M. Rainey underwent a serious operation at the Central Alabama Hospital from which he is recovering nicely.

Mrs. Horace Williams, who has been on the sick list for some time now, is still confined to her bed, and her condition is not much improved. We hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.

The body of Pvt. G. W. Collins, who was killed overseas while in the service of his country about four years ago, has been returned to his home country and will arrive in Clanton some time this week. Burial will take place on next Sunday afternoon at the Cedar Grove Cemetery with full military services. Pvt. Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Collins.

It is with deep regret that we learn of the death of Mr. William Havener of Birmingham, son of Mrs. Carrie Matthews and brother of Mrs. Irene Peterson of Thorsby Institute. Mr. Havener was seriously injured on last Sunday night when his motorcycle was in collision with an automobile and he died early Monday morning. Mrs. Peterson was called to Birmingham Sunday night as soon as the accident occurred. Our heart-felt sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strickland spent Sunday in Billingsley, Ala., and attended the baccalaureate service there.

Mrs. Irene Peterson and Mrs. Eva Turner were dinner guests of Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist on Tuesday night of last week. After dinner they motored to Clanton and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Erle Ellis where they spent a most enjoyable evening. At a late hour Mrs. Ellis served delicious cake and coffee.

Messrs. Emmett Billingsley, David Childress and Akins Collins attended [illegible] at Mars Hill last Sunday.

We are having some lively baseball games these days, and if you don't believe it, go around to our ball park some Saturday or Sunday and see some of the games that are being played, and by the way, when you go, don't forget to contribute a little of that stuff called money to our local boys and help them in the work they are trying to do. It takes money to have a ball club, the park needs a little trimming up and some seats built, etc., for the comfort of you fans, so go out there and boost your ball club. On last Saturday they played the Jemison team and were defeated by a score of 6 to 3. Sunday they played Marvel, Ala., and were again defeated 11 to 7. Get out there and root for them and help win some of the games.

W. J. Watson Writes Voters

To My Friends in Chilton County:

I would like to say a few words to you about Jim Dunlap, who is in the run-off for Commissioner from the Fourth District. I have personally known Jim all his life and the following is true to my knowledge: The boy is the son of poor, but honest parents, Billy Dunlap and Lucy Baker Dunlap. He has had to make everything he has the hard way and his honest dealings with fellowmen will continue to strengthen him. Jim's twenty-five years of public business dealings fully qualifies him for office of Commissioner and he has always voted a Democrat ticket. I do know that had he not felt he would make a good commissioner, he would never have offered his services. Now, lastly, let me urge you to go to the polls June 1st and help us elect Jim Dunlap for our Commissioner from the Fourth District.

I again assure you he is the man for the job.

Thanks,
W. J. WATSON.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

T. A. (Abney) BROWN

Maplesville, Ala., May 22, 1948.
Editor, Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama
Dear Editor:

It seems that there have been some false reports out about one of the candidates in Beat 3. Neither of them has ever been a mail carrier that I ever knew of. And, be it known, the one residing in Maplesville is not being supported financially by any individual or "clique." He is clean, honest and dependable; has had a lot of experience in road construction, and best of all, has made a success with his own business. He is in the race for the benefit of the tarpayers. He is favoring no corner of the county, or district, is making no promises of employment if elected, and best of all, IS BUYING NO VOTES. He is too clean a man for that, and, too honest as well.

You will make no mistake if you can cast your vote for the GI.

THERE'S a big day coming soon — the day when you get your diploma. By enlisting in the Army or Air Force after graduation you can take full advantage of one of the finest opportunities ever offered a young man.

CHOOSE YOUR FIELD OF SPECIAL TRAINING BEFORE YOU ENLIST!

If you are 18 to 34 (17 with parents' consent) and a high school graduate, you can select your course of training in the Army or the Air Force before enlisting.

Under the Army Technical School Plan you can specify two different courses that appeal to you in each of two fields. The Army will check to make sure there is an opening in one of the four courses you have selected, and a place will be reserved for you in that course. Then you enlist for 3, 4 or 5 years, and after passing the physical and mental examinations and completing basic training you will be guaranteed training in your chosen field.

The Air Force offers a similar opportunity in its Aviation Career Plan, giving you a pre-enlistment choice of 3 among the more than 40 USAF Specialist Schools. There is no better way to get a start in the great and growing field of aviation.

Either plan gives you good pay, excellent training and a splendid chance for advancement in a real career. You can get full information, including lists of available Specialist Schools and Technical Courses, at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

To Men with 2 Years or More of College

To The Voters of the Sixth District

I regret that it has not been possible for me to meet each of you personally during my campaign for Delegate to the Democratic National Convention from the Sixth Congressional District.

Although I was born and reared in this District, since graduation from college I have spent several years in the service of our country as Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and in the foreign service of the United States Army, and hence have not had the privilege of meeting many of you during the past several years.

When you go to the polls on June 1st to exercise your right to vote for Fred Nicol as one of your two delegates from this District, please remember that I am just as much opposed to Truman and his so-called Civil Rights Program as any candidate in this race. I wish to emphasize this with all sincerity and earnestness because I feel that some may have been misinformed about my stand on this important issue.

Your vote and influence will be highly appreciated.

THANK YOU,

THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

The Scripture lesson for this subject is taken from Matt. 4:1-11; and the text is taken from Heb. 4:15. The text tells us that Jesus is our High Priest, and that He was tempted in all points like as we, yet without sin. We can learn many things from the temptations of Jesus. He overcame every temptation without committing a single sin. This is encouraging to Christians today. For since Jesus overcame, He is able to help us to overcome also. We can tell the devil as Jesus did, to get behind us, and then draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to us.

It is not sin to be tempted, for temptation is no sin. Temptation may be the cause of sin, and will be if we yield to it. But we do not have to yield to any temptation. There is an old saying, viz.: "We cannot prevent a bird from flying over our head, but we can prevent him from building a nest in our hair." So we might not be able to prevent a temptation, but we do not have to yield to it.

It was God's Will for Jesus to be tempted. The Holy Spirit led Him into the wilderness that He might be tempted of the devil. Tempation is in the plan of God for every Christian. It is the will of God for us to be tested and tried. God wants a tried people. He will accept no other kind. The test proves whether or not we are genuine. It was the human part of Jesus that was tempted, for he was not tempted a she Son of God, but as the Son of man. He had taken the armor of human flesh for battle, and not for idleness. It was necesary for Jesus to be tempted at the very beginning of His ministry. He had to begin His ministry with a smashing blow to the devil, whose works He had come to destroy. His temptation then was a decided victory over the devil. Every demon must have heard of this victory, for they always trembled while in the presence of Jesus. His temptation had its prophectic aspect of the complete overthrow of Satan, and all the kingdom of darkness. This caused the demons to cry out, saying, "Thou hast come to torment us before the time."

The first attack the devil made in this wilderness temptation on Christ; was to cause Him to use His power to satisfy His own natural desire for food. Right here the First Man Adam fell, but the Last Man Adam, Jesus, stood the test, and triumphed over the devil, and gave him a "knock-out" in the first round. The devil wanted Jesus to consider the natural plane before the Spiritual need. Right here all Christians had better look out. The cares, pleasures and riches of this life are as thorns growing with the seed, and will choke it until it will bring forth no fruit to perfection. You will be tempted to look after your selfish natural interest, and to neglect the spiritual necessiy. Jesus never used His power for a selfish purpose, but always to relieve suffering humanity.

The second attack was that of fanaticism. Taking Jesus to the highest place of the Temple, and suggesting that He jump down, that God would take care of the jump. Jesus here overcame satan with the Word of Truth, the Sword of the Spirit. The devil tries to get us on the natural plane in our worship. If he fails here: he will try to throw us to the other extreme, that of becoming a fanatic. The two extremes, that of naturalism, formalism on one side, and fanaticism on the other side. We had better find the middle of the road, and worship God in spirit and in truth. For God seeketh such to worship Him, in spirit and in Truth.

The third attack was that of compromise. Jesus did not yield to selfishness, and lower Himself to the natural plane. Nor did He become a fanatic and do something that would even tempt God; nor did He yield to a spirit of compromise for all the kingdoms of this world. But told the devil to get behind Him, that we should worship God, and Him only shall we serve. This gave the devil another "knock-out" that sent him whirling through the ropes, so-to-speak. This time too far gone to come back. Then the angels came and ministered unto Jesus. Since the Lord overcame; He will help us to overcome. We shall always triumph in Jesus our Lord.

This is the wool market season. W. H. Gregory, extension livestock specialist, recommends that all sheep be sheared except lambs.

PROVIDENCE — BEAT 13

DDT

Spraying cattle with DDT not only controls insects, but will reduce chances of cattle getting diseases carried by insects. W. H. Gregory, API extension livestock specialist, says that if a thorough job of spraying is done, including all the livestock and outbuildings, the farm home will be free of flies and mosquitoes for many weeks

Eyelet is excellent for lengthening short summer dresses. You may either insert a piece of eyelet in the waistband, or you may insert a piece in the hem. In some cases, you can lengthen the dress by inserting a band of constrasting material into the bottom, and then bind off the neck and sleeves with some of the same material.

VETERANS!

T. A. (Abney) BROWN

Go to the polls on June 1 and vote for T. A. (Abney) Brown for Commissioner of District Three, Chilton County.

He volunteered and served four years in the Southwest Pacific with the 3rd Naval Construction Battalion.

He is a member and former commander of V.F.W. Post 6331, Maplesville.

Has 10 years experience engineering and construction work with Alabama State Highway Department.

A life-long resident of Chilton County and an alumnus of University of Alabama.

Is supported by veterans of World War I and World War II and members of Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

Having lived in both peace and war with Abney Brown, we know him to be a conscientious worker and citizen. He and his brother operate a small business and thus recognize the necessity for good farm-to-market roads in order that our county become more prosperous. We have been assured by present and former engineers of the highway department that Mr. Brown has the skill, ability and training to replace our present roads with ones that have suitable surfaces for withstanding any and all weather conditions.

Being associated daily in business and socially with Abney, we know he is not running on "the ticket of any political boss", nor for "Any wealthy bigwig seeking favors." HE IS RUNNING FOR the little man, who pay the taxes and use the roads in their work.

As veterans of all branches of service in all theaters of both wars, we see in T. A. (Abney) Brown the capability for improving and maintaining that way of life for which we fought and which all consider so wonderful.

SOYBEANS FOR OIL

Farmers in several counties in Alabama are interested in growing soybeans for oil. A considerable acreage of soybeans for oil is grown in Baldwin and Escambia. A number of other areas are growing some beans for oil.

The low acre yield of most varieties of beans has held back production of soybeans for oil purposes. In the Baldwin-Escambia area the beans are grown after truck crops or after lupines harvested for seed in most cases. That is, in a year's time two crops are harvested from the same land. Very good yields are made. Soybean production is almost entirely a machine job.

Soybeans for oil as a cash crop may be grown after early harvested truck crops, winter grazing crops, or winter legumes such as lupine harvested for seed. It is necessary to make high yields to produce a profit from this crop.

Here are suggestions about producing soybeans for oil:

SOILS — Soybeans will grow on most soils in Alabama. To make good yields, it takes fertile soil. Fertile loams to sandy loams are good soils for soybeans. Do not expect good yields of soybeans on run-down, eroded land.

PREPARATION — Break, disc and harrow the land well and make a firm seed bed.

VARIETIES — For oil use varieties with yellow or straw colored seed.

The Ogden variety is the outstanding bean for oil in Alabama at present. It is a little greenish in color but is quite acceptable by the oil trade. Volstate is anoher good bean. The Clemson is sometimes grown for oil.

FERTILIZER — Use 300 to 400 pounds of 4-14-10 or 4400 to 500 pounds of basic slag and 50 to 70 pounds of muriate of potash. 200 to 300 pounds of superphosphate may be used in the place of the slag.

It may be desirable to use 4-10-7 or 4-10-4 if previous crops have not been well fertilized and land is not well built up.

INOCULATION — Inoculate with soybean inoculant.

WHEN TO PLANT — Plant at cotton planting time to middle of June

HOW MUCH SEED TO USE — Plant so as to have 10 or 12 plants per foot in three to three and one-half foot rows. This will take 45 to 65 pounds of seed per acre. You must have a good stand if you expect a good yield. The seed may be planted with a bean or cowpea plate. Cover one to two inches deep. Do not cover too deep. It is a good plan to run a weeder or drag harrow over the land after rains to break the crust and help the little seedlings come up.

CULTIVATION — Cultivate shallow and often enough to control weeds.

HOW TO HARVEST — Harvest with a combine when the pods are fully mature and before serious shattering starts.

MARKETING — Sell soybeans on the basis of established oil grades.

This is the wool market season. W. H. Gregory, extension livestock specialist, recommends that all sheep be sheared except lambs. Lambs should be saved and sold at regular lamb sales.

Tuesday, June 1st, we have another just privilege and duty, voting in the nominees for various offices. I am very happy to state that all you voters will see my name on the list for Commissioner from the Fourth District. Without a doubt, my meeting with everyone I have seen since the primary finds me closer to more and more people in the understanding of what we need and should expect from our next Commissioner from the Fourth District. In all these talks, you all have been helpful in your suggestions and constructive criticism, and now should you see fit to nominate me, you can be assured that I will guard your trust with my all. My campaign has been clean, will remain so and I am honest and sincere when I humbly ask for your support Tuesday, June 1st.

Many of you may be thinking of not voting, and to you, let me earnestly appeal to you as a citizen to go and vote your honest convictions. This is your duty to yourself, your neighbors and fellowmen.

Again, thank you, one and all, for your grateful help and I remain, awaiting a chance to serve you well.

JAMES M. (Jim) DUNLAP.

Abney Brown's Last Appeal

To all voters of Chilton County:

As candidate for commissioner of District Three, Chilton County, I again wish to express my sincerest appreciation for the heartfelt encouragement and support received during my campaign. The flattering vote for me in the May 4th primary makes me very humble and grateful to you as does the increasing encouragement received from my supporters at that time and from those now turning their support for me in the June 1 election.

It will be impossible for me to contact each of you to thank you and to seek your assistance in the forthcoming election. However, please accept this as a personal appeal to each and everyone for your vote and support on June 1, and if elected I will do my utmost for our county with the best roads and other facilities possible.

Sincerely,
T. A. (Abney) BROWN.

GROWING OLD

I am growing old and lonely
And can see and feel it increasing day by day,
But nothing I can do about it, only,
Watch and work and try to pray.

I hope when the many trials are ended.
And my shortcomings and worthlessness is over,
That God will know all my faults was not intended,
And some of the pages I have written could be done over.

When my heart is sad and blue and sore,
I only have God to comfort me and sympathize,
No other seems to think or care anymore
They just seem to think he's only fit to die.

God can cheer and comfort my lonely heart,
And will do so willingly, if we will only do our part;
He has given us flowers, birds and songs,
If we will prove to him that we belong.

ATTENTION VOTERS

WE RECOMMEND to the voters of the Sixth Congressional District for Delegate to the Democratic Convention, HENRY J. MAYFIELD, who led the ticket in the 1st primary.

Henry Mayfield served his country during the last war with the 1st Marine Division in the Southwest Pacific. He is a fighter and will fight the battle for the Southern people against Truman and his vicious so-called "Civil Rights Program." Mayfield was the first candidate to announce he was opposed to this program against our Southern Traditions. Henry Mayfield is from a family of traditional long time fighters for the Democratic Party. He is a NEPHEW OF THE LATE SUPREME COURT JUDGE, JAMES J. MAYFIELD, who contributed much to States Rights in our Democratic form of Government.

DUNLAP AND HARRELL WIN IN COMMISSION RACE

State Race Shows Bonner, Riddle, Stapp and Carmichael In Lead

The voters went to the polls Tuesday and said in no uncertain terms that a walk-out was wanted at Philadelphia when the Democratic Convention meets this summer, in case a "civil rights" platform is adopted by the committee.

The county was: Harrell 1,195 and Brown 1,113.

Dunlap 1,460 and Holley 928.

In the race for delegate-at-large, the last count was: Bonner 94,235; Riddle 91,626; Stapp 90,561; Carmichael 86,764; McCorvey 86,124; Money 72,715 and Folsom 60,961.

SALLY GOWAN WON FIRST PLACE IN SIDE STROKE SWIMMING

Blue Mountain, Miss. — Sally Gowan, Clanton, Ala., representing the Eunomians, won first place in the form events with the side stroke in the swimming tournaments during the annual athletic contests held at Blue Mountain College last week. Miss Gowan also won third place with the back stroke, and was a third place winder in tandem of the speed events.

Rumor Around To Change Form Of Government

There is a rumor abroad in Clanton that the voters will get a chance to change their City Government to a Commission form within the next few weeks.

The advantages and disadvantages were aired recently at one of the regular meetings of the local Kiwanis Club, but the outcome of the meeting was not announced. At least there was no notice of the Club going on record as advocating a change.

Several of the better businessmen of the City seem to think the Commission form would be a wise move now that Clanton has grown to where it cannot be easily handled along former lines.

However, when the times comes and the issue has been explained, it will be decided by the citizens at the polls. The voters should study both forms of government, before deciding which would be the better to choose for Clanton. Of course keeping in mind that the city is growing and will continue to grow, all the time becoming a heavier responsibility on its citizens and its officials.

Folsom Does Not See Need For Special Session

Although it has been rumored in many quarters that Gov. Folsom may call lawmakers back to Montgomery for a special session in the near future, the chief executive said that he does not plan to call such as assembly any time soon, unless enough Senate and House members feel that one is necessary.

Certain problems, all of which have been mentioned as possible special session material, that are up for discussion with legislative members include schools, roads, hospitals and old age pensions. Meanwhile the governor is holding conferences with lawmakers in Cullman, and later will meet others at Gulf State Park.

Carmichael Rules On Absentee Voting

Attorney General A. A. Carmichael ruled last week that persons holding elective offices in a county or persons employed as an assistant to any county officer who maintains or works in an office of a county court house do not have the authority to take acknowledgement of an absentee voter.

The advisory opinion, which came upon the request of Morgan County Judge of Probate T. C. Almon, held, however, that any person with authority to take acknowledgement of deeds also were qualified to take the acknowledgement of an absentee voter.

CONDEMNED MAN BEATS CHAIR FOR NINTH TIME

Montgomery, Ala. — Because the U. S. Supreme Court had failed to take action on his death sentence for criminal assault, a 21-year-old Negro from Mobile, Samuel Taylor, won his ninth reprieve from the electric chair last week.

Convicted of criminally attacking a 14-year-old white girl at Prichard, a suburb of Mobile, Taylor was sentenced to die in the chair last week, but was granted a two-week reprieve by Gov. James E. Folsom. The reprieve was his ninth since he appealed to the governor last July for mercy. He was sentenced to die in 1946, but defense attorneys maintained that a confession of the crime was forced from Taylor.

The State Supreme Court upheld the original decision, but the case has since been taken to the Federal Supreme Court which failed to take action by the execution date last week.

FORT MORGAN PARK TO BE OPEN TO PUBLIC ABOUT JUNE 15th

Montgomery, Ala. — It was learned last week that plans are being made to open the newly installed and renovated facilities at Fort Morgan State Park to the public around June 15.

T. J. Rester, the Mobile businessman who leased the park area from the state several weeks ago, said that three large buildings used during the war by the Navy are being remodelled and that 70 rooms will be afforded the visiting public at the opening. Rester added that a dining hall is also being built. He explained that the projected hotel and golf course would probably have to wait until next year.

REA power lines have already been extended to the park, and Rester said the resurfacing of roads should be underway by July.

25,551 ALABAMIANS X-RAYED IN 1947 TB DRIVE

Montgomery, Ala. — Dr. D. G. Gill, state health officer, said last week that 25,551 Alabamians were x-rayed during 1947 under the state's drive against tuberculosis.

The state health chief, who said that the program was carried on despite personnel shortages and insufficient x-ray film, disclosed that of the first 12,299 persons examined, 652 were found to have the disease while 879 were classed as suspicious.

Peach Queen Contestants

In just a little better than a month, some lucky young lady will reign over Chilton County's second annual Peach Festival as Peach Queen. On the eve of the deadline, sixteen young ladies have entered the contest either under the sponsorship of some organization, or as the daughter of a peach grower.

In looking over the list of contestants it seems that every section of the county is represented by at least one contestant, proving that the crop of "peaches" is good just about any way you look at it.

The judges who select the queen will have a difficult time in reaching a decision with so many attractive girls competing for the lofty title.

Although all applications are not in, Miss Montgomery has listed the names of the following contestants who have officially entered:

Peggy Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ramsey (Clanton Kiwanis Club.)

Convict Killed In Attempted Flight From Kilby

Montgomery, Ala. — An electrically charged wire atop the wall surrounding Kilby Prison brought death to a 22-year-old Ohio convict who attempted to flee the institution last week.

According to Prison Director Frank Boswell, the young convict ran to the northeast corner of the prison and threw a crude rope ladder over the wall. After clamoring up the ladder to the top of the wall, he came in contact with a wire charged with 2,300 volts of electricity.

MAN ARRESTED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Joe Ed Hudson, 19, Held As Suspect In Car Theft Tuesday Night

Excitement rode the highways south of Clanton Tuesday night when two automobiles were taken at gun-point and one owner locked in his car trunk and taken along for a ride.

A Mr. McCown picked up a hitchhiker south of town in the early evening Tuesday and upon reaching the outskirts of Verbena was told to pull over. When he refused he was told again and threatened with a gun. He pulled over then and his car was taken and a pistol. The car was found later wrecked below Elmore

A Mr. Bass, upon seeing the wrecked machine, stopped to offer his services and was promptly held-up and locked in the rear trunk of his own automobile. He later broke the lock on the trunk and rolled out while the hold-up man was driving. He was not hurt seriously.

About noon Wednesday a soldier, said to be a deserter, by the name of Joe Ed Hudson, about 19 years old, was taken by Sheriff's Deputies from a room in the old Headley Building, where he was asleep. The local officers were compelled to break down the door and use tear gas in the arrest. He is suspected of the robberies Tuesday night. Hudson was found to be well-armed and one of the guns answered the description of a gun taken from McCown. He was placed in County Jail for investigation.

Arresting officers were Nivens, Ellison, Rucker, Police Chief Anderson and Highway Patrolman Braswell.

THE DEFEATED CANDIDATE

Whether for purely personal gain, the prestige that goes with holding a public office, or for the desire to aid his community and his fellowmen, ever so often a number of candidates announce for public office. The winners get slight reward for their efforts, but what of the poor candidate who gets defeated?

The candidate who is destined to go down in defeat a few months hence usually listens to a little urging by some of his relatives or personal friends and decides to be elected to office. He has lots of friends, has the experience and ability. He is strictly a nice guy who can't see how he could be defeated.

After his decision to run he goes before the committee to qualify. Immediately he gets clipped for a qualifying fee, which is quite reasonable. But, at the same time, it would have bought the wife a new pair of shoes. Then he goes by the newspaper with his announcement and runs smack into another fee which is reasonable enough from the printers point of view, but which nevertheless will take the profit out of a couple of days work. His ad is read and the word gets around. Acquaintances pat him on the back and wish him luck. Everything is going fine. He gets stuck for numerous cokes but then whoever heard of a candidate who didn't have to treat his prospective supporters? Before he gets ready to start his campaign he comes by the printing office to get his candidate cards and finds out that food isn't the only thing that has undergone a raise in price.

Has To Explain It

A few weeks before election he starts to canvass — announcing that he is a candidate isn't nearly enough to convince us voters that he wants the job — he has to personally explain it to each one of us.

He arranges for time off from his work, fills his tank with gas and starts out. It just so happens that the farmer he calls on is plowing in the back field at the time and he has to trod half a mile through plowed ground to make his little speech and present his card. Of course he could have left card at the house, but that might be interpeted as lack of interest so he rolls up his britches leg and starts the hike. His next prospect has a couple of overgrown dogs that are in foul humor on this particular day and don't seem to like his looks. After retreating to the car and waiting for a few minutes the dogs are called off and he gets to make another call. So as to make a good impression he speaks of the "playful pups" and talk crops to a man who has already forgotten more about crops than he can ever hope to learn. He drops in at a neighboring store for a pause that refreshes and gets stuck for a half-dozen more for the customers who happen to be around and consider candidates happy hunting. He returns home at the end of the day—his feet hurt, he is tired and the bed is so inviting, but he has to put in an appearance at a sixth grade play he doesn't give two whoops about, but he can't afford to miss a chance to put in public appearance. He hangs around promoting himself until the last person has gone, then goes home and sets the alarm an hour earlier so he can make up tomorrow for a few people he didn't see today.

He gets ample opportunity to contribute to every "worthy cause" under the sun. Regardless of its merit he has to dig down and fork over with a grin. He is helpless to escape a dozen nets set to trap designing candidates. He makes speeches to several groups of people who long ago made up their minds who they were going to vote for and he has to visit acquaintances and relatives who for years he has found impulsi[illegible] and who have been perfectly pleased that he didn't annoy them. Now, however, he needs their vote and they need his attention.

Etiquette of the Game

He talks to thousands of people, and if they don't exactly promise to vote for him they all wish him luck and promise, "I'll do all I can for you." Both of them know that "all I can" means exactly nothing but the rules and customs of our [illegible] prevent either of them from mentioning such an un[illegible].

[illegible] people who have their own little [illegible] should be run in the event he is [illegible]n don't hestitate to give plenty of [illegible] to what he considers a bunch of [illegible] "I'll see what I can do."

[illegible] in a month than he ordinari[illegible]ands in that month than [illegible]nds more money than his [illegible]

[illegible] and he and his cohorts estab[illegible] themselves at vantage points not too far from the polls just as a reminder to vote for him. He gets a little keyed up during the day and at 5:00 p.m. he goes home to spend several miserable hours before the returns come in.

Finally he gets word—things didn't go so good in beat so-and-so, Joe, but don't worry there's still plenty of time. Don't look so good these first few boxes Joe, but just wait until so-and-so comes in. Uncertainty and hope gradually fade and he finally realizes that no matter how the few remaining boxes go, his goose is cooked.

Nobody Can Tell You

Just how he feels then only a defeated candidate can tell you. Probably it's pretty little. Maybe he blames his friends for not supporting him, but most likely he blames his own shortcomings and wonders what they are. Probably he temporarily develops an inferiority complex with a desire to see and be seen by no one.

Maybe he is a little more practical and realizes that getting beat in a political race is not a disgrace; that for all the money he spent he still has his health. Maybe after he thinks it over for a while he will feel good over the fact that tomorrow when he goes downtown he can go and do just what he very well pleases without fear of antagonizing a voter. Maybe he can even grin a little when he thinks that tomorrow when somebody says, "How about a coke?" he can reply with. "Roll you high dice for it."—Elba Clipper.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Mrs. Otto Jones, who is chairman of Circle 2, WSCS of the Methodist Church, has been working overtime for the past two weeks on the Safety Drive, told a good one on herself the other day. Someone asked her how she got the large safety sign across the street at the corner of Second Avenue and the highway. Betty told them that she and Miss Victor (the lady who was helping her in the Drive) climbed the light posts on either side of the street and tied it up themselves. Now don't start making any reservations for reserve seats along the streets there 'cause the ladies are going to get Gene Gore to take it down just like he put it up there.

The other day a couple of insurance men we know were selling Claud Craig some insurance. Finally they arrived at the question, "What is your birthday?" to which Claud answered, "October 26th." Then they asked him what year. Claud says, "Why every year—what do you think?"

The Golf Tournament at the Country Club is causing so much interest that we saw Jimmie Bell stop in the picture show isle Tuesday night to discuss his prospects with another golf bug. We don't know what Jimmie goes around in but we bet that if we didn't have a broken leg and a lame back we could out point him by at least one stroke. That is if he can't bust a hundred.

Speaking of that Golf Tournament, it looks like it is just what was needed to put some interest into our Country Club. There is nothing like competition to create interest. R. C. Williams was telling us Tuesday morning that he was eliminated Sunday afternoon by Milton Barth. Milton beat him one stroke on each nine. R. C. and Milton are both regular players down there and along with Dr. Joe Edgar, Buck Tucker, Dubb Huddleston, Beef Jones and a few others make some pretty lively competition.

Douglas Woodyard has been waiting weeks for a good rain so he could have his Earthmaster demonstration. Well, this Saturday is the day. The demonstration will be held on the farm of Ben Sims, 1 mile north of the Quick Freeze Plant in North Clanton. If you are in the market for a new tractor, a Reo truck or a Kiaser or a Frazer, Doug says he's headquarters.

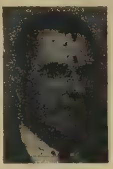
REVIVAL IN SAMARIA

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

The Scripture lesson for this talk is found in the book of "The Acts," chapter eight. From verse one we learn that "There was a great persecution against the Church which was at Jerusalem, and the saints were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria; all except the apostles." This persecution had broken out against the Church because of the hatred of the Jews toward Christianity. The persecution is seen in chapter seven. One of the deacons was stoned to death by the persecutors. Among those that were making havock of the church was a young man by the name of Saul.



Now during the heat of this persecution, Phillip, one of the deacons of the Church, went down to Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. How wonderful it would be today if our churches had deacons like this man Phillip. A man full of faith, wisdom, and of the Holy Ghost, with honest report, and a zeal for God. Samaria was a heathen city, and a heathen community, and had been for centuries. The city had long been neglected by the Jewish religious leaders; for the tans, (John 4;9). It was full of false Jews had no dealings with the Samariideas, as it was a seat of superstition and witchcraft. Before the days of Christ, it was the locality of the wicked king, Ahab. False gods had been their worship for centuries. There was in Samaria a certain man, called Simon which used sorcery, and bewitched the people, giving out that himself was some great one. But the Lord was more than a match for the devil. The Lord had His man. God's man was Phillip. A man full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith. When he entered the city he began to preach unto the people Jesus Christ. The people with one accord gave heed to his preaching. God confirmed His word with signs and wonders following. For unclean spirit came out of many that were possessed with them. The sick were also healed, and many miracles were accomplished in the name of Jesus Christ. . .This sent a wave of faith over the people. They began to accept the Gospel of Christ, and to receive the Word of Truth which Phillip spake unto them. And there was great joy in that city (8:8).

Now there was one thing about this revival I want you to notice. This man Simon believed also, and were baptized. But his heart was not right with God. For when Peter and John came to Samaria to pray for the young believers that they might receive the Holy Ghost, Simon offered them money for this power and this gift, that on whomsoever he laid his hands they might receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter told him that his money could perish with him. That he had neither part nor lot in the matter, for his heart was not right in the sight of God. (Verse 21) Peter told him to repent and pray God that the thought of his heart might be forgiven him. That he was in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

Now, if baptism could save a person, Simon would have been saved. For he was baptized. But baptism alone will not save. There must be repentance, and faith, and receiving Christ into the heart and life.

Another thing, you might notice about this revival. The people received Christ as their Saviour, and believed, and were baptized in water under the ministry of Phillip; but they did not receive the Baptism of the Holy Ghost until Peter and John came to them from Jerusalem. And when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost. For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. That is, they had been baptized in water under the authority of Jesus Christ command. But when Peter and John laid their hands on them, they received the Holy Ghost. . .People converted, believed in Christ, received Christ, and baptized in water under one preacher; but receiving the Baptism of the Holy Ghost under the ministry of others. They did not receive all that God had for them at one time. Neither do you or I. (Read Luke 3:16).

CONTROL GRAZING TO SAVE STAND

Dry weather in April and May has forced many farmers to graze kudzu and sericea too closely, declares S. R. Doughty, API extension soil conservationist.

To prevent a loss of stands of these crops, Doughty recommends that livestock be removed from them until they have regained their growth. "Remember," he warns, "that another dry period usually occurs in August.

BRIDE-ELECT ENTERTAINED

An afternoon tea combinel with a handkerchief shower was given by Mrs. Carl McDowell at her home on Selma Road on Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Jemmie Claire Littleton whose marriage will take place June 12th.

Each guest registered with a bit of advice to the bride in a miniature bride's book.

The home was lovely with floor standards of white magnolia and blue hydrangia and bowls of pansies and rosebuds.

Miss Joan Christiansen assisted the hostess in serving a delicious salad plate to the following guests: Mrs. Frank Porter, Mrs. Johnny Mims, Mrs. Ferrell Williamson, Mrs. E. V. Littleton, Misses Eloise Piper, Mary Evelyn Vines, Joan Christiansen, and the honoree.

GOOD PASTURE LAND

Many farms have areas on them which are overgrown with brush and briars. These areas contribute little or nothing to present farm income. If cleaned up and properly treated however, they will produce good pasture. Now is a good time to clean them up.

Avoid "over-washing" your clothes. Running your washing machine too long adds unnecessary wear to the clothes, wastes electricity, and may even drive soil into the clothes if the water is very soiled.

MY TRIP TO MONTGOMERY

We got on Mr. Headley's truck at 7:30 to go to Montgomery. When we got to Montgomery, we went to the Capitol. We saw the star where Jefferson Davis stood when he took the oath of office. Then we went and saw where the people vote. We saw pictures of things that happened a long time ago.

Next we went to the museum at the door. We saw the picture of DeSoto. We saw stuffed snakes, birds, groundhogs, beavers, deer heads, minks and weasels, and old dresses, suit and rock made into pot and arrow heads, Indian clothes.

Next we went to Oak Park and saw a monkey turn on the water and catch it in his hand and drink it. We saw a bear, alligators, fish, birds, goats, deer, pigeons and parrots. We went back and ate dinner. We had a good dinner. After dinner we went to the play ground. Then we got on the truck and come back.—By Billy Pierce, 4th Grade, Enterprise School.

MY TRIP

I sure enjoyed my trip. It was good. I enjoyed all of them, but most the park. I like to see the monkeys do tricks. I like to see the alligators. I like to see the telephone office, too. I had a very good lunch. I enjoyed the Capitol very much, too. I was very glad we got to go to Montgomery.

I like to go upstairs and see everything. I enjoyed Jefferson Davis's home and the animals in his home. I like to swing on the swings.—Willodean Rice.

PEACH FESTIVAL PLANS GOING FORWARD

According [illegible] committee [illegible] is taking definite [illegible] tions.

Mr. Jimmy McDow, Chairman of the Parade Committee, reports that there will be ten floats in the parade this year. The floats will be [illegible] to carry out the festival slogan "Chilton County Peaches are Tops." Appropriate floats will add a great deal of color and interest to the parade as well as advertise the quality of Chilton's peaches.

The exhibits committee, headed by Mr. C. C. Carlton, plans to remedy some of the mistakes made in last year's festival. According to Mr. Carlton, the greatest criticism of last year's festival was the fact that there were no peaches available for eating purposes and very few were offered for sale. Mr. Carlton is requesting that each grower who enters peaches in the package contest donate a basket of ripe eating peaches for each package that is entered. This year, space will be set aside for peach growers to sell peaches to visitors. Last year many of the out of county visitors were not able to buy peaches to take back home with them. By reserving space on the grounds for producers who have peaches for sale, visitors may purchase them without having to go to the orchards.

Since the festival is sponsored for the sole purpose of advertising Chilton County peaches, Mr. Carlton is asking the cooperation of all peach growers in supplying peaches for exhibit, sale and eating purposes.

A street dance is being planned as a part of the festival this year. Mr. Bob Windham, Chairman of the dance committee, reports that final plans for the dance are not complete but will be announced just as soon as possible.

As previously reported, the Lee Amusement Company will play Clanton the week of the festival. The Lee Amusement Company consists of rides only and will offer entertainment for the younger set as well as help advertise and highlight the peach festival. The rides wil lbe set up by Wednesday, July 7, and will continue through Saturday.

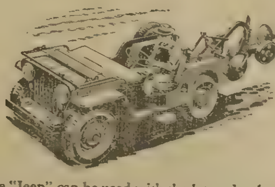
THE UNIVERSAL 'Jeep' DOES MORE FOR THE FARMER THAN ANY OTHER VEHICLE

● With 4-wheel drive for traction and steady pulling power in the field, the "Jeep" has a drawbar pull of 1200 lbs., operates almost any standard tilling or harvesting implement. Rear power-take-off runs power-driven implements from standard spline shaft drive.



● The "Jeep" can be used with the latest development in modern farming—a new hydraulic lift that raises, lowers or adjusts depth of implement while the operator remains comfortably seated. And of course it handles conventional pull-type implements, too.

● The Universal "Jeep" is for hauling and towing on or off the road in all kinds of weather. It carries up to 1200 pounds, pulls a braked load of 2½ tons at highway speeds.

● It provides mobile power anywhere on the farm, for operating many types of power-driven equipment such as separators, feed grinders, buzz saws, hammer mills, ensilage cutters and numerous others.

This message gives but a glimpse of the all-around, year-'round usefulness of the Universal "Jeep". We invite you to see this versatile vehicle in action and let us prove that it does more different jobs than any other single farm vehicle. SHADE FRUITS TO AVOID SUN SCALD

Though sunshine is very important for proper ripening, it will damage most fruits seriously if they are left in it after they are harvested.

To prevent such damage, John Bagby, API extension fruit and vegetable marketing specialist, advises farmers to place fruits in the shade immediately after harvesting.

He also suggests that loads of crops as peaches, watermelons, and tomatoes be covered on their way to packing sheds or to market.

HOGS IN CORN FIELD

In July and August hogs will be labor savers in Alabama corn fields. They will harvest corn right out of the field and convert it into high priced pork on the hoof. Based on last year's results, many farmers hope to obtain a gain of 1,000 pounds of pork per acre this year.

BUY WHAT YOU NEED

Now is the time to look around for a supply of seed that you will have to have for fall planting this year. Seed of some winter legumes and other crops are going to be scarce. It is also advisable to place your orders for farm machinery that you will need this year and next.

BETTER CANNING JOB MEANS BETTER FOOD

Canning season is getting into full swing in Alabama and the tastefulness of next winter's meals depend on how the canning job is done this summer.

Lavada Curtis, API extension food preservation specialist, offers the following suggestions for better canning:

(1) For best flavor and higher vitamin content, can red ripe firm tomatoes. Blanch them, peel, and pack into jars. Process in a waterbath canner.

(2) Can berries in berry juice with the addition of a small amount of sugar. Berries canned by this method will have a nicer color and flavor.

(3) Peel table ripe peaches by blanching in hot water, then cool in cold water. Firmer peaches may be peeled by dipping in a lye solution.

(4) To prevent discoloration of frozen peaches. add ascorbic acid and citric acid to the sugar or sugar syrup.

"MORE TREES FOR ALABAMA"

C. C. Gay, Jr., Forest Ranger, and Dave Tingle. Head Veteran Teacher of Vocational Agriculture represented Chilton County at the woodland management training course sponsored by the MORE TREES FOR ALABAMA project held May 24-28 in the Valley Creek State Park.

Included in the group were 14 representatives of the State Department of Conservation, 21 from the Veterans Training Program of the State Department of Education; 5 from private landowners, 1 from Soil Conservation Service and 15 instructors and visitors.

This was the third such course held, according to William R. Sizefore, Director of the MORE TREES FOR ALABAMA project. Previous schools were held in the Little River State Forrest and Florala.

The next school is scheduled for Kinlock Springs Camping Ground in the Bankhead National Forest. Personnel of Forest District Two, State Department of Conservation will be in charge of arrangements for this session.

Ray F. Weston, Chairman of the Alabama Forestry Council, spoke to the school at the Tuesday evening session. He told them that woodland management training schools had already proved their usefulness. "Enough of such schools will lead to a large increase in the productivity of Alabama woodlands," he declared.

Major-General Aubrey Hornsby, Ret., who attended two of the sessions commended the students for their enthusiasm for forestry work. Other visitors during the course were: Dr. T. D. Stevens, Auburn Department of Forestry head; Henry A. Bull, silviculturist and Rudolph Stahelin, associate silviculturist, Southern Forest Experiment Station; J. D. Gay, U. S. Forest Service, S. A. Presley, Hollingsworth and Whitney Company, and William Aiken, Soil Conservation Service, Prattville.

Instructors in addition to Sizemore were: Bruce MacGregor, Southern Pine Association; Dawson Jennings, Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association; J. A. Gibbs, Soil Conservation Service, Kelton Huxford, Coosa River Newsprint Corporation; L. L. Harris, W. E. Belcner Lumber Company and Kelly Woodham, Chapman Chemical Company.

Yup, $31.25 A Cup!

So you think prices are high today, Mrs. Housewife? Thank your lucky stars you aren't trying to please hubby on your budget, with living conditions as they were in France just 300 years ago. The cup of nutritious peas that has shapely Bettie Thomas aghast, then would have cost you a cool $31.25. Today, that money will buy the some 200 cans stacked above.

GET MORE FISH BY FERTILIZING PONDS

To grow more fish, wise farmers fertilize their fish ponds throughout the summer and fall.

Fish growth is slow when there is little fertilizer in the water, states E. F. Kennamer. API extension wildlife specialist. Underwater weeds also grow faster because sunlight can penetrate deeper through unfertilized water. he says.

"A good way to determine when more fertilizer is needed," the specialist explains, "is to stick your arm straight down into the water until it reaches your elbow. Then if you can see the tips of your fingers it's time to fertilize."

One application of fertilizer consists of 100 pounds 6-8-4 and 10 pounds nitrate of soda or its equivalent to each acre of water.

PREPARE LAND NOW FOR PLANTING FALL CROPS

Selection and preparation of land on which small-seeded crops are to be planted this summer and fall are two important farm jobs for June.

D. R. Harbor, assistant API extension agronomist. says that these jobs deserve the best attention that farmers can give them at this time. Here are suggestions offered by Harbor for selection and preparation of land for specific crops:

To get good permanent pasture plant mixtures containing white clover, Dallis grass, orchard grass and Kentucky blue grass only on moist fertile bottom lands or very fertile clay upland soils. The land should not be swampy.

Plant crimson clover alone or with ryegrass or oats on the heavier clay fertile soils which are well drained. It does not do well on light sandy soils without a heavy subsoil near the surface.

Well-drained soils are absolutely necessary for successful production of alfalfa. A stand cannot be secured and kept on soil which is poorly drained. Alfalfa cannot be grown successfully on clay of Susquehannah soils.

Begin preparation by turning land for all of these crops in June. Turn oat stubble land immediately after oats are harvested. Leave the land "in the rough" until after a good rain. Then disk or harrow it as often as necessary to control grass and weeds until time to plant.

By following this method of land preparation, planting can be done earlier, better stands will be secured and more growth will occur before cold weather starts in the fall." Harbor concludes.

Delicious block ice cream and individual cakes were served to the guests who called during the afternoon.

MARKET FALL CALVES

July is a good month to start marketing calves dropped last fall. Usually they will bring more dollars in July than they will later. Most years the market breaks faster than big calves gain weight in the late summer and early fall

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the Title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages and judgments or other liens, affecting the Title, which an Abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an Abstract of Title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an Abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

A nursery will be supervised by girls of the Youth Group. The mothers are especially invited to come for the day and to bring their children to the nursery.

METHODIST CHURCH EXTENDS INVITATION TO USE THE NURSERY

A new project of the Womans Society of Christian Service, over which they are most enthusiastic, is the establishment of a nursery during the eleven o'clock service on Sundays. Parents are urged to bring their nursery age children to the nursery where they will be cared for and entertained and to attend the preaching service.

On Sunday, June 13th, Circle 3, Mrs. J. D. Niblett, chairman, will be in charge of the nursery. Come to church and bring the children to the nursery held in the basement.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

When we wrote of R. C. Williams and Luther Foshee going to Atlanta last week for Butane Gas, we didn't know they were really going to deliver it in such a hurry. Or maybe it was the railway car that got the wrong idea. Friday morning a tank car ran on off the end of the spurr at the Williams Oil Company and stopped just short of wrecking the office and the gas tank. Nearly everybody reads the Chilton County News, but we hadn't heard about railroad tank cars reading it.

There was a regular epidemic of automobile wrecks up and down the highway the past week end. According to Patrolman Braswell they barely gave him time to eat Saturday night. A Sylacauga creamery truck turned over on State 22. It was loaded with ice cream and according to reports ice cream was scattered all around. Three boys were injured in the wreck. None seriously injured. A motorcyclist was in collision with a car south of town Saturday night. Leroy Martin's ambulance answered the call but the rider of the motorcycle was just knocked unconscious [illegible] came to later and did not require hospitalization. Martin also answered the earlier call down on State highway 22.

O. K., you fathers, get busy and start telling the women and children what it is you want on Father's Day. Only one more Sunday and then the big day, when every father is a King for a day. (are we kidding.) Anyway, June 20th is Father's Day, so start [illegible]

She told them that it she brought the cat a saucer of milk and he drank it; and then she [illegible] second saucer and he [illegible] third and he drank only half of it, was what he had sufficient. Well, she asked one of the little boys, (Johnny, of course), what the meaning of sufficient was.. Johnny answered: "A cat full of milk."

Here's a good line we read somewhere this week: "If you can't make light of your troubles, then keep them dark."

A funny thing happened the other week. It was after midnight when most honest folks are abed and the noise of the day and evening have given away to the stillness of the early morning hours. A lady was awakened by the noise of a mule and wagon going down the street. The mule was being led by a negro boy and he would stop at each automobile he came to and see what he could find that he wanted to take. About the time he got to John Studdard's Gulfpride Service Station Truck that was parked in front of his house the city policemen arrived at the scene. You see, it seems the young negro had started out with his father, the mule and wagon, and a pint of white lightening. The moonshine got the better of his daddy along the way and he had fallen out by the roadside. The younger negro had carried on and when overtaken by the law had garnered a few chickens, a jar of mixed nuts and bolts, a beer opener, and various and sundry items that met his fancy. When the flashlight was turned toward the wagon the chickens were sitting up in the wagon sound asleep. The culprit hadn't even taken time to tie their legs. And by-the-way, the wagon and mule was stolen too—from the negro's brother-in-law.

What manner of man could holler about not having anything to do on a Sunday around Clanton. Besides several churches to attend in the morning hours, there is baseball, movies, golfing, fishing, boating and swimming, just to mention a few forms of recreation for the afternoon. Yes, there are plenty things to do in Chilton County for amusement and recreation. There really is no need of searching elsewhere, come to Chilton County for your vacation.

Berney Killingsworth came in Monday afternoon showing us a gold band ring that he had found in his field. The odd part about the ring was that Berney had been hunting it for the past 37 years—that's a long time to hunt anything. According to the story, the ring was lost by Mr. Killingsworth, Berney's father, and of course, it's loss was known to the family. Berney said that he had turned over many an acorn cup and kicked a many a clod when the sun would shine on a particle in it, thinking it might be the ring. Mrs. Killingsworth picked up the ring while walking through the field on May 15th. The ring looked good as new when found.

PRAYER OF TWO OR THREE

The Scripture lesson for this radio talk is taken from Matt. 18:19-20. "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I in the midst of them." This is to say, if two of you shall harmonize yourselves. It means to set to the same key, and play the same tune. Perfect agreement of the heart, mind, and the desires, and wishes, of two or more people praying to God for the same thing. Their hearts, souls, and minds in perfect tune with each other. Then there will be precious harmony in prayers. This kind of prayer meeting is like a number of musical instruments, skillfully played in good concert. And just as such is pleasing to the ears of men, so for two or more persons united together in warm, earnest, cordial prayer is highly pleasing in the sight and ears of the Lord.

We have a record of such a prayer meeting in Acts, 12th Chapter. King Herod had stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church. He killed the apostle James; and because it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to take Peter also. But prayer was made without ceasing of the Church unto God for him. The prayers of those early Christians were like music entering into the ears of the Lord, our Saviour. The answer came. God sent an angel down from heaven to deliver Peter. His deliverance was glorious. The Lord delivered him out of the prison and of the hands of Herod.

Any small group of believers can assemble together, and make their prayers to God. This kind of prayer meeting can be held in a private home, or in the Church. The main thing is to harmonize the hearts, minds and souls of the believers. Such perfect agreement, and harmony will move God to answer prayers.

Another promise in this lesson, "Where two or three gather together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.". . .We do not have to invite the presence of Jesus. Only meet in his name, and he is in the midst. Jesus is not present with his people to mark down their sins, or spy out their imperfection, but to strengthen, and to enlighten, to comfort, and to save.

We learn from this that we must meet together upon His divine authority, and for His honor and glory. He then is in the very center of the meeting. How different is a meeting of this kind, than to card parties, and such like. Others may meet for their card parties, cock-tail parties, dances, etc. But I prefer an old fashioned prayer meeting, and Bible study. "There am I in the midst of them." . . .Suppose millions of people assembled in perhaps, a thousand different places at the same time, this promise would still hold good. He would be in the midst of every assembly that met in His Almighty name.

So let us take courage in our prayer meetings. If there aren't but a few, let us meet in the name of Christ, and in one mind, and one accord, and Christ will be in the meeting, and it will be glorious.

REP. BRASWELL TARGET OF WOULD-BE ASSASIN

Montgomery, Ala. — Rep. J. W. Braswell, Russell County, told law enforcement officers that he was the target of two pistol shots while returning to his home in Phenix City one night last week.

The lawmaker told police that immediately after he was fired upon, he grabbed a pistol from the glove compartment of his car and fired three shots at the alleged assailant.

Braswell was recently defeated in his race for circuit judge of Russell County. He entered the race on a reform ticket.

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

A question asked last week by a Southern Bell employee brings to mind the great need in Maplesville of a small hotel or at least a good boarding house. The town has neither. The telephone company worker asked in a local store where there was a place his company's crew could stay when they arrive in about a month. He said it would be a large crew with a possible 250 men and at best Maplesville can provide lodging for no more than 10 or 12. Every week there are many seeking a room for one or two nights. There are the salesmen, who after covering Maplesville find the day has ended and they must travel on to another town or city before they can find rest.

There also seems to be a shortage of homes where the average man can live and face no more than a reasonable rent. When a house or an apartment is vacated, it is a matter of only a few hours before another family moves in while several other families watch and wish they had heard of the vacancy earlier. With such a shortage of living quarters, there should be a good opening for some one to establish a tourist camp—not only for the tourists but as permanent homes for local residents.

A swarm of bees have occupied a tree in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Nix, Mr. Nix is anxious to hear from anyone with a proven plan by which he can run a pipe from that tree to his kitchen where when he wants honey, he has only to turn a faucet and catch it.

When Mr. Van Potts left last week for Birmingham, we asked when he would return to which he replied, "I might not come back at all."

"Oh, he'll be back Monday week," his wife assured us!

And it's only two weeks until Father's Day.

The Town of Maplesville garbage service is in its fourth week, and it seems some of the local citizens still do not understand the ordinance creating the service. As specified by the city county, all garbage must be in containers which have a lid.

Speaking of the Town of Maplesville, it is still without a day-time chief-of-Police at the time this edition went to press. Chief MacFarland was terminated early last week.

Strangest sight in town within the last week occurred Monday when a nice frying-size chicken strolled up the main drag.

Year after year and Mr. Wheeler Walker continues to be the most enthusiastic fan of local sports in the community. He was in Clanton last Sunday to see the game at the Clanton Park, but is still trying to talk up enough enthusiasm to have a local team. With the lack of energy in Maplesville, he is doomed for failure. His son, Harold, was voted the outstanding athelete of the 1948 graduating class at Maplesville High School this year.

ASSISTANT CASHIER LEAVES FOR L. A.

Clarence Gray, assistant cashier of the Bank of Maplesville, left last Saturday night to visit his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Tolerson in Long Beach, Calif.

He said Mr. Tolerson assured him that his two weeks vacation would be planned from arrival to departure with completeness, gaity and relaxation. Tours of Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Laguna Beach, La Jolla, Glendale and San Diego have already been scheduled. Trips to San Francisco, Reno and Tia Juana, Mexico, are also prospective before he returns to his duties at the bank on June 21, Mr. Gray said.

COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wallace and son were in Maplesville this week visiting his mother, Mrs. J. E. Wallace, Sr. They are leaving today to return to their home in Oak Ridge, Tenn., where Mr. Wallace is employed.

Mrs. W. E. Cobern spent last week end in Birmingham with her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Hayes, Jr. She made the trip because of a fall by her granddaughter, Mary Virginia, in which the two-year-old child suffered an injured neck. The child seemed to be showing some improvement upon her departure last Sunday, she said.

Home visiting his mother, Mrs. R. M. Davis, early this week was Sgt. Charles Davis. He is with the army and stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Van B. Potts is away this week to try his luck fishing in lakes and streams around Birmingham and also at Guntersville. He may not have much luck but there will be some "tall tales" upon his return next Monday.

Staying with Mrs. Potts while he is away is Miss Frances Reynolds and Miss Edna Tucker. Coca-Cola business should pick up this week in Maplesville!

LATHAM SIGNS WITH RAMS

Joe Latham, of Shoults, says he will leave for Los Angeles, Calif., some time in August to report to the Los Angeles Rams, professional football team, with whom he has signed to play half-back.

Latham starred during the last season with the Mississippi Southern eleven at the full-back position. A graduate of this month, he says he received several offers from high schools to join their faculties as coach. These offers were turned down because of his commitment with the Rams.

Sport fans in Chilton County will remember Joe for his starring role with the Maplesville High School "Blue Devils" in practically every game played before his graduation in 1939. Probably his greatest feat with his high school eleven occurred on the home field when he intercepted a pass behind the goal line and ran 110 yards for a touchdown.

STANTON

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sample have announced the birth of a daughter Brenda Fay, May 27, 1948, at the Vaugh Memorial Hospital, Selma, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Linsley of the University of Alabama are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parnell and other relatives here.

Sunday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds was a surprise homecoming. All their children was with them on this day. Mrs. A. C. Maness of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grammer and daughter, Charlotte, of Miami, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Mack Lane, California; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lane and sons, Henry and Bill, of Auburn, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Elly Daniels and children, Nancy and Joe Frank of Maplesville, Ala. Mrs. Reynolds's health seems improved at this writing.

Miss Lula Rasberry of Clanton, Ala., visited Miss Lena Parnell over the week end.

Miss Ruth Gregg and Mr. John W. Altman were married Friday afternoon, June 4th, 1948, at 5:00 p.m., in the parlor of the Southside Baptist Church, Birmingham, Ala.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Gregg, a graduate of Maplesville High School and a graduate nurse, having completed her training recently at South Highland Infirmary. Miss Margaret Fisher was her only attendant. Dr. John H. Buchanan was the officiating minister and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palmer presented the wedding music. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Altman will be at home on South 16th Avenue.

Mrs. Mary Hicks suffered a painful fall at her home last Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry Gregg attended the weddings of her two daughters in Birmingham, Ala., last week. Evelyn was married on June 1 at Southside Baptist Church and Ruth was married on June 4th in the parlor of the Southside Baptist Church.

Little Bob Davis and Eddie Ruddick are at home from A.P.I., Auburn, Ala., for 12 days vacation.

Rev. J. D. Hopper filled his regular appointment at Plantersvilel last Sunday. He brought two forceful sermons. He used for his text at the 11 o'clock hour, Math. 5:13, "Ye Are The Salt of the Earth." Text for the evening service was found in II Timothy 2:3, "Thou Therefore Endure Hardness as a Good Soldier of Jesus Christ."

The writer wishes the entire community could have heard both services. The home-coming at Fellowship, eight miles west of Plantersville was well attended. The largest gathering that had been there in many years. Not half the people were able to get in the house to hear one of the best sermons Rev. W. R. Seymour ever preached.

It was voted to have another homecoming June 1st, 1949. Don't forget this date. Go next year.

The Sunday guests for dinner at Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gays' were Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hopper and son, Joe, and granddaughter, Karen Pierson, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Pierson and son, Gary.

Mr. Jessie Harris and family and Mrs. R. A. Harris attended the homecoming at Fellowship Sunday.

Misses Ruby Nell and Blossom Barnes spent the past week with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Osborn of Plantersville.

THIS WEEK'S FARMER

The Rev. Rube Bearden is fast becoming one of the outstanding farmers in the western section of our county. He is practicing diversified agriculture —raising timber, livestock, produce and the customary cotton and corn.

Rev. Bearden says with continued favorable weather conditions he should harvest a fine crop of cotton in the fall. A few years back he purchased a large tract of the old Twin Tree Lumber Company land and at that time he cut several cars of pulp wood. Last year he cut several cars of mining props for T.C.I. and hopes to get several more cars in the near future. Like the pulp wood, these mining props consist of hardwood saplings which he says he wants to keep cut out of the tract to allow the growth of pines. According to him, these pines should be ready for the lumber mills within ten years.

In order to help offset the expense of maintaining his timber tract, Rev. Bearden says he now has a herd of between 35 and 40 cattle on the land. Among this herd is a fine white-faced Hereford bull with which he hopes to increase and develop a fine herd of beef cattle. He is also considering acquiring small herds of sheep and goats, which he says can be maintained on the vast amount of undergrowth that continues to crop up.

BALDWIN COUNTY FARMERS HAPPY OVER POTATO YIELD

Montgomery, Ala. — Although Baldwin County's Irish potato harvest appears short of a previously predicted $3,000,000, reports out of the area last week indicated that growers were satisfied with the progress of the yield so far.

It was estimated that 65 or 70 per cent of the expected 4,500 to 5,000 box-car load crop has been shipped. Many farmers received as much as $2.50 per hundred pound sack.

Hail Jewish State

NEW YORK — (Soundphoto) — Cheers and tears and dancing in the streets marked the unfurling of the banner of the new Jewish state in Palestine from the window of the Jewish Agency for Palestine here. As Haim Shertok, 14 year old son of Moshe Shertok, Jewish foreign minister, raised the flag next to the American Flag, crowds broke into the native Palestine dance the "Hora." The new state of Israel came into being eight hours before the British mandate terminated.

Word Of Thanks By Jim Dunlap

JAMES M. (Jim) DUNLAP

To All Citizens of Chilton County:

Having nominated me for the office of Commissioner from the Fourth District by a large majority, each of you loyal supporters deserve more than a word of thanks. I do want everyone to know that it is a wonderful feeling to receive the goodly number of votes on one's very first adventure into a new field and with no means other than personal contact used.

Your mutual greetings means much to me and I again assure you this trust will be guarded jealously. If you are one of the ones I have seen since June 1st, you already know how appreciative I am, and if you haven't seen me soon, you will, and receive my thanks personally.

Please, if I might assist any of you in any way, feel free to call on me at any time. I sincerely thank every one.

JAMES M. (Jim) DUNLAP.

STANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

We wish to report that our church —Ebenezer Baptist—has just closed a wonderful Vacation Bible School, with Rev. James Mooney, from Atlanta Bible Institute, as principal and teacher of the Young People and the Intermediates, assisted by Rev. C. E. Hand, our pastor, and three of the Sunday School teachers. Words cannot express the good that has been accomplished by having this school and by having Bro. Mooney to lead and help us. It was a glorious success. We had an average of 95 present each night.

We feel indebted to Bro. Hand, our pastor, for bringing such deep consecrated young minister to us. We feel that God is really leading him in his work. He was a student at Howard College before going to Atlanta Bible Institute. He is working his way through school and has one more year in College. He has been pastor of a half-time church in Tallapoosa County for three years.

Any church that is planning to have a Vacation Bible School this summer would be fortunate to have Bro. Mooney. He will be with Bro. Hand this week at Macedonia Church. If you wish to contact him, you may write Rev. E. C. Hand, Clanton Route 4. Let me urge all the parents to wake up! Let's help these young people to carry on the Lord's work.

Our church extends its congratulations to Evelyn and Ruth Gregg, who were once faithful members of the Stanton Church, upon their marriage this week; Evelyn to Gerald Everette, of Washington, D. C., and Ruth to John Altman, of Birmingham, at South Side Baptist Church.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. L. O. Burnett, wife of one of our deacons, is seriously sick in Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton.

Also Mrs. Cindy Miller is seriously sick and has been for some time.

We are glad to know that Bro Averett, pastor of the Methodist Church, is back home after having a serious operation in Birmingham. We hope he will continue to improve and will soon be able to be back in his field of work again.

CLANTON CATHOLIC NEWS

The Most Reverend T. J. Toolen Bishop of Mobile Diocese, has stressed, that the object of these schools to lead little ones in the ways and love of Christ is an intensive Apostolate.

Registration Day for the First Session was held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Jones on Monday, May 24th. June 11 will mark the close of the first three weeks of five daily instruction periods, beginning promptly at 8:00 a.m. with prayer, Bible Verse and songs.

Some of the work accomplished by both beginners and higher grades, consists of Christian Doctrine studies, memory work, posters, and Bible History. Detailing the books of the Bible, and nature of contents of each.

The Primary department has enjoyed dramatising some of the little Bible stories, in connection with their Christian Doctrine Work.

The children are "eagerly" awaiting the opening of the second session of the school on Monday, June 14, when the topic will be: The Sacramental Drama: The Mass. Instructions will be given on Church decorum. Daily Mass drills will be held with pictorial exhibits.

On Sunday, June 27, commencement exercises will be held at the Chapel of the Resurrection, and prizes will be awarded by the Pastor, The Reverend J. Stanley, C. R.

The first week, a party was given for the children at the home of Mr Hugh Jones. The second week a party was given at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Morris by Eddie Morris, and Joe Morris is giving a party this week There will be other social events during the second session, and a picnic at Oak Park in Montgomery, Ala.

Flies Can be Destroyed Says Health Officer

In a recent article in the Reader's Digest, in towns in Idaho, Michigan and Georgia, this has been accomplished by a proper us of DDT spray. As you know your County Commissioners, in cooperation with your Health Department and Farm Agent, are financing a like campaign in this County. Reports from all parts of the country where DDT has been used show that tuberculosis, cholera, dysentery and typhoid fever have been decreased or eliminated.

Of course it is necessary to use DD T properly and at the right places to properly control flies and other insects. The places of breeding should be eliminated as nearly as possible. If the barns and out-houses are not kept properly it is impossible to control in the house or home as many flies as the breeding place can produce.

Your Health Department has had a small per cent of complaints concerning the effectiveness of this year's spraying, and upon a follow-up visit we found in every instance where these complaints come from that it has been carelessness of the sanitation of the premises. So we earnestly urge that each house-holder cooperate in reducing the supply of flies and we assure you where this cooperation is maintained that the house-hold sprayed by us can and will control the flies and insects within the home that is completely sprayed.

IN CHILTON COUNTY THE ABOVE DISEASES, TUBERCULOSIS, DYSENTERY, TYPHOID FEVER AND SUMMER COMPLAINTS IN CHILDREN SHOW A MARKED DECREASE SINCE DDT STARTED AS COMPARED TO PREVIOUS YEARS.

Shower For Bride Elect—

A most delightful affair took place on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Goodgame, when Mrs. R. F. Williamson (Billie Ann Farrish) and Mrs. E. F. Billingsley were joint hostesses at a bridal shower for Miss. Jimmie Claire Littleton. Mrs. Farrell Williamson, in a lovely pale blue taffeta evening dress, received the guests at the door and ushered them into the living room where Miss Littleton received the gifts and Mrs. J. W. Johnson presided over the bride's book. The bride-elect, a lovely blond, wore a stunning pale blue taffeta evening dress with pink corsage. Mrs. Johnson was dressed in a pale grey chiffon over taffeta. The living room was decorated with pink gladiolas and pink and blue hydrangeas in tall standards. The guests were then ushered into the dining room by Mrs. Mary Evelyn Alison of Birmingham who was dressed in white net with red corsage.

Mrs. Carl McDowell assisted Mrs. Alison in serving brick ice cream and cake, with salted nuts and mints. Mrs. McDowell wore green net over taffeta The dining room looked lovely with flowers in profusion and its lace covered dining table with centerpiece of pink snap-dragons surrounded by English ivey. Miss Jane Barham displayed the many lovely gifts in an adjoining room. She was dressed in white net over taffeta. Making the affair even more enjoyable, was Miss Eloise Piper, who played soft music on the piano during the afternoon. She looked lovely in pink net over taffeta.

Andy Lives in a Goldfish Bowl!

Most people in business feel they're entitled to a little privacy in how they operate. But not Andy Botkin, keeper of Andy's Place. He practically lives and works in a goldfish bowl!

And that's not only because his front window is always sparkling clean, and the interior of his tavern well-lighted and exposed to view. It's because Andy's Place is subject to inspection, day or night, from brewers' representatives.

The brewers refer to this inspection as Self Regulation.

They want their product sold in clean, well-lighted, and well regulated places. So they take the responsibility on themselves—check regularly on beer outlets—and report any that don't toe the mark to the proper authorities.

From where I sit, that's as it should be—and Andy agrees. If you're proud of your business, and the way you run it, you don't mind living in a goldfish bowl!

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—No longer will the New York Central railroad maintain its Adams Basin station for the benefit of a Rochester stenographer.

Trainmaster Frank Stafford said he received a public service commission order approving discontinuance of the station.

"Well, I went right in the house and wrote a letter to her," said Musgrove.

CLANTON LOSES TO INGLENOOK

Athletic Club Lost By One Run; Score 7 To 6 In Hard Fought Game

Sunday afternoon, here on the local ball park, the Clanton Athletic Club lost by one run, one of the most thrilling and hard-fought games of the season.

Andrews, the starting pitcher of Ingelnook hit for the circuit in the eighth inning with the only home run of the game. Robinson, the starting pitcher for Clanton. gave up four hits in one and one-third innings, with Ingelnook scoring three runs on Robinson. Then it was that Fred Bolton came into the picture, pitching good ball, and showing good control in the clutches. Red Cross Office To Open Three Days Each Week

Due to our not raising the quota this year it is regretable that the Red Cross office, which is doing so much good for his county will have to start operating only three days each week beginning July first. It is possible that if further donations fail to come in soon, it will be necessary to close the office entirely.

You can be served after July first on Mondays, Thursday and Saturdays only, except in cases of emergencies, then you may call the executive secretary at 131-J.

Through the Red Cross Office, many people who needed emergency operations have been helped, and in many cases owe their lives to this help. Through the local Red Cross office, if we should have a disaster, such as we had a few years ago, having a office already in operation would speed the National Red Cross assistance. It is the local Red Cross Office, that our servicemen look to when emergencies arise for themselves or their families.

There are approximately 29,000 people in Chilton County, and if each one donated 20c, we could make our quota and keep the office open six days a week the year round.

Won't you be good enough to sit down and send a donation to the American Red Cross today? Are you going to let one of the best organizations we have for emergency relief, have to turn down requests for assistance when a small donation from you would help keep this office open and have money to help those that can't help themselves? We don't believe you will. — Reedie Taylor, I. S. Levine, H. M. Nix, Board of Directors; J. C. Parr, Chairman. 2w

Those Democrats who long to turn this country over to the Republicans should take a look at the way the G.O.P. majority has bottled up the Federal Aid to Education Bill, and now is endeavoring to sabotage the Marshall Plan.

And remember — this goes on while G.O.P. leaders are fighting hard to keep "the boys" on good behavior during a campaign year. Just give them a President, a Cabinet, and a strong working majority in Congress, and there will be a spectacle of hog-wild reaction such as this nation has not witnessed since the days of Warren G. Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Nothing tickles our funnybone like a typographical error. For some unknown reason whether it be in our paper or another's. This past week the big Birmingham daily had on the front page a story about a man being killed when he fell from a wagon and was dragged about thirty years. We imagine the reporter wrote it "about thirty yards." In this week's CCN we had a for sale ad on the back page which read: "Four room house for sale with bathroom on U. S. 31."

* * *

Guess you had noticed too, but speaking of errors, how about the one on the screen at the local cenema—U. P. Church Drug Co.

Is there anything that makes you madder than to go to a store and make a purchase, ask the salesman how much, get your money out while he wraps it up, and then when he hands it to you, tell you that state and federal tax now makes it such and such, and you start scratching all over again to find fifteen or twenty cents, whatever the amount may be, when you could have been doing just that all the time if he had sense enough to tell you the correct amount in the first place?

Anybody wanta buy a boat? Jim Mitchell, who lives down on Route Two, told us Saturday that he had made thirty-one boats this year. He also said in case we heard of anyone who needed one to let him know—he needed the business.

Willard Hayes is editing a Maplesville page in the CCN now. He introduced it last week and it was mighty well received. Willard has had a good deal of experience in this kind of work and writes in an easy manner that is very interesting to read. Watch for the Maplesville "doings" each week in the News.

Looks like Dent Williams can't make up his mind whether he wants to get out of the automobile business or not. He has taken charge of Central Alabama Motors again and is ready to serve the folks of this Central Alabama territory. Well, we're glad to see Dent back and feel that his was a wise decision. He ought to know by this time that there's no better place to be in business than Clanton and Chilton County.

Peewee Martin told us Monday afternoon that cat fish were selling for forty-five cents a pound on foot.

Lt. Col. Charlie Patterson, better known as "Pat," was in this week to talk to us about a campaign his outfit is starting to get members of the National Guard time off for summer camp from their regular employment without loss of income or vacation privileges. According to Pat the plan is to present their case verbally through speakers, who will briefly address meeting of the various clubs throughout the district and state. Lt. Col. Patterson will address the local Kiwanis Club this Thursday night at their regular meeting.

See John Ponder Lawrence working, (pardon, did we say John Ponder working)? We meant we saw his men working) on the big welcome signs on the main highways leading to Clanton. They are advertising the Peach Festival now but should be there permanently advertising Clanton. It is something that we have long needed.

Vernon Payne is due back today from Guam. Vernon is our nephew who finished at Chilton County High School two years ago and joined up with the Navy. He was promptly sent to the Island of Guam, and there he stayed until two weeks ago when he arrived in San Francisco. He was discharged and if he didn't miss the train will arrive today—home for good. He grew up at Chilton County News and during the war was just about all the help we had in the mechanical department. We hope he can be satisfied here with us again.

NEW SALEM

All those who missed hearing Bro. Woodward Sunday, missed a good blessing. Everyone has an invitation to come hear Bro. Woodward every night this week. He is teaching a school on stewardship.

All who are interested in our Sunday School, please try to be there Sunday, as we are thinking of having a contest and giving each one a button to wear. So you better be there and have your choice of red or blue buttons.

Our singing Friday night was real good. We wish to thank everyone who helped in any way. We especially wish to thank Bro. Atchinson for bringing his loud speakers. The directors were: Opening song by Lawrence Hayes, J. O. Jones, O. L. Devaughn, Johnny Minor, Rubin Jones, Hoyt Martin, Green Melton, Marvin Lowery, Grady Minor and Bro. Atchinson. We sure appreciate the cooperation of the Sunny South and Liberty Hill quartets for their many numbers. Everyone has a special invitation to be with us on Friday night, June 25th.

Mr. Wilbur Bean requests prayer for the healing of his hip. He is in a Birmingham hospital. All Christians please remember him in your prayers.

The many friends of this community regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Susie Littleton.

Mr. Tommie Maddox is in the sick list. We hope to see him our again soon.

GOD IS LOVE

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

The Scriptures used for this subject are in First John 4:8-16. And it says twice that "God is love." Love is the very essence of God. It is the nature of God to love. Love is His moral attribute. Take away the word "love" from the Bible, and you take away its divine light. Sweep the essence of this word "love" from the human race, and you would destroy happiness as much as you would to destroy light by hurling the sun from its high sublime, and striking its glories from the throne of time.

The foundation of love it in the heart of God. From Him flows rivers of love washing the sin-stained souls of milions; making them whiter than snow. If we were to read the Bible from Genesis to Revelation we would find that God is everywhere, "The God of Love." We might imagine that we could see angels and archangels flying over the bright plains of eternal glory with rapid wings, while thousands of saints about the throne looking into the Word of God in silent search to know what God is. Then we would see the beautiful word "love." God is love. This is a blessed revelation. It puts an end to all our fears and doubts. It gives us a glorious faith in the present and the future. It gives us assurance of eternal happiness.

God with his divine love inhabited eternity long before one star revolved in its sphere; before an angel moved a wing. God, Who is love, was as perfect before the birth of time as he will be when time shall be no more. He was infinitely holy, and filled with love when he inhabited alone the solitude of immensity as he is now with songs of angels, and of redeemed spirits sounding in his ears around the great white throne.

It was love that inspired God to the creation of man. It was love that caused him to work a plan of redemption for the fallen race. It was love that triumphed over sin to give glory. We may be safe in believing that love is the theme in heaven among the angels and redeemed spirits, and will be forever. If the question were asked the angels and redeemed spirits, "What is God?" The answer would come back, "God is love."

When God wanted to manifest his power, he divided the waves of the sea. When he wanted to manifest his justice, he sent a deluge over the whole earth. When he wanted to manifest his glory, he spoke and away yonder in space worlds came into existence, and they go on revolving in their sphere; but when God wanted to manifest his love, which is the greatest of his attributes, he sent his Son into the world, not to condemn the world, but the world through Him might be saved. "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). Greater love has no man than this, that a man will lay down his life for his friend. What love God had in giving his Son to die on the cross for a lost sin-benighted world no human language can express. The Son was sent forth in the form of sinful flesh. What humilation for the Son, and what wonderful condescension for the Father who gave him. Wonderful love which conceived the idea of bringing the Son of God in contact with the misery of sin; that we through his suffering and death, and resurrection, might live forever. Remember how the world treated the One that came to save his people from sin. They dragged him in trial from one hall to another, and all night yelling for his blood. He then was dragged as it were to Calvary, and nailed to the cruel cross; lifted up between heaven and the earth as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness. Hear Him groan beneith our sins, until, at last, He cried, "IT IS FINISHED." We might imagine the angels shouted through the fields of the dead, "It is finished," until some of the saints leaped from their graves with joy. And then down to the mouth of hell they shouted, "It is finished," 'til demons and devils trembled. Then up through the heavens, and far away toward the home of the saints, and through the pearly gates, and along the golden street of the city of God, and through the shining mansions, and over the crystal sea, and over the bright plains of eternal glory, they shouted, "IT IS FINISHED." Love had triumphed over sin to glory and salvation, Hallalujah. (to be continued)

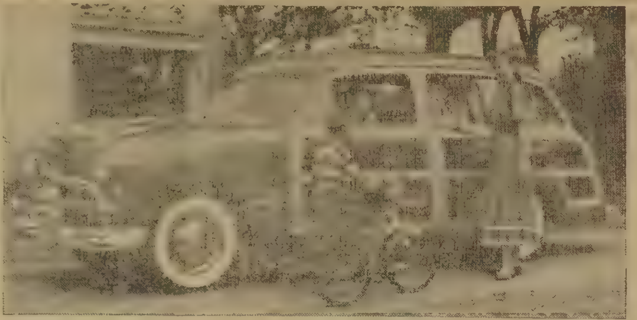
EPISCOPALIANS TO HAVE SERVICE SUNDADY

The Rev. John L. Jenkins, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Selma, will celebrate Holy Communion and deliver a sermon Sunday June 20th, at 3:30 o'clock in the Clanton Presbyterian Church. The public is cordially welcomed to this service.



The 1949 Ford station wagon is new and revolutionary in every respect. It is the first to use two extra-width safety doors; the first full-size eight-passenger wagon to employ all-steel construction. Wood panels are bolted directly to the steel frame. Extra strength built into chassis and body assure quiet, trouble free operation.

Commenting on the new Fords for 1949, Mr. J. C. (Rip) Burnett, of Clanton Motors, Inc., said today:

"Revolutionary changes in the 1949 line of Ford cars is reflected in the styling, utility and ruggedness of the station wagon and convertible models.

The 1949 station wagon is the only one in the low priced field with a two-door all-steel body. Beauty of wood paneling has been considerably enhanced by this modern design. Plywood veneer panels of selected hardwoods are bolted directly to the steel body.

[illegible] strength and [illegible] heavier loads often [illegible], it is equipped with a special X-type frame.

Ford engineers say there is enough built-in protection in the 1949 station wagon to meet the exacting safety requirements for school buses.

The station wagon has seats for eight passengers but the new arrangements permit easy loading of baggage without the end-gate at the rear. The extra large doors provide easy access.

The rear seats may be removed easily so that large loads may be carried. The station wagon is also equipped with end-gate and easily operated hit-door at the rear.

The 1949 convertible is long, low and graceful yet embodies all the advanced engineering provided in other body styles. There is greater comfort, performance and economy.

Front seat is six and a half inches wider, and the rear seat, two and a half inches wider than the 1948 models. There is room enough for six persons. Luggage space under the rear deck totals 28 cubic feet, nearly twice as much as in previous models, and all usable.

Mr. Burnett advises that the ride of the new convertible has been improved with low-frequency "Hydria-Coil" Springs in front, and extra-long longitudinal springs at the rear combined with direct acting airplane type shock absorbers.

According to a veteran Ford test driver: "It rides like a car five hundred pounds heavier and performs like a car five hundred pounds lighter."

Mrs. C. M. Grace, President of the Huntsville Garden Club, gave the welcome address to 300 delegates. Mrs. J. E. Beck responded. She is president of two garden clubs at Mobile, Ala. The Camelia Garden Club of Anniston won 1st prize scrapbook and Greenville Clubs won 2nd and 3rd. Mrs. Donald Hastings of Atlanta, Ga., presented church flower arrangements. Every garden club member should see this work demonstrated.

The highlight of the convention was the address Friday evening given by Mrs. Garrett Smith of Plainfield, N. J. Her subject was "Practical Church Grounds and Gardens." She advocates turning church grounds into beautiful garden spots, front door religious services and social activities, [illegible] dinners and teas outdoors, [illegible] services. She was indeed an i[illegible]tion.

—Mrs. T. M. Frances of Birmingham moved that we request the State Highway Department to complete 100 roadside parks as soon as possible. This motion was moved and seconded by the convention. Special music at the banquet Friday night was furnished by the Sylacauga Men's Civic chorus with Travis Shelton directing. They were wonderful. Mrs. James F. Sulsby, Jr., of Birmingham was made State President for the next two years.

THURSDAY NIGHT SINGING

The Chilton County regular Thursday night singing was held last week at Providence Baptist Church. The house was filled with people from several communities around. The first song was directed by Mose Robinson, singing song viz. "I'll Fly Away." After which Marion W. Easterling, Chairman of the singing took charge. He led the congregation and choir in singing that good old song, "Where The Soul Nev[illegible] Dies." Pastor A. T. Hickman then read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer.

[illegible] L. Devaughn, Lawrence Hayes, Marvin Lowery, Bill Coggings, [illegible] Wyatt, Pete Wilson, [illegible]s Powell, J. O. Jones, Chester [illegible], Rev. Hyman Atchinson, Mr. [illegible] and Johnny Easterling. Mrs. A. T. Hickman rendered a Gospel solo.

The several good quartets that participated in the program, and were [illegible] busy throughout the session were: [illegible] Liberty Hill, The Harmony Four, the Sunny South and the Oak Grove, headed by the Rev. Jesse Mitchell. The voice of Hiram Littlejohn was missed very much, but it is hoped that he will be present next time.

During the program Pastor A. T. Hickman gave a brief talk on the subject of "Sunday School." He made an appeal to all present to become more Sunday School and Church minded to save America from the termites of Communism, infidelity, atheism and other isms that are eating at the very foundation of civilization, and our way of life here in America. His talk was enjoyed by all present.

Prof. Marion W. Easterling is doing a fine job in directing these Thursday night singings. His service is appreciated very much by the people of Chilton County.

Those who accompanied at the piano were: Marion W. Easterling, Mrs. Delene Bates, Mrs. Earl Lowery, Hillman Mims and Mrs. Moses Bates. As many as forty songs were sung throughout the program for the entertainment of the large congregation.

Judge W. L. Parrish pronounced the benediction with words of prayer.

The singing this Thursday night will be held at the Liberty Hill Church. Get there early in order to be there. Will see you then. — Secretary.

MACEDONIA

Our Vacation Bible School was successful last week, although there wasn't very many that attended. We sure did enjoy Bro. Mooney as our leader and teacher, as well as our pastor, Bro. E. C. Hand, teaching the adult class and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton and Mrs. Woodie Rasberry teaching the other classes. There was an average of 30 each night and 43 the last night. We were proud to have some of the Stanton people with us Thursday night to help us out. We feel very fortunate by having Bro. Mooney with us in our Bible School. We all wish him much success in the future and welcome him back to our church any time. We need more young men with his courage and personality to go forward. We had 46 at Sunday School Sunday.

The Sunbeam program is to be Sunday at 10:00 a.m., instead of Sunday night as previously planned.

Judy and Bubba Morris have as their guests this week Sandra and Bobby Morris from Birmingham.

Elmer Coffee from Siluria spent the week end with Larue Coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Coffee and Larue, Mr. William Rasberry and Douglas attended the singing at Mt. Pleasant Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Thacker, Johnnie, Peggy from Ensley and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hayes spent Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Crumpton.

Mrs. Lela Vinson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Mims. He has returned home from the Veterans Hospital in Georgia.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and family due to the death of his brother, Tom Jones, who died last Thursday.

Our W.M.U. meeting will be Friday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock. Every woman is invited.

POPLAR SPRINGS CLUB

Poplar Springs Club met with Mrs. Jack Stewart for the June meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president. Mrs. Ester Childers gave the devotion and Mrs. Jessie May Dyke read the Club Collect.

We sang several songs. Plans were made for the officers to attend the banquet given in Clanton on the night of June 4.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, our Assistant County Agent, came with Miss Barber as our special guest and gave the demonstration on landscaping. This was very interesting and helpful because several club members have built new homes and plan to put out shrubbery this fall.

Mrs. Stewart, assisted by Miss Barbara Durrett, served delicious refreshments to 12 members and three visitors. Then the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Webster Hill for the meeting in July.—Mrs. Webster Hill, Reporter.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS ITEMS

WILLARD HAYES, Editor

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

There is quite a bit of conflict as to whether Little Doty Day in Maplesville will be on Fourth of July or next Saturday, June 19. Understand Mr. Noah Latham is having a barbecue on his goat farm for the occasion. Mr. Brad Lawrence will be the chef if the many involved can get the exact date of the affair straightened out.

Perry Thomas and Ed Clapp were discussing the other day whether or not they should replace the aged tin awnings in their section of town with more modern ones. Those have been there as long as I can remember and are definitely becoming a sore eye to the main street. The same was true of the appearance of the main thoroughfare in Franklin Square, Long Island, in July, 1945. They had plans for creating a street with an attractive colonial appearance. The cost was to be only about $15 per foot.

The city government and chamber of commerce of San Diego, Calif., spent about a quarter of a million dollars about that time having Day & Zimmerman, Inc., of Philadelphia, Pa., make a year's intensive study of that area's activities. Result was 11 volumes containing 1,303 pages. The survey pointed out what was needed to attract more industry into the community and how to make that already there more atractive.

Wonder why Maplesville has failed to organide some organidation to promote growth of the town. The town is without a chamber of commerce, a better business bureau and above all—a spirit of friendliness between those in business.

Politics in the local barber shop have almost reached their annual peak. No matter which of the many candidates you may favor, he's the wrong one and unless you change your views, the Maplesville barber shop will begin to dance on its foundation. Last week in an unsuspecting mood, I went in for a haircut. Didn't know but what my throat would be the next thing cut. The crescendo grew louder each minute.

Saving my ear drums and scalp, Dr. H. M. Nix came in and spoke to a stranger and then introduced him to the crowd. He was a pastor. Politics that day had a definite slump.

Alfred Tennyson, famous English writer of the 19th century, lost an admirer last week. The old boy shouldn't have written things which I now hear he knew nothing about.

COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Roebuck and daughter were in Maplesville last week end to visit Mrs. Roebuck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ratliff.

The Brown boys—Rash and George, that is—reluctantly returned to Auburn last Tuesday to dig into their last round-up at that institution.

Van B. Potts returned last Sunday night from a fishing trip to Guntersville. His fishing tales get more interesting when his wife is not around and the number of fish caught get larger upon her rejoining the conversation.

Jack Hampton is vacationing in Texas. Marcelle Stough is in Tennessee. Wonder if anything will develop from those two items. Must be some kerosene involved.

Saw Fred Burgess in town last Sunday. He was wondering why someone with a little money and enough fingers didn't open a woodworking shop here.

Mrs. W. E. Cobern left early this week for Montevallo where she will be in school this summer.

Mrs. Sam Bentley (the former Bess Nix) and children were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Nix, last week end. In case you might not have known, Bess lives in Thorsby. . . I thought she lived in Jemison too.

Visiting Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nix this week is their daughter, Mrs. Joe Macon of Wetumpka. Mr. Macon was only here over the week end.

Billy Smitherman, of Birmingham, was visiting his mother, Mrs. Ed Smitherman, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of LaFayette were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brown, last week end.

I almost forgot but Herbert Walker and Louis Fuqua were up to visit their parents from Montgomery where they are on the police switchboard in the city hall. They got the job about two weeks ago through the Disabled Veterans Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry HigginBotham's neice, Charlene Brasher, of Bessemer, was visiting in Maplesville last week. The Higginbothams are among our latest newcomers.

Layton (and if that name is spelt wrong, I apologize) McAfee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brady McAfee, was in town early this week. He plays first base with Newman in the Alabama-Georgia League. His batting average this year is well over 300 according to Wheeler Walker, our local baseball expert.

MISS MARVORENE HENLEY WEDS MR. JACK TUCKER

Miss Mavorene Henley became the bride of Jack Tucker in a double ring ceremony last Thursday evening at Mulberry Baptist Church. The Rev. Carlisle Miller, Clanton, officiated at the nuptials before a background of native greenery with baskets of white gladioli accenting each end of the scene. The church was softly illuminated by candlelight from two seven-branched candelabra at the altar and single white tapers in each window.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. W. L. Henley, Clanton, and Mr. Tucker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tucker, Maplesville.

Miss Martha McKee, pianist and cousin of the bride, and Miss Lorene LeCroy and O. F. Davenport, Jr., vocalists, presented nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Henley wore a gown of ivory slipper satin designed with fitted bodice and long sleeves which extended over hand in calla points. Folds of satin swathed the low hipline and cascaded at the back of the full flowing skirt into a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught with a tiara embroidered with crystal beads. enhancing the sweetheart neckline of her gown, the bride wore a string of pearls which was a gift from the groom. She carried a white satin covered Bible marked with a white orchid.

Mrs. Arthur Henley attended the bride as Matron of Honor. She wore a gown of ice blue satin and designed to resemble the bride's dress and carried a white bouquet of white carnations tied with cascading white satin streamers. The bridesmaids were Misses Alma and Edna Earle Tucker, sisters of the groom, and Misses Jean McConatha and Ruth Hand, students at Jacksonville S.T.C. and former classmates of the bride. Their dresses were of rainbow hues and fashioned of organdy over taffeta in identical design with sweetheart neckline, tiny puff sleeves, fitted basque and bouffant skirts. Their bouquets were of carnations tinted to match the hue of their dresses and tied with long satin streamers.

Ramona Tucker and Joyce Davis were dressed in identical white organdy dresses and served as candle lighters while Brenda Headley acted as ring bearer. She wore a blue organdy dress styled similar to those worn by the two other junior attendants.

Serving the groom as best man was his father. Ushers were Arthur Tucker, brother of the groom, Frank Brown, Braxton LeCroy and Joe Earl Bray.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the groom's par[illegible] where arrangements of shasta daisies and trailing ivy decorated the reception rooms. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a white embossed cake, decorated with pink spun candy rose buds and topped with miniature bride and groom figures.

After a wedding trip to Mobile and points in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Tucker will reside in Isabella.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davenport, Jr., and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wells and children of Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spivey; Mrs. Paul Col[illegible] and Joy Cobern of Birmingham; Miss Lorene LeCroy, Gadsden; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conway, Auburn; Mrs. Cleon Little, Winchester, Tenn.; and Mr. and Mrs. Braxton L. LeCroy, Camden.

NIGHT CHIEF RIFFE INSPECTS COUNTY JAIL AFTER ROW

Believe it or not, but the Town of Maplesville was without police protection for an hour and a half last Friday night.

It all started when night Chief Henry Riffe warned several salesmen that afternoon that they were violating a city ordinance on parking but failed to warn another motorist of the newly created law. He was questioned on this by Mr. Obie Gore, operator of the Gore Shoe Shop. Chief Riffe replied and the question and answer developed into an altercation.

The next thing was the arrest of Chief Riffe by Sheriff Nivens on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Gore. When questioned on the condition of the county jail, Chief Riffe replied, "From the outside it appears as quite a substantial building. I didn't see the inside as a friend from Maplesville arrived and secured my release just as we arrived at the sheriff's office.

Only one disappointment concerned the chief following the tiff and that was why didn't he think to arrest himself and lock himself in the Maville jail before the sheriff arrived.

MAPLESVILLE GIRL GOES TO RIDGECREST

Barbara Culp, 15, and sophomore at Maplesville High School, is attending the Young Women's Association Convention in Ridgecrest, N. C., from June 16 to June 23.

She was sent by the local W.M.U., which will continue to send some member of the Y.W.A. each year. Barbara was the first to be selected because of her interest and participation in young women's church work. An outstanding student at school in scholastics, she was highly enthused over the trip.

MAPLESVILLE HAS PERMANENT PASTOR

The Rev. Clayton Gilbert, of Jasper, is in Maplesville now where he will have full time duties as pastor of the Maplesville Baptist Church. This will be the first year the local church has had a full time clergyman.

Graduating from the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky., this spri[illegible] Rev. Gilbert took over his pas[illegible] on June 3. He will be married on June 25 and he and his wife will move to Maplesville early in July.

PRATTVILLE COUPLE PURCHASE MODERN BEAUTY SHOP

Announcement is made in this issue of the purchase of the Modern Beauty Shop by Mr. and Mrs. H. Grady Blake of Prattville.

In relinquishing the ownership of this fine institution, Mrs. Addie G. Robinson, who has operated this business for the past thirteen years, bespeaks for the new owners continued growth and expansion in their plan to give the people of Clanton and Chilton County one of the finest and most modern beauty shops in the South.

The entire staff of experienced operators and personnel have been retained by the new owners and work has already begun on improvements.

Mrs. Blake is now greeting new and old friends of the institution and will continue to commute daily from Prattville until further plans are completed.

She is a graduate of Auburn in the school of Home Economics and Extension work, having held the position of Home Demonstration Agent for several years. Moving to Prattville in 1939, she held the position of Home Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration until two years ago when she became actively associated with her husband in business. She is active in church work, a member of the Methodist Church, Parent Teachers, an officer in the Service League and first vice-president of the Lazy Daisy Garden Club of Prattville.

Mr. Blake, a native Alabamian, is well known among the business people of Clanton, having traveled here for many years representing the Sunshine Biscuit people and the H. M. Hobbie Grocery Company of Montgomery. His first job after donning long pants was with Gulledge Brothers in Verbena. He was examiner of accounts under the last Bibb Graves administration, later entering business in Montgomery. In 1939 he moved to Prattville and entered the insurance business which he now conducts. He is a graduate of the Aetna Associated Insurance Companies training school and represents several companies doing a general insurance business. Mr. Blake is an active sportsman, being director of the Alabama Wildlife Federation for Autauga for the past five years and is president of the Autauga County Sportsmen's Association. He is also chairman of the Autauga County Savings Bond Committee division of the U. S. Treasury. He is active in the Prattville Lions Club, having recently declined the nomination for president due to pressure of business. At the time Clanton was re-chartered as a club he was zone chairman and took an active part in the presentation of the charter.

In speaking of his venture in Clanton, Mr. Blake said: "Mrs. Blake and I have always had a warm spot in our hearts for Clanton, we visit rere often, sometimes for a horse show, football game or baseball game. We enjoy eating the good food served at several places and have found the business people very friendly. I believe that a great part of the credit for the splendid growth and progressive spirit of Clanton comes directly from the efforts and attitude of its people as a whole. Everybody seems to be happy prosperous and that makes for good living in anybody's community. We are very happy over our investment here, we are just plain hard working people and we want to contribute toward the continued growth and prosperity of the city and county."

Russian Composers Charge Hollywood Stole Their Music

MOSCOW.—Four of Russia's best known composers are accusing a Hollywood film firm of pirating their compositions to use in the movie, "The Iron Curtain."

They are Dmitri Shostakovich, Serge Prokofieff, Aram Khatchaturian and Nicholai Miaskovsky. The Soviet newspaper Izvestia published their charges.

"None of us has ever given or could give permission for utilization of our music in "The Iron Curtain," the letter said.

In Hollywood, 20th Century-Fox studio officials issued this statement:

"We have used the music of these four composers in our picture, 'The Iron Curtain,' which deals with the Communist spy activities in North America, because it is stirringly dramatic and therefore appropriate to the theme . . ."

These composers all were criticized by the Communist party central committee recently for formalism in their music.

Hitch-Hikers Find Thumbing More Expensive Than Fare

The 17-year-old St. Louis youth had the same idea. He and two pals figured they'd hitch-hike to Florida.

But they ended up walking the 319 miles to Memphis—with suitcases.

It took eight days—and cost more for food than train or bus fare would have. Police stopped them twice for questioning, Trachte said—but no rides.

Now the two pals have flown back home. And Trachte is going by bus. Motorists, Trachte said, just don't seem to like hikers any more.

We proudly announce

All sub-committees were named and things really started to move towards the biggest Clanton Horse Show yet.

The show this year will be divided into a late afternoon and night affair and will probably be enjoyed and appreciated by more people than has yet been able to attend the show. In the past many have stayed away or left because of the late hour in which the show closed.

The Clanton Pilots will serve barbecue between the two shows but for more details and to keep up with the happenings of the different committees, watch your Chilton County News.

SCHOOL OF MISSIONS CANCELLED

Committees are already being set up to carry through this program for next year.

PEACH FESTIVAL PLANS GREATEST IN COUNTY'S HISTORY

Final plans for the peach festival are rapidly being completed as the date of the long-talked peach festival draws near. The second annual peach festival will, in all probability, be one of the biggest events ever witnessed in the county. The success of the festival was dependent on one thing—county-wide cooperation. According to general peach festival chairman, Red Glasscock, the entire county responded to the work call as civic organizations, merchants, professional workers, and—peach growers contributed their time, talent and resources in putting the festival over. While sponsoring the peach festival, the county has staged an outsanding demonsration of community and county-wide cooperation.

One of the keys to success of the festival has been publicity. The local press and radio station have given their whole-hearted support immeasurably to the success of the festival.

Chilton County's two million dollar peach industry, directly or indirectly, affects everyone in the county. Realizing the importance of promoting so important an industry, the entire county through its spirit of cooperation will proclaim o the nation that "Chilton Couny Peaches Are Tops."

SCHEDULE OF PEACH FESTIVAL RELEASED

Chairman of the peach festival, M. R. Glasscock, has released a schedule of the festival events.

The parade will assemble in Thorsby at 9 o'clock and will leave Thorsby at 9:45. Patrolman, Luther Kendrick, chairman of the safety committee, promises that there will not be a reoccurrence of last year's traffic problem during the parade. After arriving at the program headquarters in Clanton, the first event to be held will be the coronation of the queen. This event will be held at 10:45. At 11 o'clock, honor guests will be introduced and state agricultural and industrial leaders will make their address. Speakers for the occasion will be Mr. P. O. Davis, Director of the Extension Service and Mr. John Ward of the State Chamber of Commerce. Other guests who have been invited are Governor Folsom, Lt. Governor Enzer, and Senator Tom Heflin. At 11:25, the peach package contest winner will be announced. Immediately after winners are announced, the peach auction will begin with Bill Pace, a top notch auctioneer, selling the prize peaches. Since this event is one of the high lights of the festival it will be broadcast over the network of Alabama Stations.

12:30 has been designated for lunch time and local residents are asked to bring a basket for a picnic lunch.

In the afternoon, there will be a baseball game at the City Park. At 5 o'clock, as the shadows start getting long, there will be a community singing and everyone is invited to attend and take part in the singing.

Throughout the afternoon and evening the Lee Amusement Company will be operating in South Clanton to entertain the younger set with their complete line of rides.

At 7:00 the street dance will get under way with Buck Littleton and his Rainbow Serenaders playing for the dance. The street dance will last until 9:00. At this time there will be a semi-formal dance at the High School Auditorium where Sammy Buchmann and his orchestra will be featured.

David E. Hudson, Bobby Ousley, Glenn Jones, George Bradley, Wilbur Walker, Joe Ellison, Billy Jean Mims, James Pyron, and Kenneth Hayes, have played in part of the games and were a big help to the team. On account of inexperience of the scorekeeper, no records were made for the substitutes.

Clanton is now trailing only Columbiana in League standing. They have four more regular league scheduled games and one postponed game to play before finishing the first half of the schedule, and have a good chance to be in and to win the playoff series for the right to play the winner of Birmingham for the championship of the Fifth District of Alabama.

On Thursday night, June 24, at 7:30, they play the Siluria team for the first time this season. Come out and see your future Clanton team and the future Buck Creek players in action at City Park.

On Friday afternoon, June 25, at 3 o'clock, at the City Park, they tie up with Calera Club, which beat Clanton 4 to 3 in their last game. This ought to be a good game.

THURSDAY NIGHT SINGING

[illegible] program were: The Sunny South, Clanton Harmony Boys, Liberty Hill and Oak Grove Quartet, led by Rev. [illegible]esse Mitchell. The Sandlin Trio [illegible]ered a special number and Mrs. A. T. Hickman did a Gospel solo, "Daughters of Jerusalem."

The voice of Chester Wyatt was missed very much in the Clanton Harmony Quartet. O. L. Devaughn was used in his place.

Pastor A. T. Hickman delivered a Gospel sermon, "In A Nut-Shell." An illustrated sermon from a Walnut Shell.

Those playing the piano were Mrs. Earl Lowery, Miss Jo Sandlin, Hillman Mims, M. W. Easterling, and Mrs. Zelma Littlejohn, and Mrs. R. C. Veazey.

[illegible] several ministers present were: [illegible], Sandlin, Greenwood, Mit[illegible], Cook, Carroll, Hand and Hick[illegible].

A "Hand-picked Quartet," sung "On The Jericho Road." And Prof. Marion W. Easterling directed the closing number. This singing was one of the best so far. The singing for this week will be held at the Chilton County courthouse Thursday night, June 24th. You had better get there [illegible] to get inside the house. [illegible] pected to be the best yet. TURKEY OUTLOOK

Turkey growers are raising about four-fifths as many turkeys this year [illegible] 1947, and the outlook now is for higher prices during the marketing season.

IDLING MOTORS

When tractor motors are allowed to idle, gas is wasted. Lubrication of an idling motor is likely to be faulty, too, as the oil system was made for operation under load.

FALL GARDEN

Start work on your fall garden now. Land should be turned by late June. Then fallow land until planting time. [illegible] come up.

What Our Town Does With Dirt!

To the city dweller, I guess dirt is something that you walk on in the public parks—but to the farmers in our county it's a mighty precious ingredient—to be guarded and nurtured with care.

That's why we have our own Soil Conservation Program, by which we get together once a year and decide on crop rotation, terracing and other common problems—so that no one farm will operate to lessen the value of another's soil.

It's a little like the Brewer's Program of Self Regulation, by which outlets are urged to maintain certain standards of good conduct, courtesy, and obedience to law . . . so that no outlet will operate in a manner detrimental to the industry.

From where I sit, Self Regulation, whether it's conserving soil, or conserving the goodwill of the public, is the most effective way of getting results. It's why places selling beer today are a credit to their communities.

Jemison

Crowe-Glass Wedding—

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Anne Crowe, of Birmingham, daughter of Mrs. Molly Mims Crowe, to Jasper Carl Glass, of Jemison, son of Mrs. Nellie Glass, was solemnized by the Rev. Homer Carroll in the Jemison Baptist Church on June 20th at 8:30 a.m. Standards of gladioli in pastel shade marked the altar.

Miss Mary Edna Reynolds, pianist, presented a program of wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. John Rogers, Montgomery, was her sister's matron of honor. The white jacket of her two-piece linen dress was posed over a black skirt. A wreath of white flowers formed her hat and her corsage was of white carnations. John Rogers served Mr. Glass as best man.

The bride was lovely in a white waffle pique dress made drop-shouldered with a round neckline and full flared skirt. A band of Irish lace was inserted in the waist and edged the cap sleeves. She wore a white felt picture hat veiled in brown and her accessories were white. The bridal bouquet was of white calla lilies and gypsolpma tied with wide taffeta ribbon.

Miss Crowe is a graduate of Jemison High School and since graduation has been employed as secretary to Dryer and Dryer, Birmingham Attorneys.

Mr. Glass is an L. & N. operator. A graduate of Jemison High School, he saw eleven months service in the Southwest acific and was awarded six bronze stars.

Announcement Tea—

Mrs. Leo Langston, Miss Sybil Langston and Miss Paralee Henson were hostesses at a musical tea, honoring their house guests, Mrs. C. N. Boyd and Miss Jane Boyd, of Birmingham; Mrs. N. F. Dendy of Fort Payne, and Miss Elizabeth Steere, of Prattville, on June 18th, at the home of Mrs. Langston.

At the tea announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Paralee Henson to Mr. Charles U. Bethany. The announcement, in the form of a unit of arrest requiring the guests' presence at the marriage ceremony, was served by Policeman Littleton of the Thorsby Police Department.

Miss Henson wore aquamarine taffeta made with a high round neck and cap sleeves. The dress featured a polonaise draped over a full skirt. Her flowers were pink carnations worn in her hair.

The following musical program was presented: Clarinet duet, Miss Annette Reynolds and Miss Ann Turner, accompanied by Miss Mary Edna Reynolds; piano solo, Miss Jane Boyd; soprano solo, Mrs. Raymnd Mims, Clanton; violin solos, Mrs. Carlisle Miller, Clanton.

The guest list included present and former members of the Jemison Quest Club, Senior members of the [illegible] Teens, and members of the Jemison High School Faculty.

Nothing's A Natural Resource Until—

When you come right down to it, not much of anything is a "natural resource" until somebody discovers a way to make it useful to human beings.

Certain atoms didn't become a "natural resource" to anyone until 1945.

Many substances not considered natural resources today may become natural resources tomorrow.

Even where recognized natural resources exist, they don't do anybody much good until somebody does something with them—something that makes them useful to human beings.

The richest soil is of little value until a farmer plants his seeds and gathers a harvest from it. Soil not so good, expertly farmed can be more of a natural resource than rich soil lying fallow.

Minerals and coal in the ground increase in value after they are mined, because they've been taken one step further toward human use.

Rivers are natural sources only to the extent that they provide a water supply or a source of food, or a means of transportation or electric power generation—for people.

Forests are useful primarily to give shelter to birds and beasts until the products of the forests are made useful to people.

The goal of Alabama Power Company's Industrial Division is the same goal as that of many other groups in Alabama. That goal is to make more and more of Alabama's natural resources useful to people. Doing so means more jobs for more people, it means more money for school, health and other public services—it means a higher standard of living for everybody.—Adv. by Alabama Power Company.

Alabama Acquires Title To Courtland Army Air Base

Deed to the Courtland Army Air Base was delivered to the Alabama Department of Aeronautics in Birmingham Friday afternoon, June 4, by the War Assets Administration, it is announced by Asa Rountree, Jr., State Director of Aeronautics.

The State Department of Aeronautics acquired the $5,000,000 Courtland Air Base for and on behalf of the State of Alabama without cost, under provisions of W.A.A. Regulation No. 16 and Public Law 289, covering the disposal of surplus army air fields.

The deed was signed for the State of Alabama by W. Hayden Brooks, Chairman of the Alabama Aeronautics Commission, Robert G. Pitts, Secretary, and Asa Rountree, Jr., Director. The War Assets Administration was represented by Hugh K. Mahon, Legal Division, Atlanta.

The State Department of Aeronautics has had possession and control of the property since July 10, 1947, when it was issued on interim permit. The property transferred includes 2,236 acres of land; 4 concrete runways, each 5000 x 150 ft.; concrete ramp, 600 x 400 ft.; 91 buildings and structures, including two hangars of permanent construction; waterworks plant; sewerage system disposal plant. The estimated cost of the property conveyed is in excess of $5,000,000.

Since last July the Courtland Air Base has been operated as a public airport, with local commercial operations under the direction of Edmund W. Boice, Dennis E. McClendon and Spencer O. Latham, who organized the Courtland Aviation Industries. A number of other activities have also been established.

The Aeronautics Department had two major objectives in mind when application was submitted for the Courtland Base: (1) the needs of the military reserve and the National Guard, (2) and the future needs of National Defense. However, in addition to military use, it will also serve as a public airport.

There is more paving at the Courtland Field than at any other public airport in Alabama and it is one of the best built and engineered.

At the present time Courtland is being used by the Air Force Reserve and by the Alabama Air National Guard of Birmingham. The ground forces of the Alabama National Guard are also planning to use it extensively. The Birmingham Air Force Reserve now has a detachment of men and planes stationed at Courtland five days a week and there is also regular use of it over the week ends.

The Alabama National Guard will be assigned areas and buildings, as needed, for permanent and continuous use.

General James S. Saliba, Adjutant General of Alabama, and Colonel L. W. Howell, Assistant Adjutant General, were largely instrumental in retaining this base for the state. From the time it was declared surplus they have worked continuously, forcefully and effectively on its behalf. Under the law, the State Military Department was not an eligible applicant but the State Department of Aeronautics was. For more than 18 months the two departments have worked jointly to secure title.

Persistant Snake Pursues Hunters

ELBA — Frank Perdue and Bill Martin, local frog hunters, have had experiences with rattlesnakes before, but never like the one they had last month.

They had just shot a frog and put it in the boat when a water moccasin came gliding over the side.

They knocked the snake overboard, breathed a sigh of relief and turned around in time to see the snake trying to climb over the other side of the boat.

The unwelcome visitor was successfully repulsed the second time.

Atmore Prison Farm Harvests $80,000 Potato Crop

State Prison officials reveal that the potato crop at Atmore Prison farm has brought from the 450-acre crop.

Director Frank Boswell said that he state had $50,000 invested in the crop.

The total monetary sales do not include 18,000 gallons of potatoes canned for feeding prisoners, nor 422 tons put in cold storage for future use.

At the same time, Boswell said that his department suffered a 50-percent loss on the potato crop at Draper Prison, due to dry weather. A sum of $10,000 was invested in the 100 acres, and only $5,000 will be realized.

Prisoners are now harvesting the peach crop at Atmore, which Boswell said will run close to $30,000 plus 18,000 gallons to be canned.

Mrs. Hinds added that, [illegible] to most people's belie[illegible] [illegible] take place on straig[illegible] than on curves and hills. She explained this by saying that the ordinary driver has a tendency to speed up when he gets on an open stretch. She said further that more accidents take place on paved highways than on unpaved roads. Speed is probably also responsible for the large number of paved road accidents, she added.

According to statistics compiled by the record bureau, more traffic accidents occur between 2 p.m. and 11 p.m. than during any other period of the day.

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

We hear that a former resident of Maplesville has become co-owner of The Hobby House in Wetumpka, dealers in antiques. She is Mrs. Helen Nix Macon and her partner in the enterprise is Mrs. Mary F. Sanford, also of Wetumpka.

The Hobby House will hold its grand opening tomorrow and numerous people in Chilton County have already an[illegible] being there. VIRGINIA VISITOR IN MAPLESVILLE MONDAY

Andrew Cox of Petersburg, Va., was in Maplesville earlier this week visiting relatives and old friends. Formerly of Randolph, Mr. Cox is now in the hotel management profession.

WRECK SUNDAY NIGHT SENDS 3 TO HOSPITAL

Two automobiles figured in a collision about 9:00 p.m. Sunday in which all occupants of both cars were rushed to Selma hospitals. The accident occurred in front of Cal Seales' Garage, where Rat Row intersects with Highway 22.

Sole occupant in one of the cars was L[illegible] Mitchell of Maplesville. He suffered lacerations on the forehead and a possible broken rib and was taken to the Baptist Hospital. In the other automobile was Joseph Ralph Morrow, 41 or 42, of Arab and a woman tentatively identified as his wife. Mr. Morrow received a cut on his knee and an injured shoulder while the woman received head injuries. They were taken to Vaughn Memorial Hospital.

Condition of the three accident victims were reported as good Tuesday as the paper went to press.

LOCAL RESIDENT VACATIONING IN DAYTONA BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Union Chambers and their daughter, Annie L[illegible], are vacationing this week in Daytona Beach, Fla. They left Maplesville last Sunday and will return some time this week end.

Mr. Chambers is the proprietor of the Chambers Service Station and also holds the current contract for garbage disposal in the city.

BUT IT'S TRUE

Believe it or not but a miraculous thing occurred during the first rain storm early last week!

During the rain in that territory between Cox's Station and Randolph, the wind rose to beyond normal heights. Limbs, stray debris and all sorts of odds and ends were blowing helter-skelter.

Strangest of all and reaching into that realm known only as wonders of the world was when an unusual gust of wind lifted the garage off Mr. Brown Bolling's automobile and sat it down a few feet away. The building was completely destroyed and not a single scratch appeared on Mr. Bolling's car.

COMING AND GOING

Last Sunday was Father's Day and there were a number of visitors in Maplesville to be with their families on the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Roper were visiting his father, Mr. Walter Roper. Mrs. Roper, who was formerly Ruth Doris Wallace, also spent part of her visit with Mrs. J. E. Wallace, Sr., her mother. They now live in Birmingham, where Mr. Roper is working on his degree in education under the G.I. Bill.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Maples, Sr., were their son, John Maples, Jr., and daughter, Mrs. Riley M. Hayes, and granddaughters, Mary Sue Maples and Martha Ann Hayes. (I never thought of it previously but this is quite a mixed up affair). Mrs. John Maples, Jr., and Mrs. Riley M. Hayes and their daughters were with their father, Mr. J. J. Hayes, Sr., as were Jesse Hayes, Jr., and his two daughters, Elizabeth Ann and Mary Virginia. Mrs. J. J. Hayes, Jr., was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cobern. The three visiting families are all from Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Macon, of Wetumpka, were guests of the day with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nix.

Home after a two weeks vacation in California is Mr. Clarence Gray, assistant cashier at the Bank of Maplesville. He reports a very pleasant and gay time. In fact he seems inclined to desire about five or six months added to his vacation to return for the sights and pleasures which he failed to encounter.

NEWS IN AND OF POLICE DEPARTMENT

Replacing Chief McFarland, who was terminated from the police force about three weeks ago, as daytime officer is Maplesville's new chief, "Budd" Ellison. Chief Ellison joined the force last Friday. He still lives in Clanton and travels back and forth daily. Previous to coming to Maplesville, Chief Ellison was with the Jemison Police Force.

Although there has been a full force since last Friday, there were no cases before Mayor McCain's court last Monday morning.

DR. VINES HANGS SHINGLE HERE

Dr. Jack Vines, formerly of Thorsby, arrived in Maplesville last Sunday and will remain here as an associate of Dr. H. M. Nix.

He graduated from the dental college of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., on the past June 7th. Upon graduation at Emory, Dr. Vines passed the required examination given by the Georgia State Dental Board and then took the one given by the Alabama Board. He was notified last week that he had passed the Alabama examination with "the so-called flying colors."

Dr. Vines took his pre-dental course at A.P.I., Auburn, and is a graduate of Thorsby Institute.

Dr. Nix reports that his associate will be in Maplesville permanently now; both while Dr. Nix is on his planned summer vacation in Canada and for the many years to come.

Butterflies Flit Across Atlantic

LONDON.—If you happen to see a butterfly flutter by with a license plate attached to its tail, run to the phone and put in a trans-Atlantic call to T. Bainbridge Fletcher in London, England.

He is probably the guy who attached the license.

The licensing scheme is Fletcher's own project. He hopes to learn more about the migratory habits of butterflies.

Up to the last report no Fletcher-licensed butterfly is known to have strayed more than 50 miles but don't discount the possibility of a butterfly flying the Atlantic.

A brightly colored American Monarch was snared in the autumn of 1932.

This ocean flier was promptly caught in England by Sir Beckwith Whitehouse, a great butterfly man, and eventually sold for $41.

Since that time 80 other butterflies have crossed the ocean, all west to east, according to Dr. D. B. Williams, who probably knows more about butterflies than any other man alive.

All Williams' ocean fliers are Monarchs. Williams has discovered they migrate 2,000 miles, spending the winter in Florida and the summer in Canada.

Butterflies have more sense than to get lost, Williams says. In fact, he says, he is amazed at the way butterflies stay on course despite winds, the Monarchs breezing along at a steady 16 miles an hour.

At this top speed a Monarch crosses the ocean on the great circle route in about 5½ days.

Former-Dishwasher Buys Town of 3,000

LANGELOTH, PA. — This once-bustling community of 3,000 was rescued from a "ghost town" fate by "Gus the Greek" Barbush, who as an immigrant boy got his start by washing dishes 36 years ago.

Gus saved Langeloth by the simple process of buying it—the whole town—for a reported half-million dollars.

The town's troubles began when the American Zinc and Chemical company decided to close its local zinc plant. The major industry here, it provided 800 jobs and a $9,000-a-day payroll.

Things looked pretty gloomy until Gus surveyed the scene. Gus lives in nearby Burgettstown.

Gus thought he might put Langeloth on its feet. He went to the Burgettstown bank, which showed its faith in him by advancing a $200,000 loan—largest it ever advanced to an individual.

Gus's main objective is to induce a new industry to move into the empty plant. Then he wants to improve the town by laying out a baseball diamond, fixing the park, etc.

"My plan is run a good town," he said.

Gus admits he got a kick out of buying the town.

"It could only happen in this country," he smiled.

An easy way to remove buttons from a garment is to hold a comb under the buttons and cut them off with a razor blade. The comb will safeguard against cutting the garment.

They were indeed very lovely and entertaining. After the showing of the pictures, the lights were turned on and homemade ice cream and cake were served. It was a lovely occasion. The mayor and councilmen all attended and were honored along with the firemen. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Eddie Reid, of Montgomery, and others were called on for impromptu speeches including Mr. W. J. Preston, of Jemison, who was honored with a gift from the Town of Thorsby for the work he has done in training the boys. Mr. Elils Jones, former assistant Policeman, also received a gift for outstanding service to the fire department. A bountiful supper was served and everyone had a good time.

Look, God, I have never spoken to you—
But now—I want to say "how do you do."
You see, God, they told me You didn't exist—
And like a fool—I believed all of this.
Last night from a shell hole I saw Your sky—
I figured right then they had told me a lie.
Had I taken time to see the things You made,
I'd known they weren't calling a spade a spade.
I wonder, God, if You'd shake my hand,
Somehow—I feel that You will understand.
Funny—I had to come to this hellish place,
Before I had the time to see Your face.
Well, I guess there isn't much more [illegible]
But [illegible] glad, God, I met You [illegible]
I [illegible] "zero hour" will soon be [illegible]
But I'm [illegible] since I know You're near.
The signal!—Well, God—I'll have to go,
I like you lots—this I want you to know—
Look, now — this will be a horrible fight—
Who knows — I may come to your House tonight—
Though I wasn't friendly with you before,
I wonder, God—if You'd wait at Your door—
Look—I'm crying! Me — shedding tears—
I wish I'd known You these many years—
Well, I will have to go now, God—goodbye,
Strange — since I met You—I'm not afraid to die.

OPENING NEW STORE

We are opening our new store and filling station Saturday morning, June 26th, at Peol's Cross Roads, on Billingsley Highway, nine miles southwest of Clanton.

We are giving with each $10.00 cash purchase one 25-Lb. bag of Lights Best Flour.

We extend a special invitation to each and every one to visit us in our new place. We also want to thank each one for their kindness and help at the time our store burned, and in helping to build back.

May the Lord's richest ble[illegible] abide with each of you is our prayer —Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson. Adv.

HANDLE PRODUCE CAREFULLY

Save money and keep customers by reducing cuts and bruises on fresh fruits and vegetables, advise API extension marketing specialists. Scarred produce becomes dark and unsightly. Usually decay starts in these spots. Grading in the field and careful handling on the way to the consumer will reduce loss of fruits and vegetables.

VERBENA HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Verbena Home Demonstration Club is having a plate supper at the school lunch room Thursday night, June 24th, at 7:00 p.m. Each plate will be 75c. The proceeds will go to the lunch room building fund. The public is cordially invited.

BAKER HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Baker Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Johnnie Culpepper for its June meeting.

Miss Barber gave an interesting demonstration on "Short Cuts To Cooking." It will prove to be a helpful demonstration to all our members.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to express our thanks to everyone in Clanton and Chilton County for their kindness to us since the burning of our home on May 23, 1948. Everyone has been so very nice to us and we appreciate every article given, and every kind word spoken to us in this respect since our loss.

May God bless each of you who assisted is our prayer. — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for the kind things that were said or done during our recent bereavement in the death of our wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Owen. We especially thank the neighbors for the kind things they did and for the beautiful flowers. We also thank Mr. and Mrs. White of Spigener Funeral Home; Rev. Wilkins, Rev. Bice and Dr. Hayes.

May God bless you all is our prayer. —The Family.

Refueling of B-29's In Flight Is Only Matter of Minutes

WASHINGTON. — Using a new high-speed method developed by the air force, B-29's, on their way to long distant targets now can refuel in the air within a few minutes.

This range-stretching technique for the big war planes was hinted at by Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington before the senate armed services committee. He said B-29's utilizing the "most modern development" of the old airborne refueling system could, for example, bomb any part of Russia from bases in Alaska or Labrador. He made no further explanation, but said bombing units of the air force would have the new equipment by the first of next year.

Other authorities indicated that tests already have been made with completely satisfactory results.

While declining to disclose the exact speed with which transfer of gasoline from a tanker plane to a bomber is made under the USAF method, one expert said:

"British fliers have developed a method of pumping gasoline from one plane to another at a rate of about 100 gallons a minute. USAF technique and equipment is designed to accomplish several times such speed."

This indicated that a B-29 could take on virtually a full load of gasoline in perhaps 15 minutes.

Speed is of paramount importance under wartime conditions. During fuel transfer, a bomber would be highly vulnerable to attack by enemy fighter planes. The faster the fuel is loaded, the less the time of danger.

With a five-ton bomb load and using only the normal built-in tanks a B-29 fuels with about 5,500 gallons for an ordinary 12 hours of flying to a target, dropping bombs and reaching a friendly base. With extra tanks mounted in an unused bombbay, the fuel load can be increased to about 6,700 gallons.

Bank Teller's Tardiness Reveals Embezzled Funds

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Bank Teller Harry C. Delaney wished sincerely that he had not been tardy for work.

If he had been on time, a substitute teller wouldn't have discovered that Delaney had embezzled $14,150 from the Mississippi Valley Trust company where he worked for 26 years.

Delaney admitted the embezzlement to FBI agents who questioned him. He said he began taking funds two years ago to supplement his $205 monthly salary.

Census Takers in Zoo Have Problems of Multiplication

PHILADELPHIA—Noah marched the animals into the ark two by two—and brought them out the same way. But things are different at the Philadelphia zoo these days.

It's counting time and the harried keepers and attendants have double trouble taking the annual mid-winter count of specimens.

Each time a count is completed, a different total is arrived at, animals and nature being what they are.

Counting noses is all right as far as the hippos, elephants, chimps and the rhinoceroses are concerned. That goes, too, for the tigers, lions, Shetland ponies and the bears.

But the monkeys won't hold still. Since most monkeys look like other monkeys, the adding machines whirl merrily every time a count is attempted.

Some of the prairie dogs are contentedly asleep, but underground. Turtles have dug themselves deep in the rocks of their tank.

By the time it's all over, zoo officials hope to have accounted for some 2,000 guests.

Snowplow Crews Rescue Trapped Auto Travelers

RABBIT EARS PASS, COLO.—Chet Pierce says that most folks caught in a mountain snowstorm "are so busy trying to kill themselves they don't have time to do anything sensible."

Pierce, 39, is boss of the snowplow crews which buck the big white blanket 10 months of the year here atop the continental divide.

He estimates that his men pull more than a thousand motorists out of the drifts every year.

A Rabbit Ears Pass snowstorm is not picturesque. In fact, you can't see it. Visibility is zero and the temperature often drops to 35 below.

"You don't pull that many people out of the snow without learning a little about them," Pierce said.

"Take that fella from Chicago last year.

"When I found him he'd let all the air out of his tires. He'd piled the back seat of his sedan about so high with snow and he was sitting there, stuck tight, talking to himself.

"He told me any fool could see he'd let the air out so's to get more traction. And he'd used the snow to make his rear end heavy. After I told him the score he wanted to know if I'd mind piping a little air into his tires—out of my tires."

9,700 Feet Above Sea Level

This raw snow-bleached strip of the world is known to Pierce and his plow jockeys as Bunny hill. It's about 9,700 feet above sea level. In some spots the highway towers 1,000 feet above the valleys.

The pass is named for a rusty rock formation which some imaginative pioneer decided resembled a rabbit's ears.

A year's snowfall in the mountain-pass country has been known to tickle the 80-foot mark. Five feet of snow fell here in one week.

"When you know snow," Pierce said, "it doesn't scare you so much. But we get folks through here that never saw frost outside of an icebox.

"They get panicky. Sometimes they just stand alongside their cars scratching at the fenders and crying."

Motorists Get Angry

An occasional motorist gets angry when the plow jockeys stop him at the top of the pass and insist he either put on tire chains, or turn back.

One such driver told Pierce that Pierce had "no respect for human nature." That was five years ago. The plow boss is still trying to figure that out.

Pierce and his men live in a log cabin camp near the peak of the pass.

The crew—which ranges from six to eight men—is composed mostly of youngsters who were raised on ranches. All are Coloradoans. They all know Bunny hill as well as you know the trail from living room to kitchen.

This comes in handy at night when the blade of a man's plow is nudging along the lip of a canyon and the trees below look no biger than the buttons on a baby's coat.

"You know," said Plow Driver Warren Gleason, smiling up the slope, "this may not be God's country. But one thing's certain. If the Lord ever wants it, he won't have to stoop very far to get it."

Steep Mexican Chicle Prices Discourage U. S. Gum Makers

MEXICO CITY—High prices have driven leading United States chewing-gum manufacturers from the Mexican chicle market.

As a result, the industry is practically paralyzed. Exports are down approximately 96 per cent, compared with a year ago.

For years American companies had absorbed more than 90 per cent of the Mexican chicle production.

In the 1946-'47 season, these buyers obtained 17,630,800 pounds of Mexican chicle. For the 1947-'48 season, the contracts are reported to be only for 770,000 pounds.

Civilians in the United States are said to chew annually an average of 107 sticks of gum each.

But World War II saw gum made an important item in the food kits of soldiers. This caused business to boom, and American companies were said to have built big stockpiles to supply the demand.

Plowman, Bitten by Assailant, Can't Make Mule Understand

MURFREESBORO, TENN. — A Negro plowman whose lip was bitten off in a fight sued his assailant because he fears his mule will no longer understand orders.

Howard Massey, attorney for Herman Robertson, who is asking $1,500 damages from another Negro, said after filing suit:

"My client greatly fears that he has suffered such an impediment of speech that he will never be able to make his plow mule understand him again."

Massey said Robertson also feared that a goatee in which he took pride will not grow back.

A physician sewed the dismembered lower lip back on. Massey said the repair job apparently was a success.

X-RAY CAMPAIGN AGAINST TB BEGUN

Alabama's compulsory state-wide x-ray campaign against tuberculosis, the first of its kinds ever to be undertaken by any state, has started rolling, Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer, announced today.

"Three machines, making 70-millemeter x-ray pictures of the chest, are in constant use," he said. "A fourth is kept in reserve for immediate use should one of the others break down. The films are sent to the State Health Department's Division of Tuberculosis Control for developing and interpretation. Those people whose x-rays show abnormailities are required to have standard-sized (larger) pictures made. Those larger pictures are used in determining whether they actually have tuberculosis."

The campaign just getting under way is the result of a law passed by the 1947 Legislature. This requires all residents of the state between 13 and 50, with a few minor exceptions, to have their lungs x-rayed. The x-raying program is being conducted on a county-by-county basis. Marshall and Jackson counties were selected as the first to be covered.

JULY 17 DEADLINE FOR SECURITY LOAN DRIVE

Latest figures released by the Federal Reserve System indicate that Chilton County has achieved 33.92 per cent of its quota on the Treasury's Security Loan Drive, according to a statement from County Savings Bond Chairman. Thus the citizens of Chilton County are faced with the necessity of buying an additional $73.287.50 in Bonds before July 17, in order to uphold our County and State record of never having failed to reach a Bond Drive Quota.

THURSDAY NIGHT SINGING

The regular Thursday night singing for the people of Chilton County was held last week in the county courthouse. One of the largest attendance so far in these singings was present. Marion W. Easterling was chairman of the singing. He opened the program by singing two songs, the first one was "Rock Of Ages." He was followed by several more good directors, as well as having with us the "Montgomery Harmony Boys" which sung several songs.

One of the main features of this Thursday night singing was the recording the program for future broadcast over our local radio station, WKLF. The program was broadcast last Sunday morning, and perhaps will be again next Sunday morning.

The singing for this week will be held at the Highland Baptist Church, west of Clanton. The public is invited to attend. As revival season will soon be in full sway, and several singing schools are to be held over the county, the Thursday night singings will perhaps be discontinued for the summer. So do not miss a single one as long as they continue. — Reporting Secretary.

$230.00 Taken From Local Feed Store

Last Friday between 12 noon and 1:00 p.m. $230.00 were missing from the Jones Seed and Feed Company.

A negro, Gilbert Nunn, who was employed by S. A. Jones was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Dutch Nivens and Ellis Ellison for the alleged thievery. The colored man first told that he borrowed $500 from his father, Henry Nunn. After having talked to the negro's father, it was found to be untrue.

Nunn finally confessed to taking the money and now awaits trial in the Chilton County jail.

Pitching Duel Ends With 5-4 Victory For Clanton

Wednesday night, under the lights, the Clanton Independents defeated Sunset of Selma 5-4 behind the tight pitching of Clint Jones, regular third sacker for Clanton and playing manager. Dutch Nivens started for Clanton, pitching 2-3 innings and allowing four hits and three runs. This was Nivens's first start of the season. Jones finished the game allowing two hits and one run. Stone pitched six hit ball for Sunset in losing to Clanton, being in trouble in the last of the ninth when he had to retire with one man away and two men on bases with Clanton being 4-3. O'Shield came in from left field to relieve, allowing Snead and Jones to score and putting Clanton ahead 5-44. Both teams got six hits, and both teams made three errors.

JEMISON DEFEATS CLANTON 14-5

A young and fast Jemison team came from behind Thursday night to defeat the Clanton Independents 14-5, after trailing 4-0 up until the last half of the fourth inning. Armstrong had little trouble holding down Jemison for three full innings but ran into trouble in the fourth inning when errors and four hits gave Jemison a six-run lead over Clanton. Armstrong was relieved on the mound by Capshaw who pitched two thirds innings and allowed five hits and six runs. Milner then pitched the fifth, sixth and seventh innings giving up one run and four hits. Smith finished the game allowing two hits and no runs.

Clanton allowed most of the runs across the plate on errors, making five mistakes in the field at the time they cost runs. Lowery started the game for Jemison, relieved in the third inning by Ellison who finished the game, giving up one run, a run by Tiffin, his first of the year in the seventh inning.

CUT DOWN RAGWEED

Sufferers from hay fever, numbered in the millions, will be interested in "Operation Ragweed," which is beginning to get underway throughout the United States.

The pollen of ragweed is credited with causing three-fourths of hay fever discomfort. Naturally, any effort that eliminates the growth of ragweed in and around a populated center seems to decrease the suffering of the victims.

Many cities and towns have ordinances which require owners of land to cut down these weeds. This will help, but it is also necessary for public authorities to mow down the obnoxious weed in public places.

LET'S BACK CLANTON

There is every reason why business and professional men should join the Clanton Chamber of Commerce. It is an agency for the development of Clanton and its surrounding territory, with the worthy objective of accelerating the growth of business and industry.

The Chilton County News believes at this time, that the Chamber of Commerce, deserves the support that it seeks from the business and professional men of the city. It has given promise of great achievement but the success of its undertaking depends upon the active cooperation of leading business men and women.

We have no doubt of the value of a well-organized, liberally supported Chamber of Commerce. It can do much for a city and its residents which they cannot do for themselves until organized in such an association.

SERVICES RENDERED BY CLANTON MERCHANTS

Local business men tell us that many people in buying, consider only one factor in trading—the price. Losing sight entirely of the importance of quality and without appreciating the services rendered by the merchants in Clanton some people glance through a catalog and snap at "bargains." After paying parcel post, insurance and waiting days for the merchandise they do not come out as well as they imagined.

The Chilton County News has never appealed to its readers to trade at home merely for "patriotic" reasons. It has never blamed any person for buying what is needed as cheaply as possible, although it has attempted to demonstrate that local merchants deserve as much consideration as a stray catalog. To stay in business Clanton merchants must meet outside competition but it is obviously unreasonable to expect them to do more than this.

Local merchants guarantee their wares, giving you many money-back guarantees. Local merchants give an adequate follow-up and repair service on their sales but, as far as we know, no mail order house has ever sent a man to Clanton to see why itspro duct is not doing all that they said it would.

There is much more to a trade than the price. Quality, accommodation, service and personal consideration come with goods bought from Clanton merchants. There is no price for these in a catalog because a mail-order house cannot deliver them with the goods—it takes a Clanton store to do so.

REDEDICATION ON THE FOURTH

The Declaration of Independence was passed by the Continental Congress on July 4th, 1776, but the historic document was not signed until later.

Now, after many years, the people of the United States appreciate the significance of the action taken many years ago, when the delegates of the colonies went on record in favor of the proposition that all men "are endowed with certain inalienable rights" and that "among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The rights of the individual, so long accepted by the world, are now under challenge from those who do not agree with our famous declaration that governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed."

The world of 1948 is far removed from that of 1776, but, in one respect, there is little difference. Again the liberty of men requires courageous action on the part of liberty-loving people. The rights of man are not now being questioned by planes, guns and motorized equipment, but there is still lacking an adequate assurance that the issue will not be joined.

In this editorial the Chilton County News urges all readers to take time enough to read carefully the Declaration of Independence. July 4th, the anniversary of its passage, is a good day to dedicate to the ceremony. Afterwards, inspired to support the ideals of freedom, may we not, as Americans, "pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

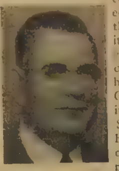
PARABLE OF THE SOWER

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)



The Bible reading for this topic is found in Luke 8:4-15. This is the parable of the Sower. In this Parable we have the responsibility, not only of the Sower, but also of those who hear the Gospel of Christ. This Parable could really be called the "Parable of the Soil." Because it emphasizes the grave responsibility of every one who hears the Word of God, his heart being the soil for the Seed to fall into. However, the soil of our hearts is not, in every regard like the soil of nature. The soil of nature cannot change its climate; but the human soil can help create its own weather, or its condition toward the Seed sown in it.

In this Parable we have four classes of hearers. The Sower is the minister of the Word of God; while the Word itself is the Seed, and the people's hearts is the soil. But there are four types of soil among the hearers. First, those by the wayside, are they that hear the Word, then cometh the devil, and taketh away the Word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved. Here, the contact with the soil was not a living force, but a surface and mechanical contact. The Seed fell upon a trodden path-way. The hearer pays no attention. He does not grasp its meaning. This kind of person's mind is full of worldly thoughts and worldly ares. He allows the sin in his life to shut out the Truth. This cause the heart to become more and more hardened. He allows his own heartssoil to be tramped hard by evil thoughts, and by defiance of the Word of Truth. The Seed remains so-to-speak, on the surface, and the devil soon destroys it. The fowls of the air, evil lust, such as the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life fills the mind and heart until there is no room for the Word of God to grow and take root. . . .The careless inattentive hearer is compared to the wayside road. His heart is an open road where all these evil affections, and foolish and hurtful desires continuely pass and repass. His heart is a thoroughfare for the devil and all his traific.

The "Wayside hearer" are the people who hear the Gospel week in and week out, and years in and years out, but are never converted to God. They continue in their sins. They never become Christians. It is not because the Gospel is not powerful enough to save them, but it is their attitude toward God and His Word. They rob themselves by alolwing the devil to take the Word out of their hearts lest they believe and be saved. The Word of God will produce faith in the heart of man, if he will allow it to remain there, but if he allows the devil to steal it away, he has no faith, and for this reason, he is not a saved man.

Note: Next week we will study the "Rocky Ground Hearer.")

FARM LIVING STANDARD WILL CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

American farmers are living more like "city folks" than at any time since pioneer days, says J. H. Oppenheim, president of the farm Equipment Institute. And barring war or economic catastrophe, he predicts that the living standard of rural families—measured in goods, services and opportunities—will continue to advance toward a new high level in the next decade.

"Not long ago the cover of a popular weekly magazine carried a picture, painted from life, of a farmer and his family seated in their living room," Mr. Oppenheim says. "The only thing added to the actual setting was a picture of a prize steer and two blue ribbons hanging on a wall. This addition was necessary, the artist explained, to identify the group as a farm family. Seems to me an excellent commentary on the high standard of rural living today.

Mr. Oppenheim, who is also vice president and general manager of the New Idea Farm Equipment Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation, cites figures to show that the average farmer's wartime prosperity is based on a solid foundation.

"Farm income has almost tripled since the beginning of the war," he says. "Part of these earnings have been translated into more comfort and less work. That extra money has meant better houses, modern kitchens, electricity for more homes. It has meant more machinery to plow and prepare the land, to plant, cultivate, harvest and store crops. It has helped 2,500,000 fewer farmers to harvest 20,000,000 more acres today than before the war.

"But perhaps it is more important that, while farm income has trebled, farm savings are more than four times what they were in 1940, and that the national farm mortgage debt has been reduced by [illegible]0 per cent in the same period. Farmers today aren't mortgaging themselves beyond their depth to buy land, as they did after the first World War. They have learned and profited by the painful lesson which boom times and depression taught."

The city dweller may possess certain advantages over those who live on farms, Mr. Oppenheim concedes, but the farm dwellers likewise have some advantages not enjoyed by his brethren in town. For those who prefer the environment and special satisfaction that go with agricultural life, he foresees a future in which the farmer and his family may hope to eat, dress and live increasingly well.

1948 Rules And Regulations For Peach Festival Package Contest

Who will be Chilton County's champion peach grower this year? The peach package contest which will be held as one of the events of the festival promises to be one of major importance. Peach growers throughout the county are watching their orchards very closely so that the finest fruit may be selected to enter in the contest.

Mr. Carlon announces that the peach contest will be judged by well qualified, competent judges who have had a great deal of experience in peach production and marketing. They are Mr. Lyle Brown, Extension Horticulturist of Auburn; Mr. John Bagby, Extension Marketing Specialist also of Auburn; and Mr. J. A. Beaty, Birmingham Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Carlton again cautions peach growers that the package contest will be judged on the quality and attractiveness of the package rather than on the quality of the individual fruit. Mr. Carlton also suggests that all peaches be brushed and ring packed, so they can be exhibited to their best advantage.

Immediately after the package contest winner has been announced, the prize peaches will be auctioned off by Mr. Bill Pace, a top notch auctioneer, and the grand champion peaches will be sent to General Eisenhower. The peach package contest and auction will be broadcast over the state network as one of the festival highlights.

For the benefit of growers who are not familiar with the contest the rules and regulations are listed below:

1948 Rules and Regulations for Peach Festival Package Contest:

ELIGIBILITY — All Chilton County peach producers are eligible to enter.

CLOSING TIME — Peaches must be on the display racks at Festival headquarters by 9:00 a.m., Wednesday, July 7th, to be eligible for competition.

NUMBER OF ENTRIES — Any grower can enter as many as four packages provided they are of different varieties. Only one entry of a single variety will be accepted.

VARIETY — Any variety that producers select will be accepted. The variety name must be plainly marked on each package. No package of mixed varieties will be accepted.

PACKAGE — Only bushel standard peach tubs with conventional label and packaging.

DISPOSAL OF CONTEST PACKAGES — All peaches entered become the property of the Festival Association and are to be sold at auction.

JUDGING — Out of county judges will place the packages on the basis of quality and attractiveness of fruit. Size, color, uniformity, and other desirable marketing qualities will be considered in judging. The entire package will be judged on market appeal. The decision of the judges will be final.

CUT AND PRUNE PINES IN FALL AND WINTER

Mr. Raymond Jordan of Cullman County intends to restrict pine cutting or even pruning to the winter months in the future.

He explains that not long ago he decided to square up a field. He cut back a few necks of woods that jutted out into one of his fields and pruned off a few branches from the larger trees which were standing along the edge.

Shortly after he finished cutting and pruning, some of the pines began dying. Examination showed that insects had been attracted to the fresh pine gum. They attacked the prune trees and went from these to the surrounding trees. Now, the line between woods and field is again crooked, several good pines are dead, and a large number of pine saplings are dying just because the pruning and cutting were done in May instead of December.

I. R. Martin, API extension forester, says that this story emphasizes the importance of cutting or pruning pines during late fall and early winter months.

POSSIBLE $200,000.000 COTTON CROP THIS YEAR

Alabama's first $200,000.000 cotton crop may be harvested in 1948. Last year Alabama farmers ginned 908,110 bales. This year they increased their cotton acreage an estimated 10 to 15 per cent.

O. N. Andrews, API extension cotton improvement specialist, reports that over fifteen hundred tons of breeder seed have been planted. A majority of the acreage was planted with delinted and treated seed not over three years from the breeder. Most of the acreage was planted to varieties recommended by the Alabama Experiment Station. Approximately 40 per cent of the total acreage was planted by members of one-variety-cotton-communities. Farmers in general are using higher rates of fertilizer per acre than they have ever used before.

Andrews urges cotton growers to do eveything possible to keep a good stand. Cultivate shallow and often enough to contol weeds. Control boll weevils and other insects. Pick and gin cotton for high grade.

"These measures," Andrews adds, "should mean a million-bale, high-quality, cotton crop this year. Then, if prices remain near present levels Alabama farmers will have their first $200,000,000 cotton crop."

PLAN TO ESTABLISH GRAZING FOR HOGS

It's not too early to make plans for the necessary acreage of fall grazing crops for hogs. The local county agent can help you with pour plans.

"Good grazing is a 'must' for good hog production," says G. B. Phillips, API extension hog specialist.

U. S. Treasurer Has Signature On 27 Billions

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Meet the Treasurer of the United States, William Alexander Julian. He's been on the job since 1933.

Ever hear of him? Lots of people haven't.

If you haven't, it's because you don't read your paper money—any paper money—down in the left hand corner.

There it is, his signature: W. A. Julian, treasurer of the United States. He's not secretary of the treasury. That's John W. Snyder.

Julian is the big bookkeeper on all the money the government collects and spends. He has a staff of 1,600 people. His salary: $10,000 a year.

Snyder, as secretary of the treasury, has a different job. He doesn't have to worry about the bookkeeping. He sets money policies, such as on government loans.

Snyder's signature is on all the paper money printed since he became secretary a couple of years ago. It's down in the right hand corner opposite Julian's.

Name Is on All Currency

But Julian's is on all the paper money printed since 1933, when he became treasurer, opposite the names of all the treasury secretaries since then: William H. Woodin, Henry Morgenthau, jr., Fred A. Vinson, and Snyder.

In short, Julian's name is on paper money worth about 27½ billion dollars. His office is part of the treasury department under Snyder.

Back around 1923 Julian retired from business. He was reported then to be a millionaire.

He had been a shoe salesman. Then, as a shoe manufacturer, he built up the fortune he is reported to have.

He was also president of a trust company in Cincinnati, Ohio, and director of other banks. When he quit making shoes, he kept his bank directorships.

Meanwhile, he was a Democrat. Rumor said he was one of the "angels" of the Democratic party in Ohio. Then President Roosevelt and the "new deal" came along in 1933.

Roosevelt Appoints Him

Roosevelt appointed Julian treasurer of the United States.

If Julian retired from business in 1923 and became treasurer in 1933, how old was he in 1933?

In 1933 friends guessed he was about 68 years old. Newspaper files don't show his age. The story of his life, but not his age, is in Who's Who in America.

Julian himself has been shy about his age. One of his top assistants, asked about it, said:

"The only ones who know the answer to Julian's age are God and Julian. I should think he's in his late seventies."

But if he was 68 in 1933, he must be 83 now. Asked directly, Julian said: "I'm old enough to know better."

"Won't you tell, just for the record?"

"No. Why should I?"

Return of Antarctic Expedition Discounts Rumors of Uranium

WASHINGTON—Antarctica is not likely to be the scene of a "uranium rush" or any other kind of international scramble for mineral wealth, at least in the immediate future.

Commodore Gerald L. Ketchum, leader of the navy's two-ship 1947-48 Antarctic expedition which has just returned after five months "down under," said that "no minerals of any commercial value" had been found at any point on the coast.

And the expedition worked its way along the shores of the world's southernmost continent through more than half its perimeter.

More than two tons of mineral specimens were brought back by Dr. Earl T. Apfel, of Syracuse university, geologist of the expedition, but they are "just rocks."

They do have considerable scientific interest, for by analyzing them Dr. Apfel hopes to get some idea of the geologic age of the continent.

In one area there were quantities of garnets, left by the disintegration of granitic rock; but these again are without commercial value.

Chemists Develop New Agent Which Makes Grass Greener

WILMINGTON, DEL.—Du Pont Company announced the development of a new chemical that it claims will grow grass greener, smoother and healthier.

It is called F 531 fungicide. Du Pont says the product controls dollarspot, a turf disease that causes bleached spots of dead grass about the size of a silver dollar.

F 531 is a mixture of calcium, zinc, copper and cadmium. Du Pont says it "also controls copper spot and pink patch, two lesser diseases that sometimes appear in turf areas."

"The new turf fungicide is an undiluted, green-colored soluble powder that, mixed with water, is easy to apply as a spray," a spokesman explained. "It does not stain, does not corrode the metal in spray equipment, has no odor, and does not harm the grass to which it is applied when used according to directions."

THE STANTON BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Sunday was our regular preaching day. Bro. Hand brought us two inspiring messages. The attendance at Sunday School and Church was very good.

Those who attended the Shocco Springs Baptist Assembly last week from our church were: Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Hand, Earline Gay, Willodene Smith, Peggy Ann Ruddick and Carter Davis. From the reports that each one gave from the week's study and fellowship there, each had gotten a deep spiritual blessing. Each came back ready to work. Carter testified at the morning service that he gave his life to God last week while there and wants to work for him.

We, as Baptists, are very proud to have a Christian Assembly like Ridgecrest right here in our own State of Alabama. Let's help the young people and push forward with them. Bro. and Mrs. Hand enjoyed this great spiritual feast and our church was happy for them to go.

On the Fourth Sunday in July our revival will begin. Dr. Fuller from the Montevallo Baptist Church will help Bro. Hand in the meeting. Come and bring some oen to these services.

Earline Gay will lead the prayer service Wednesday night at 7:30. We wish everyone would come.

There will be choir practice at our church each Saturday night at 7:30. Eddie Ruddick will lead the singing.

Executive Loses 18 Pounds After Eating Grass for One Month

TAYLOR, TEXAS.—Elmore Torn, executive vice-president of the Texas Chemurgic council, is looking toward a square meal after more than a month on a grass diet.

Torn went on the diet of dehydrated cereal grasses as a means of expressing his individual support of the European aid plan.

He vowed to remain on the diet until the plan became a law. But even though the aid bill has been passed, Torn is still "tapering off" his grass diet.

He says whole milk will be supplemented and lean steaks added gradually until his daily calory intake is stepped up from about 200 to 1,200.

Torn said his loss of weight during the entire experiment was only about 18 pounds from his original 200.

After a month of eating very little but dehydrated grass pills, Torn said chlorophyll from now on "will have a prominent place in my ration for cutting away the fat and hardening the muscles."

Eight Acres of Farmland Slip Into Sixty-Foot Hole

GREENSBORO, FLA.— During an inspection of his farm, D. W. Pitts found that eight acres of his land fell into a sixty-foot hole.

Neighbors recalled hearing a loud noise, but because of continuous, heavy rains, Pitt didn't investigate.

State Geologist Robert N. Vernon said the collapse probably resulted from water eating out underlying limestone foundations.

Animal Foundation Blames Enteritis for Slim Hogs

DES MOINES.—Finger of suspicion was pointed at the hog who eats his head off and still fails to put on the profitable pounds.

The American Foundation for animal Health warned that such boarders not only waste feed, but also may be victims and carriers of one of the dangerous types of swine enteritis.

"Even though they eat heartily, hogs with certain types of enteritis become thinner and thinner. Scouring may be severe. If they recover after several weeks, they suffer considerable loss of weight," the Foundation statement explained.

"One of the worst dangers is that ailing hogs may spread the disease through the herd before they show marked illness. This makes it extremely important that a diagnosis be obtained at the first sign that anything is wrong.

"Sanitation and good management are the best precautions against enteritis losses. Newly-purchased pigs should be segregated until they are proved free of disease. Clean pastures, movable houses, and scrubbed concrete floors will reduce the chances of infection."

Veterinarians find that medical treatment for enteritis is more satisfactory when the farmer has practiced preventive sanitation and segregation, the American Foundation said.

Howard Fraternity Adopts 13 Year Old Czechoslavakian Girl

B'HAM — A little 13 year old Czechoslavakian girl has a Howard fraternity to thank for her daily bread.

Marie Tumova has been adopted by the Iota Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity, Howard College, through the Foster Parents Plan.

The adoption carries no legal obigations but is strictly financial. The foster parent merely promises to contribute a small amount monthly to provide food, clothing, medical or dental care.

Marie is the daughter of a tenant farmer who was arrested on suspicion of participating in the resistance movement during the Nazi occupation. He was liberated by the Allies.

Marie was recently sent to England for a three-month period of rehabilitation.

The Foster Parents Plan is now caring for children of 13 different nationalities.

Wylam Stores Sell 350 Dollar Bills At 21c Saving On Dollar

WYLAM — Some people wouldn't believe it.

"You mean stores are selling dollar bills for 79 cents?" they asked incredulously. "There must be a catch to it."

But it was true. Between 9:00 a.m. and noon $350.00 was sold by Wylam merchants at a saving of 21 cents on the dollar.

The sale was planned by the Wylam Business Men's Club to show the public what continued inflation could do to their money, and to educate the public to the values in merchandise on sale in Wylam stores.

When one merchant was asked what the "gimmick" was in the "deal," he jokingly replied. "Nothing unless the ink is still wet. We just printed these last night."

His questioner looked at him suspiciously and left without buying the dollar bill.

Original Site Of U. Of A. Uncovered

UNIVERSITY — The original site dedicated for the University of Alabama was uncovered recently during excavation for a new road.

The site, described as "Marr's Spring, one mile east of Tuscaloosa on the Huntsville road," was selected as the home of the University one hundred and twenty years ago.

The general location of the spring has been known but until road excavation began, it was covered by a thick undergrowth.

Tests are being made now as to the drinking suitability of the water in Marr's Spring.

Antarctic Whaling Industry Helps Meet World Food Needs

PALO ALTO, CAL.—The world's Antarctic whaling and whale oil industry is experiencing a healthy postwar revival through increased use of whale oil for human consumption in oleomargarine.

That statement with facts assembled from governments throughout the world, is set forth in a pamphlet by Dr. Karl Brandt, Stanford university professor of agriculture economics.

Brandt wrote that in 1938 the governments of Europe felt tensions of the coming war and began to stockpile whale oil. It became a top priority item of basic war essentials, along with wheat and sugar.

He pointed out that its remarkable adaptability to storage made it even more sought after. One cargo of Antarctic whale oil was stored in the United States in 1941 and used in England in 1947. The oil was enough to supply the British population with their daily margarine ration for five weeks.

In the 1938-39 season the world's fleet of whaling vessels reached its peak in number of vessels and tonnage of oil produced. Brandt wrote. At that time there were 36 factories afloat, 14 land stations in operation and 353 catcher boats being used. They caught 45,679 whales, which were converted into 3,007,409 barrels of oil.

Auto Parkers Deposit Foreign Coins In Meters

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—Coins of many nations reach the desk of City Treasurer A. N. Wyman, though they're of no help in meeting the payroll. Parking meters here have disgorged coins from Canada, Peru, Argentina, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Ecuador, Palestine, Norway, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, China, Japan, the Philippines, Ceylon, Netherlands East Indies and Turkey.

Ala. Man Invents New Alarm System

When the Winecoff Hotel burned in Atlanta and two of his friends lost thei rlives in the conflagration, he decided to do something to prevent a recurrence of the hotel tragedies.

Working in a home laboratory he devised a system that may revolutionize the fire alarm industry. Recently Walter Winchell wrote that Western Union had bought Tate's invention for $1,500,000.

Tate has not confirmed this report but has said that commitments had been made for equiping 22,000 hotel rooms with the alarm system.

His invention works by a thermostat which is effective in a room 30 by 30 feet. When the temperature reaches 135 degrees, the thermostat causes the telephone signal light from the room to blink in the face of the operator at the hotel switchboard.

An instant rise in temperature of 25 degrees in any room will set the light to blinking.

Peek-A-Boo Days Call For Extra Care Of Baby's Skin During Out-Of-Door Periods

The ups and downs of early summer temperatures, and the peek-a-boo habits of Ole Sol himself won't wreak havoc with small fry if Mothers are on guard.

Even if the day seems warm as you start your daily walk, take along an extra sweater just in case of sudden weather changes. The sun is apt to cloud up in a jiffy and chill your youngster.

Cherub's jaunts should always be preceded by protective skin care—a patting of hands, wrists, cheeks and chin with baby lotion, a snowy white emulsion of mineral oil and lanolin with an antiseptic ingredient added for greater protection. You'll use that, too, when you make baby's diaper switch just before you take him out. It's important not to neglect these protective measures even on gloomy days, because the sun peeking out from behind clouds now and then may be strong enough to burn baby's tender skin.

Outing hours can be largely decided by the state of the weather but, of course, you won't want to take baby out immediately after his bath, nor until an hour after his feeding.

As you embark on the 1948 sun tan program, make the first sunning a one-minute exposure front and back, increasing the time gradually until the tot is getting a twenty minute sunbath, back and front, every bright day. Always, even when he is getting the full-time sunning, shade his eyes during the in-the-sun period.

And the first time you put the little one out in a play pen barefooted give both feet and legs a generous rubbing with lotion. It helps insure baby's comfort in the sun. Rubbing in the excess on your hands is a beauty bonus for your skin, too.

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

Only two more months and school will be open again with football taking the limelight. Maplesville must be going to put forth a fine team or else they would have been unable to schedule games with schools putting forth such perennial favorites as Selma and Clanton.

With such a potential local squad, something should be done and done at once about the gridiron at Maplesville High School. First is a grading of the playing field and sodding it for excellent playing conditions when the season opens. Second but no less in need is the construction of a fence around the school park.

Sure such items will cost money and nobody expects any different. There are plenty of people around Maplesville with money, who would be only too glad to make donations for such [illegible] itself could [illegible] school grow. [illegible] aid the [illegible]

On the card was a list of songs to sing while motoring and they seem most appropriate to list here now that July 4th is upon us and hundreds will probably lose their lives in accidents over the holidays:

At 55—"I'm But A Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home."

At 65—"Nearer My God To Thee."

At 75—"When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 85—"Lord, I'm Coming Home."

So please drive careful and soberly.

Potts' Sundries has been opened one year this week. In that time they have put forth every effort to meet the public demand for a place of comfortable and courteous service. However, were I Walter Winchell I'd give orchids but as I'm Willard Hayes I can only say it is a fine thing to see a business that's friends—and especially in Maplesville—extend to him such heart-felt congratulations as expressed in the courtesy advertisement in today's edition. The ad was based on a desire expressed by Frank Brown and Perry Riffe to do something for their business colleague.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hayes have been motoring to Macedonia quite often to be with Miss Mariah Freeman while Mr. Hoyt Freeman is on his vacation. According to Mr. N. W. Latham these trips to the northern part of Chilton County is causing quite a change in Mr. Hayes' dialect. Seems he is now saying "Coo" for "Cow."

When I mentioned the above to Mr. Wheeler Walker, he said, "That's true and did you know Mr. Hayes thinks the Mason-Dixon Line is a railroad. Only a few weeks ago, I heard him say that for all the years he's been living in Maplesville, he has yet to see a boxcar with the Mason-Dixon Line insigna on its side.

Whenever men hold public office they may as well expect some criticism—both good and bad. The following is neither; just a suggestion.

To the city council of Maplesville, why don't you pass a town ordinance requiring all the local dogs to be vaccinated for rabies and require each to wear a dog tag showing the same! There were a number of mad dogs in town earlier in the year resulting in some of the local citizens being bitten. It's not funny, and it's not a thing to put off until another is bitten.

While passing ordinances, why not name the streets in this town! Strange that there are no Maplesville girls entered in the Peach Festival Contest of July 7th. Strange because there are so many beautiful young girls here, who would have such an easy task of winning that beauty contest.

Miss Tommy Jo Perry, a beauty herself, asked me what I thought of the beauty of Peggy Wade, a contestant. I expressed my opinion which wouldn't be wise to add here. She informed me I was fully wrong and knowing Tommy Jo, she must be right. Our local beauty informed me that even if I didn't think much of Peggy's picture, should I meet her I couldn't help from thinking she a beauty because of her superb personality.

CHURCH NEWS

A picnic was scheduled to be held last Tuesday at the Mill Pond by members of the Young Women's Association of the Maplesville Baptist Church. It was an all-day affair (if it didn't rain) with swimming and practice by the lovely young ladies in the "gift of gab." The Y.W.A. is sponsored by the local W.M.U.

The pantry held for the Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert last Monday and sponsored by the women of the Baptist Church was a great success. Only non-perishable food items was taken to the gathering at the church and the foodstuffs collected was only a little short of a full truck load. Members of all faiths attended the gathering and it will indeed be a great surprise to the newly married couple upon their return to Maplesville some time this week end. They were married last Friday. To give an idea of its success to our readers, there was 55 pounds of sugar in the food collection said to be almost as great as that in a local grocery.

SUCCESS AS NEWSBOY LEADS TO FROBABLE TRIUMPH LATER

Harold Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Walker, reported this week that he resigned effective last Saturday as newsboy with The Birmingham News and Age-Herald. He is being succeeded by Francis Johnson, also of Maplesville.

For four years Harold held the job and prior to that the papers were distributed by his brother, Herbert, for seven years. During the total of 11 years that the two threw papers for the Birmingham concern, they collected over $17,000 for the Birmingham News Co., from Maplesville subscribers. Harold is now employed at the Stremming Veneer Co. here.

He will report this week to an Army recruiting office and try to enter the air corps as a ground crew member. If for some reason he is rejected he will report to the head personnel officer of Olan Mills Studios in Tuscaloosa for possible employment as their sales representative in the six southeastern states. As their representative he would cover the southeast by plane and auto to seek clients for that company reported as one of the largest and finest commercial photographic concerns in the nation.

Harold was a member of the 1948 graduation class at Maplesville High School and was named the outstanding athelete of that class. He holds a football scholarship with Pearl River Junior College in Mississippi if he desires to continue his education this fall. His brother is now employed with the Montgomery Police Department as a switchboard operator. He gained the job through the Disabled Veterans Administration.

LOCAL VACATIONER DEFLATES EGO OF HOTEL PROPRIETOR

Mr. and Mrs. Union Chambers and their daughter, Annie Laura, have returned from their vacation in Florida. On their way to Silver Springs, they stopped overnight in Ocala and registered at one of the swankiest tourist courts in that city. Mr. Chambers go into a conversation with the owner of the Court during which he was old that rates there had been raised to prevent "lower class of tourists" from stopping over.

Later in the conversation the proprietor asked Mr. Chambers in what business he was engaged. Mr. Chambers replied, "Well, I guess I'm one of that lower class of tourists you were speaking of. You see I'm a garbage collector!" Not knowing he was being made the sport of the winds and waves, the proprietor's ego was shaken to its foundation.

The local vacationers visited Silver Springs, saw the sights in those glass bottom boats which Mrs. Chambers say can be decribed "only by seeing," swam in the Atlantic at Daytona Beach, visited the Fountain of Youth, the Indian Bulial Grounds, and saw the oldest school and oldest resident in the nation at St. Augustine.

They saw a number of vacationers from Clanton as well as Mr. Hoyt Freeman of Macedonia, who will go from Florida to Cuba before his return home.

P. S.—Mr. Chambers says he never did go on to explain to that Floridian, who was as vain as any peacock, that he held the contract for garbage disposal and employed others to do the work, also owned and operated a local service station and that his wife was one of the finest teachers in the local elementary school.

DR. AND MRS. H. M. NIX LEAVE TODAY FOR TRIP THRU NEW ENGLAND

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nix and daughter, Mrs. Joe Macon of Wetumpka, left Maplesville today for a trip which will take them through New England, parts of Canada and many intermediate points.

Their first stop will be in Bethesda, Md., where they will remain the greater part of a week according to Dr. Nix. Their stop over at that point will give them a chance to make a complete tour of the national experimental station there. The local farming enthusiast says he expects to learn much which should aid him in his local agricultural production.

From that pont they will travel on to Niagara Falls, then to Quebec in Canada where they expect to see much of interest among the French descendents in that area, and then back through New Hampshire and Vermont to Portland, Me., where they will stay for some time. Later they will meet Mr. Macon in New York City where the two men will attend the international convention of the Lions Club. They attended the one last year in San Francisco at which 19 nations in both hemispheres sent representatives.

Mrs. Macon, who only last week opened an antique shop in Wetumpka, says she expects to see much that will help her in operating The Hobby House and will also probably make some purchases in the New England antique shops.

Dr. Nix says he will be out of his office for a month or six weeks, but that his associate, Dr. Jack Vines, will be in Maplesville at all times.

Bake meat loaf mixtures in muffin tins for attractive individual servings.

COMING AND GOING

Vacationer's back home again after trips out of the state include Jack Hampton and Marcelle Stough. Jack, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hampton, and works with his father in the local agency of Standard Oil Products, spent his vacation on a motor trip to Texas. Marcelle says among other places, she visited her sister and brother-in-law in Louisiana.

(There has been no marked increase in local supplies of kerosene since Jack's return.)

Also returning to Maplesville (there is not a single Maple tree in the town) last week was Mrs. Perry Thomas and her two sons, Fredly and Johnny. They visited her parents in Milligan, Fla., where she says all had a wonderful vacation, although it was hotter there than it has been here in Central Alabama. Strangest sight in town while they were away was Mr. Thomas peddling Freddy's bicycle back and forth to their home, which is located over graveyard hill.

In town over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Baisden and Mr. Rash Brown. Mr. Baisden was visiting his mother, Mrs. Annie Laura Potts, and spent his luck trying for fish in local streams. He is an employee of the TCI in Birmingham. Rash, visiting his parents—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brown, said he came home to seek information from Mr. Noah Latham concerning the local "Little Doty Day" celebration. He is a senior in the School of Agriculture at API, Aubrun.

Visiting his brother, Mr. Cleve Latham, was Mr. Clarence Latham and family of Virginia. Mr. Latham also lived in the Shoults Community until up in the war years and is the father of Jimmy Latham, who was on the undefeated football team as quarterback at Pearl River College in Mississippi a few years back.

Miss Virgil Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Chambers, was in Maplesville over the week end. A graduate of Maplesville High School this year, she is now employed in Birmingham. (She told me a tale which becomes more interesting after some developing, but I cannot repeat it for fear of my life.)

Others in town over the week end from Birmingham visiting relatives and friends include Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gillispie, Billy Smitherman, Clarence Allen Dennis, and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Wallace and family. Mr. Wallace was driving one of those new 1949 Fords.

Lindsey McAfee, a sergeant in the Army Air Corps and stationed at Craig Field in Selma, was at home visiting his brother, Mr. Robert McAfee, in the Shoults Community.

Mrs. V. B. McCain, wife of his honor, the mayor, spent last week with her sister in Talladega. Mr. McCain went after her Sunday. (Some of these days when his honor's wife is out of town, I think I'll drop in on him at meal time just to see if he's as good a cook as I've heard.)

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bolling, of Bay Minette, were visiting their parents over the week end. Mr. Bolling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Bolling of Cox's Station and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Perry of Maplesville.

The sister of Mrs. J. P. Thomas, Mrs. Del Ray MacSmith, from Georgia were in Maplesville last week end for a few days visit. With Mrs. MacSmith was her husband and daughter.

LOCAL POLICE ARREST TWO OVER WEEK END

Two negroes were arrested over last week end according to Police Chief "Buddy" Ellison. One was taken into custody for driving without driver's license and the other for public drunkenness. Both were fined plus costs in Wayor V. B. McCain's court.

LOCAL POST OFFICE INSTALLS NEW BOXES

Maplesville is growing and no doubt of it. Early this week, 72 additional boxes were installed at the post office for convenience of Maplesville residents according to Mrs. Stanley Hayes, postmistress. This is the second time since the beginning of the war that additional boxes have been installed to meet the demand of the local public.

Second Annual Peach Festival Ontlined By Chairman McDow

Jimmy McDow, Chairman of the Peach Festival Parade, has let very little grass grow under his feet since he was assigned the job of arranging the parade.

According to Jimmy, the parade will have a minimum of twelve floats. Highlighting the parade will of course be the queen's float on which her ladyship, the queen, will pass in review. The queen's float will be the largest and most colorful of the floats and her majesty will be enthroned in the cavity of an immense peach half.

Another float that promises to be very striking is the religious float This float will portray Chilton County's foundation—man's devotion to a higher being and will supply the needed touch to the event.

Thorsby Business Men's anniversary float will command attention. It wil consist of a large anniversary cake on which there will be two candles.

The Clanton Kiwanis' float will proclaim the quality of Chilton County peaches and will carry a large emblem of the Kiwanis International.

Chilton County's float wil be a novel arrangement in which the advancement of peach industry will be played up as an end toward prosperity. This float will consist of "The Horn of Plenty" filled with peaches.

The wholesale and retail gas dealer's float will be a worthy rival for attention. This float will carry the wheel of progress, implying that Chilton County will go forward with the peach industry.

Another very attractive float will be sponsored by the Clanton Chamber of Commerce. On this float there will be large white pillars. Streamers from the pillars will be anchored by peaches. It seems this float carries the thought that peaches are the pillar supporting Chilon County and her agriculture.

The floats mentioned above, are, according to Jimmy, completed or near completion and will be only part of the number that will be used in the parade.

It looks as if Chilton County's Peach Festival, with all its trimmings, will be Chilton County's most colorful and impression event of the year.

POULTRY AND EGG OUTLOOK IMPROVED

A glance into the future reveals that poultrymen may be able to buy feed at reduced prices.

Another prediction by John Ivey. API extension poultryman, is that egg production will be 5 per cent under a year earlier during the last half of this year. However, more eggs will be in storage than a year earlier. Also, broiler marketing during the next 2 or 3 months is expected to be 10 per cent above last year. Prices may decline moderately before the end of teh third quarter.

REDUCE SPROUTING WITH 2,4-D

Sprouting may be greatly reduced when 2,4-D in kerosene is sprayed on hardwood stumps of trees and bushes. It will kill young sprouts of a number of hardwoods. Many successful experiments prove that 2,4-D is worth trying on a small scale.

MIDSUMMER SWEET POTATOES

The crop of sweet potatoes set from plants should be dug and disposed of in midsummer. They usually bring a good price then, and, if left in the ground until fall, they will be too big and rough. No potatoes from this crop should be stored

We will begin a new quarter in our Sunday School studies next Sunday. It will also be the last quarter in this associational year. So let's make it the best in attendance and in studies of this year.

Our superintendent and teachers are faithful, and we, as pupils, should be just as faithful each Sunday.

Our preaching days are every second and fourth Sundays and we cordially invite everyone who can and will to come. Also every Sunday at ten o'clock for Sunday School.

The Chilton County Thursday night singing will be held here Thursday night, July 1st.

A cordial invitation from Highland Church is extended to all quartets, singers and lovers of music.—Reporter.

Modernistic Folks Aid Lonely Hermit

AKRON, O.—Although Elias Swarthouth, the hermit of Northampton township, north of here, is against most modern conveniences, including electric razors, safety razors, straight razors and shears, it was the modern generation that came to his aid when his home blew over.

The 86-year-old recluse lived most of his life in Northampton township, and 50 years in nearly the same location.

He did not live in exactly the same spot because once his home was burned out and he moved to the barn, which recently was tossed around somewhat by a big wind.

The ancient barn was lifted from its foundation and tilted to a 45-degree angle with the aged man trapped inside.

When the barn rolled back, his coal stove, a quantity of canned goods, his bed and a half dozen pet cats joined Swarthouth in the corner.

Everything, Swarthouth included, stayed there several hours until the Northampton volunteer fire department came to his rescue with an ax and chopped open the door. He was unhurt.

Township residents tried to put the barn back onto the foundation.

The big blow, however, was too gusty and the volunteers decided to tear down the structure and use the lumber to build a small house.

Swarthouth, half a century ago, was the champion hay pitcher of the county, despite an injury that made his arms stiff.

Just before the turn of the century, Swarthouth nursed a distant relative through a dangerous illness and out of gratitude the relative told Swarthouth he could live in the relative's home rent free the rest of his life.

Doctor Calls Shoe Box Baby's Ride a Miracle

PORTLAND, ME.—The amazing survival of a one-pound, fifteen-ounce boy, who was carried in a shoe box during a hectic twenty-two mile automobile ride from a Cornish logging camp, was described as a near-miracle by the physician who delivered him.

Dr. Anthony Dibiaso of Cornish, who said the boy was a six and one-half-month premature child, declared:

"The chances for a live birth in such an instance are one in 100,000. The fact that the baby lived through that trip is truly remarkable."

Argentine Horse Breeders Test Steeds for Endurance

BUENOS AIRES—Argentine army and horse breeders are completing arrangements for a 1,200-mile endurance test to determine the best type of saddle horse for the range rider and the soldier.

A contest is being organized on entirely new lines and will be open to all breeds.

It will be distinct from the bygone 24-hour race, which saw many of the animals die during the gruelling test, and the 1,000-mile race between criollos and range bred descendants of thoroughbreds.

The last race of the latter type was abandoned when one of the competing animals met with an accident.

Under the new rules, all competitors are subject to identical conditions. Ten geldings of each competing breed are to be ridden simultaneously over a route selected by Argentine army officers.

Each animal will carry 250 pounds. All will be fed and treated alike throughout the test, and all must be exercised and fed alike for one month prior to the event.

Farmer Constructs Home for $1,000 Plus Own Labor

TUSKEGEE, ALA.—A farmer near here who started with $250 cash, a $750 loan, and a willingness to work has swapped his shabby home for a two bedroom bungalow as trim as a city dwelling.

He built it himself in the first application of Tuskegee institute's "low cash cost home" program, an experiment made possible by plentiful native materials and the free labor of relatives and friends. Institute President F. D. Patterson, who conceived it, says the project can go a long way toward ridding the south of the poverty-born shacks prevalent in rural areas.

Patterson says the plan's main feature is the low cash investment —a boon to small income rural families. Use of native materials is the secret. Patterson says the same house in town would cost $5,000.

Creek Supplies Materials

Farmer Rush York, supervised by institute officials, built his concrete block home with sand, rock, and gravel from a creek bed. Homemade wooden forms were used to fashion the building blocks.

His wife and high school daughter helped, as did students from the college. York and his family were chosen for the experiment because they had won respect in the community and had saved $250 out of their meager farm income for a new home. York always had lived in a decaying, unpainted cabin.

Patterson, thinking of the York cabin and thousands like it in the south, had figured clean, weather-proof, four-room houses could be built for $1,000 each. He was right so far as York's house itself went. However, plumbing and toilet facilities ran the cost to $1,300, but the college paid the difference.

Job Done in 10 Months

York started work on the place a year ago—digging, pouring concrete, hauling lumber in the hours when he was not farming. After 10 months the fireproof dwelling was ready.

The concrete block home is little different from those in middle class residential districts in any Southern city. It is furnished comfortably and is equipped with electricity and running water, power-pumped from a well.

York's expenses went mostly for cement, roofing, wiring, doors and windows. The floors are concrete.

The idea seems to be catching on among York's neighbors. One land owner, E. R. Alexander, has offered free sand and gravel to anyone who wants to try it.

"Lettuce Box" Furnishes Needy Students With Spending Money

COLUMBUS.—"The Lettuce Box" sprouts the long green for hard-pressed Ohio State University students.

In the entrance of Hennick's restaurant, across from the campus gates, hangs a glass paneled frame marked "The Lettuce Box." In it are perhaps a dozen five-dollar bills, each suspended by a metal clip.

When a student finds himself temporarily "embarrassed," he informs the restaurant cashier.

After identifying himself as an OSU student in good standing, he fills out a card—name on one side, date he'll return the five-spot on the other. And with that he becomes solvent again.

A bill is taken from the case and in its place goes the card, date side out. After a maximum of five days the student returns the money and the card goes back to the files.

Should he fail to make payment as due, the card is reversed so his name is "posted" as delinquent in the case.

"The plan has been in operation for several months, and to date we've had no trouble with anyone defaulting on payment," says W. T. Parker, the restaurant owner and proprietor, who developed the idea.

Man Reads Book Upside Down To Improve Failing Eyesight

MILWAUKEE.—A man observed reading a book upside down in a restaurant explained everything.

Several years ago when his eyesight was failing, his doctor suggested exercising his eyes by holding reading matter upside down. It helped. His sight has returned to normal.

But the habit remained. The man says he reads faster that way.

Bus Driver Loses Patience With Passengers' Pranks

ATLANTA.—For F. B. McKinney, a school bus driver, the firecracker was the final straw.

He didn't become too angry when his passengers let the air out of the tires and kicked in a few windows. But exploding a firecracker under his seat was too much.

The next morning the startled students found themselves abruptly in front of police headquarters and four detectives climbing aboard. The subdued students rode peacefully to O'Keefe high school here under the stern eye of the detectives.

At school all 58 were given tardy slips for being late.

Friday Night Fights Draw Large Crowds

The every other Friday night fights at the High School athletic field are drawing big crowds and those attending are getting their money's worth. The past week Edward Mims knocked out Carrell Mullins in the second round of a scheduled three-round bout. Rumor has it that we might see them again soon in a return match. If so, the bout should again show plenty of action.

On July 30th a ten-round match between Bill Irby of Sylacauga and Fred Bolton of Clanton will headline the bill.

One of the most popular fights each week is the battle royal between the colored gentry. This melee always creates lots of fun and excitement. Promoter Bill Brahner (former heavyweight champ of the Southeast), has worked up a great deal of interest in the weekly fights and the local fight fans are showing their appreciation by backing him.

THE THURSDAY NIGHT SINGING

The regular Thursday night singing of Chilton County was held last week at Highland Missionary Baptist Church. The attendance was very good, and the singing was excellent. Everybody present seemed to be in a singing spirit. Marion W. Easterling was Chairman, and opened the program by singing that old camp meeting song, "When We All Get To Heaven." As Highland Church is so named for its elevation, the singing must have sounded far away in the lowlands below.

O. L. Devaughn, Hiram Littlejohn and Ed Langston were appointed to serve as Program Committee. The directors chosen for the program are as follows: Woodow Deason, L. T. Grant, Chester Wyatt, Marvin Lowery, Fonzie Coe, Russell Bean, Mrs. Irene Mims, Miss Marie Robinson, Ed Langston, Clem Billingsley, Hiram Littlejohn, O. L. Devaughn, Mose Robinson and Mrs. A. T. Hickman rendered a piano solo.

Chilton County High School Offers Another Community Service

The Chilon County High School Agricultural Department offers another community service in its modern cresote plant.

Farmers and others using post and lumber will find that this cresote treatment will greatly increase the life of the material.

In order that Chilton County might receive the fullest benefit of this plant the department is opening the plant next Monday, July 12, 1948, to farmers and all others who have post, building material and etc., that should be cresoted.

This plant is equipped to treat material up to thirty feet in length. It is equipped with a machine for removing the bark from the pine post. The cost of treating post averaging four inches in diameter and seven feet in length is 25c and three cents per post for removing the bark. Other material such as sills and joist can be treated for thirty dollars per thousand.

It is recommended that post be cut and the bark removed four to six weeks before treating. This drying out allows better penitration of the cresote and increases the life of the wood.

Now is he time for Chilton County's people to take advantage of this plant and decrease to a minimum the damage done each year by termites (white ants), other insects and wood rotting fungi.

Don't forget July 12, 1948, is opening date for the cresote plant and every one having material to be treated should bring it to the plant located on the Chilton County High School campus.—W. A. LeCroy, Voc. Ag. Teacher.

Series Of Bible Lessons At Church Of Christ

Beginning on July 11 there will begin a series of Bible lessons at the Church of Christ in Clanton. (See notice of same in this issue of this paper). Since those who identify themselves with this church are often misunderstood, ridiculed, and looked upon and even spoken of as dangerous in their teachings, it, we feel, no less than a duty to make an effort to offset such misrepresentations. This, in an effort, is done in deepest meekness and respect for any person's religious affiliations and convictions. No person has a just and honest right to pass upon any matter and most especially matters of religion, until he or she knows thoroughly whereof he or she speaks. Humanity as a whole is fallible, if you want to get a correct understanding of any matter, it is never wise to listen to those who begin with such remarks as "They say, or they tell me."

During this meeting in Clanton the people of the surrounding vicinity will have an opportunity to learn just exactly what the church of Christ is, its foundation, its doctrines, and its practices in matters of religion. This, to all who conscientiously desire to know The Truth, will do.

The Church of Christ in this territory has been looked upon as "narrow", and just a fragment of a lost cause. Nothing could be further from the truth. To give those who chance to read this an idea of the strength of the church, we give here a few statements which will show it is not a lost cause. The Church of Christ occupies sixth place among the religious bodies of civilization; in the United State over fifteen thousand churches and over nine thousand strong competent preachers. The church is splendidly equipped in missionary organizations; our American Christian Missionary Society and the church Extension Society, Ministerial Relief and other benevolent organizations both in U. S. and abroad. Today the church has nearly fifty colleges in the United States. The church has a good representation in some of the chairs of some of the best universities of our nation. Evangelists are sounding out the gospel in all parts of the country an deach week shows thousands of conversions.

"Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my pathway." The word is what we depend upon, what we teach and its precepts we try to follow. We ask no one to join our church; we have no church as an individual organization. We simply invite investigation and then upon convictions meet us in Christ. This is an age and time when people need to read and study the Word of Truth as never before. Many people read about the Bible and hear about the Bible and then neglect the Bible.

SEAL LUMBER COMPANY DEFEATS CLANTON 7-4

Seal Lumber Company defeated Clanton in the first game of their July Fourth celebration doubleheader by the score of 7-4. Watkins pitched six hit ball for Clanton, but errors and three home runs defeated Clanton in this contest. Brunson for Seal Lumber Company allowed Clanton nine hits, but kept them well scattered in taking credit for the win.

The big guns for Seal Lumber Company were Rigdon, their short stop, who had three for four trips at the plate, and two of the three hits being home runs wih some one on base each time. Raines, the catcher, also got a home run, this being his only hit of the ball game.

MARVEL TAKES SECOND GAME 7-3

Blackerby of Marvel kept eight hits scattered to defeat Clanton Sunday afternoon 7-3, making it a clean sweep of the series defeating Clanton in the first game 13-8. Bolton for Clanton pitched the full game giving up 11 hits with seven runs and walking three. Clanton showed more strength on the field while their hitting was way off in the game. Clint Jones, Dock Baker and Popwell provided most of the hits for Clanton, each getting two for four in the game. Busby for Marvel got four for five trips to the plate, leading the way for Marvel.

Clanton made three mistakes in fielding while Marvel had only two errors charged against them. The final score again was 7-3 in favor of Marvel.

HURRY BACK

To all you hundreds of visitors who visited us this week to help us celebrate our Second Annual Peach Festival, let us say we're glad you came and hurry back.

It wouldn't be a successful Peach Festival if we couldn't share it with our friends and have the honor of playing host to so many wonderful people.

In order this week is a rising vote of thanks and congratulations to the Chilton County businessmen and peach growers of the various committees who worked so untiring to make this Festival the big success that it was.

We're sure Chilton County is proud of them.

NO RIGHTS FOR ANYBODY

An organization has been formed to persuade Negro men to go to prison rather than to obey the draft law passed by Congress.

The opposition is based on the failure of Congress to eliminate all segregation in the armed forces and the proponents of the movement say that unless President Truman issues an order prohibiting segregation, that young men of draft will be urged to join in a civil disobedience movement.

We doubt whether the movement gets very far. Certainly there could be nothing more foolish than for young Negro men to refuse to register because they do not agree with all the laws passed by Congress. They could only hurt their cause by attempting such a thing. Too, if every citizen took this view upon all public questions, and reserved the right to determine the laws to obey, there would be no government and there would be no rights for anybody.

FOR SAFETY IN BOATS

The summer season offers opportunities for water sports and millions of people find enjoyment in boating, fishing and swimming.

The newspapers constantly relate accidental deaths of individuals who lose their lives through mishaps in the water. Maybe, a small boat is taken out too far and runs into rough water. Possibly, a swimmer attempts too much and others naturally accept the perils of boating.

It might be a good idea for those who use boats on the [illegible] to [illegible] the Safety Council's boat rules. For the [illegible] of those concerned, we call attention to them.

After you have made sure your craft is safe, don't overload it.

Row boats, canoes, outboards and other small craft should avoid rough water and the wash of larger vessels.

Always carry a flashlight — emergencies are usually unexpected.

If your boat capsizes, it is usually wiser to cling to it until distance.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Our deepest sympathy to Guy Higgins in the death of his lovely young wife who died last week. Also to Bill Stanley and his family who lost their father and husband the past week. For Mrs. Higgins we wonder that one so young, with so much of life to look forward to, should die. But, the Lord works in mysterious ways.

Mrs. Glennie Evans, one of the oldest members of the Clanton Methodist Church, died early Monday morning. She was truly a Christian lady and we mourn with Robert, Julian and the other children in the loss of their mother. Russell and M. C. Sutley's mother also died last week end. She was a long-time resident of Jemison and had been an invalid for many years.

A pompous stranger stomped into the office the other day and demanded to see the manager. The young lady told him that the boss was out and asked him if there was anything that she could do. "No," stated the stranger, "I never deal with anyone but the boss. I'll wait until he comes in." Well the secretary told him to have a seat and to be comfortable. About an hour later the man become impatient and asked: "How much longer do you think the manager will be out?" "Oh, about a week," was the calm reply. "He's gone on his vacation."

We learned from Sunday's Birmingham News that our good friend Irvin Lande is going to get married. We cannot say whether or not Irvin is a lucky boy because we do not know the young lady of his choice, but we can say that she is a mighty lucky young lady because Irvin Lande is a might fine young man and we wish for the two of them all the happiness that it is their right to possess.

* * *

Clanton folks sure do get around. This week we see the picture of Miss Suan Powers and Mr. Patterson Hicks in the Alabama Power Magazine, "Powergrams." Mr. Hicks is presenting Miss Powers her diploma. In a booklet published by the Department of Agriculture and Industries and mailed out this week is a picture of Mr. Cohen Stapp who is a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

Received the July 2nd issue of the News-Herald today. In case you didn't know, the News-Herald is published at Morganton, N. C. Our old friend, Billy Smith, is Editor and we believe he gets better as the years go by. Billy returned to his first love, the newspaper, several months ago and we know he is happier back in harness. How he ever got mixed up in automobiles we'll never know.

The "boys" got out the paper for us last week while we rested on the warm sands of the Gulf of Mexico. It was a wonderful vacation and sure we wish all of you guys could have a bunch of fellows like Calvin Robinson, "Jack" Jones, Roland Ellison and Mary Evelyn Vines to pinch-hit for you while you took a few days away to relax. The only trouble is when you get back and find that things went just as well without you as they did with you, well, that's frightening.

Saw a truck load of peaches parked on the side of the highway several hundred miles south of Clanton and stopped to talk peaches with the driver of the truck. He said yes, they were Chilton County peaches to our inquiry. That is something you peach growers should look into. It was the poorest advertisement for Chilton County peaches that one could imagine. The peaches were small, badly bruised, tasteless and in every way a bad advertisement. Truly we do not believe the things had ever seen Chilton County. There ought to be some way to mark our fruit so other couldn't capitalize on our good name as fruit growers.

* * *

Mr. Ransom at Southern Seed and Plant Store has another mighty pretty window display this week. It's made of white corn, English peas and beet seed. Now we know that doesn't sound very exciting but you should see what he has done with a few seed. It's publicizing the Peach Festival, of course, and very appropriate and very well done.

* * *

The Bag Gab says that a bad habit is like a soft bed—easy to get into but hard to get out of.

* * *

Guess you heard about the voter telling the candidate the other day that he wouldn't vote for him if he was Saint Peter. To which the candidate answered: "If I was St. Peter, you couldn't vote for me. You wouldn't live in my district."

* * *

Clanton is really decorated up for Peach Festival week. The carnival spirit is in the air and no matter what your age, when that spirit hits you, you gotta let off some steam. Of course things are slowing up now but future Peach Festivals will have to go some to surpass the one we had this week.

Patrol Urges Training Of Young Drivers

Sgt. Charles O'Gwynn, Safety Education Officer, Department of Public Safety, said last week "that if we are to ever find a solution to our highway safety problems, we must go back to the school rooms for an answer."

O'Gwynn said that, according to figures compiled by the patrol and local authorities, the so-called "experienced drivers" are the ones that become involved in the majority of traffic mishaps today.

Out of 7,506 drivers reported in traffic mishaps during 1947, figures show that 3,468 had had 11 or more years of driving experience; 1,806 had had from six to 10, and 1,497 had had from 1 to 5 years behind the steering wheel.

"These statistics," O'Gwynn said, "make it pretty evident that yesterday's lessons are not good enough to afford safety in today's traffic."

O'Gwynn added that commercial operators have shown that the trained driver has fewer accidents. "Surveys made in Cleveland, Ohio, show that drivers who complete the driver training course in that city have reduced their chances of becoming involved in an accident by 50 per cent."

"Here in Alabama proper fundamentals of safe driving such as proper hand signals are a complete mystery to the average driver."

Emphasizing the definite need for training Alabama's new drivers, O'Gwynn urged that "Teach them—drive and live" be our motto for the coming generation.

Just what IS ELECTRIC SERVICE?

A BRIEF but incomplete answer would be "electricity in use." But electric service is much more than that.

It's power plants and electric lines and substations of course. BUT . .

. . . they are merely the physical means by which power is generated and delivered. For electricity to become dependable electric service, there must be an organization of men and women with a multitude of skills. Therefore, electric service is . . .

the engineers, and the draftsmen who convert their plans and calculations to drawings

It is the construction crews who build the plants and lines and substations.

Electric service is the men in generating plants who keep them running.

It is the dispatchers who give orders for the generation and delivery of power

It is the troublemen who go out in all kinds of weather to repair damage from storms and other causes.

It is the accountants and their staffs who keep the many necessary records.

It is the serviceman, ever ready to keep electrical equipment in good working order.

It's the home service representative who calls at your home to acquaint you with the operation of your electric appliances and tells you how to use your electric lights most efficiently.

It's the power engineer who tells industrial users about the most efficient use of electric power.

Electric service is the coal miners who produce approximately three-quarters of a million tons of coal used annually to generate electricity in Alabama Power Company steam electric plants.

It's storekeepers who try to keep on hand the thousands of different items of hardware and supplies needed to supply electric service

It's men in repair and machine shops, skilled in the special art of mechanics.

It's safety men, to help employees avoid being injured in the course of their work.

It's rural service engineers who show how electricity may be used to increase farm profits through the use of electricity.

It's supervisors and executives who co-ordinate all of these many things into electric service among the best in the nation.

IN SHORT—
Electric Service is electricity PLUS an organization of skilled men and women doing the many things necessary for electricity to be converted into electric service.

Thorsby News

(By MISS C. N. TURNQUIST — Correspondent)

Thorsby Institute News—

Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Hart are attending the Ministerial Conference of the Congregational Christian Churches held at Wadley July 4-11. They will visit in Atlanta and Demorest, Ga., during their vacation.

The Parents' Magazine, which is widely known, has the following in reference to private schools.

Boarding schools offer opportunities for an enriched program of assemblies, song fests, supervised athletics for everyone, study supervision and help, etc. Even the meals, with faculty and students eating together, help discussion and understanding between faculty and students. Each student is accepted on his own merits regardless of parental or financial status because adolescents judge people for what they are and not for what they have.

Most boarding schools have small classes and intimate, friendly council with the teachers; they insist that the work be done before privileges are graned. There is a proper balance between work and play. The curriculum is used to arouse new interest and present new challenges, to prepare the student to do well the things they are required to do, and at the same time develops in them the capacity to face new situations. This all means the growth of well-adjusted personalities.

The need for such personalities is emphasized in a survey made by Dr. T. R. Mann of the Carnegie Foundation, who received from successful engineers 1,500 replies to the question: "What are the essential qualities of the successful engineer?" He was astounded to find that even in so highly technical a subject only 13 percent of these successful engineers felt that technical knowledge was the important quality contributing to their success: 41 percent said character; 17 percent judgment; 16 percent said efficiency; 14 said understanding human nature; and 13 percent said technical knowledge.

LOWE - CLAYTON VOWS READ

Dignity and simplicity marked the marriage of Miss Eva Berneice Lowe to Mr. Norman Dale Clayton which took place in the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben W. Lowe in Clanton on Wednesday afternoon, June 30th, at three o'clock.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and close friends by Reverend Roswell W. Owens before an improvised altar of southern smilax, ferns, and potted plants. White tapers in candelabra were placed at either side and were lighted by the bride's sister, Miss Evelyn Lowe, just prior to the ceremony. There were no attendants and the bride and the groom entered together.

A pre-nuptial musical program was rendered preceding the ceremony. Miss Mary Clyde Mims sang, "Because" and "Indian Love Call," accompanied by her sister, Miss Dorothy Mims. Following this Miss Mims played "Evening Star," and then the Lohengrin Wedding March for the entrance of the bride and groom. During the ceremony Debusy's "Calare De Lune was softly played.

Mrs. Clayton attended local schools in Clanton and went on to the University of Alabama where she graduated in 1945. While there she majored in [illegible]logy and was initiated in to Phi Beta Kappa, National Honorary Fraternity. She recently re- [illegible] Master's [illegible]

The bride and groom left immediately for a wedding trip through the Pacific Northwest via Yellowstone Park after which they will be at home at 3140 Second Avenue in Sacramento, Calif.

U.S. ARMY OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL

NOW OPEN TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

THIS is important news to every young man from 20½ to 28 who has graduated from high school or who can pass equivalent education examinations. Under a new ruling, you may now enlist in the U. S. Army for the specific purpose of attending Officer Candidate School, provided the quotas are not filled.

You must be a citizen of the United States, and a man of high moral character, able to meet the necessary physical requirements.

To take advantage of this unusual privilege, you may submit your application to the Commanding General of the Army area in which you live. If you are selected, you will be enlisted in the Army as Staff Sergeant. If you have not had basic training or its equivalent, you will be given this training before entering Officer Candidate School.

If you are a successful candidate, you will be commissioned as Second Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps and placed on active duty for two years, during which time you may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Should you fail to complete the course successfully, you will be released from the Army.

The opportunity to qualify for Officer Candidate School is, and has been, open to men in the Army. But never before during peacetime has such a remarkable opportunity to become a commissioned officer been open to civilian high school graduates. Get all the facts about it today at your U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

OUR SHOCCO SPRINGS

I would like to say a few things in regard to Shocco Springs. It was the privilege of my wife and I to go with some young folks from the Stanton Baptist Church. This was the second week of the encampment there which was from the 20th to the 25th of June. There was 450 people there that week and the Christian atmosphere and fellowship was the best that I had ever experienced in a gathering of that sort for the study of God's' Word and the needs of our Baptist denomination.

The "Morning Watch" service each morning at 7 o'clock held at the Amphi Theatre, a place fixed out in the open for the purpose of such services on a hillside, where nature was at its best and as the early morning sun was coming up over the hills. This service to me was deeply spiritual each morning as Bro. Hart brought the message. Then we had breakfast at 7:30 and after breakfast to our different classes for study until we met together in the assembly hall a 11:30 for the message of the day by a different speaker each day. Lunch at 12:30 and then the afternoons were given over for recreation.

There was a swimming pool, but no mixed bathing was allowed; the girls and women had a certain hour, and the men and boys had a certain time. Life guards were handy at all times for the safety of all. Then there was soft ball games, tennis, golf and horseshoe games, whatever you wished to do. Some of our most prominent preachers were there as teachers. Namely: Dr. A. H. Reid, Dr. L. E. Barton, Dr. Chester Swor, Rev. J. O. Colley, Rev. Titus Aldridge and other preachers and lay member workers.

Yes, Shocco Springs is ours now, as Alabama Baptists, it was once known as a very rough gathering place. Now, since we have purchased the grounds, the devil has been rooted out and it is being used for the glory of God in the better training of both old and young Christians. We have a Ridgecrest here in our own state, and we predict that in a couple of years when more improvements can be made it will be one of the best encampments for Baptists of Alabama.

I am glad of having had the chance of spending a week at Shocco Springs. My wife and the young people who went with us feel the same as I do for we came from there with a new vision and a greater zeal to carry on for God.

Churches, send your pastor and your young people to Shocco Springs, it is a good investment for any church, for oh, how we do need better trained workers in every phase of our church work.

Let's pray for those in charge of the management of Shocco Springs, their duties and responsibilities are great; and that the Master may use it in a great way in the on-going of His Kingdom work.—Rev. E. C. Hand, Pastor of Stanton and Macedonia Baptist Churches.

More Women Attempt Suicide Than Men, Survey Reveals

EVANSTON, ILL. — More men than women succeed in committing suicide, a survey of 500 suicidal attempts shows. But there usually are more attempts, both the hysterical and fake kinds, among women, the survey report adds.

The study was made by Dr. Alex J. Arieff, of Northwestern university medical school, and Dr. David P. Rotman, director of the Psychiatric Institute of the Municipal Court of Chicago.

In cases in the age group under 20, 52 per cent of the attempts were hysterical or fake. In the 20-to-30 age group, 48 per cent were fake, while in the 50-to-70 age group, only one per cent were fake attempts.

Injured in Automobile Crash, Girl Marries Beau in Hospital

ELKTON, MD. — An automobile accident delayed her wedding, but 16-year-old Floy Bingeman wouldn't let it stop her. She was married while in a hospital bed.

The girl was hurt when the car in which she was returning home to Manheim, Pa., collided with a truck. She and John Fansler, 21, had just obtained a wedding license.

Floy suffered a broken collarbone and her mother, Mrs. Eva Bingeman, a broken jaw in the accident. They are in neighboring beds in the Union hospital.

That's where the wedding took place.

WILLARD HAYES, Editor

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

Last week we wrote of the need in Maplesville of a fence around the school gridiron and baseball field. Some interest was aroused and several local business men favor building such a fence and selling ads on it to aid with financing such a project. Such ideas are with sound judgement but the fence is needed by the first of September and not when school is over next spring.

Seems I was in error in last week's edition on the subject of maple trees in Maplesville. Mrs. Kelley tells me there is one on the lawn at Mr. Ed Clapp's residence and another between her house and Mr. Stough's.

We were very sorry to hear that Mr. Robert Latham, a local employer of a logging gang, has broken his leg and having to spend this hot weather in a plaster cast.

A local tax which will go into effect on August 1 should change a lot of cigarette smokers into pipe and cigar smokers. The tax will add two cents to the purchaser's cost of each package of cigarettes. An average smoker will use a pack every day and his annual tax alone will amount to $7.30. Being a pipe smoker myself, that tax will provide me with pipe tobacco for about five months. . .So you think I don't smoke much! Well, some people are beginning to worry as to whether I sleep with a pipe in my mouth according to certain reports I've picked up..

MEETING HELD TO CONSIDER NEED OF LOCAL CIVITANS

A meeting was held Tuesday night of last week in the Stremming Company recreation hall at which representatives of Civitan clubs in Selma, Montgomery and Birmingham were the chief speakers. Purpose of the meeting was to learn if local citizens were interested in organization of a local Civitan Club.

Guest speakers were Mr. Dick Hicks, Fairfield, state governor of the clubs; Mr. Jabo Wagner, Ensley, past state governor; Joe Maggio, Montgomery, lt. governor; Earl Goodwin, president of the Selma Club, and Dr. Charles Dunn of the Selma club. It is Mr. Goodwin and other members of the Selma club, who are seeking to open a Civitan unit in Maplesville.

No definite decision was reached by local citizens present. Mr. Abney Brown was elected chairman and Mr. Joe Graham was elected secretary of a temporary ommittee that will make a study to see if enough local men would be interested in such a civic organization.

On the night of July 15, the Selma Civitan Club will play hosts at a watermelon cutting at the old Crumpton residence. At that ime Mr. Brown's commitee will give their decision as to whether the interest in civic affairs locally is great enough to warrant a club here.

LATHAMS ENTERTAIN GUESTS WITH GAY BAR-B-Q FESTIVITY

There were nearly 100 guests present at the bar-b-que given last Monday: July 5, by Mr. and Mrs. N. W. [illegible]am at their home just east of Ma[illegible] The guests included many [illegible] residents and friends of [illegible] and hostess from all over [illegible]

Dinner was served in the patio at the side of Mr. Latham's beautiful and unique styled home. The menu included bar-b-qued lamb, pork and chicken, brunswick stew, salad and other items too numerous to list.

Mr. Latham, owner of the vast acreage of Latham's Stock Farm here and of the Latham Tire Exchange in Birmingham, and his wife are such fine host and hostess that we are unable to describe their hospitality. However, Francis Bacon once wrote words which are nearly fine enough for a word picture of their conviviality.

He wrote, "If a man be gracious to strangers, it shows that he is a citizen of the world, and his heart is no island cut off from other islands, but a continent that joins them."

IT'S A BOY AT DAY-DAVIS CLINIC

An eight-pound and 12-ounce baby boy was born late Sunday afternoon at the Day-Davis Clinic to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lawrence, who live just out of Maplesville on the Selma highway. The child had not been named when the paper went to press.

COMING AND GOING

S-Sgt. and Mrs. Phillip Hicks and son, Phillip (Corky) Jr., of Selma, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Willie Hicks Hathcock. Sgt. Hicks spent six years in the Navy during the war and after getting his discharge enlisted in the Army Air Corps. He is now stationed at Craig Field. Mrs. Hicks is the former Miss Frances McNeil, Wildwood, N. J.

Birmingham guests visiting relatives and friends in Maplesville over the July 4th week end included Mr. Billy Smitherman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie, Mr. C. B. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hayes and daughter, Martha Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smitherman (he is the son of Mr. Josh Smitherman), Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hayes, Jr., and their two daughters, Mary Virginia and Elizabeth Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Baisden.

Mr. Claud Hathcock spent last Sunday with his children in Brent at a family barbecue.

Back in town last week end was Mrs. Sam Bentley and children of Thorsby, who were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Nix.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cobern over the holiday were his brothers, Mr. Burr Cobern, of Murfreesboo, Tenn., and Mr. Jeff Cobern, of Montgomery, and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burgess, of Monroe County, were in Maplesville over the week end visiting relatives and friends. (She is the former Miss Mary Shanks).

In town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Walker, was Herbert Walker of Montgomery. (If Herbert gets much larger in stature, he will [illegible] father.)

Mrs. Van Potts left Maplesville Tuesday night and went to Birmingham where she will spend the week with her parents and brothers and sisters.

Miss Frances Reynolds spent her holidays with her mother in Plantersville. (On second thought, that's not news; it's a habit she has).

In Maplesville over the Fourth was Mrs. Irvin Perry, who was visiting her husband and mother-in-law, Mrs. Sally Perry.

CHIEF ELLISON MAKES THREE ARRESTS JULY 3

Police Chief "Buddy" Ellison reported that he made three arrests late Saturday afternoon and that night. Taken into custody was one white man for reckless driving and two negroes, one for driving with improper lights and the other for violation of the local prohibition law.

MAPLESVILLE TO HAVE SWIMMING POOL SOON

Work was started late last week on a swimming pool on property owned by Mr. Ben Glover and located just behind Clark's Ice House. The bulldozer, men and teams working on the project were under the supervision of Mr. Willard Reynolds, local lumberman and sportsman.

Water for the pool will come from the numerous natural springs which are on the site. A date for the opening of the pool has not yet been set.

Prospector Who Found Gold Mine Searches For Peace and Quiet

MINNEAPOLIS. — John Laskowsky, 59, a prospector, came here from Arizona to get away from the people who, he said, have driven him mad since he discovered a gold mine that might yield $25,000 per ton of ore.

He flew here with J. J. Bliss, a Minneapolis metal products manufacturer who took pity on Laskowsky after watching a crowd of people hound him about his gold mine.

"The poor guy was swamped by curous people all the time," Bliss said, "so he left the stake guarded by his son and a brother-in-law and came here with me."

Bliss said they were asking geologists from the University of Minneseta and the University of Colorado to go to the mine and examine it.

Laskowsky said he had been panning gold in the Wickenburg, Ariz., area for 15 years before he struck it rich. He had found small deposits often and had supported his family by panning them.

When he finally found the rich lode, Laskowsky said, he packed out $2,500 worth of ore on his back because "if anyone suspected what was going on, I might have got shot."

He showed photostats of the Wickenberg Sun which quoted an ore market owner as saying "Laskowsky's samples are the richest gold ore I've seen in almost a lifetime in the mining industry." He also had documents headed "State of Arizona Department of Resources" and "United States Mint, San Francisco" which reported that a 150 pound sampling of ore yielded $1,051.83 in gold.

"Generally, people figure that ore that pays even $25 a ton is worth mining," he said.

"I'm going back before long, but those people out there have got to let me alone. I just had to get away from them. They wouldn't let me sleep or eat or anything. They made me pan gold while they watched."

Fireman Rush to Extinguish Blaze—In Heating Stove

HARTFORD CITY, IND. — A three-year-old girl here spoiled a hot game of checkers in which Hartford City firemen were participating.

The child tried to call a cleaning company but got the fire station instead. She asked that a driver be sent to her home.

"Do you have a fire?" the fireman asked. "Yes," was the reply.

Engines roared, tires screeched and sirens whined as fire trucks drew up to the house. The little girl then explained of course they had a fire—in the heating stove.

Birth of Quintuplets in U. S. Is Possible Statistics Show

NEW YORK.—Despite the odds, some American mother most any day may have quintuplets who survive and grow.

By amazing coincidence, there have been at least three cases of quintuplets in the United States in the last 12 years. Two occurred only 20 months apart.

In each case, the quints were born prematurely and none lived more than half an hour. The chance that all five will survive is extremely thin.

What makes the births such a remarkable coincidence is that, by the rule that seems to apply to plural births, quintuplets would be expected once in about 50 million births! With the United States' birth rate around three and one-half million annually, quints would be expected, mathematically, only once in 15 years or so.

The three cases of quints so close together, doesn't mean that this rule is wrong, or that it won't happen again soon. American quints could be born tomorrow, or not for 100 years.

For the coincidence that brought so many quints in so short a time does not mean the rules were out of order. They are not expected to be applied to any one given year or even a few years. But taken over decades they are valid. Then the rates do not seem to vary much.

Survey Discloses That Glare Is No. 1 Foe of Auto Drivers

SAN FRANCISCO.—Glare is the No. 1 enemy of millions of motorists who drive at night, according to a nation-wide survey of the American Automobile association.

It characterized the existing situation in regard to automobile headlights as a "serious factor against safety, courtesy and law."

The survey showed that one-third of drivers at night either forget or refuse to dim their headlights for approaching cars.

Other findings revealed that automobile headlighting, long inadequate, has not nearly kept pace in safety and efficiency with other automobile improvements. Hazards of night driving have been increased greatly by the large number of cars with lights incorrectly adjusted or focused, or with one or more blacked out.

Taylor was given emergency treatment by Dr. Harry Oppenheim, 239 Howard street, and taken to Phaneuf hospital, Brockton.

An X-ray revealed the bullet entered the victim's right cheek, traversed his face and became embedded under the eye.

Toscanini Ignores Doctor's Orders; Conducts Symphony

NEW YORK.—Arturo Toscanini, preferring to satisfy his public rather than his worried physician, conducted a NBC symphony although he had been running a temperature of more than 100 degrees.

Toscanini, who is 81, had been advised by Dr. Hubert Howe to stay at his Riverdale home and nurse his cold.

Toscanini told the doctor that he did not want to disappoint the studio and radio audience. He did not disappoint the public. Crowds streaming out afterward were ecstatic in praise of his all-Debussy program.

Town Constable Protects Duck From Curious Boys

LODI, WIS.—Susie, a duck, is under police guard.

Village Constable Bill Breuning recently spotted a duck egg in an ornamental concrete basket on a bridge which spans Spring creek in the center of town. As he watched, a duck flew up.

Villagers became interested and named the duck "Susie." They cheered as she produced nine more eggs. Each day larger crowds gathered at the bridge. Then the residents decided to have Constable Breuning guard the nest and shoo away curious boys who might disturb it.

The constable estimated that Susie's brood will hatch in about 27 days. Engle Knerzer, a crack rifleman, has promised to take over when the ducklings arrive to guard them from turtles or snakes.

Missed by Shotgun Blast, Man Welcomes Jail Cell

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—Edward Buckner is beginning a year's stay in jail.

But Buckner is a lucky man, lucky to be in one piece even if he is in jail.

He was convicted of common assault on a woman and was granted a stay on condition he remain away from her.

He broke his promise.

And she fired a shotgun at him at close range.

She missed. But Buckner went to jail.

Candidate Files Campaign Expense Account: Ten Cents

NEILLSVILLE, WIS. — Election expense reports on file in the city clerk's office here showed that, of the 14 candidates for city offices, only Leo Foster was a spendthrift. He spent 10c.

An unsuccessful candidate for mayor, Foster slapped down a dime for two cups of coffee at the Lewerenz sweet shop. They were quaffed by Millard Cole, a mortician, and Lewis Bradbury, retired.

"That's the only campaigning I did," Foster said.

It apparently was not enough. Mayor Henry Naedler won re-election.

The other 13 candidates for mayor, supervisor, alderman, city clerk, treasurer and assesser didn't spend a cent, City Clerk John C. Brandt said.

U.S. Women Give Twin Beds the 'Cold Shoulder'

NEW YORK.—Twin beds are disappearing from the American scene because women dread a cold bed when they retire at night.

Norman S. Dine, who has helped thousands of sheep-counters with the soporific gadgets he sells at the Lewis and Conger Sleep shop, says women always have had the good sense to prefer double beds.

"During my 15 years of selling sleeping accessories and advice," he said, "they confided in me. They said they liked a double bed because sleeping beside a man was reassuring and restful."

Many dreaded a cold bed and others, Dine said, claimed it was their only chance to talk to their husbands.

"Practically all agreed it improved the chance for domestic harmony."

But, Dine said, the males couldn't see it that way. They insisted upon their privacy.

Men Are Invidualists

They argued that in a double bed they couldn't retain their individualism. And all of them, according to Dine, wanted to be able to sprawl over the entire bed.

"So even though a sampling survey showed that men could sleep sounder in a double bed," Dine recounted, "we had to resort to subterfuge to lure them into one."

The subterfuge took the form of three devices, all of which will go down in history alongside Dine's 600 other sleepy-time inventions. They were dreamed up to give the woman back her partner while letting the man retain his rights.

The first device, Dine said, is a bundle bed. This has a gadget that can be thrown down the middle of the mattress, fencing off the partners. That, he pointed out, keeps the partners from poaching on each other's territory.

The second gadget is a mattress with a hard set of coils in the center. This is to discourage either partner from rolling into the center of the bed.

The third is an electric blanket with a cold zone in the center to keep either partner from grabbing more than his half.

Gadgets Aid Sleep

Dine's unique sleep shop has some other gadgets to help you snooze. He offers a lullaphone that lulls the wide-awake person to sleep with its drowsy, steady tone; a head-warmer for bald scalps sensitive to cold and a singing pillow equipped with radio earphones.

Among the patrons of the world's only sleep shop are such notables as Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Mrs. Eugene O'Neill, Walter Winchell, Gipsy Rose Lee, Katherine Cornell, J. Edgar Hoover and Moss Hart.

"They are not incurable insomniacs," Dine said. "They've just learned they have to plan for a sleep in advance."

Nationwide Registration Of All Babies is Suggested

WASHINGTON. — A nation-wide system of assigning serial numbers to all new-born babies has been proposed with the approval of the United States public health service.

Herbert R. Dunning, administrative officer for the services national office of vital statistics, told of the system.

He said it has been recommended by state and national compilers of vital statistics to achieve uniformity in the numbering of birth certificates.

"No federal agency is committed to the use of the number," Dunning told a reporter, "but it is conceivable that any agency could make use of such a number."

Under the "birth number" a number like this would be placed on the birth record: 125-48-125000.

The "1" would stand for the United States. The other two numbers in that segment "25," would stand for the particular state, each being assigned a two-digit number. The "48" would stand for 1948.

The third segment "125000" would mean that this birth record was the 125,000th filed in the records of that particular state.

Scientists to Probe Lack of Traffic Problems Among Fish

BIMINI, BAHAMAS.—If fish were people, 300 of them could board a subway train in two minutes without bumping, shoving or rubbing elbows. How do they do it?

That is one of the fish mysteries which scientists hope to solve at the Michael-Lerner marine laboratory here which Sir Willian Murphy, governor of the Bahamas, dedicated.

The $100,000 research center, only 60 miles east of Miami, was founded by the American Museum of Natural History. Lerner, noted game fisherman and trustee of the museum, is its principal backer. Dr. C. M. Breder, Jr., of New York, is scientific director.

Philip Wylie, author and member of the advisory committee, said the ability of a large number of fish to rush through a limited space without bumping and shoving is a small part of the study to be undertaken on fish behavior.

ALABAMA HIGHLIGHTS

Colbert County was and then it wasn't. The life of the first Colbert County was the shortest of any county in the state—approximately nine months.

By taking terrtiory from Franklin County, the legislature, Feb. 6, 1867, formed Colbert, but on November 29 of the same year it was abolished by a constitutional convention, and the territory was restored to Franklin. During its next session, the Republican dominated legislature ordered all Colbert books, papers, and county funds to be turned over to the Franklin probate judge.

By order of the new legislature, which convened in 1869, a poll was taken in Franklin to determine whether a repeal of the Colbert agolition act should be repealed or not. The electorate voted for the reestablishment of the county. The following year the governor issued the proclamation which brought Colbert into existence again.

Conecuh County's name is definitely of Indian origin, but there has been some controversy as to the meaning. Some authorities hold that Conecuh means "land of cane," while others are of the opinion that it was the Redman's word for "polecat's head."

John T. Morgan and Edmund W. Pettus could hardly have paralleled their lives more closely had they been identical twins. Both were born in the early 1820's. Both were brigadier generals in the Confederate Army—appointed to that rank in 1863. Both were paroled by the Federals in May, 1865. Both made their homes in Selma after the war. Both served as United States Senators from Alabama at the same time. Prior to their entrance into public office, both had practiced law. Both died in office in the same year, 1907. The remains of both are buried in Live Oak Cemetery in Selma.

Alabama furnished the Confederacy with 38 generals during the Civil War. Of this number, eight were killed in action. None of these Alabamians fell in their home state but were killed on the battlefields of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Mississippi.

As a result of legislative action December 17, 1819, a special appropriation was made to one '[illegible] A. Rogers, for stationery and extra services, one hundred and seventy-one dollars." In addition, the legislature provided a contingent fund of $10,000, subject to the order of the governor.

Under Alabama's early prison system, the inspectors, of which there were three, and the warden were elected by a joint vote of the two legislative houses. Their terms of office were for two years, or until their successors were elected and qualified.

"Never Too Old for Church School" Says Alabama Title-holder

Forest Home, Ala.—Andrew Vander Stabler, 97 years old, the oldest Methodist Sunday school attendant to be nominated in a state-wide inquiry, is given recognition by denominational headquarters. Mr. Stabler has been a member and regular attendant of Forest Home Church and Sunday school for 41 years.

The presentation of a copy of Sallman's "Head of Christ" is made in behalf of the church's publishing house by Van Lazenby, superintendent of the church school.

Similar awards are being made in other states in connection with the May "Crusade for Christ" stress on the values and importance of adult attendance.

"Your life-long loyalty will inspire the 37,450 schools of our Church in their effort to interest older people." Mr. Stabler was told in an informal citation from the director of the department of Christian Education of Adults, Dr. M. Leo Rippy, of Nashville, Tenn.

Fire!!

The fire that ate up Jeb Crowell's cow barn Saturday is just another reminder that the best way to put out fires is before they start—by inspection for defective wiring, faulty heating units, and any other source of combustion.

That's true, not just of fires, but of everything. The brewers for instance make every effort to prevent unpleasantness or trouble within their industry—by inspecting all outlets selling beer for possible sources of dissatisfaction.

They call it Self Regulation—because when any outlet is found lacking in any respect, it's warned by the brewers to either mend its ways, or they'll call on the proper authorities for action.

From where I sit, prevention is always the best cure. And by getting after trouble before it starts, the brewers have maintained a high tradition of cleanliness, courtesy, and obedience to law among all places selling beer.

PARABLE OF THE SOWER
(The Stony Ground Hearer)

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed [illegible] on delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

Last week we considered the "Way Side Hearer," now we will consider those who receive the seed on stony places .A sower went out to sow his seed, and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it. And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture. Jesus said "They on the rock are they which when they hear, receive the Word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away." (Luke 8:13). This kind of hearer is that person who, hearing the Gospel, is effected with its beauty, and excellency, and immediately he receive it with joy. He is glad to hear what God has done to make men happy. The happy and joyful side of the Gospel appeals to him; but there is no sign that he counts the cost to be a real Christian, or a cross-bearing disciple of Christ. His growth is a forced growth, due to the shallowness of the soil. The stony ground hinders the downward growth of the Seed. So instead of developing strong roots in the soil, the growth is all in the stalk, that is, in his profession. This being the case, the plant lacks moisture, and is not able to stand the heat of the sun, and the result, it soon withers away.

This type of the hearer of the Gospel is very enthuiastic, but his joy does not come from counting the cost, but from overlooking the cost of being a real cross-bearing disciple of Jesus. This class represent those who live on their feeling, and when their feelings change, they change also. They lose their joy, their happiness disappears. Then they begin to think there is nothing to the Christian life, but a struggle. They are attracted by the beauty of the Christian life, but are not ready for the spiritual warfare that it calls far. The hot sun of temptation soon withers the top-heavy plant. If it had been rooted deep in the soil where there is plenty of moisture the same sun would have become a means of growth. In like manner tribulation worketh patience in the life of a true Christian. The same fire that burns the chaff will purify the gold. When trials and temptations come, only those who are deeply rooted in the grace of God will be able to stand the test. Christian endurance depends on that which cannot be seen, the inner life, the root; and this root must be watered with the River of water of Life.

The stony ground hearer accepts the Gospel message on his impulse, and with swelling enthusiasm. But do not miss understand me; we cannot respond too quickly to the call of repentance, nor can we have too much enthusiasm for the Righteousness of the Word of God. But may we not put our hands to the plow, and then look back. Such is not fit for the Kingdom of Christ. We need not seek to live in the realm of our emotions, but in the realm of Holy Ghost Conviction, and the teaching of the Word which inspires faith. The just shall live by faith. To be a real disciple of Christ we must count the cost of living the life by His grace, we must bear the cross after Him, this we can do, and will do, if we do not receive the Seed on stony ground, but on good ground. Christ wants no "fair-weather disciples." . . no "summer-time Christians, but some one that will bear the burden of Christian responsibility throughout the year. . .(Whosoever is born of God overcometh the world.— I John 5:4.

Note: Next week we study the Thorny Ground Hearer."

Congressman Submits Bill for Funds to Purify Ocean Water

WASHINGTON. — Scientific research to make fresh water from sea water is proposed by a bill before congress introduced by Rep. Fletcher (Rep., Calif.) which would place the study in the hands of the navy.

The measure would authorize the navy to operate one or more demonstration plants to produce potable water from sea water.

Desalting sea water has long been carried out by the ordinary distillation process on shipboard and other places. This requires considerable fixed equipment.

In the war several methods were developed for use on lifeboats. These required only such equipment as could be easily stored with other supplies in the boats.

The principle employed in these methods is what is known as ion exchangers. These cause an interchange of ions between the material in solution and the solid introduced. The process is used in water softeners.

Army Will Blast Underground Caverns to Check Strength

WASHINGTON.—The army will undertake a series of tests in underground explosions, to determine the best construction to resist attack by guided missiles and modern heavy bombs, it was announced. The explosions will be set off in four types of soil and four types of rock.

Results are expected to guide army engineers in designing blastproof command posts and other vital military installations. It is hoped the data obtained will assist industrial engineers in determining the best type of construction for underground factories.

Trials will be conducted at the Dugway proving ground, near Salt Lake City; near Castle Dale, Utah, and near Grand Junction, Colo. They will start with explosive charges of 320 pounds of TNT against a small structure. Installations and charges will mount progressively until a final explosion of 320,000 pounds of TNT is set off.

Lieut. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief engineer, said, "The tests will provide technical knowledge based on actual experiments of the type of underground facilities to withstand modern bombs and guided missiles."

General Wheeler emphasized that no atomic bombs would be used.

Kiwanis Commends Peach Festival Committees

The Kiwanis Club of Clanton wants to commend the Peach Festival Committees for the excellent work that was done in putting on the Second Annual Chilton County Peach Festival.

The people of Chilton County need to be proud of the fact that the behavior of the crowds that flocked to Clanton last Wednesday was so good that both City and County Officials report that no arrests were made for disorderly conduct and no cases were placed on the docket. This speaks well for the planning on the part of the various committees and for the kind of people that live in Chilton County.

It is indicative of the fact that a good time can be had by people without having to indulge in any actions that would cast unfavorable reflections on a community. It also indicates the spirit of cooperation among a people who can take time off from their every day affairs and do something for the betterment of their community.

Chilton County once again proved that it is a good place to live and proved that its people are of high moral and spiritual character. With such cooperation as shown in the Festival and with such excellent behavior on the part of the people, Chilton County will continue to be one of the most progressive counties in the State of Alabama and one of the best in the country.

THURSDAY NIGHT SINGING

Last week the regular Thursday night singing was held at the Poplar Springs Church. Due to the rain, the attendance was not as good as has been on other nights, but the singing was real good. The chairman, Marion W. Easterling, and the Liberty Hill Quartet, and several of the other singers seemed to be at their best. Their singing was enjoyed by almost a house full of singing loving people.

Marion W. Easterling opened the program by singing, "I'll Fly Away." The following men followed singing two songs each. Jack Jones, Johnnie Easterling, Hiram Littlejohn, Marvin Lowery. And the Liberty Hill Quartet sang several numbers during the program.

Mr. J. W. Hamilton Appointed To FHA

Appointment of Mr. J. W. Hamilton, Clanton, Ala., Route 4, to a three-year term on the Farmers Home Administration county committee for Chilton County was announced today by Mr. Julian Brown, State Director.

Mr. Hamilton succeeds Mr. R. M Foshee, whose term expired June 30. Also on the committee are Robert O. Williams, of Clanton Route 1, and Arthur J. Wilkins, of Billingsley Route 1. A committee of three serves in each agricultural county throughout the nation in which the agency makes farm ownership and operating loans. Appointments are scheduled so that a committee always has two experienced members.

The Chilton County Committee has an important place in making supervised credit available to local farmers, according to Boadman N. Ivey, County Supervisor.

Before any money can be borrowed through the agency, an applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of farm ownership loans, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee. "The members know agricultural conditions in the county, are often familiar with the farm the applicant plans to operate," Mr. Ivey explained.

In addition to approving loans the committee cooperates with the county supervisor in overall administration of the program in the county. Periodically they review the progress of borrowers to determine whether they have reached a financial position that would enable them to refinance their loans through private lenders. A farmer who is eligible for a loan from regular sources is not eligible for a loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

"Using this system of operation, the agency has helped many families in Chilton County toward better farming and better living with farm purchase and farm operating loans," Mr. Ivey said.

ENTERTAINED DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kendrick, of Thorsby, had as their guest Tuesday night and Wednesday Miss Peggy Elder, (Miss Dixie of 1941), who was down to pay homage to Chilton County's Peach Queen during the Festival.

Other guests were: Mrs. Mary Brice and Mr. Raymond Robbins, of Birmingham, and Mr. Bill Thompson, of Cullman.

Miss Elder is with Perfection Mattress and Spring Company in Birmingham and is the lovely lady in the oldfashioned costume who calls on the furniture stores of all the southern states as "Lady Perfection." Mrs. Brice and Mr. Robbins are also with Perfection Mattress and Spring Company, and Mr. Thompson is with West Side Furniture Company, of Cullman.

Mrs. Kendrick took quite a bit of kidding Tuesday night when she put these two spring air mattress salesmen to bed on a couple of army cots, her spare bed room being occupied by Miss Elder and Mrs. Brice.

Pictures To Be Published

With this issue of Chilton County News, the publishers of this newspaper, wish to announce a new, and rather unique, feature, which they are sponsoring, and which we feel certain will meet with the hearty approval of all the people in this county and immediate territory: A Great Baby Campaign to determine the popular and prominent little sweethearts of this entire section, and we propose to distribute the generous and alluring sum of $300.00 in cash to the babies who shall be declared the winner at the conclusion of this affair

Six prizes headed with a Grand Prize of $125.00 have been provided for the winners, and they will be determined by the babies receiving the largest number of votes when the campaign has been brought to a close. All the little ones five (5) years of age and under, residing in Chilton County and abutting territory, are eligible to compete.

For years and years, we have witnessed campaigns conducted by many associations, or interests to determine whom shall reign as Queen at certain festivities; Beauty Queens with Hollywood in the offing; popular and prominent favorities in many walks of life. Strangely enough, however, they have entirely overlooked the most interesting, the most attractive and most lovable of all human personalities—A LITTLE CHILD!

Well, now we are going to change all this and give Baby the belated recognition it so richly deserves; its place in the Sun, as it were; the opportunity to bid for public approval and a chance to come into possession of valuable cash prizes of worthwhile proportions.

For the next several weeks, then, the babies are going to occupy the spotlight and everything else will have to take a back seat.

One of the most interesting features of this whole affair, is going to be the publication of the baby pictures, and in this connection, we trust the parents of the little ones will co-operate with us to the extent of loaning us a good, clear and distinct picture of their little one and sending it to us as soon as possible. The picture has to be sent to an engraving firm to have engravings made. All this takes time, so the earlier we receive the picture, the sooner will you see its sweet little face smiling out at you from the pages of this newspaper.

If you have a good photograph of the baby, please loan it to us and we promise to return it to you in the same condition as when received. If you have no photograph, a good, distinct kodak picture will serve our purpose just as well. The important thing is, send it as soon as possible. We pay for the engraving so it will entail no expense to you whatever. We are anxious to start the pictures as soon as possible a we know the public will be looking forward, eagerly, to seeing their favorite's picture looking out at them from the pages of the News.

We note that many other sections of the country have been featuring pictures of their little ones, making elaborate claims of their superiority. Well, its easy to grow enthusiastic over these dear little mites of humanity; and we might add—praise-worthy too. Just the same, and regardless of the validity of their claims, the good folks of this county and its environs, want to go on record that when it come to a handsome, rugged and desirable little lads and lassies, we take no back seat for any other section of this good old U.S.A., and that, good friends, takes in a lot of territory. Furthermore, when you see their dear little faces smiling at you from the pages of this newspaper, you are going to agree with us.

This is not going to be a beauty contest in the strictest sense of the word, although Babyhood has its own particular allure that defies all grown-up competition. However this is going to be a campaign in which the winners will be decided by the people in general showing by their votes and support just which little ones will walk away with those splendid prizes and the pride and distinction that will accompany them.

On another page today, you will find an advertisement giving a list of the prizes to be awarded and other information. It also carries two voting coupons. One is a nominating coupon and when properly filled in with the baby's name, etc., will entitle the baby

Four years ago we never expected to see the day that citizens of Berlin would welcome U. S. airplanes.

One way to solve the farm problem and the high cost of living at the same time would be to develop a method of getting the farm products to the table without so many "middlemen" adding to the expense.

"GRATITUDE TRAIN" FROM FRANCE

Some months ago, largely through the efforts of Mr. Drew Pearson, national newspaper columnist, a number of friendship trains were sent to France to assure the people of that country that the people of this country had not forgotten them.

As an aftermath of the demonstration of American goodwill comes the news from France that a "Gratitude Train," will be sent to the United States this fall. The train will consist of forty-eight freight cars, of the famous World War 1 type, which were labeled "Forty Hommes, Eight Cheveaux."

Present plans are to fill the cars with gifts, consisting mainly of French artisan works, such as glassware, and to present one, freight car to each of the forty-eight states as a gift.

RUSSIANS VIOLATE PACTS

If there are any Americans who continue to think that it is possible for the United States to get along with the Soviet regime, the facts about the Russian blockade of Berlin should cause them to change their minds.

The United States is represented in the occupation of Berlin because of agreements between the victorious governments. The same can be said about the British and French presence in Berlin.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall says that "we intend to stay" in Berlin and that maximum use of air transport will be made to supply the civilian population with adequate foodstuffs. On the day that the Secretary-of-State said this, some 200 Anglo-American transport planes were busy ferrying foodstuffs into the German Capitol. The number, it was reported, will be augmented and experts said that the planes could carry more foodstuffs that at first estimated.

The motive behind the Russian blockade seems somewhat obscure unless Russian officials are willing to use starvation of the civilian population of Berlin as a weapon to get the other powers out of the German capitol. It is also suspected that the Russians hope the German people in Berlin will suffer enough to ask the Western nations to leave the capitol.

Whatever the Russian purpose, it is not in conformity with the treaty of peace and the agreements providing for the joint occupation of the German capitol. This makes no difference to the Kremlin regime, which invites serious trouble through the adoption of such tactics.

Time is getting short. What are you citizens of Clanton going to do about your Mayor for the next four years? We have heard very little talk about the race for that office and the election is only a matter, of a couple of months off. We heard the name of J. B. Atkinson mentioned but "J. B." is being mighty quiet about the whole thing. Mr. C. Fenn Jones hasn't made a statement yet, although his name has been mentioned as a possible candidate several times. W. G. Culp is a possible candidate. He retires from his mail route this year. Our present mayor, F. Leo Thompson, has definitely stated that he will not be a candidate. Well, come on some of you guys, why don't you say something.

The Alabama Editors will hold their annual summer meeting at Panama City next week. This trip we will forego. First because it is too hot to get the energy (and funds) to make the long trip. Second because the missus is there this week with the Thursday afternoon Bridge Club and we'll probably be so glad to see her back that we will want to stay home for a while.

A long, lanky, hatless individual who had passed the bottle once too often, came sailing merrily into the health department, and stopped before the window of the registrar of births and deaths. "Good morning gentlemen," he sang out. "I wanta register the birth of (hic) twins." "Why do you say 'gentlemen?' " asked the man behind the window. "Can't you see I am alone here?" "Alone!" shouted the astonished father. "Only one of you?" Then Id better go home and take another look. Maybe it isn't (hic). twins after all."

Visited the peach shed Sunday afternoon with a brother who is with the Tuscaloosa News and Col. J. M. House, retired, of Cottondale. Roy Roper donated the three of us some lucious peaches as samples and we were quite proud of them. The out-of-town guests stopped and got baskets to take home with them and left requests to send a few bushels next week, which we will surely do — we never miss a chance to push a Chilton County peach, of either variety.

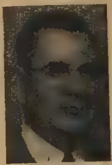
THE THORNY GROUND HEARER

In our study of the "Parable of the Sower," we have come to consider the thorny ground hearer. "That which fell among thorns, are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection." Verse 14. Nothing is said here against the soil. It seems to be very good, but it is impossible to grow both corn and thorns at the same time. The wheat or any grain cannot grow and bear fruit among thorns. You will notice that the thorns were not grown, but rested in the form of seed, even at the time the "good seed" was sown. They both came up together, and the thorns grew faster than the sood seed, and began to choke out the good plant.



Let us consider these thorns. What are they? What is it within the heart and nature of a person that hinders the growth of the Word of God, and prevent it from bearing precious fruit? Jesus said, "The thorns are the cares and riches, and pleasures of this life. Such things as houses, land, works of art, post of honour, gaiety of garments, grandeur of entertainments and other forms of luxury. This type of hearer is more interested in making a living than he is in gaining for himself eternal life by following Christ and His teaching. His business, his family, and his work all comes first in hi life. He will allow the work of God, and the church to come last on his program, and some time, and more often, no time is left for the Lord, and his church. Others are taken up with worldly pleasures. Plenty time for the movies; for the card parties, and parties of other kind. Time for vacations and recreation, but no time to follow Christ, and to devote to His church. Church members? Yes, but the pastor cannot get them to assume any real responsibility. They are trying hard to serve God and mammon at the same time. And Jesus said this cannot be done.

The rich young ruler is a fair example of this not too uncommon character; which is more often met with among the more cultured of society, than among the poor and the lowly. There was much that was beautiful and true in this young man's life, or Jesus would have never singled him out as one whom he especially loved; and yet in his life the thorns of riches and luxury had so twined themselves among the good grain that, so far as we know, it never did bring forth fruit to perfection.

Ananias and sapphirs may be examples of those fallen among the thorns. They had given up much for the name sake of Chrsit. They became associated with a hated and persecuted sect sacrificed some of their property to feed the poor; yet this man and his wife had signs of a double life. The thorns had grown up and twined about the good grain which was growing in their lives, 'til they brought forth no perfect fruit—no fruit to perfection.

Demas had allowed the seed to fall among the thorns in his life. Paul said of him, "Demas has forsaken me, having loved this present evil world." Too many professed Christians allow the cares of this life, the desire for gain, and the pleasures of this present evil world to hinder their fruitfulness for the Master, and to stunt their Christian growth. So friends, be careful about the thorns and keep them weeded out of your life.

The next time you serve cauliflower, grate raw carrots over the top for added eye and taste appeal.

Dampen your new ironing board cover and then tack it into place. When it has dried it will be free from wrinkles.

PREPARING SURPLUS EGGS FOR FREEZING

Usually this time of year farmers find they have a surplus of eggs on hand. Many of these eggs can be frozen for later use in the farm home.

Lavada Curtis, API extension food preservation specialist, says that only fresh clean eggs should be selected for freezing. When preparing whole eggs, Miss Curtis says to stir each egg slightly with fork—just enough to mix yolk and white. Pour into small bags, seal, and freeze.

When yolks are to be frozen, beat them slightly—not enough to make them fluffy. To each six egg yolks add 1 teaspoon of sugar or one-half teaspoon of salt. This prevents yolks from congealing during storage.

Egg writes are frozen just as they are.

Miss Curtis points out that a one-half pint package is convenient for freezing eggs, since all eggs in a package should be used promptly after thawing. She says to pack in moisture-vaporproof containers, heavily waxed cartons with moisture-vaporproof liners. Fill containers nine-tenths full to allow space for expansion during freezing.

"When you are ready to use frozen eggs, thaw only the amount to be used," advised Miss Curtis.

A good way to stretch hamburger is by adding one beaten egg and some cooked noodles. For added flavor season with a minced onion, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce, or serve with tomato sauce.

DATES SET FOR TWO FEEDER CALF SALES

Two feeder calf sales will be held in Demopolis this year. The events were announced by the Demopolis Feeder Calf Association.

Walter Crawford, president of the group, said the first sale is scheduled for Tuesday, July 20th. The second will be held on September 28th.

"These sales are held to concentrate a large number of choice feeder calves so that 4-H and FFA members may be able to purchase them to feed out for shows and sales next spring. Commercial feeders also are being invited to the event, explained Crawford.

Association officials say that animals consigned to these sales must be high grade beef calve of good quality and weighing from 300 to 600 pounds. Calves dropped last fall will make up the bulk of the first sale. The September sale will consist largely of spring-dropped calves.

ALABAMA COMMUNITY COTTON IMPROVEMENT CONTEST

One-variety cotton communities in Chilton County are eligible to compete for prizes in the Alabama Community Cotton Improvement Contest.

The AlabamaFlorida Cottonseed Products Association and the Alabama Cotton Manufacturing Association are giving $2,000 each, or a total of $4,000 to be used as cash prizes to the one-variety communities in the state showing the most improvement in the quality of their cotton and their yield per acre during the 1948 season. A $2,000 cash prize will be awarded the state winner. Four district prizes of $500 each will be awarded the district winner in each of the four Extension Districts. The county winner will compete for state and district awards. All one-variety communities organized prior to the 1948 planting season are eligible to compete for these cash awards. They must also have a full set of duly elected officers, a definite seed renewal system, and have at least two meetings per year.

One-variety communities are made up of farmers usually in a gin community who organize for the purpose of improving the quality and per acre yield of their cotton. The community plan of production provides large lots or uniform cotton.

One-variety community cotton improvement associations in Chilton County are as follows: Clanton, one-variety cotton improvement, and Cooper, Cotton Improvement Association.

FRIED CHICKEN IS AN EVERYDAY DISH

It's true that fried chicken is a dish for special occasions and Sunday dinners. But, have you compared prices of chickens with other meats recently?

"Beef and pork both are in short supply which helps to raise the price on choice cuts out of reach of many housewives' pocketbooks," says John P. Weeks, API extension specialist in poultry marketing. Now, since the price of fryers is in the same bracket with lower quality cuts of beef and pork, Weeks believes that the husband will get fried chicken at times other than holidays and his birthday.

HIKE MILK PRODUCTION TO MAKE DAIRYING PAY

A study of latest production figures indicates that the average Alabama cow produces 3,521 pounds of milk per year. This figure is less than one-third of the average milk production per cow in established dairy states.

Recently the American Jersey Cattle Club released production figures on a well-managed herd owned by R. A. Brown and W. R. Tate, Guntersville, Ala. Each cow in their herd averaged 8,359 pounds of milk and 468 pounds of butterfat.

"This record reveals what can be done in Alabama," says J. R. Parrish, API extension dairyman. He encourages dairymen throughout the state to make every effort to improve their cattle through breeding, feeding and herd management. "If these practices are carried out," he adds, "the average milk production per cow will increase and make dairying more profitable in Alabama."

READY MARKET FOR THOSE NON-LAYERS

In most communities there is an opportunity for poultrymen to sell non-layers to small stores, restaurants and housewives.

"The best time to do this is when flocks are culled during July and August," says John P. Weeks, extension specialist in poultry marketing. He explains that many layers are going out of production at this time. "A higher profit can be realized if non-layer are sold dressed, ready for the oven," Weeks adds.

A heated nail may be driven into walls without splattering the plaster.

UTD FARM TOURS

Meetings will be held on many UTD farms in July. Effects of phosphate on such crops as pastures, alfalfa, sericea lespedeza, and kudzu will be observed. All farmers are urged to attend the UTD meetings to gain information which may be usable on their farms. The local county agent can tell you when tours and meetings will be held in your section.

If you will be away from home for as long as one or two weeks, it is a good idea to leave your refrigerator in normal operation.

Russians Fail to Wipe Out U. S.; Women Sue "Prophet"

LOS ANGELES. — Joe Jeffers, founder of the Temple of Yahweh, is accused in a damage suit of telling his flock the Russians would bomb the United States in 1947 and kill everyone but them.

Jeffers' accusers, Mrs. Anna Lee and Mrs. Caroline Brunell of Los Angeles, seek $12,857 damages, saying his story led them to part with valuable property.

They say that Jeffers, now serving time in McNeil Island federal prison for auto theft, represented to his congregation that they would move into the White House and that he would rule the United States as the "King of Kings."

The plaintiffs allege they were told they would be "queens under the new order, wearing diamond-studded crowns."

They also said Jeffers told them the "flying saucers" seen in the skies were weapons manned by Japanese.

On Shadows Cast

(By WILLARD HAYES)

Maplesville High School has at long last been granted departments of Vocational Agriculture and Vocational Economics. Requests for these departments were made in an application 14 years ago to the State Board of Education by the principal, Prof. J. E. Daniels.

It is through the aid of the federal government that instructors of these two courses can be brought to our local schools. State and county government aid totaling $20,000 will be used for construction of the buildings necessary for the additional curriculum. That still leaves an estimated need of $4,000 which must be raised locally for purchase of the necessary equipment required by the federal government when its funds are used to em[illegible] teachers.

[illegible] is in the Maples- [illegible] both financially and educationally.

While in a [illegible] the other day, I [illegible] skill up against any local housewife as well as any male cooks.

Since the various preparati[illegible] chickens is the chief delicacies in the [illegible] I'll place my [illegible] and [illegible] recipe of the item against that of any other cook in the [illegible] county or state for that matter [illegible] for Chicken In Wine. It [illegible]

[illegible] about three pounds of young [illegible] not [illegible] place the pieces in a [illegible] the chicken with two cups of medium tart sweet cooking wine and simmer in a 300 degree oven for one hour. Remove to a hot platter and serve. A delicious gravy may be made by adding milk to the residue in the pan and thickening to your desired consistency.

Now, ladies, before you blow your top because I use wine, let me remind you that you too use alcohol whenever you flavor cakes and pies with extracts. My chicken won't intoxicate either for when wine is used in cooking, the alcohol loses it's potentness in the form of steam.

At last I've found out how it must be to act as a baby sitter. For nearly two weeks now I've been keeping a purebred Cocker Spaniel puppy by name of Rusty. (That's for short. The entire name would fill a page.) He has his milk formula and has to eat on schedule like an infant. My reward is the decision that if I ever [illegible]ire a dog, he'll be just another mutt out of some alley.

Now that Maplesville will have a vocational agriculture professor and [illegible] added with the fact that peaches [illegible] are the best in [illegible] Chilton County Peach [illegible]

MAPLESVILLE HIGH SCHOOL TO GET AG AND HOME ECONOMICS COURSES

[illegible] at Maplesville [illegible] September 7, courses [illegible] Agriculture and Home [illegible] will be added according to Prof. J. E. Daniels, principal.

Grants by the federal government has been made for employment locally of teachers in the two courses on condition that the local governments provide buildings and equipment for the courses. Prof. Daniels reported that the state has already allocated $20,000 for the program. These funds he said, will be used for construction in the northwestern portion of the campus of a Vocational Home Economics cottage and an agricultural shop next to the old general Home Economics building, which will be converted into the Vocational Ag class rooms and office.

The agricultural instructor will be located here 12 months each year to assist students and their parents with advice on farming methods.

It will be the duty of the local school, P.-T.A. and citizens to raise moneys for the purchase of equipment to supply the two added departments. Prof. Daniels said he had been told by the superintendent of education that the additional funds which must be raised locally would amount to approximately $4,000. Unless these funds are raised so that the necessary equipment may be installed within the next school year, Maplesville High School may lose these added departments.

Construction of the Vocational Home Economics cottage is expected to be completed by the first of October.

Also being constructed at this time but under a separate program of the county board of education are indoor toilets and dressing rooms for both girls and boys at the local school. These will be ready for use when school opens, Prof. Daniels said. Under the same program is the construction of a surplus water tank.

COMING AND GOING

Mrs. Beatrice Bearden and son, Billie, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben A. Hudson, Gadsden; and Mr. and Mrs. Enie Smitherman, Birmingham, were all visiting in the homes of Mrs. H. E. Cochrans and Mrs. Mae Davis last week. Sgt. Charles Davis, Ft. Bragg, N. C., was also visiting Mrs. Davis, his mother, and his sister, Miss Estelle Davis, over the past week end. While at home he took his mother and aunt, Mrs. Claude Clements to Fairhope to visit his brother, R. M. Davis, and family.

Visiting his mother, Mrs. J. E. Wallace, and brother, Jack, last Sunday were Mr. Melton Wallace and family of Johns, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillespie also spent last week end with relatives in Maplesville. Mr. Gillespie says he will probably move his residence from Birmingham back to Maplesville in a month or two.

Mrs. Frank Gulledge, Verbena, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brown, Sr. She is enrolled this summer in school at Montevallo.

Arriving in Maplesville last Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Stough (nee Helen Baisden) and their two daughters for a short vacation with her mother, Mrs. Annie Laura Potts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maples, Jr., and daughter, Mary Sue, were in Maplesville Sunday with relatives. Mr. Maples, cashier of the Birmingham Trust National Bank, and his family leave next Sunday for their vacation in Denver, Colo.

LOCALITE WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN JAPAN; LIKES IT

Henry Lee Motley, a graduate of Maplesville High School in 1938, is with the American Army of Occupation now in Japan. According to word received by John Motley, a brother, he is stationed in Yokohama. With the local soldier is his wife, who is working in the same office as Sgt Motley as a civilian worker.

Both are so fond of their work in Japan that they have requested extended duty for another year. They report that their living quarters are fine with large grass lawns and swimming and wading pools for the Americans' children.

Their only dislike of the occupied country, they say, is the terrific shaking they received several weeks ago in the earkquake which caused many deaths and destruction of a vast sum of property.

Sgt. Motley, just before writing his brother, stood an Army examination for possible promotion to Warrant Officer. He seemed confident that his promotion would go through.

VIOLATION OF DRIVING LAWS LEADS TO ARREST

Out of six arrests made in Maplesville during the past week by local police, four were for violation of codes dealing with operation of vehicles on public roads, Chief F. J. Ellison reported Monday.

The arrests included one white, rackless driving; one white, driving while intoxicated; one white and one negro, driving without driver's licenses; and one white and one negro, public drunkenness.

PLANS FOR LOCAL CLUB MADE BY CITIZENS HERE

A group of local citizens met last Friday night at the mill pond to discuss the various ideas concerning organization of a Maplesville Civic Club, according to a committee headed by T. A. Brown.

Chairman Brown said those present were in favor of a club locally, but desired one with no national organization until success of the group could be determined. If such an organization's aims pointed to betterment of the town's welfare, then the group would petition some national or international club for a charter here.

Interest in such a club was aroused several weeks ago by members of the Selma Civitan Club. The Selma members are tonight honoring those citizens in Maplesville, who are favoring some organization to advance the welfare of the community, with a watermelon cutting on the lawn of the [illegible] surer of the committee [illegible] out local citizens' views on the subject is Mr Joe Graham.

KITTY USES EXTRA LIVES; FINALLY DIES

A half grown kitten in Maplesville last Friday caused a great deal of curiosity and disturbance, used up his nine lives and finally departed for the happy hunting grounds.

It all started about 10:00 a.m. when Mr. Emmett Shanks called Mr. Perry Thomas from his store and asked, "Do you have a cat in your car. I continue to hear one meowing." The other checked but could find no animal although he too heard the cat's cry.

At noon when Mr. Thomas entered his auto to go home, the crying grew louder and again he made a search with no success. He drove off but the animal's disturbance grew to such proportions that he was forced to park in front of the K. C. Cobern Store. There Mr. Thomas and clerks from Cobern's store and the Yellow Front made a more thorough search—under seats, under the hood and in the trunk. Finally the distressed kitten was located under the vehicle seated on the frame.

He was removed but when Mr. Thomas reached his home, the cat was back on his seat and had to be removed again. And again when Mr. Thomas parked later in front of his store the Cat with the Love for Auto Riding was still perched on a portion of the auto's frame. Mr. Thomas took the animal and carried it some distance down the street where it casually took its seat on the frame of another auto. The driver of this vehicle was a stranger in town; a stranger in an awful hurry. When he started off, the young cat was thrown under the rear wheel and thus ended his ninth life. If there is a moral to this story, it must be don't try stealing rides without the permission of the vehicle's driver.

Kimberly Mines' Daily Yield Is Pile of Diamonds

KIMBERLEY, SOUTH AFRICA— After more than 75 years of exploitation, the great diamond deposits here are still yielding up a double handful of glistening gems daily.

In a Kimberley diamond sorting room, the results of a day's work are manifested in a small well-guarded pile containing 2,900 carats of rough stones. That is an average day's pickings for the two mines still operating.

There was a time when most of the world's diamond output came from the blue earth "pipes" of the Kimberley district. Discoveries elsewhere have reduced this preeminence. But as headquarters of the far-reaching De Beers combine, Kimberley retains its dominance as the diamond capital of the world.

Although Kimberley has the "biggest man-made hole in the world" to remind it of its wild and woolly past, the town today is a staid and ultra-respectable community. Nowadays the mining and extraction of diamonds is a highly industrialized operation.

Process Crushed Rock

To obtain that little heap of precious pebbles it was necessary to hoist and crush 13,000 tons of blue rock and to put it through an elaborate process of concentration. In the final stage, the residue of pebbles and water was allowed to trickle over well greased runways. The diamonds stuck to the grease while the worthless stones rolled on to oblivion.

The only element of romance that remains is in the ceaseless battle of wits between diamond thieves and the mine guards. The mine compounds are surrounded by barbed wire entanglements within which the thousands of African workers are required to live until they complete their terms of service—usually four to six months. On departure they are subjected to intensive search. In the old days this meant a three-day quarantine accompanied by a dose of castor oil.

Discovered by X-Ray

Now, diamonds that are swallowed or imbedded in the skin are discovered in a few minutes by X-ray. Even so there is a steady loss of diamonds through illicit channels. "Over the Fence" smuggling is held in check by trained police dogs that accompany guards on their nightly rounds. The swallowing method is still tried occasionally, but nobody has come up to the record set years ago by a native who attempted unsuccessfully to walk out of the compound with 21 valuable diamonds in his stomach.

It is evident to any observer that the world's diamond reserves are a long way from exhaustion. Indeed, were it not for voluntary controls it is probable that production could be much increased. The great De Beers organization, for instance, is working only a small part of its vast holdings of diamond-bearing land. Through the Diamond Producers association, the Diamond Trading company and the Diamond corporation, this concern is leagued with nearly all other major producers in an arrangement for the "nationalized" marketing of the world's output.

Marble Manufacturer Makes A Million Agates Per Day

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.—Chances are three to one that youngsters playing marbles today in India—where the game existed some 5,000 years ago—are using agates produced in West Virginia.

An output of more than a million of the little glass balls is all in a day's work at almost any one of the nine plants in the mountain state.

Sales Manager Ralph Heatherington, of the Akro Agate company here, explains that the only other large glass marble producer in the country is in Ottawa, Ill., and adds:

"It's safe to say that 75 per cent of the world's output of glass marbles is manufactured in West Virginia."

An American archeological expedition unearthed primitive marbles in India a few years ago. Marbles also have been found during excavations of the Ptolemac tombs of Egypt, and early in the Christian era young Romans are known to have adapted nuts and stones for use in their games.

Applause Stifles Dying Words of Fallen Acrobat

PITTSBURGH, PA. — Spectators thought the fall of James T. Fitzpatrick, an acrobat, was a new stunt. Their applause prevented his final words, as he died of a heart attack, from being heard.

For 40 of his 54 years Fitzpatrick was an acrobat.

At a VFW show, he dived over four chairs placed in a line and landed on his hands, feet in the air, on a table. In that position he picked a handkerchief from the table with his teeth.

Ralph Degenes of Pittsburgh, master of ceremonies, leaned over the man as he fell, thinking it was a gag. He discovered Fitzpatrick gasping for breath. "He tried to say something, but because of applausel couldn't hear him," Degenes said.

BABY CAMPAIGN

to 1,000 free votes. The other is a voting coupon good for 25 votes. Only one of the nomination ballots will be credited to a baby, but as many of the 25 votes coupons as you can collect may be sent in and placed to the baby's credit, and when sewed or pinned together, it will only be necessary to write the baby's name, parents' name, and address, on the top gallot.

This is going to be a most interesting affair and we hope the parents, who have little ones eligible, will take part in the campaign. If you happen to be so unfortunate as to have no little one of your own, surely there is some dear youngster in your neighborhood, or in the ken of your acquaintance, of whom, you are very fond. Well, send in its nomination and whatever coupons you can gather. By doing this, you may be the one to start it on its way to fame and fortune.

Lack of space, this week, prevents us from giving you full details of this exciting affair, but be sure and get next week's issue when the campaign will be thoroughly explained. However, the thing to do now, and do immediately, is to fill in the nominating coupon, good for 1,000 votes and send to our office. Then get in touch with your neighbors, who take our paper, and ask them to save their coupons for you. Incidentally, you might tell them that when they renew their subscription at our office, request that the votes we will give on it, be credited to your baby.

This affair will run for several weeks, so if you have no good picture of your baby that's suitable at present, you will have ample time to have a late one taken, pictures will be run weekly soon as we receive the engravings. A definite date of closing will be given soon.

The gentleman in charge of the campaign for us, is a stranger in your midst. Come in and have him explain the details and let's get acquainted.

None of our employees will be permitted to enter their baby and in the event of a tie, the ones so tied will be given equal prizes. Papers will not be sold in bulk and votes once cast for a baby cannot be transferred to another later on in the race.

Please note the date on the voting coupon and see that they reach our office before they become void. The date will be extended from week to week so you will have ample time to get them here before they expire.

Mother, 19, Hides Newborn Baby in Garbage Parcel

MINNEAPOLIS—A newborn baby boy, found among garbage parcels on a city truck, is alive and well at Minneapolis general hospital.

Walter Lindell said he found the child when he investigated a newspaper-wrapped package which stirred after being dumped into his truck from a refuse can. He called an ambulance.

Police, arriving with the ambulance, found a 19-year-old girl in the crowd that had gathered. She became hysterical at questioning, then sobbed that she had given birth to the child an hour earlier.

Burglar Walks Off With 10,000 Bees; No Stings Attached

MILWAUKEE.—The theft of one hive and destruction of another had two Milwaukee county beekeepers buzzing angrily.

Whoever walked off with a colony of 10,000 bees that belonged to J. P. Kallas, 5735 Milwaukee River parkway, really knew what he was doing, Kallas said. The thief picked a chilly night when the bees would be inactive and he brought his own lid for the hive. The little stingers apparently didn't give him a bit of trouble.

His colony is worth about $20, Kallas said. But it would have multiplied to a honey factory with 60,000 workers when the clover starts to bloom. By then, it would have been producing about 10 pounds of honey a day, and honey is worth about 30c a pound.

Kallas had one hope left. If the thief didn't take the bees more than a mile, and if the weather turns very warm in a day or so, they may come home again. But, said Kallas, the man who took them probably knows that.

Other prowlers who tried to take a hive that belongs to Fred H. Krahn, 1738 S. 30th street, muffed the job.

Using a wheelbarrow, they rattled a hive from its site in an orchard at S. 43rd street and W. Grange avenue, town of Lake, to the street. Mad, the bees stung the thieves, who spilled the hive on the pavement. The box was smashed and the bees died.

Flood Of Nominations Received In Our Great Baby Contest

Votes To Be Given On Subscriptions; Don't Forget The Pictures

THE PRIZES
FIRST PRIZE	$125.00
SECOND PRIZE	75.00
THIRD PRIZE	50.00
FOURTH PRIZE	25.00
FIFTH PRIZE	15.00
SIXTH PRIZE	10.00

The announcement in last week News, of the Great Baby Campaign this newspaper is conducting, and through the medium by which have provided six splendid cash prizes (headed with a Grand First Prize of $125.00) that will be given to the six winners at the conclusion of this exciting and appealing newspaper feature, has evidently struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the parents, kinfolks and admirers of the sweet little lads and lassies in this whole territory.

This fact has been made evident to us by the flood of nominations that have literally poured into our office since our announcement last week. From all the various communities in this section and even from many other States where our paper circulates, have come votes for many of the little ones whose names are shown elsewhere in the News today.

Remember this is a campaign in which the parents, kinfolks and admirers of the babies, will be given the opportunity to show, by their votes and support, which of the many little ones nominated shall be crowned with special honors and come into possession of the handsome cash prizes we have provided for the winners.

There will be two ways of securing votes. One is by filling in the baby's name on the coupon good for 25 votes, sending or bringing them to our office to be placed to the baby's credit in the list of votes cast each week. The other, and we might add the most profitable one, is by securing subscriptions to this newspaper.

Votes will be given on both old and new subscriptions and as many of your neighbors and friends already take the NEWS, we feel sure any of them you get in touch with will be glad to, not only give you their vote coupons, carried in each issue, but also their renewal, if it is due, in order that the baby may receive the benefit of the votes we are giving on it. In the event that they are not now subscribers to our paper, they could be easily induced to become one if you solicit them.

In this connection, and in order to make it easy for you to secure the necessary amount of votes to make a prizewinner out of your own little honey-bunch, we are now prepared to send you a list of our subscribers in your community. This list will enable you to tell them when their subscription expired, or will expire, and will also show who do not now take the NEWS. In addition, we can send you a little receipt book, upon the cover of which you will find all necessary instructions, also a schedule of the votes given on subscriptions. This material is free and we will be glad to give, or send it to you, on request. Send in and get it or drop in and pick it up soon. An early start is advisable before others enter the race.

In order that you may be able to give your baby an immediate and impressive start, we are announcing a big bonus offer that will be appreciated by all. On another page today, you will notice the offer of 5,000 extra votes (in addition to the regular schedule vote) that will be given as a bonus on each one year subscription turned in at our office between now, and Wednesday evening, August 4th. This bonus will apply on both old and new subscriptions alike; in case you get a 2-year subscription, you will be given two bonuses of 5,000 votes. This offer will make a new 1-year subscription return the baby 8,000 votes—18,000 should it be a 2-year one; 7,000 votes on an old subscription, 16,000 should it be for 2 years. No subscriptions are taken for longer than 2 years in advance.

This gives you two weeks in which to take advantage of this big vote offer, and as it is the largest bonus that will be made during the life of the campaign, we hope you will take every advantage of it you possibly can, and pick up enough to put the baby right up in the Blue Ribbon class.

We have received a number of coupon votes to be placed to the credit to the babies whose names have been received in nomination and which you will find on another page of this issue We have been rushed with the various details of this affair that we have been unable to tabulate them and credit them this week. We have therefore given each baby the 1,000 votes due with its nomination, but next week, each one will be credited with all the votes received here up to press-time.

So now, the race is on in earnest. Send, or call, for the receipt book and the list you need for your section. You, however, are not restricted to any particular neighborhood; get them any place you can; we can furnish you any list you may want.

We don't know how many there will be in the competition. In many instances we believe many of the parents will be surprised at the votes appearing for their little one, but in a couple of weeks we will know which ones are going to make an active effort. However, if they feel like the writer does about those little Angels, they certainly will not see others sending in votes for their baby, without hopping on the bandwagon and helping the good work along.

As mentioned above, the campaign is just getting under way and will continue for several weeks; a closing date will be announced next week.

Don't forget the pictures! Of course you do not have to send the baby's picture in orde to compete, but we know you will want to see your greatest treasure make its appearance in our paper. People are already asking us when the pictures are going to start and are anxiously awaiting their appearance. We have just sent several to our engravers and expect to start their publication next week. From then until the close, it will be a weekly feature.

Please note the expiration of the date on the voting coupons. The date will be extended from week to week so that you will have ample time to get them to our office before they become void.

Fighting Words Weld Party

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN

Kiwanis President To Visit Local Kiwanis Club

Officers of the Kiwanis Club of Clanton learned today that J. Belmont Mosser, prominent Pennsylvania industrialist and recently elected president of Kiwanis International, probably will speak in this section some time during his one-year administration.

Carlisle Miller, president of the club, said that following his election at Los Angeles, the new Kiwanis Chief Executive had indicated he would launch his speaking itinerary in late summer. This schedule undoubtedly will carry him into a majority of the 29 Kiwanis districts throughout the United States and Canada, Miller added.

Delegates to the largest convention in the history of Kiwanis International named Mosser to succeed Dr. Charles W. Armstrong, Salisbury, N. C., who served as president of the community service organization during the past year.

Long active in eastern industrial circles, Mosser is vice president and general sales manager of the Speer Carbon Company and vice president of the International Graphite and Electrode Corporation, both at St. Marys, Penn., where he maintains his home.

In a press conference a few days ago, Mosser said that during his adminitration he would advocate a program of adult education based primarily on the principle that freedom is "everybody's business." He declared the public must become aware of the dangers that threaten liberty.

"The apathetic and indifferent attitude of today that has resulted in mounting government debt, in broken homes, and empty churches is not the spirit that forded the rivers and scaled the Rocky Mountains." "

DEMOCRATIC CHALLENGE

Truman, Barkley Head Ticket

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Washington Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—In a thrill-packed convention, probably the most dramatic in modern political history, President Harry S. Truman was nominated for a full term for the presidency and the veteran Senator, Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, was named his running mate to head the Democratic ticket for the 1948 campaign.

SEN. ALBEN W. BARKLEY

And to feed the flames of a bedlam-rocked convention hall, the President broke all precedents and threw down the gauntlet to the Republicans by literally daring them to carry out their platform pledges at a special session of the Congress which he said he would call July 26.

While sweltering delegates who had battled each other throughout a day in which irate southerners had staged an open revolt against the civil rights plank of the platform, cheered themselves hoarse, the President openly challenged his Republican opponents in a ringing declaration of war:

Let's see if their platform means anything. If it does then we can get some action in 15 days.

The President's spirited and bristling speech of acceptance topped and threw into the background events which at any other convention would have been top news . . . the walk-out of the Mississippi delegation . . the threat of a rump southern convention at Birmingham . the spanking of the southerners who were given a sound drubbing when they sought to challenge the report of the platform committee and the delegates by overwhelming vote adopted a more drastic civil rights plank . . .

Checking off the promises of the GOP platform on domestic issues, the President, in a fighting mood which swept the delegates and galleries in rafter-rocking applause, declared he had time after time asked the Republican-controlled 80th Congress for action on the very pledges made in their platform. But they won't get away with promises, he told the packed convention hall.

Atlanta Sports Writer Writes Of Jackie Hayes

John Bradberry, sports editor on the Atlanta Constitution devoted his entire sports column Thursday, [illegible] 15th, to writing of Jackie Hayes and his memories of baseball days.

Jack Hayes, Chilton County Tax Collector, played professional baseball with the major league teams from 1927 through 1940. The Atlanta sports writer pays him high tribute and states that while Jack was a member of the White Sox he was the game's greatest second baseman.

Clanton Loses To Prattville

The Clanton Independents after laying off several days due to wet grounds and trouble in the lighting system at the Clanton baseball park, resumed playing Sunday afternoon, playing in Prattville, and losing behind the nine hit pitching of Watkins by the final score of 6 to 4.

Clanton had four runs with ten hits on the efforts of Wright for Prattville, but were unable to make their hits count with men on bases. The big guns for Clanton were Tiffin with two hits in five trips to the plate, and scoring one of Clanton's runs, and Bolton hitting five hundred ball with two for four, also scoring one of the runs.

The other two runs were scored by Melton in the fifth inning who got on through an error, and Jones in the fifth inning through hits.

"OUR PROBLEMS . . . . ARE MANY"

The Rev. A. T. Hickman and his son, Andrew, attended the Southern State-Rights Democratic Conference held in Birmingham last Saturday. They report that all the enthusiasm manifested at the convention seemed to be spontaneous.

Says Bro. Hickman: "But there was more than just enthusiasm manifested; there was serious thinking on the part of the leaders of the conference, and not only with those taking part in the conference, but also within the minds of many who were able to see the perilous condition that our country is in. Just what may be the result of the Conference is any one's guess.

"I make an appeal to all Christians that we pray for our leaders, those who are in authority. Man's mind is finite, and with such limits to his wisdom, knowledge and understanding, the world has been thrown into chaos. If we are to escape disaster we must have the greatest wisdom and discretion on the part of all our leaders. Our problems in the South, and in the whole nation, are many."

SAVE YOUR WAR BONDS

In the first quarter of 1948, holders cashed in E bonds to the total value of $1,008,000,000, which was about $40,000,000 more than the sum invested by those who bought similar bonds.

We know that it is very often necessary for individuals to cash in their savings but it might be timely to call attention to the advantage of holding E bonds until maturity. Only in this way does the holder collect full interest.

In addition, every individual will probably find it profitable to hold on to investments, especially those which are as safe as the bonds of the Government. With present high prices, the proceeds of bonds will not buy anything as much as they will when the inevitable economic decline sets in.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

U. H. Abrams has just returned after a most interesting sight-seeing tour through the West and up into Canada. He reports a wonderful time and talks very interesting of the things he saw. Places that had been only dots on a map to the Professor become live hustling cities he reports.

* * *

Introducing Pat's Place in North Clanton. P. A. Taylor has built and equipped a most modern drive-in a half mile north of the business district and we believe will do a land-office business. According to a cute young waitress on the night shift, the new place will be open twenty-four hours a day and within a very short time will have the grounds around the building in good shape for the trade. We drove out Sunday night to try a barbecue and coke and found it mighty good for the stomach. Parker was at home sick and we didn't get to talk to him but we expect to get back often. He's got a nice place there.

We didn't know our genial friend, Judge Oakley Melton, had a super-man for a son—but he has. Sunday's paper devoted more than a half column on the sports page on the accomplishments of this young man. To mention a part of what he is doing the article says: "A student in the School of Commerce and Business Administration, Melton plans to enter Law School at the University of Alabama in September. He holds membership in several campus scholastic and service organizations, including Jasons, Druids, Quadrangle, ODK, Cotillion Club and YMCA. Besides being president of hi fraternity, he is former sports editor of both the Crimson-White, college newspapers, and the Corolla, yearbook." Looks like Oakley, Jr., will out shine his illustrious father if he keeps up at the pace he is going.

A little friend asked the daughter the other day if her daddy had a den at our house. "No," she answered: "He just growls all over the house."

Our good friend, Mr. H. T. Pipes, comes by to see us egery now and then and always has a good story to tell. This week he told us of one his children who had spent the week end at home recently. A friend came by and brought them a big basket of the most beautiful peaches. Mr. Pipes says the off-spring says, "Now, daddy, you peel them and mama can can them for me and I will come back for them later." Being a father, we can readily appreciate that story when Mr. H. T. tells it.

* * *

This perhaps isn't the place to mention it but the thought just came to us that the Northern Democrats were up in arms against the South because of racial intolerance, but wouldn't let Senator O'Mahoney be the vice presidential candidate because he was a Catholic.

* * *

Mr. George Sansom and brother-in-law, John Minor, inform us that they are celebrating their birthday at the old home place three-fourths of a mile south of Sardis Church on Maplesville Route Two — the old Tom Klinner place. Mr. George says that all friends are invited and if the enemies will come he will make friends out of them before they leave. And, oh yeah, bring a basket of good things, it will be an all day affair. And by-the-way, the day is next Sunday, July 25th.

You should clean the upholstery on furniture well before putting on slip sovers. Otherwise the upholstery may be sheltering moth larvae, which is likely to do a great deal of damage before you discover it under the slip covers.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles — which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues . . . whether a man should drink beer or cider . . . whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts . . . instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

SIGN OF SHORT PASTURE

If cattle are grazing between 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. your pasture is getting too short. Watch the cattle and if you see them grazing during the heat of the day, turn them on a temporary grazing crop such as Johnson grass or kudzu, suggests W. H. Gregory, API extension livestock specialist.

DR. NIX OBSERVES CANADIAN FARMING

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nix [illegible] were vacationing in Quebec, Canada, [illegible] last week. They reported that [illegible] enjoyed their stay in that city very much as the people were friendly although there was some difficulty in conversing with them as they still speak French. The city itself, the doctor said, was very beautiful with its quaint narrow streets.

The farming section surrounding Quebec is devoted almost exclusively to dairying—with large barns and Holstein cows. Dr. Nix said there was practically no row crops in cultivation with a tendency toward grains and vast pastures. Percheon horses are used in that area for farm work, he said.

They had also taken a boat trip down the St. Lawrence River to the historically famous Ste. Anne de Beaupre. Their vacation will continue for several more weeks according to Dr. Nix.

COBERN OPENS NEW MARKET IN HIS STORE FOR CUSTOMERS HERE

Mr. K. C. Cobern, who, operates a general merchandise business in Maplesville, is opening a new market for his already well-established trade. The market is already in operation, but he said there was still more equipment to be delivered which would create for him the largest and finest market in town.

It is because of the wonderful patronage on the part of his customers that he is opening the market, Mr. Cobern said. There was no market in the eastern section of town until the new market was opened. Already containing equipment equal to any other local market, he said there would be deep freeze units delivered this week which will enable him to [illegible] and so [illegible]

PERRY RIFFE SELLS MAPLESVILLE CAFE

Perry R. Riffe reported last Saturday that he had sold the Maplesville Cafe and that the new management would be in possession as of last Sunday.

The cafe is located next to the Wadesonian Theatre and is the latest building to be constructed in the local business district. Mr. Riffe said he had another position awaiting him but could not disclose his future commitments at this time.

Removing the excess fat in the meat drippings will assure good gravy. An easy way to do this is to add an ice cube to the thickened gravy; the fat will harden when it adheres to the cube. Remove teh ice cube and reheat the gravy before serving.

REV. GILBERT LOSES WALLET WITH $160.00

The Rev. Clayton Gilbert, pastor of the Maplesville Baptist Church, lost his wallet containing about $160. At tre time of his loss, he said he was in a telephone booth in Birmingham checking with various stores on furniture for his local residence. He had taken his billfold from his pocket for a piece of paper on which to write the address of a certain store, and it was then that he must have misplaced his billfold.

Then late last week he received a package through the U. S. mails containing his wallet. . . .but no money. All other personal papers including his marriage license were left in the wallet mailed from Birmingham. It was with excitement that he opened the package, and he said he was thankful that he received the wallet and the personal papers which were of sentimental value to him.

First Count of Votes in Our Great Baby Contest Shown Today

THE PRIZES

FIRST PRIZE	$125.00
SECOND PRIZE	75.00
THIRD PRIZE	50.00
FOURTH PRIZE	25.00
FIFTH PRIZE	15.00
SIXTH PRIZE	10.00

The first list of votes cast in our Great Baby Contest will be found on another page of today's NEWS, and that, very likely, will be the first page most of our readers will turn to. Everyone hereabouts is becoming excited about our great little baby race, and this interest will become keener as the little ones drive ahead for the gold and glory that awaits the winners at the end of his appealing competition.

The voting this week is composed mostly of coupon votes cut from our newspaper, although in a few instances, several of the little suger-plums have started the ball rolling by including votes secured on subscriptions they turned in recently.

The same opportunity exists for all the supporters of the little ones. All that is needed is a few subscriptions either renewals or new subsrriptions, to elevate your baby into a commanding position in this great race. Subscriptions are all around you and can be had for the asking. If no votes make their appearance for your baby, we will know, of course, that you have decided to make no effort to capture one of our valuable prizes together with the prestige that will accompany it.

The list of contestants is so large that it is rather confusing for our readers, to determine just who to vote for. They have their favorite, surely, but they hesitate to vote for the baby unless they know that the parents are going to make an active effort to bring about victory for their little one. If they see no votes appearing for the baby, they naturally believe no effort will be made, in which case they would give it to some baby that is showing a little activity.

That's a very normal reaction, those votes are valuable, especially where a baby's interests are concerned, and they don't want to waste them. So, in order to clearify the situation, as soon as we learn where the interest lies, we will drop from the list the little ones for whom no effort is to be made. Then the public can give their support to some little sweetheart knowing that it will help the baby on to victory and that Ma and Pa will appreciate it greatly.

It will very likely come as a surprise to many of the parents to realize that others are sending in votes for their baby without any solicitation whatever. This certainly should be a matter of much satisfaction and pride to the parents of the little ones thus favored, and it should instantly stir them into activity in their baby's behalf. Surely you are not going to sit idly by and see others voting for your baby without you, yourselves, putting your shoulders to the wheel and help the good work along.

The big 5,000 extra vote bonus given on each one year subscription turned in during the period ending August 4th, gives you the opportunity to hoist baby into a position of prominence which will give you much personal satisfaction, and at the same time, encourage the baby's admirers to continue their support; step out and pick up a couple of subscriptions, send them in to be voted, and see your baby right up in a forward position; that's where it belongs.

The big bonus we referred to above, is good until the 4th and as it is the largest bonus that will be given during the life of the contest, you should take the greatest possible advantage of it.

Some of our workers may be inclined to withhold their subscriptions in order to not let everyone know what they are doing, or how many votes their baby has. No doubt but what that is good politics, so in order that you can turn in your business promptly, we have arranged to issue the votes due on subscriptions in the form of a certificate. These certificate votes you can hold until the last day of the contest if you wish, or you may vote them along as you think feasible, but remember, as long as they are in your possession, no credit will be given the baby in the voting published from week to week in our paper.

This is so you can conduct your campaign as you think best without allowing your competitors to know what you are doing or how many votes your baby may have. We think this is a splendid idea and is at once your protection and assurance that when the last day arrives no one will have the advantage of knowing how many votes any baby has, or have any knowledge of how many votes their baby will have to have in order to capture that

INTEREST IN RACE FOR MAYOR GROWS

A little more interest in the Mayor's race that will take place on September 20th, is shown on the streets of Clanton these days. Until now interest has been nil but within the past week things have begun to stir.

Mr. Will Culp, it is rumored, is a sure candidate for the office. It is reported that he is likely to be out at the post office this fall and he is willing to accept the responsibilities of the City Government if it is the peoples' wish for him to serve.

Several of the leading citizens have been putting pressure on R. C. Williams to make the race. R. C. is a busy man and hasn't said definitely whether he would or would not make the race for Mayor. He will issue a statement within the next week or two.

Reports contiune that Mr. J. B. Atkinson may be a candidate. He was mayor of Clanton back in 1925 or '27. He too, has failed to say whether he would definitely make the race.

Whoever makes the race for mayor had better start running. The election will be held on September 20th—the third Monday. Qualification date ends 20 days prior to election—September 1st.

POPLAR SPRINGS COMMUNITY CLUB

We want to again remind the public that they are invited to be at Mrs. Charlie Hand's home for the ice cream supper on Wednesday night, August 4th.

WORK TO START ON NEW BRIDGE

According to a report from Mayor Leo Thompson the long awaited construction will start on a new bridge over the L & N tracks the first of August.

The new bridge, located on Fourth Avenue just off U. S. 31, will be constructed of teel and concrete and will be a most modern affair. Attention is called by the Mayor's office that traffic will have to be rerouted during the construction of the new bridge and all automobile drivers are urged to be extra careful of traffic rules and regulations so as to keep our traffic record clean. This rerouting of traffic into Second Avenue will throw an extra heavy load on this thoroughfare thus creating extra traffic hazards.

Construction is to be completed in 120 days.

COST CHEAP FOR FENCE POSTS AT COUNTY CREOSOTING PLANT

Many people of Chilton County are taking advantage of the creosote plant recently put in operation at the County High School. This plant is really a community service, and the agricultural department does not limit its use to any particular group. The people of Chilton County have a real service in this plant and every one interested in creosoting fence post, lumber, and other material is invited to visit the plant.

The cost of treating fence post four inches in diameter and 7 feet in length is 25 cents and 3 cents for peeling the green pine post. Lumber is treated for thirty dollars per thousand. This plant can give service on timber up to thirty feet in length. The material treated at this plant is protected against decay, and insect attack, so do not overlook this chance of having your timber creosoted at a dow to earth price. —W. A. LeCroy.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY FROM DEFEAT

Many an old Democrat walks with his head bowed low these days and wonders what has happened to the spirit of unity and vision which once marked the party of the people, the creators of substance from chaos and the bulwark against a tide of narrow Republican nationalism.

Echoes from Philadelphia sound of discontent and defeat. Without regard for a congressional record which lifted the nation from a blanketing depression, guided it successfully into an era of internationalism and defeated the threat of Hitler's world slave state, members of the Democratic party have apparently rejected all hope of victory and have degenerated into a well of petty jealousies and bitter bickering.

All thought of compromise has been thrust aside in the major battle over civil rights by bolting Southerners who proclaim that their way is Heaven's own way and that they will leave the party before budging an inch.

Bouyed on a halatosis of hate breathed from such quarters as Horace C. Wilkinson of Birmingham who mouthed, ". . . any representative . . . who subscribes to the idea that racial minorities have the right to vote equally with all citizens is misrepresenting Alabama." Bolting Alabama delegates refuse to even do battle for the South's position on states rights and clarify Southern socialogical problems to northern delegates.

This action is not in keeping with the party of the people and true Democrats will do well to remember the actions of these renegades.

If present indications hold true and spell defeat for the Democratic party in November elections, then there is yet the chance that victory will emerge from defeat in a cleansing and reformation of the ranks.

Today the people's party has need of new blood, active campaigners, bold and determined leadership in all quarters regrouped on a framework of existing party progressives. Especially is this true of the South.

The nation and the world are in a stage of crisis. A paramount need exists for a program of positive action leading toward harmony in both domestic and foreign affairs. In the past the Democratic party has proved to be the source of such stalwart and inspirational direction. The record proves that.

If that inspiration is to continue to flow from Democratic sources, the party must reject those who oppose rights of free men to join in healthy competition in welding a framework of action. Southern bolters seek no constructive move from the party. Their obvious aim is its destruction. The Dixons, McCorveys and Wilkinsons will suffer painful disappointment if an excuse is not presented for their followers to flee the ranks.

The present battle for the presidency is important, but more important is the health and welfare of a political unit destined to serve this nation again and again with the rock-jawed idealism of practical humanitarian rights.

When delegates return from Philadelphia it is to be hoped that they take back to their states and counties a determination to carry a battle for progress forward in national and international affairs under banners of Democratic leadership. Their heritage is no small one. This is not the time to wallow in defeatism and negative attitudes. Only one course exists, and that course leads to victory—the preservation of Democratic gains over the past sixteen years and the way to greater accomplishments. — Montgomery Examiner.

PARABLE OF THE SOWER

"The Good Ground Hearer"

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

In our study of the Parable of the Sower, we will today consider the "Good Ground Hearer." — Luke 8:15. Jesus said, "But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the Word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience." Please not that our Lord concludes this Parable with an optimistic note. While many who hear the Word of Truth allows the devil, sin, weakness, and worldliness to hinder the growth of the power of the Word of God in their lives, yet there will be many human hearts who will heartily receive the Word of Truth, and cherish it enough to keep it; and in their keeping it, the Word keeps them from falling. They are those who delight themselves in the Law of the Lord, and in his law they meditate day and night. They are like trees planted besides the rivers of water, bringing forth their fruit in season; their leaves do not wither, and whatsoever they do, they prosper. Bringing forth fruit, thirty, sixty, and hundred fold.

The good ground hearer represent the people who hear the Word of the Gospel, they are convicted of their sins; then they repent of all their sins, and turn wholeheartily to the Lord, consecrating their lives and serve to Him, and His cause. They dig down deep till founded on a firm foundation. They are the ones that assumes responsibility in the Church, and carry forth the program of the work of Christ, and his commission in spreading the Gospel to all the world. They are not bent on mere money-making, and other low pursuits in life, but on the attainment of wisdom, holiness and righteousness. Mary of Bethany, with her devoted love, and her generous friendship is an example of a "good ground hearer." The Centurion Cornelius, with his fervent piety, and his noble generosity toward a despised and hated race, is another example of a good ground hearer. Barnabas, with his splendid liberality, his noble spirit of unselfishness, his bright, loving trust in human nature, and the manifestation of real love for his fellowman, bearing all things, and hoping all things, and enduring all things, is another example of the "good ground hearer."

These men and women not only heard the Word, but kept it. When the Word of God is received in an honest and good heart, it is not stolen by satan, nor starved or choked by the things of this world.

There are in our churches today four kinds of hearers. Those who have allowed themselves to become hardened by the cares of this life, till they are too superficial in their experience to understand and to appreciate the deeper Truths of God's Words; and those who enthusiastically say, "Amen," but lose their shout when the going is hard. Such you cannot depend on. They change as often as the weather, more often than the seasons. But there are those who are eager to know more about Christ and His teaching in order to make progress in their spiritual life, and to further the cause of Christ and His Kingdom on earth, this kind is the good ground hearer. You do not have to worry about a "good ground hearer" falling from grace.

NOTE: Next week we will study the Parable of Wheat and Tares!

ALABAMA * * * * HIGHLIGHTS

Exactly 30 years to the day after Alabama's admittance to the Union as the 23rd state, December 14, 1819, a fiery celebration took place on Goat Hill in Montgomery—the state capitol building was gutted by fire.

The celebrated baritone, Lawrence Tibbett, while in Birmingham for a concert sometime ago chanced to visit the A. H. Parker High School for Negroes. Later he wrote his impression in an article "Along the Glory Road." In the article, published by the American Magazine, Tibbett said: "I have heard magnificent symphony orchestras that left me weak in my chair, famous singers who raised my blood pressure almost to the point of apoplexy, but I have never been so shaken emotionally as I was by 1,500 Negro children singing in a high school auditorium in Birmingham."

Before the little town of Slapout was officially proclaimed, its citizens were subjected to a great deal of controversy as to an appropriate name. Finally, after numerous suggestions were thwarted, the people of the little village ran "slapout" of names, but the solution was near at hand. One of the citizens made the motion that they give up and name it Slapout, Ala. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Troy could be called the "City of Many Names." In the early days, while it was still an Indian hunting ground, it was Deer Stand to the Redman. Then came the first white settlers, and the site became known as Zebulon. Later, Zebulon was changed to Centreville. Finally, it was named Troy in honor of Alexander Troy.

Alabama in 1901 became the first state in the nation to establish a history department under the executive branch of government through legislative enactment. The state received this distinction with the founding of the present Department of Archives and History. Many states have since followed suit.

When a shift in population made necessary the removal of the state capitol at Tuscaloosa to another point in Alabama, a clamor was set up by various towns, all wishing to be chosen as the next seat of government. The first ballot taken stood Tuscaloosa, 39; Wetumpka, 28; Mobile, 6; Montgomery, 33; Statesville, 2; Selma, 9; Marion, 4; and Huntsville, 6. A majority of the votes cast were necessary to arrive at a choice. It was not until the 16th ballot that Montgomery received 68 votes and was announc-

HIGHLAND

Our Sunday and preaching services were well attended Sunday. Bro. Deason brought a good message at the eleven o'clock worship hour.

We were proud to have the visitors.

Our revival begins the third Sunday in August. Rev. Paul Oden will be with us to bring the messages. Bro. Oden is a wonderful preacher and speaker. His messages are always clear, powerful and understandable.

Let's pray sincerely and earnestly that God will bless us and that there may be a real revival in the hearts of the people and that those who are lost might take Christ into their hearts.

There is too much greed, distrust, jealousy and envy in the hearts of the people these days. The need is more of God's love in the hearts and that these things will be replaced with forebearance, kindness and humbleness. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."—Matt. 5:8.

We invite everyone to be with us in our study and worship services each Sunday. You have have a special invitation to be with us during our revival. Keep in mind the date—third Sunday in August.—Reporter

LIME FOR WINTER LEGUMES

Use lime where winter legumes are grown to improve the soil, on pastures where clovers are included in the mixtures, and where alfalfa is to be grown. Remember that over-liming on some soils may cut crop yields. Lack of lime will certainly cut yields of most crops.

TIMBER PRODUCTION CAN BE INCREASED

The question has been asked: "Can Alabama double her production of timber?"

I. R. Martin, Extension Service forester, says experimental plots at the Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station, Auburn, prove that the state's everage yield of four-tenths of a cord per acre per year can be increased four times by a well managed forestry program.

SEED OATS

Farmers who don't have seed oats should get them as soon as possible. Don't forget to treat seed oats for smut with commercial seed treatments according to the manufacturer's directions or use formaldehyde treatment, explains J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist.

Lot of people have different kinds of foot trouble, such as, athelete feet, bunions, crooked toes, corns, etc. This foot doctor will be at the office once a week and will examine the employees feet free. I think we are very fortunate people, because not everybody have the same opportunity that we do.

Jungles of New Guinea Still Defy Patrols

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—Even after 64 years of German and Australian rule, large chunks of the mountains and jungles of the New Guinea trust territory, one of 10 subjected lands under United Nations supervision, have never yet come under the white man's control.

Reporting that problem to the U. N. trusteeship council in the first answer by an administering power to written cross-examination, Australia revealed that some 30 per cent of the primitive area had not even been touched by patrols, as of 1941 reckonings.

Of the territory's 93,000 square miles, 38,790 were then under "complete control" of the government, 11,070 under "administration influence," 9,220 under "partial influence," and 6,060 "penetrated by patrols."

Aussies Answer Criticism

Australia's 24-page document replied to searching Council questions on its first annual report of administration to the U. N. The one subject unanswered was the criticism of a projected "administrative union" with Australia's adjacent Papua territory, which will be handled separately. The council has decided to take up the case again.

While New Guinea was self-supporting before the war and the Japanese occupation, Australia replied to a Chinese question that rehabilitation costs would exceed receipts for many years. For 1946-'47 revenue of Papua-New Guinea was 464,006 pounds, expenditure was 2,303,370 pounds. The commonwealth government provided a grant of 2,018,673 pounds and 234,344 pounds for special services.

Assist Natives With Loans

To American questions on aid to natives' economic projects, Australia replied that the department of post-war reconstruction provides gifts and loans, including seeds, planting material and advice by competent Europeans on native cash crops.

In Copra, natives on most coastal areas have at least 20 bearing trees per village unit. Arabian coffee has been grown at an experimental station, and highland natives have been encouraged to plant small coffee plots, with the government buying produce.

The government has planted small tea crops for native owners. It is carrying out research and surveys aimed at establishing native cocoa projects. Rice seed has been distributed. Free vegetable seed has been given to natives who wish to grow European vegetables near the larger centers for sale to local Europeans.

Father Brands His Son, 24, As Thief in Crowded Courtroom

NEW YORK.—As tears streamed from his eyes, a father stood in a crowded courtroom and pressed a grand larceny charge against his son whom on six previous occasions he had saved from a possible jail sentence by making good on money allegedly stolen by the 24-year-old youth.

The latter, Thomas Sexton, 24, North Bergen, N. J., stole two of his mother's coats, a mink coat valued at $2,700, the other a $350 fur jacket. He had been arraigned in felony court as fugitive from justice and then brought to a higher court for extradition proceedings after his father, William, signed a complaint alleging the theft of his wife's apparel.

Arraigned before Judge John A. Mullen, the youth was said to have been arrested repeatedly since 1941. In 1941 he was sentenced to five years for grand larceny but execution of sentence was suspended after his father had made restitution for the money stolen. Other offenses, his record showed, included passing worthless checks and stealing mail from mail boxes.

As they stood side by side before Judge Mullen, the father turned to his son and asked: "Why won't you be a good boy?"

"I will if you'll give me just one more chance," he replied.

The father remained mute and Judge Mullen put the youth in the custody of the North Bergen police.

Thorsby Institute News—

Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Hart returned from their vacation trip Friday. They spent one week with Miss Lois C. Leech and her sisters in Demorest, Ga. Mrs. Davison has been spending some time with them also.

Sgt. O. D. Walker, class of '46, is now located in Japan, and is in a special training school.

Some reasons why young people feel that a boarding school is better than a day school.

"I can learn much better to take care of myself.

I learn faster.

It teaches me to depend upon myself.

It saves considerable time in getting to from school and we get much more done.

It would take a day school two years to give me the standards that this school has given in seven months.

The teachers help us with our lessons which our parents cannot do.

I can learn much better to study and to concentrate on my studies."

Miss Paralee Henson, a graduate of T. I., was recently married to Mr. Charles W. Bethany. They are living in Decatur, Ala.

Mr. Don Primm, class of '45, has returned to Washington, D.C., where he is attending the Capitol Radio Engineering Institute.

The Parents' Magazine, which is widely known, has the following in reference to private schools.

One of the great handicaps under which parents and high school teachers are now laboring is that our urban civilization cannot offer the regular self-disciplinary and character-building chores of the rural life of even twenty years ago. Formerly parents had the help of natural conditions and many household and farm chores in rearing their children. But now teachers and parents are almost overwhelmed by modern enrichments as movies, radios, soda fountains and dance halls—all wholesome enough in proper proportion and under proper supervision, but all competing for time with more purposeful but less exciting studies and activities.

"The last phase of the adolescent transition from child to adult has proved the most difficult one to manage in the modern small family," says Dorothy Canfield Fisher in her book "Our Young Folks." She also points out that our youth need 'very much more skill and practice in group living than day schools have ever been able to give their students."

The boarding school for adolescents is planned to meet the needs of that age. Most parents are not as able to cope with adolescence as they are with the younger years, and a worried or unwise parent in this period can do a good deal of harm, for parental authority does not "sit well." Also, father and mother frequently disagrees as to what is the wise procedure, and this disagreement often encourages the adolescent to play one parent against the other.

Your correspondent regrets that there was no Thorsby news in last week's paper, due to the fact that she was on vacation and failed to get someone to write in her stead while away.

Miss Naemi Turnquist returned Saturday from a two weeks vacation spent in Georgia. One week was spent with a niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ehrnesperger, at Bartletts Ferry Dam on a beautiful lake about 20 miles out from Columbus, Ga. Mr. Ehrnesperger, who is employed by the Georgia Power Company, was sent there from Atlanta on a temporary job and it proved to be a delightful spot for a vacation. From there she went to Atlanta where she visited the second week with the Berlin family, Mr. and Mrs. Berlin, and their two daughters, Mrs. James Biggs and Mrs. Tom Rogers, who all live in Atlanta. The Berlins are former residents of Thorsby, having left here some 25 years ago. These boys have built up a nice business in the grocery line, and though Mr. Kendrick is no longer connected with this establishment, we hope, that he will continue to live in Thorsby and perhaps open up some line of business in our town.

On last Monday July 19th, Mr. J. A. Ogburn had the pleasure, on special invitation, of attending the 1948 Soil Conservation Tour under the auspices of the Louisiana Bankers Association. This tour took them to Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas and Tennessee. Mr. Ogburn, being an officer in the Alabama Farm Bureau was invited to join the party in Montgomery where they made a tour of a portion of the Black Belt. They visited the leading dairy farms etc. They were entertained royally at a luncheon at one of the biggest farms and later that evening had a big barbecue dinner at Vandergriff's Lodge, all through the courtesy of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce and State Association of Soil Conservation Supervisors. Mr. Ogburn said it was a wonderful trip.

Mrs. Sanders and children of Birmingham (Mary Sue Robinson) arrived Monday night to visit the Bentleys and the Henry Robinsons. Her brother Mr. Tom Robinson and wife are also visiting here from Newbern, N. C., so they are having a sort of family reunion.

It will soon be time for Thorsby folks to go to the polls and indicate who they want for their Mayor and Councilmen again. So better be thinking about it. We think that we have had a body of high spirited, civic minded men such as Thorsby has not had for a good many years. They have worked hard and with such a spirit of cooperation as is not evidenced in every group of men. We know we have seen wonderful results too from their efforts. Wouldn't you like to see the same group re-elected? Think it over.

Chemist Predicts End Of Oil Changes in Autos

BIRMINGHAM, ENG.—Professor Maurice Stacey told the Royal Institute of Chemistry that a new compound will permit automobiles to run a lifetime with no change of oil.

Stacey said the compound is based on fluorine, which eliminates hydrogen from oils and makes them non-inflammable.

Present lubricants have to be changed mainly because they partly burn. With the oil non-inflammable it will be practically everlasting, provided the cars have good oil filters and the lubrication system does not leak, Stacey said.

She was a devoted wife, kind and loving mother, faithful friend, always ready and willing to lend a helping hand in time of need.

She bore her afflictions with patience, never one time complaining. Every thing was done for her that loving hands could do. Her children were kind and good to her, always ready and willing to do everything they possibly could.

HOW TO GROW TWO GOOD WINTER GRAZING CROPS

To succeed with a mixtue of oats and vetch or oats and Austrian peas, plant seed on good, well-prepared cropland. Seed may be planted in cotton or corn middles, or after a hay crop.

J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist, says to plant a mixture of oats and vetch or oats and Austrian peas about August 20 to September 10 in the Tennessee Valley and on Sand Mountain; September 1 to 15 from Auburn to Birmingham; and September 15 to early October in south Alabama.

Lowery recommends that mixtures of oats and vetch or oats and Austrian peas be fertilized in one of the following ways: Apply 700 pounds of 4-10-7, 10 to 14 days before planting and top dress with 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 75 pounds of ammonium sulphate, or 50 pounds of ammonium nitrate; or apply 500 pounds of 0-14-10, 10 to 14 days before planting and top dress with 250 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 200 pounds of ammonium sulphate, or 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate; or apply 400 pounds of superphosphate and 80 pounds of muriate of potash 10 to 14 days before planting and top dress with 250 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 200 pounds of ammonium sulphate, or 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate; or apply 700 pounds of basic slag and 80 pounds of muriate of potash 10 to 14 days before planting and top dress with 250 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 200 pounds of ammonium sulphate, or 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

The rate of seeding suggested by Mr. Lowery is 20 to 25 pounds of smooth hairy vetch, or 30 pounds of Willamette vetch or Austrian peas, plus two to three bushels of oats per acre.

"The two winter grazing mixtures may be planted with a grain drill, one-row planter, [illegible] planter, or broadcast," Lowery adds.

ONE OF FIVE IDEAS COULD MEAN DEATH

It is National Farm Safety Week, but it might well be called National Farm Accident Week.

[illegible] that one out of every 10 farmers [illegible] a disabling injury [illegible] During [illegible] year [illegible] farm residents [illegible] and 205 [illegible] of more than [illegible] farm [illegible] killed by accident every day [illegible] according to records of the National Safety Council.

In case these facts frighten you, Miss Elta Majors, API extension specialist in child care and family life, says that the way to play safe is to avoid all of the accident-inviting ideas.

They are: (1) The "other fellow" idea. Most of us assume that an accident will happen to the other fellow. (2) "Your number's up." Such an attitude leaves no room for individual clear thinking or good judgment. (3) The "law of averages." (4) The "price of progress." (5) The "Spirit of '76." Many people think the courage and daring of our forefathers in risking all for their ideals and purposes is an American tradition to be preserved. It is, but remember this, they learned to fight Indian style rather than take heavy losses incurred in open fighting.

Miss Majors says that farm accidents may be reduced by avoiding the "five accident-inviting ideas" not only during National Farm Safety Week but throughout the years to come.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS SET AREA MEETINGS

Seven one-day meetings are scheduled this month by the Alabama Farm Equipment Association to better acquaint its members with farm mechanization problems.

Educational sessions will be held during the morning on Extension Service work, its history and educational methods, particularly on farm machinery. After lunch a business session will be held, at which time dealer problems and programs will be discussed. After this the group will tour the Alabama Agricultural Experiment Sub-Station or some industry in the vicinity of the meeting.

J. B. Wilson, API extension engineer, explains that Alabama equipment dealers are interested in a sound agricultural program because a prosperous agriculture means good business.

A meeting will be held in Mobile, Ala., July 29th.

Place an inverted glass over the salt container in rainy weather. This will keep your table salt from clogging.

SELL CORN IN HIDE INSTEAD OF IN BAG

Last year one Alabama Agricultural Experiment Sub-Station sold corn through hogs for 25 per cent more cash than if they had sold it in bags.

G. B. Phillips, API extension hog specialist, points out that since the biggest corn crop in the nation's history is predicted for this fall and since meat animal numbers are low, the difference in price of corn sold through hogs and corn sold for cash should be even greater than last year.

To increase the 1948-49 farm income, Phillips urges that corn be sold "in the hide instead of in the bag."

EGGS KEPT COLD AND COVERED STAY FRESH

Eggs need to be kept both cold and covered if they are to keep fresh and in the best condition for eating.

Miss Lavada Curtis, API extension food preservation specialist, urges that eggs be gathered and immediately placed in a refrigerator or other cold place and kept there until used.

She says experiments show that at ordinary room temperature, eggs lose as much freshness in three days as they do in the refrigerator in two weeks.

When eggs are stored in the refrigerator they should be covered for two reasons: To keep them from losing moisture through the porous shell, and to protect them from absorbing odors or off flavors. Instead of keeping them in an open bowl in the refrigerator, put them in a covered dish or one of the closed vegetable containers.

Another tip given by Miss Curtis is not to wash eggs until just before using them. The dull bloom on the shells is a protective film which helps prevent germs and odors from entering the egg through pores of the shell.

Miss Curtis reports that new controlled methods of high temperature egg washing have been developed. "It is best to store eggs to be washed at around 50 degrees so they will not sweat when taken from the cool room," she adds.

PRODUCE MORE SHEEP FOR HIGHER INCOME

Again in 1948, as in previous years, sheep have proven to be one of the most profitable farm enterprises that Alabama farmers engage in.

A. W. Jones, API extension marketing specialist, says that during the marketing season just closed, lambs sold for more than 30 cent and wool for more than 50 cents per pound. The South Alabama Wool Growers Association at Citronelle, serving six Alabama counties and a smaller area in Mississippi, has just completed the sale of their 1948 wool clip amounting to 30,000 pounds. A larger part of this wool graded white and sold for 52½ cents per pound.

Jones admits that the sheep one sees in traveling through the state and the number appearing in a statistical summary seem insignificant. However, he says that the profits they consistently return their owners year after year justify an expanded sheep program in Alabama.

With the world's sheep population in a downward trend and since flocks are the smallest since we began numbering them before 1860, Jones believes that many a farmer would do well to include sheep in his farm program.

SHORT COURSE IS SET FOR SEED PRODUCERS

A short course for seed producers and those who clean and process seed will be held in Auburn, July 26-28.

Representatives from several cleaning equipment manufacturers will display their machines and show the best method of operation. Various types of seed cleaning equipment, including air blast, disk and gravity machines will be on display. Those attending will study types of equipment best suited for a particular job and adjustments and special equipment to be used with cleaners.

Seed producers and processors wishing to attend the short course should immediately notify Charles F. Simmons, head, department of agronomy and soils, API, Auburn.

Sponsors of the short course are the Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

WILL BEAR LONGER

Tomatoes, okra and other long-bearing season crops will hold up better if side-dressed with five pounds of mixed fertilizer and a pint of nitrate of soda, or equal, to 100 feet of row.

Firm Waxy potatoes hold their shape better than the mealy flaky varieties; therefore they are more suited to mak-

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS IN ALABAMA recently include completed plans for the new Agricultural Center in Montgomery. In the top picture is an artist's drawing of the building as it will appear when completed. The $1,750,000 structure will tower as high as a six-story building and is slated to be completed in September, 1949. In the center is Alabama's only lawn mower manufacturer, the Southland Mower Co., Inc., Selma. The firm recently moved into the new and spacious quarters seen in the photo. They have their own foundry where parts for the mowers are made, and the complete operation is performed in Selma. In the lower picture, John F. Allen, Jr., president of the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, is checking a catch in preparation for the annual event which gets underway Aug. 2, on Dauphin Island at the entrance to Mobile Bay. The Rodeo will end Aug. 4.

CANNING PLANT'S PARTICIPATION IN PEACH CROP

Mr. J. A. Beaty, manager of the Agriculture Department, Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, with his family preserved several bushels of choice peaches in the canning plant this week. He also marveled at the other choice products from the county which were finding their way into tin cans for winter consumption. In the afternoon Mr. Beaty was missed, but he soon returned with a bushel of yellow sweet corn which was soon nestled into cans.

On Friday of last week six families canned between 35 and 40 bushels of choice peaches, as well as a variety of other vegetables.

Picturesque peaches from the following farms have been brought to the plant: M. L. White, Clyde Headley, Jack Fuqua, Gertha Jonnson, J. M. Lockhart and Jonn Childress, Mrs. W. C. Robinson and others.

PLANT WINTER LEGUMES

Alabama farmers plant winter legumes to increase the yields of other crops. What they think legumes is shown by the number of acres they plant. Compare the 60 acres planted in 1918 with the 960,000 acres planted in 1947. Between these two dates, it is estimated that winter legumes added a total of $138,000,000 to the Alabama farm income.

BEDDING FOR SOWS

Providing a large amount of bedding for the brood sow is inviting disaster for the pigs as they may be crushed in the bedding when the sow lies down. It is best to provide only a small amount of chopped straw.

GILLILAND HOMECOMING

On last Sunday, July 25th, the Gilliland homecoming met at the old home place in Coosa County. We moved to this place when us oldest children were very small. This old place is where we all spent our childhood days. We can remember a lot of things that happened back in those old days. We can remember how we would go to church in the ox wagon and how us oldest children would walk three miles to Sunday School; and in 1899 the oldest one, W. F. Gilliland, got married.

There were 17 children in all, five of the oldest set and 12 of the youngest set. All lived to be grown and married but one. My father died in 1913 and my step-mother died in 1914. Then the old place was sold. We were all scattered, some in one place, some in another. In 1937 we had our first reunion. We always have a large crowd of brothers and sisters, their children and grandchildren and a lot of old friends met with us.

We always have a good day. We have singing, preaching and talks from different ones. The oldest one we had with us Sunday was Uncle Jim Gilliland, from Bessemer. He is 84 years old.

Before noon we sing a few good old numbers. An uncle led the first prayer. We sure did enjoy uncle Jim being with us. Then we had a short talk from W. F. Gilliland, from Clanton. Dinner was spread down at the old spring where we children use to carry water, which every one enjoyed.

There were about 150 present. After everybody had enjoyed the bountiful dinner, Bro. Luchion Hilyer, from Tallassee, preached a wonderful sermon. which everyone enjoyed.

We are hoping, if it is the Lord's Will, to meet again the fourth Sunday in July, 1949. We invite all of our kinsfolk and friends to come and be with us, and don't forget to pray for us when everything goes well with you. —By W. F. Gilliland, A Subscriber.

Providing bigger stalls for your cows is good business. Comfortable cows produce more milk. They also require fewer replacements because they suffer fewer injuries.

Read the label on your white shoe cleaner to be sure that it is recommended for the type of leather or fabric in your shoes. Generally, white shoe soap is best for smooth leather, because it cleans without drying and hardening the leather; cloth shoes clean better with cleaner that contains whitening material like chalk; while suede or other napped leather should be "powder-cleaned" with one of the buffer bags or chalk-like material.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An event of interest to the very young set was that of Thursday afternoon when little Miss Judith Anne Agee celebrated her first birthday. Many little friends bearing mysterious packages all tied with ribbons and bows, called from three to five o'clock to wish her happiness on her birthday.

Judy isn't very big, but she made up for her small size by her large interest in all that took place as she and her friends played with the favors of gay colored balloons and animal candies.

A highlight of the occasion was when the photographer came and made pictures of every one, including the lovely white birthday cake, with its pink rose and one brightly burning candle.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake was served to the guests by Mrs. Bill Agee. Assisting her were Misses Jean Lawrence and Nanette Nivens.

Among those enjoying this delightful party were: Sonny and Minnie Mae Swanner, Joe Knight, Ken Wayne McKee, Pat Baker, Henry and Carolyn Moore, Pat, Mary, Martha Kate and Kenneth Franks and Judith Anne Agee.

Mrs. Dave Moore, Mrs. Erskin Baker, Mrs. Coy, Gibbons and Photographer Feryl, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Mckee, Mr. and Mrs. Nix and Mrs. Lawrence.

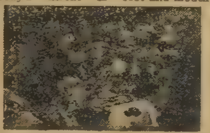
HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

A SERIOUS MENACE ACROSS THE BORDER



Cattle killed in foot and mouth disease outbreak.

Every livestock owner in the United States should appoint himself a "committee of one" to help guard against today's threat of foot-and-mouth disease from across the Mexican border.

As long as a single infected cow remains in Mexico, herds in this country will never be secure. Many thousands of Mexican cattle now carry the infection, and the campaign to check the outbreak in that country is far from being completed.

In spite of the quarantine of the outbreak area and the United States' ban on livestock imports from Mexico, there is danger that the plague may somehow leap across the border.

Migratory birds or other wildlife may carry the virus, according to veterinary authorities. It may be carried on the clothing of farm workers or other persons. Animals or animal products may get through, in spite of all precautions.

Because of these risks, American farmers are urged to be suspicious when symptoms appear involving the mouth or feet of farm animals, and to call the nearest veterinarian or livestock health official at once.

At least four other diseases cause symptoms so closely resembling those of foot-an-mouth disease that only a veterinarian can tell them apart. Instant action in identifying the true cause of trouble is the greatest safeguard, because foot-and-mouth disease spreads like wildfire. It has been known to jump from one herd to 20 herds in two days.

Foot-and-mouth disease, even when it is not fatal, destroys the economic value of an animal. It affects not only cattle but also swine, sheep and goats.

big prize or any of the other ones. That will prevent any last minute speculation which might be in evidence were the exact vote known up to that time. The honor of winning, and the prizes which will accompany them are intended as a reward for effort, popularity and personality. That's the way it should be and the way it will be right up to the end of the contest.

The campaign is now fairly underway. It is not too late to nominate your baby now and start on an equal footing with all the others. Don't hesitate any longer, however. The nomination coupon will be withdrawn soon and then it will be too late to compete. The preceeding week has been largely spent in getting organized and securing the material we have for you, so that you can use your effort intelligently. The campaign is now on and it will be brought to a close Saturday evening, September 11.

Notice the expiration on the voting coupon and see that it reaches our office before the date on it expires. The date will be extended from week to week so you will have ample time to get them here before they become void.

Let us send you one of our little receipt books. You will find all necessary information on the cover and it will permit you to give a receipt for any you get. We will also be glad to send you a list of our subscribers in your particular territory. This list gives the date of expiration and it will be of much assistance, as very few people will be able to tell you offhand, where their subscription expires even though it is on their label every week—we are all in the same boat in this peculiar quirk of human nature. Send for this "aid to victory," you will find it will facilitate your effort wonderfully.

30,000 Bonus Votes Given In Our Thrilling Baby Campaign

When you scan the late voting in today's issue, you will begin to realize what an exciting, interesting affair, our Baby Campaign is developing into

A large number of the little ones are beginning to step out after one of our nice prizes and it becomes evident that from now until the close of the contest, Saturday, September 11th, you are going to see some strenuous efforts being put forth for a large number of the little sweethearts whose names appear in the list. It's for the babies, you know, and none of the workers are going to permit their little favorite to suffer defeat without a struggle.

The race has been clarified considerably by dropping all the babies for whom no votes are being received There will be a further reduction next week when we are going to drop all the little ones for whom no subscription has been turned in, so be advised, if you want your baby to take part in this appealing little race, see that a subscription has been turned in for it immediately.

It must be apparent to everyone that the mere collecting of coupons cut from the NEWS will never capture any prizes, some little work must be done along subscription lines if the baby is to be successful. If the parents will not take up the cudgel in their baby's behalf it might as well be withdrawn from the competition thereby clearing the way for the ones who are really active.

Now that the competition has started in real earnest, and in order to give the late starters the same opportunity of securing the same vote value for their subscriptions, we are today announcing another splendid bonus that we know you all will appreciate; here it is.

Beginning immediately and effective until Wednesday evening August 18th we will give a bonus of 30,000 extra votes, in addition to the regular schedule votes, on all clubs of $12.00 worth of subscriptions turned in at our office during this period. This gives you two weeks in which to secure the amount of subscriptions to complete a club and we know anyone interested in the victory of their little honeybunch, will have no trouble in completing at least one of these clubs. At the worst it will only take 6 one-year subscriptions to make it of course, if you can pick up a 2-year subscription, that will make it simpler.

It will not be necessary to hold your subscriptions until you have completed your club. You can send them to our office and we will keep a careful record of them and when they have reached the amount of the club a certificate for the 30,000 bonus vote will be given you

This is your great opportunity. If you have been a little lax in your efforts heretofore, or if you are one of the late starters, here is your chance to make your little one an immediate factor in this great campaign and elevate it into a position of prominence from, which it will be difficult to remove the baby during the balance of the contest

What do you think of the lovely baby pictures we are showing?

We have received a great many compliments since they began to appear, but that will seem as nothing when our readers feast their eyes on the sweet little faces of the numerous pictures we will publish from now until September 11th, when this thrilling affair comes to a close.

If your baby's picture has not made its appearance up to the present, please don't become impatient with us. They will all be shown before this affair comes to a close. We try to run them in the rotation in which they were received.

Now all together; make this big bonus period your most profitable one of the whole race; these 30,000 extra votes will loom very large in the ultimate success of your sweetheart, be assured of that and do your level best while it is effective

If you make a club early in the period, don't sit down and rest on your oars and be satisfied with one club. Make two of them if you possibly can. If you do, you will be another 30,000 votes ahead of the ones who make only one club.

EFFORT TO AVOID WAR

About the best check-up on the situation in Europe, where the Russian blockade of Berlin continues, is the statement of Secretary of State George C. Marshall, who insists that "we will not be coerced or intimidated" and adds that we "will proceed to invoke every possible resource of negotiation and diplomatic procedure to reach an acceptable solution to avoid the tragedy of war for the world."

The net result of the Secretary's remarks is that the United States will stand on its rights but that it will seek to avoid war. This, apparently, puts the question back in the sians want to risk war over the possession of Berlin.

THE DRAFT BEGINS IN OCTOBER

For the second time in its history, the United States will shortly begin to draft men for the armed services in time of peace.

The first peace-time draft began on September 16, 1940, and the second is expected to begin operating around October 1st. Prior to that time, the armed services will accept 161,000 eighteen-year-olds for a short-term, one-year hitch. By enlisting these men will avoid a twenty-one-month draft period later but, after one year's service, they will be required to spend approximately six years in an organized reserve.

State directors of the selective service machinery have been set up and from, 12,000 to 20,000 persons must be appointed to the draft boards in the various states before registration begins at the end of next month.

The appointment of these selective service officers is very important because in their hands will be the application of the law. They will have the power to determine who will go into the armed forces and who will be excused. It is a position of high trust, requiring men of considerable ability, intelligence and integrity.

It is expected that 9,600,000 persons between the ages of nineteen and twenty-six years will register and that about 600,000 young men will be eligible for the draft.

The age-priority system is favored by many military men on the ground that it will permit the selective service system to reach the older registrants before they exceed the maximum age limit and pass on to the safe ineligibility of twenty-six years.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

The new bridge over the L. & N. tracks on the Maplesville Highway is now under construction. Believe it or not the work has started. In less time than you think we will have a wide, new, modern structure in the place where you have been thinking you would fall through every time you drove across it. For the time being you will have to use Second Avenue into the city and Mayor Thompson cautions all drivers to be doubly careful to obey all traffic rules and regulations to keep down accidents. He also calls attention to a report that has been issued by the State Department of Public Safety that reports no increase in fatal automobile accidents in the county this year for the first six months. While the record of no increases is good the Mayor thinks that a decrease would be much better—drive carefully and help preserve life and property, won't you?

According to the Mayor and City Council there is going to be an election in Clanton on September 20th. Whether anybody qualifies as a candidate or not.

The local Kiwanis Club is busy showing other Kiwanis Clubs in the District why Chilton County Peaches are Tops. Last Thursday a group of Kiwanians along with our Peach Queen, Peggy Ramsey, were guests at the East Tallassee Club and this Thursday (today) they are guests of the Alexander City Club. Those furnishing the entertainment and attending were: Miss Ramsey, Suan Powers, Grady Heflin, Jr., Mrs. Carlisle Miller, Joe Mullins, Jr., Henry Adair, Jimmy McDow, Joe Campbell, Cecil Ramsey, Cecil Carlton, Charlie Patterson, Buddy Willingham, Houston Nivens, J. C. Parr, Jerry Bodden and Dick Arnold.

We have two large pictures of navy boats and two pictures of sailors for Mr. Cooper A. Scott and Mr. Fonza I. Popwell here at the office if the; care to call around for them.

B. N. Studdard, Distributor for Gulf Products, doesn't let any grass grow under his feet when it comes to progress. When Ben slows up to get a deep breath, he grabs a paint bucket. Recently he painted (now don't get us wrong. We don't mean he painted them) both his big gasoline trucks and they look like new. Dresses up the appearance of his plant down in South Clanton where we pass mornings, noon, and night.

We got a thousand compliments for Horace Popwell's peaches that we took to the Governor's Mansion last week. Just for the fun of it we picked one at random off the top of the hamper and it weighed 13 ounces. Some of the larger ones must have weighed over a pound. But what we started to say was, everybody who saw the peaches remarked that they were the finest that they had ever seen, anywhere.

For such a short life the O. P. Klinner & Sons Furniture Company has changed hands a mighty lot. The present owners, bought it recently from "Chick" Fiquette and Kenyon Meeks. Before that it was operated by Morrison, Fiquette and Meeks. Truman Luker and Mr. Harrelson of Montgomery organized the store about three years ago. Then it was known as the Luker-Harrelson. Mr. Harrelson sold his share to Ralph Morrison and later Mr. Luker sold his holdings to Mr. Morrison—it became the Morrison Furniture Company. The next owners called it the Quality Furniture Co. Now it is the O. P. Klinner & Son Furniture Co., and Mr. O. P. Klinner is the owner.

Construction is coming along fine on the Wade property on Second Avenue just East of the railroad. Understand the new buildings will house the Alabama Power Company and the City Grocery. An entirely new business will be established in the building now occupied by the Power Company offices and the City Grocery. We understand quite a bit of remodelling will also be done there.

GET READY TO PLANT PERMANENT PASTURES

Permanent pastures, Alabama's biggest crop, use about 3,035,000 acres of cropland and exceed the corn acreage by a little over one-third million acres.

D. R. Harbor, API extension agronomist, says that these figures show how important pastures are to Alabama's livestock industry. Harbor warns, however, that much of this acreage is not producing maximum returns because of lack of good preparation, fertilization, seeding, and management.

The Alabama Experiment Station, along with thousands of farmers who conducted demonstrations for the Extension Service, found that yields of beef, milk, and pork can be increased with good pasture management.

Harbor says that now is the time to start a well-managed pasture program. For success, he recommends the following: Use moist, fertile, bottom land; prepare land by turning and harrowing to form a firm seed bed; apply the right amount of lime; use right kind and amount of fertilizer; and use the right seed mixture planted the right way at the right time.

The local county agent can give you complete information on increasing or establishing a permanent pasture on your farm.

The next time you are making sandwiches, slip the knife with which you are slicing tomatoes into an onion several times while slicing each tomato. This will give a delicate onion flavor, but the onion taste will not be strong enough to be unpleasant.

WATCH OUT FOR PROFIT STEALING SCREW WORMS

Each year Alabama livestock producers have to keep on the watch for profit-stealing screw worms.

Every summer they come into Alabama from Florida by natural migration and are often trucked into the state ahead of the migration. Already this year they have been trucked into Sumter County. From here and other points of arrival they wil spread to other sections of the state until cold weather kills them.

Screw worms are very painful to animals, as they feed on live animal tissue rather than dead. Very often screw worms cause so much damage and pain that animals re seriously injured or killed.

To control screw worms, W. H. Gregory, API extension livestock specilist, says to examine livestock every week if possible and treat all wounds thoroughly with Smear 62. He warns that live maggots should not be scraped out onto the ground.

To help you identify the screw worm, Gregory describes it as follows: The adult is a fly twice as large as a housefly. It is blue-green with three black stripes on its back. The head is reddish-yellow. Eggs are laid near a new wound or drop of blood. "Maggots cause a bad odor and a wet area around the wound," Gregory adds.

WINTER GRAZING

Here are some examples of how much farmers have increased their winter grazing acreage in Alabama. In 1937, there were very few Caley peas. In 1947, farmers planted almost 200,000 acres. The acreage of crimson clover for grazing increased from over 27,000 acres in 1943, to over 42,000 acres last year. The acreage of crimson clover and small grain or grass mixture for grazing has increased from over 20,000 acres in 1943, to nearly 50,000 acres. The acreage of small grain mixtures increased from over 79,000 acres in 1943, to over 115,000 acres in 1947.

CAKED FERTILIZER

Farmers find that caked fertilizer can be restored to usable condition by grinding with a farm grinder. The old-fashioned burr mills seem to do the best job.

SUDDEN CHANGES

Sudden changes of feed are bad for brood sows, milk cows, laying hens and fat cattle. Even changing from one batch of hay to another has been known to cause trouble. Make all changes gradually.

SEED

Seed production has increased rapidly within recent years to become Alabama's third important cash crop. Last year, over 19,000,000 pounds of legume seed were harvested. The seed crops were planted on farms where good use of harvesting machinery could be made

PROTECT CATTLE

To protect cattle from flies and other external parasites, spray with one pound of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder added to four gallons of water.

Textbooks

Textbooks are furnished by the State throughout elementary school. The pupil ordinarily buys supplies and supplementary materials. In the junior high schools, a uniform course of study has been outlined so that all schools in the county will be using the same texts and be following the same procedures. Following is a list of the textbooks to be used in junior high schools this year:

JR. I—Geography of Lands Overseas, Old Europe and Our Nation, Junior English in Action—Book I, The Stanford Speller, Appreciating Literature, Understanding Our Environment, Health Progress, Mathematics in Action—Book I.

JR. II—American History (Wilson-Lamb), Geography of a Working World, Junior English in Action—Book II, The Stanford Speller, Understanding Literature, Understanding Our World, Modern Ways to Health, Mathematics in Action—Book II.

JR. III—Calling All Citizens, Citizenship and Voting in Alabama, History of Alabama for Junior High Schools, English in Action, Course I, Third Edition; The Stanford Speller, Interpreting Literature, Understanding the Universe, Life and Health, Everyday Mathematics. Vocational Agriculture in schools with departments.

Pupils of senior high schools are urged to contact their principals at the schools before the opening day of school to arrange their courses for the year. This will enable them to spend more time and the principal will be able to spend more time with them in arranging courses to the greatest advantage of the student. Book lists may be obtained in his office. All pulpis in both junior and senior high schools are urged to purchase books if possible before school starts.

The school lunch program will begin under the same program it ended under last year. If any change occurs, it will be after November 1st. School lunchrooms found it very hard to operate last year due to the increase in the cost of foods. The public is urged to assist these oragnizations in every way possible in order that they continue to operate. They have become a definite part of the school program, and should one be forced to discontinue, it would seriously cripple the school.

The public is also urged to cooperate in the matter of school transportation. Buses are seriously overcrowded, which makes it impossible for them to carry anyone but pupils and school personnel. The laws of the State prohibit others from using them. The public can co-operate by not asking the driver for a ride. He is a neighbor and would like to accommodate but is under strict orders to haul only pupils, teachers and lunchroom workers. The public can also assist in this big job of school transportation by helping to report bus trouble.

Patrons are urged to co-operate with the Board by using the nearest school to you that your children can attend. Each community wants to keep its school, with as many teachers as possible. This can be done only when the people of the community co-operate by using their school. Therefore, the Board requests that no pupil pass a school in which his grade is taught. This not only helps this community school, but it eleminates the extra cost of transporting this child the extra distance. With everybody's co-operation, the Board is able to make your school dollar go the farthest.—J. H. BOOCKHOLDT.

PARABLE OF WHEAT AND TARES

(Editor's Note: This is a condensed sermon delivered over Station WKLF by Radio Pastor Rev. A. T. Hickman. Pastor Hickman is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.; Saturday at 8:30 a.m.)

The Scripture lesson for this Parable is found in Matthew 13;24-30, 36-43. The kingdom of heaven in this parable is not the Church, but the professing Christian world, the sphere of professing Christianity. The Man who sowed the good seed in the field is none other than the Lord Himself. The good Seed are the true Christians. The real believers in Christ. Known as the 'Wheat'. Those who have truly been born of the Holy Spirit, and are living within the bounds of the precepts of Christ. The enemy which sowed the tares is the devil. The tares are the children of the wicked one. Not wicked men, but followers of the wicked one, the devil. They are false professors They are in the same field with the wheat, both growing together. They can hardly be told from the wheat. They are in our churches. They are hypocrites. It is an unfortunate condition, but there is little that we can do about it. Jesus said, "Let both grow together till the end of the harvest." He then would send forth his reapers, and gather out all things that offend. His reapers will know the difference between the wheat and the tares. Christ knows them that are His, and let everyone that nameth the name of Christ, depart from iniquity.

The fruit bearing time tells the story. You can always tell the tree by its fruit. The wheat and tares can be told apart when the blade has sprung up, it is time for the fruit. We know men by the life they live, and not by the words of their testimony.

The harvest is the end of this age; and the reapers are the angels. The reaping of the wheat is the gathering together all the saints into the Father's house, while gathering the tares indicate the destruction of the false professors.

Now you cannot be wheat one day, a tare the next day. Professing Christians are either wheat, or tares. They cannot be both. Neither can they be wheat for awhile, and then turn to be a tare, or a tare for awhile, and then turn to be wheat. One plant has to die, and the other one planted, before there is any change.

KEEN REUNION

On Sunday, July 25, 1948, several relatives and friends of the deceased —Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Keen—met at Shiloh Baptist Church for the annual reunion.

The day was spent meeting relatives, taking pictures, and just enjoying the day together. At noon a bountiful lunch was spread under the shade trees with plenty of iced drinks for everyone.

Those enjoying this grand occasion were:

Kendrick and Little Short granddaughter, Clanton, Ala.; Mr. Raymond Kendrick and children, Maplesville, Ala.; Mrs. Ethel Chandler and children, Bessemer, Ala.; Mr. Earnest Kendrick and children, Clanton, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. L. There were some friends present who we failed to get their names but we were glad to have them with us.

One brother of Mrs. G. A. Keen, Mr. Charlie White, of Maud, Okla., was not able to attend the reunion but he wrote a letter to be read, part of which follows:

To the Keen family reunion or family gathering which will meet on July 25, will say that we regret very much that we cannot be there with you in your meeting for we feel sure that the spirit of a family love and the love of God will be present there on that day of which will be a day to be long remembered. I remember very well the reunion we had there some years ago. That was a wonderful day, but there are some that I recall that were there that day who are now resting in the city of the dead awaiting the final resurrection day (John, Mag, George, Minnie and Catherine). Before you meet in another reunion there will be others of the kindred passed on to the presence of God, whether prepared or unprepared. So let us say to the ones who are not prepared, please make your calling and election sure with God before it is too late.

This short note is just to represent my wife and me in the family reunion while you are there enjoying the day together we will be here somewhere praying for you.

May God's richest blessings rest and remain with you there and forever.— L. C. Keen.

STANTON BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

We have just closed a great revival here at old Ebenezer Baptist Church. Dr. Fuller from First Baptist Church at Montevallo brought us some wonderful messages. He is a great man of God. He and Bro. Hand did much work here during the week. I think the people showed that they enjoyed every message by the large crowds that attended. We had a lot of visitors from other communities to worship with us.

The people of Stanton have been blessed by having a great Vacation Bible School and a great revival. We hope to have a B. T. U. Study course during the month of August.

We had eight additions to our church during our revival. Seven for baptism and one by letter. The baptising will be the second Sunday evening at four o'clock down by Mr. Joe Davis' house at the same place we baptized last year.

Bro. Hand, our pastor, will be with Bro. Mooney in a revival at Rock Springs next week. We hope they will have a great revival.

MISS TOMMIE LITTLEJOHN WEDS MR. MURRY HOLSENBECK, JR. SUNDAY

Burning tapers in wrought iron candlebra marked the setting of the wedding of Miss Tommie Sue Littlejohn and Mr. Murry Franklin Holsenbeck, Jr., which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Littlejohn, of Clanton, on Sunday evening, August 1st, at six o'clock. The Reverend Homer Carroll performed the ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The bridal colors of green and white were carried out in the improvised altar fashioned of greenery and standards of white gladioli. White tapers on either side completed the arrangement. Miss Doris Baker, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles.

A pre-nuptial musical program preceded the ceremony. Miss Mary Clyde Mims, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Audrey Popwell at the piano, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Miss Popwell played the traditional wedding march for the entrance of the bridal party. "Stardust" was played softly throughout the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an aqua gaberdine suit with dark brown accessories. Her corsage was a single white orchid. Mrs. Leland Tucker, dressed in a white linen suit with red accessories, was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. Ed Davis of Montevallo served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held. A beautiful tiered wedding cake centered the lace-covered table, and white candles in silver candlestocks completed the appointments.

Mrs. Holsenbeck is enrolled in the School of Home Economics at Alabama College. She plans to continue her studies in the fall.

Mr. Holsenbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Holsenbeck, of Bessemer, is a veteran of World War II. He also attended Alabama College and is employed in Marvel at present.

Miss Earlene Foshee kept the bride's book and the following out-of-town guests were registered: Mrs. L. M. Pierce, decorator for the occasion, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Ann Mathison, Montevallo; Mr. Ed Davis, Montevallo; r. and Mrs. M. F. Holsenbeck, Bessemer; Mr. Gordon Holsenbeck, Bessemer; Miss Doris Baker, Birmingham; Mr. Cecil West, Troy; Mr. Boots Kendrick, Montevallo; Mr. Tom Pilgreen, Calera; and Mr. and Mrs. Francis West, Troy.

After a wedding trip to the Carolinas, Mr. and Mrs. Holsenbeck will be at home in Montevallo.

Retirement Bill for Reservists Enacted

Another long-time objective of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was achieved in enactment of Public Law-810, setting up a retirement system for reserve members of the armed forces, Commander Brt Snead of V.F.W. Post 3193 declared today.

In announcing the new law, (recently signed by President Truman), Snead said it affects virtually every World War II veteran in Chilton County, plus many from earlier wars.

"Those with several years of service already to their credit now have a real inducement to join the National Guard or some reserve unit," he declared.

Snead said the V.F.W. several years ago realized the value of reserve retirement legislation then pending before Congress, and supported it consistently.

Under its' terms, both officers and enlisted men can retire at age 60 if they have 20 years or more combined active and reserve duty in the armed forces. Those with several years active duty from peacetime service or the war thus can qualify with reserve duty only.

Retirement pay under the law is determined on a point system and percentage of base pay and longevity. Points are earned through membership in a unit, drills and summer camp periods.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES WILLIAM BETHANY, JR.

The Reverend Homer Carroll, using the double ring ceremony, officiated at the marriage of Miss Martha Paralee Henson to Charles William Bethany, Jr., on July eleventh. The marriage was solemnized at the Baptist Church in Jemison, Alabama. Miss Henson is the daughter of Mrs. Nyde Wiley Henson and the late Mr. Henson. Mr. Henson is the son of Mrs. C. W. Bethany, Sr., and the late Mr. Bethany.

The traditional green and white decorations were used with white tapers and the pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. C. E. Martin of Tallassee and Mrs. Erle Ellis of Clanton presented the wedding music. Mrs. Martin played "Liebestraum," a Tschaikowsky "Cencerto," Wagner's "Evening Star" and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Ellis sang, "Because, Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee?" and at the conclusion of the ceremony "Prayer Perfect."

Miss Ann Turner and John Haymon lighted the tapers. Miss Turner wore a Nile green organdy dress over taffeta made with dropped puffed sleeves and ful skirt worn over a hoop. Puffed bands of the material marked the shoulder line and were inserted in the skirt. Her wrist corsage was of white feathered carnations.

Mr. Hansford Nelson served his nephew as best man and Shelby Cole and Mahlon Yarbrough were ushers.

Miss Melba Patton was her cousin's maid of honor and Mrs. W. F. Dendy of Fort Payne, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. S. L. Reynolds were bridesmatrons. The attendants wore identitaffeta made with sweetheart necklines, short puffed sleeves and full cal dresses of nile green organdy over gathered skirts. They wore green ribbon chokers and matching lace mitts. Their colonial bouquets were of white feathered carnations and snapdragons puffed and ruffled with green organdy and tied with green satin ribbons.

Charlotte Howard was flower girl. Her white marquisette dress over satin was made like that the bride's and she wore matching mitts. Her nosegay of white flowers was ruffled with net and tied with satin ribbons.

The bride entered alone. Her white chantilly lace dress was worn over satin. Tulle ruffles outlined the low round neckline and edged the tu gathered skirt. The sleeves were short and puffed and the dress was laced at the waist with a white satin corselet. She wore matching lace mitts frilled with tulle. Her only ornament was a choker of seed pearls from her mother's wedding dress. The chapel length veil was attached to a coronet of stephanotis. The bridal bouquet of stephanotis was puffed and ruffled with net and centered with a purple-throated white orchid. It was tied with white maline and showered with satin ribbons.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Henson wore a black shadow sheer dress with a corsage of pink and white feathered carnations. Mrs. Bethany chose a pink and black printed crepe and her corsage was like that of the bride's mother.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's cousin, Miss Elizabeth McNeill. An embossed ring cake centered the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth and marked with white tapers burning in silver candlelabra. Mrs. J. J. Shannon, cousin of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. W. H. DuBose kept the bride's book. Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. J. Preston, Mrs. Seymour Reynolds, Mrs. Wilton Cox, and Misses Sybil Langston, Annette and Mary Edna Reynolds, Elouise Naish, Alyce Jo Langston and Mary Julia Blewster.

Out of town guests for the wedding included from Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Nelson, Mrs. Mary Sue Johnson and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Norwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Nelson, Mrs. W. P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Bethany; from Birmingham, Mrs. J. J. Shannon, Mr. Lucien Moses, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. ALABAMA MILLS

Is Sponsoring Contest—

The Alabama Mills, Inc., is sponsoring a contest to see who will go to the State Fair in Birmingham. Each Alabama Mill is going to select a woman or girl to run for each particular mill. She will go to the Fair in Birmingham and stay for a week with all her expenses paid, her regular salary which she makes at the mill and all the clothes that they make for her. The Alabama Mills is also going to set up a loom which will run all during the fair and each mill will have a sample of the kind of material they make. We wish them the best of luck.

We are sorry to hear that Evelyn Donaldson has her arm broken and will have to keep it in a cast for three months. We hope she will be all right in the near future.

FREE COTTON CLASSING AVAILABLE TO CHILTON COUNTY FARMERS

The cotton classing branch of the P.M.A. is equipped to serve cotton growers by giving them accurate grade and staple length of all cotton ginned.

This cotton classing report can be gotten by simply asking the sampling agent at one of the qualified gins to mail your cut sample of cotton in to the district classing office. Staple length, correct government grade, and gin preparation will be reached on a cotton class card and the card will be mailed back to the grower. Expenses on the samples and the report cards are financed by the grading office. It usually takes only three to four days for a grower to have his class card after sending in a sample.

Cotton growers will be in a better bargaining position by actually knowing what they have to sell and can readily determine whether or not the seed that they are using is satisfactory.

The Chilton County gins that have qualified for free classing of their customers' cotton are: H. J. Taylor Gin Company, Cooper. Planters Gin & Warehouse, Clanton. J. P. Shaw Gin Company, Jemison. O'Neal Gin Company, Maplesville.

Buttons on coats will stay on much longer if you will sew a small button on the underside of the garment, at the same time you sew the button on the outside.

THE ALABAMA FARMERS UNION AND THE CIVIL RIGHTS PROGRAM

The question of how the Farmers Union stands on the civil rights program has been raised by some of those coming into the Union.

My position as a member of the Board of Directors of the Alabama Farmers Union and President of the Chilton County Farmers Union enables me to answer these questions as to the official action of this organization. I have attended all meetings of the state board of directors and the state conventions for the past two years and in no meeting has the civil rights program been approved.

When Aubrey Williams, state president of the Alabama Farmers Union, testified before the resolutions committee at the National Democratic Convention on the civil rights program, he spoke his personal sentiments and not the sentiments of the Alabama Farmers Union, because the organization had not authorized any such statements.

The Farmers Union is not a political organization. Our membership is composed of Democrats, Republicans and Independent voters and certainly no member, official or otherwise, has the right to line up the organization with any political party.—R. M. Foshee, President Chilton County Farmers Union; Member State Board of Directors.

IT'S A BOY

Charlie Zeanah To Broadcast Sports On Local Station This Season

Charlie Zeanah, recognized as one of the country's leading sports announcers, will again broadcast the University of Alabama football games this fall over WKLF and 23 other radio stations throughout Alabama, Georgia and Florida, according to an announcement by William W. Hunt, director of the Alabama Broadcasting System.

Charlie Zeanah has been closely associated with the University sports for several years. He was student manager of the Tide baseball team, and served as University athletic publicity director in 1944-45 during Rea Schussler's absence.

He began his career in Tuscaloosa by conducting a radio program while a University student. Zeneah's work last year with WSFA and ABS attracted nation-wide attention and stamped him as one of the country's leading sports announcers.

Tom Whitley, star Tide tackle, who will handle the color, gained radio experience by announcing high school games in Tuscaloosa last fall. This will be his first attempt on a network.

30,000 BONUS VOTES ON $12.00 CLUB OF SUBSCRIPTIONS GOOD UNTIL AUGUST 18th

COUPON VOTES DISCONTINUED

Our exciting little Baby Contest continues to roll merrily on its way with all our workers striving earnestly for the very important votes which will bring final victory to their own darling little one.

The present big bonus of 30,000 extra votes, given on clubs of $12.00 worth of subscriptions secured by August 18th, provides a splendid opportunity of accumulating such a large number of votes that your baby's chances will be enhanced materially for the later stages of the race when votes will be increasingly hard to get.

It was not our intention to announce bonuses which would be hard to secure. You have two weeks in which to pick up six subscriptions, or any aggregation amounting to $12.00, and we know anyone who is concerned about the position their baby occupies in this thrilling race, will have no trouble in completing their club.

If you have completed your club early in this period, don't sit down and rest on your oars thinking you have done all that is necessary. Step out and make two of them if you possibly can. If you do, you will be just that much ahead of the ones who make but one club; these 30,000 bonus certificates are going to be one of the main

Mayor Issues Plea For Safety

Three musts were stressed Tuesday by Mayor Leo Thompson. Said the Mayor: "Now that construction has started on the new overhead bridge on 4th Ave., there are three "musts" that the driving public must remember: watch the traffic, watch your speed and watch the traffic signs.'

According to Mayor Thompson there is much danger in traffic on an overloaded thoroughfare and especially at Second Avenue and the railroad tracks. Thus his plea to automobile drivers to be more careful than ever.

DR. COOPER OF BIRMINGHAM AT ALABAMA MILLS

The Alabama Mills is the second organization of its kind to supply a chiropodist for its employes. That is what they are doing here at Alabama Mills and the idea is going over in a big way.

Mr. R. K. Argo stated Tuesday that the idea behind the movement was that where employes have to stand all day on their feet a chiropodist to serve them made for much happier and competent help. Dr. Cooper, who is from Birmingham, and spends each Thursday at the local office of Alabama Mills, was well received on his first visit last week and according to latest reports already has a waiting list for his visit this week.

Governor James E. Folsom said that since he took office January 20, 1947, there has been a total of 1,196 miles of black-top roads built in Alabama.

This figure includes roads built up through July 1st.

Mr. Reese Harvey, head of the Highway Department's Planning Survey, said that these 1,196 miles of black-top roads were "by far greater than has ever been built in Alabama during any previous 18-month period."

Breakdown of these roads as to type are as follows:

Built by the State on State System 335 miles.

Built by State on State System with regular Federal aid, 142 miles.

BUYING SPREE DANGEROUS

The people of the United States are on a buying spree, if we can correctly interpret figures released by the Federal Reserve Board, which shows that the people of this country have gone into debt to the amount of $64,000,000,000.

Notwithstanding the fact that the average American is making more money than ever before, buying on credit is running far ahead of previous years and home mortgage debts are at a record level.

The catch in the proposition is that while the average American has a larger income than heretofore, the prices that he pays for what he needs have gone up faster than his income. Consequently, after buying the necessities of life, the average American has less buying power than in earlier years when total income was smaller.

There seems to be little prospect of any satisfactory Congressional action which will put a brake on the inflationary processes now going faster than ever. Consequently, the only chance for the average American, without adequate financial reserves, is to hold off buying as much as possible.

Calling attention to this possibility is warning individuals that "what goes up must come down." When prices drop because of slack buying power, or because the customers have been priced out of the market, there will be more than a recession and the debts acquired today, under the influence of what seems to be easy money, will have to be repaid in money that will be harder to get.

"WE'VE GOT IT FIXED...

Albert Stapp, "walkout delegate" from Birmingham, last Thursday told members of the Montgomery Exchange Club —"Now we've got it fixed so Democrats can vote for Southern candidates for President and Vice-President and stay Democrats."

Yes, Albert, it's a "fix" that will long be remembered.

But not many Americans want things "fixed" for them. Most of them prefer the American way of free choice in democratic elections.

As you say, however, the matter has been "fixed" this year, and for the first time in history Alabamians will not have the privilege of voting as they please for the next President of their country.

We do not question the possibility that a majority might wish to vote for your Birmingham "Dixiecrat" candidate for President of the United States, even knowing that they are just helping to elect Tom Dewey, but we do contend that the decision should be made by the majority—not by "fixers."—Montgomery Examiner.

Folks and Things About Town

If the kids who read funny books were laid end to end they would reach —for more funny books. They read funny books everywhere even walking down the street. But to beat all the other night we reached the theatre early and while a youngster was waiting on the picture to start, he took a funny book out of his pocket and read it until the lights went out.

A man, his wife and a negro chauffeur from a distant state stopped the other day in front of Upchurch Drug Store. The lady and the negro went in and made their purchases. Each had an arm load of funny books and the man in the back asked as they walked up to the car, "Did you get me a Dick Tracy and a Donald Duck?"

We have been kidded a lot this week about our paragraph on the work starting on the bridge. Well, work did start. You see there is a lot of work on a thing like that you don't see right at the first. For instance had you noticed the large signs on either side of the railroad warning of the crossing and urging you to be careful. Well, it might be healthy for you to take care when you use that route for the next several month while they are constructing that new bridge. Traffic there will be heavy and heavy traffic is always dangerous

Jimmie Warren has those colored prints now of the pictures he took during the Peach Festival. He showed us one last week of the four top contestants that was a beauty. The girls were: The queen, Peggy Ramsey (seated) and reading from left to right, Bitsy Lewis, Barbara Burnett and Eloise Sheppard. At first it was thought the cost on these color prints were going to be prohibitive, but Jimmie has worked until he can get them now at just half the cost that was mentioned originally. See Jimmie for your copy.

For the above plug we are going to have to tell a good one on Jimmie. Seems Jimmie told his small boy to go to a neighbor and borrow the lawn mower for a while so he could cut the grass. When the small fellow got his neighbor's lawn mower and started home the neighbor thinking he would encourage the boy to be polite asked him: "Didn't you forget to tell me something?" The boy turned and said: "Yes sir, Dad said if the old tight-wad wouldn't loan it to me to try another neighbor."

Let's rumor awhile. There is a rumor aroud that by fall there will be a Auburn Alumni Association organized in Clanton. . . .The same old lady has it that the Country Club will start weekly or monthly dances at the club house with possibly the monthly affair having an orchestra. . . .We hear that this one, that one, and the other one, is going to be a candidate for mayor. Then we hear they're not—they are—they are not—they are—they are not. . . .Oh . . .Rumors may come and rumors may go but the auditors we still have with us.

PARABLE OF HIDDEN TREASURE

The Text of Scripture for this Parable is in Matthew 13:44. "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field, which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field."

In this parable it is the "Kingdom of Heaven" and not the "Church," or "Salvation" that is like unto treasure hid in a field. The hidden treasure is not Christ, for Christ is not hid. Neither can Christ be bought. "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). The sinner has nothing to sell, nor nothing to buy his salvation with. Salvation is not for sale. It is a free gift of God. Not of works, lest any man should boast.

Now we must seek for the right interpretation of this parable. What is the treasure that was found in the field? Who found the treasure, and bought it?. . . .In Psa. 135:4, it says, "or the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself and Israel for his peculiar treasure." . . .And again in Exodus 19:5, "Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people, for all the earth (field) is mine." In these Scriptures Israel is declared by the Lord to be the treasure. Not only a treasure, but a purchased treasure. The man who found the hidden treasure is none other than Christ Himself. . . . He was sent to seek out the lost sheep of the house of Israel. He came to seek and to save the lost. At that time Israel was lost spiritually. Christ presented Himself to Israel, she rejected Him, then He hides her among the nations of the world, and gives Himself for the World, (field) in so doing the treasure is purchased as well as the other nations of the world. We are bought with a price. Christ gave Himself for us and for Israel.

This treasure remains in the field until Christ returns to take possession of the field. This will be when Christ comes again. The joy that Christ had in giving all He had that He might buy the field was in the light of Israel's glorious restoration This will be according to God's pla'n from the beginning.

NEVER FINISHED

An electric power system is never finished. Expansion into rural territories, new homes being built, new industries, improvements and new equipment demand constant change and new construction. So there must be planners, engineers and builders, and men skilled in finance to "raise the money" with which to pay for new generating plants and additional lines. There must be people willing to invest their money in them.

There must be men and women skilled in telling users how to get the best results from their electric service. There must be others who know how to repair electrical equipment when it gets out of order. Linemen must be available, so that almost instantly a trouble call is received, they can be sent to repair lines which may have been torn down or damaged by storm or accident. Operators must constantly be on duty in power plants. Accountants and clerks are necessary to keep adequate records. Mechanics in well-equipped shops keep mechanical equipment in good working order.

Alabama Power Company employes use nearly a hundred different skills in building additional generating plants and lines, and in keeping dependable the electric service you receive.

TRACTOR CARE

Farmers who clean the air cleaner on their tractor and replace the oil once or twice a day when working under dusty conditions find they save money on repair bills. Those who neglect to do this find that dirt and sludge collect in the bowl and pass directly into the engine. This causes rapid wear of rings, pistons and cylinder walls.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

OPEN LETTER TO COMMISSIONER PARRISH

Verbena, Ala., Aug. 2nd, 1948.
Hon. Commissioner Parrish
Dear Mr. Parrish:

We, the people over on the west side of Verbena, wish to extend to you a cordial invitation to drive over our road going west from the Verbena Cemetery over the Kingston public road to where it intersects with the Cooper road. There's about a two-mile drive through there. On this two miles are eleven settlements and one church. Every family but two have cars or trucks.

We are taxpayers of Chilton County too, and can't understand why we have such roads; or are we taxed? Maybe we're not. The man I bought the place from said we pay taxes just like the fellow that have good roads.

Now since we have extended you a hardy welcome to drive out over particularly the two miles of space of road (our nice road), I or we, wouldn't want you to get badly shaken up or have to get a wrecker or get off in one of those ditches. Please sound your horn about every fifty yards the road is very narrow in places. And should you meet an on-coming car, you would have lots of backing up to do, in fact, part of this road is a one-way road. The bushes are crowded in on both sides until you can't see very far ahead of you; and be very careful of these gullies, if you slide off in one of them you would have to call the wrecker—and look out at the end of the Branch Bridge at Bay Valley Farm—there's a pit of water and its very deep in the center; got to go out in the bushes there if it is not dry and you can't see how to ease through it.

The Postman, the rolling store and school bus got stuck so much on the hill at Mr. Mims' that it made two deep furrows and since the road was not gone over, nothing did to prevent it, there's two deep gullies in the center of the road. I have lived here since December, 1947, and there's been one road maching over this section of road once early last Spring or late winter—late winter I think.

If it rains as much as two day we people who live in this section of the county, wouldn't dare try to drive a car or truck over this road. If you do not have a wagon and horses you're out of luck. If necessity pushes you out, you have to walk over those sticky; ~~muddy~~ hills. That takes time and lot of energy.

This road must be one of the oldest public roads in the county. Its the Kingston public road and we can't understand why this road is so sadly neglected.

Please accept our invitation to drive over this section of the Kingston road. You couldn't believe such public roads exist in Chilton County if you didn't just know it. I do not think you meant to neglect our road so badly. It must have been just an oversight. We would surely appreciate a road we could drive a car over without sticking and having to be pulled out by the wrecker. We need gravel on those hills so badly before school starts and those gullies fixed, the road made broader, so as not to endanger our children.

We will highly appreciate anything you may do to make our road better. Thanking you, I am,

MAVIS E. THOMAS.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Mr. J. N. Dennis has a nice stand of crotalaria in his orchard just south of Clanton on U. S. Highway 31. This was sown to prevent soil erosion and to add humus to the soil.

• • •

While this season is in the ground, it is a good time to prepare cover crop, seed patches, and small grain land for fall sowing. Planting at the right time insures a cover at the time winter rains are the hardest. Good growth insures good grazing, protection against soil erosion and a good crop next spring.

Messrs. Bonnie Wilson and Noah Latham with three and 50 acres of sericea lespedeza, respectively, seeded in July, both have an excellent stand. Mr. Wilson's was a meadow outlet; Mr. Latham's was a field planting for grazing.

• • •

Mr. J. D. Haggard of Maplesville is one of the few older farmers who knows as we do that soil is washed away instead of worn out. He states: "Sericea is the most "foolproof" plant we farmers can plant. It holds the soil together and makes good hay and pasture." He also made application for a soil and water conservation farm plan with the North Central Soil Conservation District.

• • •

M. Cliff Walton, Jemison, has just completed a soil and water conservation farm plan with the North Central Soil Conservation District. Mr. Walton's plan calls for oats, kobe lespedeza in a rotation with sericea and a reseeding winter legume for pasture.

• • •

Messrs. R. O. Williams and E. V. Spivey have just finished baling some good sericea hay. The yield was around one ton per acre.

SHILOH

Our revival closed Friday night. Bro. Gray of Phenix City brought the messages. It was truly a great revival. Fourteen members were added to the church roll.

The baptizing will take place at the Headley Pond the third Sunday morning at 9:30.

Several people from this community went to the singing at Bethsalem Sunday. They reported a good singing.

The singing school began Monday morning with Prof. Grant teaching. Everyone is invited to attend the school.

MY TRIP TO RIDGECREST, N. C.

On July 28th, at 4:45 p.m., there were 23 of us women met in Birmingham, Ala., to start on our way to the W.M.U. Conference at Ridgecrest, N. C. There was another woman met us at Heflin, Ala., where we stopped for supper. We changed buses in Atlanta, Ga., at 10:45 p.m. There we were met by 13 other women from Montgomery, Ala. We again changed buses at Ashville, N. C., where we had breakfast at 6:45 a.m. Our next stop being Ridgecrest, at 8:30 a.m., where we soon unloaded, registered and assigned to our rooms. We hurriedly unpacked and rested a while before we had lunch at 1:00. After lunch we got acquainted with our roommates and others at the assembly at 6:45 p.m. A real mountain-top experience began by having vesper service which lasted throughout the week.

I haven't words to express the great inspiration and the glorious time I had all the time since I left Birmingham until I got back there again.

We had a delegation of 80 women from Alabama attending the Conference. We enjoyed all the meetings with speakers as notiable as Mrs. J. M. Dawson of Washington, D.C., Dr. J. A. Abernathy of China, Dr. Alfred Carpenter, Superintendent of the Home Mission Board; Dr. Roland of Laurel, President New Orleans Baptist Seminary; Dr. Bela Udvornoki of Hungary; and many other great speakers.

It was all very uplifting and inspiring and a challenge to all of us to work harder for our Master in saving the lost.—Mrs. J. H. Wells.

Want a thrill, to see something different — that you've never seen before? Then stroll, run, ride or drive down to Clanton's new ball park on Third Avenue next Wednesday, August 18th, at 7:30 p.m. We guarantee you a treat never before seen in Clanton. A most amazing spectacle of horse and horsemanship. The horse is "Midnight." the horseman is Colonel Howard Morris of Montgomery. "Midnight" is not a trick horse, nor is Colonel Morris a trick rider, but you'll probably think so when you see them perform.

Colonel Morris alone high-schooled "Midnight" and the ease and precision with which "Midnight" executes the Dressage commands is something to make you wonder. No command or signal is discernable, yet Colonel Morris conveys to "Midnight" each movement he wishes him to perform. Mr. Walter Kennedy will do the special announcing for Colonel Morris so that you can better understand the method of dressage. Dressage is a method in the higher art of training a horse, and a horse so trained is most valuable. The performance of this art takes great skill and patience, as well as much time and training. In spite of the tremendous value of "Midnight," Colonel Morris has dared to train him to take the jumps. Don't miss this thrill!

How to Lick a Problem

Farmers in our county are mighty worried about the epidemic of grain weevil—feel it's just about time the Government or State took action. They agree that something should be done—but they all feel that someone else should do it.

They should take a look at the Brewing Industry which—soon after legal sale replaced Prohibition—felt that something should be done to protect the good name of beer and the people who enjoy it.

But they didn't wait for the Government, or State, or "someone else" to do it. They did it themselves—with their program of Self Regulation, by which outlets are regularly inspected—and any not up to scratch are warned to clean up, or risk being closed up.

From where I sit, any group or industry that waits for someone else to solve its problems, either by law or outside action, should take a hint from the brewers, who found a way to really get results!

More acres in Chilton County need to be in winter legumes this winter, M. R. Glasscock, County Agent pointed out this week. He said commercial nitrogen probably will be short again next spring, so farmers will need as many acres of cover crops as possible to turn under. Fields like the Austrian peas (top) and vetch (below) will help insure high yields of cotton and corn in 1949, stated Mr. Glasscock.

Farmers are encouraged to seed every acre of winter legumes that can be turned next spring.

Rev. J. W. Lester Praises Chestnut Creeks Good Work

Pastor J. W. Lester, Bethlehem East Baptist Church, Elmore Association, writes of a revival:

"I was with the Rev. J. W. Jones, and the Chestnut Creek Baptist Church, Coopers, Ala., last week in a revival. It was a great experience to me. We saw evidence of many things that we are trying in the Rural churches.

1. They have a great pastor in Bro. J. W. Jones. He is leading the people into the full convention program.
2. The Church has built a new modern pastor's home near the Church, and Mrs. Jones is a princess as a pastor's wife, and helper in the home, church and community.
3. The organizations are functing. The worship services are well attended, and the Sunday School, Baptist Training Union, and W.M.S. are doing a splendid work. The church has the Unified Budget System of Giving and it is working in a fine way. There were 10 new members added to the Sunday School Sunday morning.
4. The church took a religious census before the revival. This religious census enabled the workers to know who were in need.

There were 42 additions to the fellowship of the church; 28 by profession of faith, and 14 by letter. A choir of children and young people of more than 60 voices sang in the morning and evening services. The church held it's Vacation Bible School in the morning closing with the evangelistic message. We are praying for Bro. and Mrs. Jones as they fill this great place in this beautiful and productive community."

FARM and HOME NEWS

By County Extension Agents

More acres of winter legumes need to be planted in Chilton County this fall and it isn't too early for farmers to begin planning for these crops.

This opinion is expressed today by successful farmers throughout the county. Commercial nitrogen will continue to be scare next year. Farmers are urged to get legume seeds early due to the fact that the supply is short.

Good legumes to plant, said Mr. Glasscock, County Agent, are hairy, smooth, or Williamette vetch and Austrian peas. "Highest corn and cotton yields in this county have been made where legumes have been used," he added.

Best planting dates for Chilton County were given as September 15 to October 1. The County Agent pointed out that those farmers who plant at the right time and do a good job of planting nearly always get a good growth of green material to run under.

Steps Mr. Glasscock outlined in planting vetch and Austrian peas included:

Use 300 to 400 pounds 0-14-10, or 200 to 300 pounds superphosphate and 50 to 75 pounds muriate of potash, or 400 to 500 pounds of basic slag and 50 to 75 pounds of muriate of potash per acre.

Inoculate vetch and Austrian peas. Use commercial vetch inoculant according to instructions on the can. Experiened growers have found it pays to use twice the amount of inoculant recommended on the can. Get soil from a field where vetch or Austrain peas made good growth last year. Dampen seed with sweetened water, thne mix soil with seed.

Keep commercial inoculant, inoculated seed and inoculated soil in the shade. Sun kills inoculation.

Since superphosphate and mixed fertilizers will kill inoculation they must be put down separately from inoculated seed. Basic slag or a mixture of half superphosphate and half ground licestone has little or no effect on inoculation and may be put down with inoculated seed.

Plant 20 to 30 pounds of hairy or smooth vetch; 30 to 40 pounds of Williamette vetch or Austrian peas per acre.

Farmers in this country may find it best to plant winter legumes before they begin picking cotton. Plant between cotton, corn or grain sorghum (close to the row) by using a two or three-row drill. Close the middle drill on a three-row drill.

Inoculated seed may be mixed with basic slag and planted two rows to the middle with a knocker distributor. Use a very narrow scooter on the distributor.

Fill the planting furrow with soil by dragging a chain or board behind drill or knocker distributor. This keeps soil from drifting on young plants and smothering them.

PMA will make payments to help cover the cost of winter legume seed as well as for phosphate and muriate of potash used under vetch and Austrian peas.

HOW TO COLD OR HOT PACK YOUR TOMATOES

"Use only perfect, ripe tomatoes for canning," says Lavada Curtis, API extension food preservation specialist.

To loosen skins, she recommends that tomatoes be dipped into boiling water for about half a minute, then dipped quickly into cold water. Remove tomatoes and place them in a dry container to prevent softening. Cut out green core and as the tomatoes are peeled place them in jars if they are to be cold packed.

To cold pack tomatoes leave them whole, or cut in halves or quarters. Pack tomatoes to one-half inch of top, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add a half teaspoon salt to pint and one teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Have water in canner hot but not boiling to prevent breakage of glass. Then heat to boiling. Process pint and quart jars 35 minutes. As soon as jars are removed from canner, complete seals if closures are not of self-sealing type.

If you decide to hot pack them, quarter the peeled tomatoes and bring to a boil, stirring often. Pack hot in hot glass jars to one-half inch of top. Add one-half teaspoon salt to pints; 1 teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Process in boiling-water bath—either pint or quart jars—five minutes. As soon as jars are removed from canner, complete the seals if closures are not of self-sealing type.

Miss Curtis says that cold packed tomatoes are usually rated higher on flavor, color, texture, odor, and appearance than hot packed tomatoes. However, more tomatoes can be put into each jar when hot packed which is a point to consider if jars and storage space are limited.

CHECK SOW'S WEIGHT

A sow will lose an average of 45 pounds at farrowing time. Another 45 pounds are lost during the suckling period. These weight losses should be gained back through good feeding practices while the sow is carrying the next litter.

MORE OATS GROWN FOR GRAZING, GRAIN, HAY

Each year more Alabama farmers are growing oats because the crop fits into their plans to produce more grain, grazing and hay.

J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist, points out that oats may be grazed in the fall and winter. Then, in the spring, the farmer may choose whether he will continue to graze the crop, combine it, or cut it for hay.

To succeed with oats, Lowery suggests doing the following:

First, prepare a firm seedbed. Clay soils and land that has a heavy growth of crops or weeds should be broken and disked several weeks before planting. Light soils that have been in a clean cultivated crop need little or no land preparation. The county agent should be consulted about kind and amount of fertilizer to use. Treat seed with a good chemical dust and plant early.

Early maturing varieties are Fulgrain and Victor Grain. Late varieties are Red Rust Proof, Nortes and 100-Bushel. Early varieties of oats should be planted because late varieties tend to lodge. However, late varieties can be combined without very much trouble.

Use a grain drill for best planting results. Oats may be planted between cotton or corn rows with a three-row drill, a one-row drill, or a "knocke' distributor. Or they may be broadcast and covered by disking or plowing. "Rolling or cultipackingg helps to make a firm seedbed," Lowery adds.

MILD WINTERS PROMOTE YEAR-ROUND FARMING

Alabama's long growing seasons and mild winters have encouraged many farmers to adopt a year-round farm program.

In the past, most farming was done in the summer but now winter farming is proving equally important. S. R. Doughty, API extension soil conservationist, says that winter farming not only increases the farm income but conserves the soil. He explains that winter crops hold and improves the soil, support Alabama's increasing lievestock industry and give balanced, year-round farm employment.

Legumes, small grains and grasses all have a place in a winter farming program. Reliable information regarding varieties, seeding dates, and fertilizer rates is available from your county agent.

In addition to checking soil erosion Doughty says that winter legumes add nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. When this is done, yields of crops that follow are increased.

Principal winter legumes grown by Alabama farmers for soil improvement are hairy, smooth and Williamette vetches, Austrian winter peas, blue lupine and crimson clover. Caley peas are grown for winter grazing and soil improvement in the Black Belt.

Doughty urges farmers to do more winter farming which will make better and more efficient use of their land, equipment, and labor. "When this is done, living standards and income will increase," he declares.

ONE WAY TO COOL OFF, SERVE LIGHTER FOODS

Are you suffering from the heat these hot days? If so, Mary Hulsey, API extension nutritionist, suggests that you may be eating foods that give your body too much heat energy.

She explains that certain foods give more heat energy than others. Foods which give the most energy to the body are those having large amounts of starches, sweets and fats in them. Naturally then, one way to beat the heat is to avoid eating too much of these foods.

Miss Hulsey recommends that fresh garden vegetables be used when preparing meals on hot summer days. When fresh vegetables are served raw in a tasty, tossed salad they contain vitamins and minerals needed by the body. Salads are economical food. Leftovers may be used in making very appetizing and delicious salads. Salads made of meat, eggs, cheese and vegetable combinations, served with crackers and a light dessert, may make up an entire meal.

She says that if you are trying to keep cool, remember that fat should be used very sparingly in the seasoning of cooked vegtables. Fat not only gives the body heat but destroys many vitamins. Vegetables cooked in a large amount of fat contain little, if any, vitamin A.

"Another thing to remember," says Miss Hulsey, "is that sweet desserts and pastries furnish lots of heat energy to the body." For this reason, she urges that watermelon, cantaloups, peaches, or other fruits be served instead.

factors in baby's ultimate success.

The list of candidates, you will observe, has been reduced materially. All the babies for whom no subscription has been turned in up to the present, have been dropped from the list. It must be evident to all, that the mere collecting of coupon votes from our paper each week, could never win a prize. Some little work must be done along subscription lines if little honey-bunch is to be successful. Subscriptions are all around you and can be picked up for the asking.

If the parents and supporters of the baby will not take up the cudgel in their baby's behalf, it might as well be removed from the contest and the way made clear for those who are working and have their sights set on one of our larger prizes, if indeed, not the first grand prize—winning any of the prizes in a race as exciting and keen as this one, is quite an honor for anyone.

The voting, as shown today seems to be perking up a bit, with the most of the little ones remaining bunched pretty close together, determined to not allow any of the little sweethearts to make a runaway race of it. However, don't allow the vote, as it appears from week to week, mislead you as to which of the little ones are leading in the campaign. Subscription votes are given in the form of a certificate, and these certificate votes may be held until the last day if the parents think best. Of course, they are going to use the necessary votes to keep their little ones up with the procession but at the same time, they are going to accumulate as many votes as they possibly can for the final day of the contest, after all, that's when votes are really going to be important.

We believe this is a good policy to practice, and we rather encourage it. By maintaining this method, it will have a tendency to discourage any last minute splurge, which might be the case were it known, on the last day of the race, who the high baby was and the amount of votes it had at that time.

This little affair of ours, and the prizes we have provided for the winners, is a reward for doing a little hustling in your spare time. That is as it should be, and will be, up to the last minute of the campaign; with emphasis on the will.

Don't forget the 30,000 extra vote bonus given on the $12.00 club and be sure and make it even if you have to "bust a tug" to do so. It is of the most importance for the baby's ultimate victory that you pull down these 30,000 bonus votes; we know you will not fail it in this critical time. If you can make two clubs, that will be rather super, and we know you realize what an advantage it will give your little one over those who make but one club. You have until the 18th, to take advantage of this fine opportunity that confronts you.

Our engraver has a large number of our baby pictures and we hope that they reach here so we can feature a number of them this week. Everyone is ager to see their pictures and we continue to receive extravagant praise, even from other states, where we have subscribers, who formerly lived in this county and have some baby in the list of whom they are mighty fond.

You will note that the coupons that have been appearing in the paper, will not be found in today's issue. Many of our workers have complained that it uses up too much time collecting them. Time, which if used in an effort to secure a subscription, would help the baby's position in the contest immeasurably more, and have suggested that we discontinue its publication.

Wishing to co-operate in every way possible, we gladly bow to their wishes, and have discontinued it accordingly. Now whatever time you have at your disposal to work for your sweetheart, you can use it in picking up a few subscriptions which will advance the baby's interests immeasurably more. At any rate, it treats you all alike and works no injustice to any particular baby. So exit the coupon vote, it will appear no more.

The best fruits for canning are those that are tree-ripened. Unripe fruits are low in flavor and have a hard texture.

A wooden match stick dipped in ink is an excellent substitute for a pen in addressing parcels; it not only saves the pen, but makes the writing bolder and clearer.

INSTITUTIONAL ON THE FARM TRAINING PROGRAM

Veterans wishing to enroll with us on-the-farm training ~~program can en~~ roll October 1. We have several openings at the present time. For information concerning these openings and qualifications contact Dave Tingle. Office located over Upchurch Drug Company. Office hours seven until four, Monday through Friday and seven until eleven on Saturday.

Mr. Arthur Henley and Howard Maddox classes met together Monday and they had an interesting lesson on year-round grazing. Mr. Jasper Dennis met with this group and carried them over his pasture.

Mr. Dave Tingle, Head Veterans Agriculture teacher, spent a week in Auburn getting instructions for next year's work. He states that a few changes were made. The trainee must have full control and own his work stock and equipment.

Mr. Arthur Hennley, Ferrell Williamson and Jessie Charles Mims are in Ft. Benning, Ga., with the National Guard.

A better understanding between the landowner and the tenant would certainly be a great help in the training program and to the farmers of Chilton County. I would like to urge the tenants to get with their landowner and work out a good soil building program. Many of the veterans that are farming are having a difficult time getting adjusted on the farm. I would appreciate all the help you can render these boys.

Last Club Offer Between Now And Close Of Contest

The 30,000 extra vote bonus on clubs of $12.00 worth of subscriptions, just ended, seems to have been a popular, as well as a profitable one, for the little lads and lassies remaining in the campaign. This has decided us to make another club offer, here it is:

Beginning immediately and effective until Wednesday evening, September 1st., we will give a bonus of 25,000 extra, free votes, on all clubs of $10.00 worth of subscriptions turned in during this time. [illegible] in the other club, [illegible] iptions will count in making your club. It is just like the other club with the exception that the amount is only $10.00 and the bonus is 25,000 extra votes. This is the last club offer that will be made during the balance of the competition. At the conclusion of this clubbing offer we will be standing on the threshold of the last and final period of the race, so if you wish your little sweetheart to capture one of our better prizes in this thrilling Baby Contest, (and of course you do) it behooves you to put your best foot forward during this last clubbing period so your little champion can enter the final period of the race with all these extra 25,000 extra vote certificates you can possibly secure which will have an important bearing in determining the baby's position when the winners are announced at the consclusion of this exciting little baby contest. If you have any balance from the previous club, it will apply on this final club.

So tighten up your belt and determine to make as many clubs as you possibly can so your baby will enter the final [illegible] on the final day September 11th, next.

WOMEN SHOULD FIGHT CANCER

Because cancer is the leading cause of death among women between the ages of thirty-five and fifty-five, we call attention to an article in The Woman's Home Companion which points out that a poll conducted by the magazine reveals that women generally do not use the information and treatment available to them.

The importance of early diagnosis and prompt treatment in combatting cancer is well known but almost half of the women questioned report no periodical medical check-up and eighty-seven per cent admit that they have never been examined by a competent cancer specialist.

Medical authorities say that cancer in women usually starts in the breast or genital system and yet nearly three-fifths of the women questioned had no regular medical examination and two-thirds do not have breast examinations. The magazine points out that this negligence is the same as "driving in the dark down a hazardous road" and suggests that "neither prudery nor dread of verdict should deter us" from having such examinations made.

We call attention to these facts because some of the women who read this article in Chilton County News will die from cancer. Accordingly, it is our hope that many will take steps to have regular and periodic examinations made by competent medical experts and thus avoid the danger of having cancer develop beyond the stage where treatment will be helpful.

WHO CAN TELL US WHY?

Every now and then, the newspapers tell us of a wealthy person, who lives like a pauper and dies from malnutrition.

Early this month, in Miami, Fla., following the death of a woman who had lived in a house for eight years, police found $20,000 in cash and nearly $80,000 in negotiable securities.

The woman died in a hospital after being sent there by neighbors, who found her suffering from malnutrition.

If anybody thinks that they understand human nature, they might come forward with an explanation of this type of behavior.

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS OF CLANTON & CHILTON COUNTY:

We want to announce that we are no longer in business in the City of Clanton, and we take this means of thanking you for your many courtesies and kindnesses to us during our 28 years in the City. May we expect to serve you again in the future.

Well, the Mayor and Council finally got around to our way of thinking if it did take the building of a new bridge to make them do it. We're talking about the parallel parking on Second Avenue. That should have been done a long time ago as you can now see—it's such an improvement. Clanton has nice broad streets when they are not cluttered up with careless parking and to keep the appearance of our streets what it should be our automobile drivers should take pride in obeying the traffic rules and regulations. It is for the betterment of our city that they are made and for our protection.

Some of handsome Clyde Mims' customers should have seen him last Wednesday afternoon out mowing his front lawn. No kidding, Clyde mowes his lawn in earnest. He strips right down to rock bottom—a pair of overalls, period. That's all. Boy, but did he look comfortable?

Anyway, as some wag down the street remarked: "It ain't the heat; it's the stupidity."

Our nephew, just out of the navy tells this one: At one of the more popular ports all the crew asked for shore leave except one man. "What's the matter?" asked the officer. "Are you the only sailor that hasn't got a wife in this port." "No," replied the exception, "I'm the only one that has."

PARABLE OF PEARL OF GREAT PRICE

The Scripture text of this parable is found in Matthew 13:45. "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls, who when he hath found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it." . . . The common interpretation of this parable is that, Christ is the Pearl of great price which the sinner finds and gives up all for Him. But Jesus did not say, that He Himself was liken unto a goodly pearl, but the kingdom of heaven is liken unto a merchant man seeking goodly pearls.

In this parable Christ Himself is the merchant man. He came to seek and to save the lost. The goodly pearl is the Church, for which he gave himself. It was the field that was purchased in the parable of the Hidden Treasure, but in this Parable it is the goodly Pearl that is bought. Paul told the Elders to "Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood." (Acts 20:28). Again, "Ye are not your own, ye are bought with a price." And Christ gave Himself for the Church, that He might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto Himself a purchased people, zealous of good works.

Now there is beauty in the thought of the Church as a Pearl of great price. Whether we consider its origin, its form, or its value. The pearl comes into existence not mechanically, but vitally. So the Church is formed by Christ communicating his own life into it. Consider the origin of a pearl. How does it come into being? The pearl comes from sea, just as the Church comes from the nations of the world symbolized by the sea. A grain of sand imbeds itself between the oyster and the shell, and creates a wound in the side of the living creature in so doing. In the healing of the wound the oyster deposits a thin crust of a bright aspect around the grain of sand, repeating the process over again and again, till the pearl is formed, blending the colors of the rainbow. The oyster is captured, its side is opened and the pearl is taken out. Note the application. Adam was alone in the Garden of Eden. The Lord said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make him a help meet for him. The Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he took one of his ribs, closed up the flesh instead thereof. And the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. And Adam said, "This is now bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh, she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man. . . And it was while Adam was sleeping the Lord opened his side, and got for Adam a bride. The man Adam was a type of Christ. He is known as the first man Adam, and Christ the last man Adam. And just as the first man Adam was to have a bride, the last Man Adam, Christ, is to have a Bride also. Christ was put to death, and while He slept, His side was opened, and there came forth blood and water. With this material the Church of Jesus Christ is formed. With this the Church is built. . . The Church is the Pearl of great price, for it cost the life of the Son of God. As the natural pearl is formed by the life of the living creature; the Church is formed by the life of Jesus Christ.

Note: Next week the Parable of "The Drag Net."

Honey and syrups may be used to stretch sugar in canning jams, marmalades and pickles. These substitutes give a pleasing blend of flavors.

If you will wait until the mixture has slightly cooled to add solid ingredients to gelatin, these ingerdients will not sink to the bottom of the mold. The best time to add such fruits, vegetables or meat is when the gelatin is about as thick as the raw white of an egg.

New Type of Wheat Resists Attacks Of Deadly Sawfly

BOULDER, COLO.—After years of research, a new development in wheat farming promises more food for a hungry world.

This is Rescue wheat. Rescue is the first wheat ever developed to withstand the attack of the destructive wheat stem sawfly which sporadically since 1900 has laid waste to untold millions of acres of precious grain in the Northwest and in Canada.

The success of Rescue may turn out to be a milestone in farming.

Last year it proved its resistance to the sawfly in extensive field trials. This year there will be enough Rescue seed to plant one million acres in Montana and millions more in North Dakota and Canada. This means more bread, sorely needed at a critical time in world affairs.

Research Started

Montana state college entomologists, agronomists, and the natural scientists of the United States department of agriculture worked hard on the sawfly problem. When Rescue came along in October, 1944, they dropped everything to concentrate on the new find.

The following May, Montana got back 35 bushels which were planted on 27 acres. The yield in 1945 was 877 bushels. Again Montana shipped Rescue to Arizona—100 bushels this time for further increase. The rest was planted at home. An unseasonable frost and a rail strike delayed Arizona's return shipment of 3,870 bushels until the first of June. It was dry and late but the wheat was sown. Within 24 hours rain fell, the first since the regular seeding time.

Wheat Crops Increase

In 24 months a single bushel on land previously attacked by the sawfly had grown to 60,000 and Montana and North Dakota farmers were offering as high as $25 a bushel for it. Last year Montana planted 78,000 acres in 19 counties, harvested 1,250,000 bushels, and North Dakota is fast developing its own seed sources. Rescue seed still is selling as high as $6.50 per bushel.

The sawfly, given a few more years, might have wiped out huge sections of the nation's breadbasket. It damaged more than one million acres severely last year in Montana, spread over 30 counties. In two counties, practically every field was damaged severely. Forty to 100 per cent of the stems were cut off on essentially all of the acreage of the common bread wheats.

The damage in Rescue fields last year, on the other hand, was negligible.

The Thorsby Garden Club met on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Howard. A nice group met and the greater part of the afternoon was spent in making plans for a flower show which the Club hopes to put on early this Fall. Members who were not present will please also note that the meeting time has been changed from Wednesday afternoons to the second Thursday night in each month. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Kendrick on Thursday night, September 9th; at 7:30 o'clock. At the last meeting of the club, Mrs. Wilbert Marcus was made Treasurer to succeed Mrs. Harold Strickland, who resigned, and Mr. W. L. Leary was made Vice-President in the place of Mrs. Lloyd Howard.

Miss Eloise Piper left for Birmingham Sunday where she is visiting with Miss Peggy Blewster and with whom she will go to Miami, Fla., leaving Birmingham Tuesday night, to attend a contest in that City for a radio queen. These two young ladies, who were contestants in the last Peach Festival Queen contest, will not take part in this rare for radio queen, but are in Miami on spesial invitation of Mr. Jark Rice, President of the International Radio Club and who is putting on this contest. Mr. Rice became acquainted with these two lovely young ladies at the Peach Festival and invited them to be his guests in Miami for this occasion. This is a wonderful treat for these girls, and we will be anxiously awaiting their return so that we might hear all about their trip.

Miss Virginia Goodwine of Urbana, Ill., a student summer service worker for the Congregational Christian Board of Home Missions, has been conducting a Bible school for the past week at the United Protestant Church.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gibson and Young son of Ft. Worth, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Robinson of Oklahoma City arrived early Monday morning, having been called here due to the death of their father, Mr. L. M. Jackson, who passed away very suddenly on Sunday night about 7:00 p. m. at his home here. These people made the trip by plane to Birmingham where they were met by Mr. W. J. Patrick who brought them on to their home here.

A group of people from Birmingham who were at one time residents of Thorsby, visited among old friends here last Sunday. They were Mrs. F. E. Gronquist and daughter, Mrs. Helen Kessler; a grandson, Mr. Thomas Adams of Chicago, and his daughter and a friend. They made several short calls with different ones, enjoyed watermelon with Mrs. J. O. Johnson and before returning to Birmingham enjoyed "smorgosbord" with Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist. They expressed regret over not having time to see all their old friends and said they hoped soon to return again and have a longer visit. They have many friends here and in Collins Chapel where they lived years ago, before moving to Thorsby.

One of the nicest affairs it has been our pleasure to attend was that of the program put on by our American Legion boys on Friday night of last week. A program of music was enjoyed and Little Sandra Nichols of Birmingham and by the way, this talented young lady is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patrick, entertained with several numbers of tap dancing. Her costumes were lovely, and for a child of only six years old, she certainly displayed a real talent for dancing. Installation of officers took place and was conducted by Mr. Albert Stapp of Birmingham. After this, Mr. Stapp entertained the audience by giving them a vivid picture of the Democratic National Convention held in Philadelphia last month and which he attended as a delegate. Mr. Stapp was a most fluent speaker and told of some very interesting things which come up in the convention which did not come over the radio. After the program the meeting adjourned for a social hour when the Legionnaires served ice cream and cake to all who attended, we'll say about 250 people. These boys are to be congratulated on this enjoyable occasion.

News has been received here from Mrs. Anna Phalin, who is having a wonderful time vacationing in the North. She has written about the main highlight of her trip, which was the Golden Anniversary of her High School graduating class in Manitowoc, Wisc. In her class of 1898, were 23 in all—seventeen boys and six girls. All of the girls are living and nine of the boys. Nine of the class were in attendance at the reunion and those who were unable to attend wired or wrote their greetings to the gathering. Mrs. Phalin expects to be away until some time in the Fall.

On last Thursday night, the Town Caucas was held at the Junior High School auditorium with quite a large number of high spirited citizens attending. Nominated for mayor were Mr. H. R. Maddox and Mr. W. J. Patrick. For councilmen the ten highest men nominated were: J. R. Ekblad Sam F. Mims, Sam T. Bentley, Delbert Collins, W. H. Strickland, C. M Williams, A. J. Robinson, E. E. Porter, J. A. Ogburn and E. F. Billingsley. These are all good men and from this group you will go to the polls on September 20th and make your choice One for mayor and five for your councilmen.

All of Thorsby was saddened by the sudden death on Sunday night of Mr. L. M. Jackson, yho was so well known and loved by all who knew him. Mr. Jackson, though he has been in somewhat declining health, seemed quite himself on Sunday and attended Sunday School and church that morning. In the evening after having had a very light supper he was taken suddenly ill and his son, Erskine, rushed to town for the doctor and when they returned he had already passed on. His death was such a great shock to his family as well as to the whole community. Thorsby mourns his passing. His family has our deepest sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Ray, Jr., had as their dinner guests Sunday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lowery, the occasion being Mrs. Lowery's birthday.

Thorsby received quite a lot of nice publicity in the last issue of the Alabama Local Government Journal There appeared several pictures, one of our last "Pot Luck Supper, showing our mayor and councilmen busy partaking of the bountiful spread, then there is a picture of our firemen, etc. It is indeed a nice adv. for Thorsby.

Mrs. Chas. Peterson remains ill at her home here and is not showing any improvement. We regret to report this.

Phony Check Artist Discloses Secrets Of 'Forging' Ahead

TACOMA, WASH. — A big-time "paper man" said that in almost every sizable city you can get a check forged by an expert—for a price.

Raymond Karasek, 31, should know. He said he has netted more than $160,000 in the last seven years by cashing phony checks. But he said that now his ill-gotten gains won't do him any good. He is in the county jail.

Karasek said there are many bad check artists operating on a bigger scale than he did.

"We call ourselves paper men," he said. "We don't carry guns or pull holdups."

The first step in pulling a check job, Karasek said, is to steal a bank statement from a victim's mailbox.

He said San Francisco is "a paper man's paradise," and that Chicago and Kansas City are easy, too.

"I wouldn't give a nickel for Los Angeles," he said. "The mail boxes are too hard to open."

Texas is tough, he said, because "so many of the big-money people live in the country."

Karasek said he usually tries to cash a check when there is a woman at the teller's window, "because it's easier to get their minds on other things."

He was captured here when he tried to cash a check on the account of a bank cashier's husband. The cashier was one woman who was not easily distracted.

Policeman Thwarted in Attempt to Halt "Holdup"

EVANSVILLE, IND. — When an Evansville policeman saw a man get out of an automobile, hold his hands in the air and let another man pull something out of his pocket, he went into action.

But after some hurried explanations, the policeman went on his way. The "holdup victim" said he had been eating some home-canned beets out of a jar and got his hands all sticky.

When the car stopped he got out and held his hands in the air while his companion reached around and pulled out his handkerchief.

Professor's Calculations Fail to Beat Speeding Rap

UPPER MARLBORO, MD.—Dr. Haig Galajikain, a former Princeton university professor, called upon "simple mathematics" in an attempt to beat a speeding charge, but it didn't work.

It took him two hours to expound his "simple mathematical formula" in Prince George's county circuit court before Judge Charles Marbury, who heard his appeal from conviction by a magistrate.

Dr. Galajikain's argument went like this:

The state trooper who spotted him on the Washington-Baltimore boulevard would have to have been traveling at the rate of 147 miles an hour to make a U turn, accelerate and catch up with Dr. Galajikain's car 1.7 miles from where the two cars passed each other—that is, if the professor had been traveling the 80 miles an hour charged against him. That, he said, was "impossible."

Judge Marbury, who has studied mathematics himself, reimposed the $100 fine—plus appeal costs. He said Dr. Galajikain, a resident of Aberdeen, Md., had failed to take some variables into consideration.

Trappists Will Eat Meat On Long Trip to Monastery

CUMBERLAND, R. I.—Bearded, silent men of an old Trappist monastery prepared for a journey to New Mexico on which they will experience what are forbidden in their religious lives — ham sandwiches and pullman cars.

The Rev. Dom M. Futterer, O.C.S.O., prior of the abbey of Our Lady of the Valley, announced that he would lead a band of 26 monks, priests and brothers to the new abbey of Our Lady of Guadalupe at Valley Ranch, near Santa Fe.

Travel by pullman and the eating of meat on the trip, the abbot explained, were allowed by special dispensation from the severe code of the cloistered Roman Catholic order founded more than eight centuries ago in France.

The vows of Trappist monks, he said, include one against eating meat, fish or eggs except in illness or on long sea voyages. The Trappists also observe a rule of silence, but the abbot may dispense with the edict at any time. Father Futterer did not say whether the monks would be permitted to talk on their long train ride. He said that the journey originally was to be made in coaches, but only pullmans were available.

Spinsters and Bachelors Disappear From Society

NEW YORK —Spinsters and bachelors are fast disappearing from American Society.

By 1964, if present trends continue, marriage may be almost universal in the 20 to 45 age group, according to a report by the Institute of Life Insurance.

But economic depression could reverse the trend the report suggested.

"The number of single persons of both sexes is now at the lowest ratio since 1890," the report, based on United States census bureau figures, said.

The Institute said that only one of every three men between the ages of 20 and 45 is single, while the percentage for women in the same bracket is even lower.

"The proportion of married people has been showing a steady increase," the report continued. "This trend has been accelerated since 1940 by the biggest marriage boom the nation has ever experienced."

The Institute also said that girls are marrying younger each year.

Remarriage by divorced persons also has increased, the report said.

Study of Pigeons Shows Birds Have Numerous Superstitions

BLOOMINGTON, IND. [illegible]

"Sup[illegible] were developed here by Dr. B. F. Skinner, psychologist at Indiana university.

These birds go through all sorts of strange rituals even more elaborate than that of a baseball pitcher. One goes running wildly around his cage —always in the same direction.

Another pokes his head into one of the upper corners of the cage. Another acts as if he were trying to toss something with his head. Two birds swing their heads and bodies in a sort of pendulum motion.

It was fairly easy, Dr. Skinner found, to teach the pigeons to trace their luck to such absurd gestures.

All he had to do was to rig up a clock to give food to the birds at regular intervals, entirely regardless of what the bird is doing at the moment. The bird, who is ravenously hungry, tends to repeat rapidly whatever he was doing when the food arrived.

PLANT WINTER LEGUMES FOR LASTING EFFECTS

There is an old experiment on the Agricultural Experiment Station, Auburn, that has proved the carry-over, soil enriching qualities of winter legumes.

"The experiment," says D. R. Harbor, API extension agronomist, "includes two plots on which corn was grown every year from 1896 to 1933." He explains that the only difference in the two plots is that one had cowpeas planted in the corn middles until 1922. Then, up to 1933, a winter legume—vetch—took the place of the cowpeas.

Since 1933, cotton has been planted in the place of corn on both plots. Harbor stresses the fact that the cotton on both plots has not received any commercial nitrogen or legume nitrogen from 1933 until this day.

The first 10 crops of cotton gave an increased yield of 538 pounds of seed cotton per acre from the plot where the vetch grew over the plot not having a legume. At the end of the sixteenth year, the plot where vetch was grown was still an increased yield of 301 pounds of seed cotton per acre over the plot that had not been planted to cowpeas and vetch.

The experiment has proved that legumes may accumulate nitrogen into the soil which will be reflected in crop yields for many years.

Harbor recommends that you plant winter legumes this fall because the commercial nitrogen situation looks bad for 1949. Also, the price of commercial nitrogen may be higher in proportion than the price of winter legume seed.

"For success with winter legumes, plant early, inoculate seed, fertilize well, use plenty of seed, and plant right," says Harbor. "Also inquire about the assistance offered by PMA on the establishing of winter legumes."

WHEN TO PLANT CRIMSON CLOVER ON OLD SERICEA

Farmers have found that crimson clover should not be sown on an old stand of sericea until growth of the sericea has slowed down in the fall.

J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist, explains that if crimson clover is sown earlier, the sericea will use too much of the moisture needed by the crimson clover.

Lowery recommends that crimson clover be planted on sericea around October 15 in the Tennessee Valley. It should b planted later in the southern part of Alabama.

If sericea has not been grazed down close, it should be cut for hay or saved for seed just before planting crimson clover.

"Fertilizer is applied and inoculated seed sown on the sericea stubble," says Lowery. "The land is then disced with discs set at just enough angle to scarify the soil.

Crimson clover is used for winter grazing, soil improvement, hay, and seed production. It succeeds on most well-drained fertile soils. Crimson clover will not succeed on light sandy soil without a heavy subsoil near the surface," warns Lowery.

See the local county agent for fertilizer recommendations.

HOW TO KEEP THE NEW LOOK ON YOUR FLOORS

"All floor finishes—oil, seal, varnish and shellac—should be waxed every four or six months," advises Alice Peavy, API extension home management specialist.

However, she warns that shellaced floors should not be waxed with preparations containing water. Use a paste wax on shellac instead of a water emulsion wax.

To keep floors clean between waxings, Miss Peavy says that all you have to do is sweep and dry mop them. For dry mopping, use a soft cotton floor mop kept barely dampened with a mixture of three parts kerosene and one part paraffin oil. When the mop gets dirty, wash it out in hot water and soap; dry it, and dampen it once more with the kerosene and paraffin prescrpition.

When a spot of dirt on your floor stubbornly resists simple mopping, go after it with a pad of fine steel wool dipped in turpentine.

If the finish is a floor seal, you will occasionally come across gray spots which have been caused by water standing on the floor for a time. Turpentine does not help in removing these spots. Instead, sandpaper the spot away, patch it up with floor seal, and butt it smooth again with steel wool

Miss Peavy says that when varnished floors become spotted, it takes a little more effort to give them the new look. Apply liquid varnish removed to the spot, then sandpaper, dust, and apply a coat of floor varnish.

"Some water spots on shellaced floors will come out if rubbed lightly with a soft cloth that has been moistened in a half-and-half mixture of denatured alcohol and water," adds Miss Peavy.

LOCAL CHILTON COUNTY NEGRO FARMER WINS STATE CONTEST

A contest among all negro farmers having a farm plan with the District Soil Conservation Program of Alabama and nine other southern states came to a close last week.

Otho McKinney, Clanton Ala., Rt. 3, was selected as the winner for the State of Alabama and was awarded $100.00 prize and a trip to Log Cabin Community, Hancock County, Ga., where he competed for National winner among nine other state winners.

Below is a statement made by Otho as to how he was able to make thes accomplishments:

I purchased my 80-acre farm through the Farm Security Administration in early 1940, which made the place and money available to carry out the plan with. I made a soil and water conservation farm plan with the North Central Soil Conservation District just one year after I got possession of the farm. I immediately began to put kudzu on the steep slopes and draws, making sure each plot was large enough to be used by my cows and hogs.

The temporary grazing from the kudzu helped improve and increase my livestock. In 1941 I had two mules, two cows, one calf, and one sow. Since that time with the use of the kudzu I have increased my livestock to an average of 20 head per year. Kudzu was planted also on a road bank which was caving and was a large ditch. After five years the ditch was almost filled and erosion was stopped. Part of my terraces also empty onto this kudzu.

I have cleared up, seeded, fertilized, and limed 15 acres of bottom land pasture according to my plan. When I got possession of the land it was producing about one-half bale of cotton and 15 bushels of corn per acre and I had no pasture to speak of. I have built new terraces on almost all the crop land after my meadows were established and some few I changed over to the Nichols type.

Through the use of winter legumes and regular soil-building legumes I have increased my yields up to a bale of cotton and 40 bushels of corn per acre. In one field I sowed a strip of sericea lespedeza between the level land and the steeper land, just where you go over the hump in this field. I have four kudzu meadows and three critical slope plantings of kudzu which I cut for hay and graze temporarily. In all I have almost 15 acres in kudzu and two acres in sericea.

Besides cotton I get my income from milk, top hogs, truck crops and peaches. I have four acres in peaches now in production and have set out four more acres this year. My cotton has averaged a bale per acre for several years.

My gross income in 1941 was approximately $500 and in 1947 it was $3,000. My net worth in 1941 was $880 and last year it was $4,500.

The next year after I got possession of my place my oldest son finished high school and one will finish college in August. One has one year at State Teachers College and one is in th Navy. I have two more in high school and one in primary school.

By having a definite soil conservation farm plan and following it, enabled me to improve my standard of living more than 50 per cent. In addition, my farm is getting better all the time.

The Soil Conservation Service workers enabled me to carry out and follow a soil conservation program. The Soil Conservation Service workers came out to my farm from time to time and gave me help and advice in carrying out the plan.

I feel that if I had not followed a soil conservation plan I would not have made the success I have. By following the plan, I have been able to give my children a good education and a better chance in life.

FREEZER NEEDS SOLID FLOOR

If you are planning for a new freezer, check your floor to see if it needs reinforcement or new flooring. The average freezer will just about double its natural weight when filled to capacity.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Forest fires destroy young seedlings, weakens or kills older trees, and destroys the humus and litter on the ground.

TRACTOR GEAR LUBRICATION

Because gear lubricants are not consumed rapidly and a daily check of lubricant level and condition is not required, many farmers forget to lubricate the transmission on their tractor for an entire season. To avoid neglect, make a seasonal change of transmission lubrication each fall and spring.

Her next training was obtained in New York where she did post-graduate work at Stanley's in hair analysis, styling and anatomy. These schools are among the most widely known of all beauty schools in the nation.

Miss Duffel has made beauty work her career and is thoroughly familiar with all phases of this work. She has worked as operator and manager for a number of years during which time she taught vocational training in connection with high school courses. For the past four years, she has served as field technician, serving as instructor in advance training during conventions and beauty shows throughout the South for manufacturers in New York and Chicago.

Miss Duffel will become a partner with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Blake, of Prattville, who recently purchased the Modern Beauty Shop and will do specialized work together with her duties as manager. She will be very happy to make her experience available to anyone needing professional advice regarding their beauty problems without obligation. CHILTON COUNTY LOCAL BOARD NO. 11

Chilton County Local Board No. 11 will be located at Mullins & Scott Building, Clanton, Ala., according to an announcement issued by Mr. J. D. Mullins, chairman; G. O. Willingham, member.

The first consideration, in locating the Local Board office, was given to central location relative to population of the county, but, due to the extreme shortage of office space, what would have been an ideal location was impossible to obtain. It therefore became necessary for the Local Board to accept the space which, in its opinion, was most accessible and conveniently located, of all space available, to a majority of the registrants of the county.

HIGH MAN ELECTED IN CITY RACE

In the City Election to be held next September 20th, the man that gets the most votes for Mayor is the winning candidate. Several have inquired as to whether or not there would be a run-off election but there will not be one.

The same rule applies to the City Council race. The five men getting the most votes in the race for Councilman will be elected. This opinion was issued by the Attorney General Monday of this week.

TO THE VOTERS OF CLANTON

[illegible] October, 1934—was [illegible] for four years. My [illegible] given to the affairs [illegible] am now in position to, and [illegible]

My previous services as Mayor [illegible] be cited as records of progress [illegible] during my administration that the present water filtering plant was built and the connection by pipe line with Yellow Leaf Creek four miles distant for a supply of water ample for a city many times larger than Clanton is today.

The extension of the city limits, the water and sewer pipes to the added territory affording the increased population of the city pure water, sanitary benefits and fire protection.

The hundreds of new houses built since then in the new section and being built today, proves conclusively that the city officials were entirely right in extending the limits over the protests of many citizens about ten years ago. The City Hall was erected—the concrete bridge on Lay Dam Road was built and the one near Dennis and Popwells Gins.

About eight miles of paving in the residential section was done, and miles of water and sewer pipe was laid. Two large water tanks near the filtering plant was built,—yearly donations of money made to the City Schools, and many other improvements I will not mention, all of which was accomplished for the City without any increase in taxes.

The present Mayor and Council I commend for the development of its will do everything I can to complete splendid recreational program, and I this project and put it on a self-supporting, paying basis soon as possible. Some other attractions can be added for the pleasure and benefit of the young people and adults too, and I will be glad to recommend such expansion to the Council.

All of you know me, and you know my record as a citizen, and in business for myself. My administration as Mayor, I think is generally approved. You know whether you want me again for your Mayor, then why should I disturb you by calling at your home, or place of business just to ask you a second time to vote for me—is this letter not sufficient?

I want to keep Clanton in high gear, without any reverses on to greater prosperity, and I will appreciate you giving me this opportunity. I am opposed to any increase in property tax without first, submitting the proposition to a vote of the people.

C. FENN JONES.

NAVY TO TRAIN FLIERS AT BIRMINGHAM AIRPORT

A Naval Air Reserve Station will be established at the Birmingham Municipal Airport about September 15, Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman and Congressman Laurie Battle said they had been advised by the Secretary of the Navy. Birmingham city authorities previously had agreed to provide facilities for the station.

The station, which will replace the present Volunteer Unit at the Birmingham Airport, will require a complement of 12 officers and 120 enlisted men and will train a carrier air group, patrol squadron and plane servicing unit.

A joint statement from Hill, Sparkman and Battle added that the station would be established with 50 planes available for training, which later would be expanded to 70. The planes will include 18 fighters, 10 dive and torpedo bombers, 14 training planes and 8 patrol bombers.

Establishment of the Naval Air Station means the Birmingham Airport will provide training facilities for three branches of the armed forces. Training stations have been in operation for some time for National Guard and Air Force Reserve units.

The station will be under the command of Lieutenant Commander R. R. Carlyle. Commander Carlyle, a native of Birmingham, has seen service in the Coast Guard, Army ferry service and as a Navy flier.

Citizens of Chilton County can continue to demonstrate their faith in democracy by regular purchases of U.S. Government bonds.

A leader is a man who gets things done, not a man whose only ability is to criticize what others do.

Summer has about departed according to the calendar, but with the City election coming up, we think things will be hot enough.

With the boys and girls of Chilton County going off to college in a week or so, why not give them a subscription to Chilton County News? It's like a letter from home.

No matter how much money man makes, he always wants to make more. That is usually where he plays thunder. He loses touch of the finer things that make life worth living.

We will have statesmen in our government when statesmenship gets votes.

DEVELOP BODIES AND MINDS

School officials should not overlook the importance of adequate physical education in their school program.

It is a fine thing to train a mind and make a child mentally alert, but it is just as important to teach a pupil how to take proper care of his body and to maintain good health.

Many a valuable citizen has been lost to a community by ill health. There can be no divorcement of the mental and physical development of the individual. "A sound mind in a sound body" is a sensible goal for educational efforts.

EXIT BASEBALL, ENTER FOOTBALL

We have endured these months of heat and baseball and now watch the approach of the season of King Football with relish. Baseball may be the national sport, but for us there is nothing to compare with the thrills and spills of football that will come with the tangy fall evenings.

Baseball is a fine sport that requires great skill and ability. It has its thrills such as a tight pitcher's duel or a ninth inning rally. It has the spectacle of the homerun and the stolen base. But its greatest appeal to the fan is that anyone can become familiar with and understand the game with far greater ease than any other game.

But, we are anxiously awaiting the kickoff in September. For, to us, there is nothing more pleasing than the blaring bands in colorful uniform, the twinkling legs of prancing drum majorettes, the roar of the crowd that accompany that game of games, football. What is more thrilling than to see a fleet-footed halfback weave his way for fifty or sixty yards for the game winning touchdown, or a staunch, wide-shouldered tackle slam one of the enemy to the ground for a loss to end a threatening drive?

Depart the scene Baseball. You have worn us weary. Make way for fall's favorite son, kingpin of competitive sport, Mr. Football. — Evergreen Courant.

Looking At The Record: That was a slight error last week in regards to the length of service Mr. Fenn Jones had given the City. The record shows that Mr. Jones has served Clanton two terms as Mayor. He was first elected in 1934 when the term was for two years. Then in 1936 he was elected for a four year term. During his last term most of Clanton's streets were paved. The bridge on Lay Dam Road was constructed. The City Limits were extended. The new filtering plant was built and water lines run to Yellow Leaf Creek. The present City Hall was built.

While we are on the subject we might as well mention that just after we put the paper to bed last week Mr. Earl Ellis announced that he was also a qualified candidate for the office of Mayor. Mr. Ellis, son of Mr. John Ellis, is well known in Clanton, having spent his entire life here with the exception of a few trips away like when there was a war, etc. The other candidate, as we mentioned last week, is Mr. Arthur Taylor.

* * *

"'Sa funny thing, but we can't even write a front page news item that some one doesn't come running and say we are supporting this or that person, or thing, because we gave them, or it, a write-up. No sooner had we published last week than someone came around and said that we were supporting Mr. Taylor for mayor. This is not so. At the time it was written no other candidate had qualified for the office and it was straight news. In the first place if you will take the trouble to ask our present mayor you will find that we can't even vote. The second place and third place don't matter, does it?

Shades of Lochanvar. He was the fellow that rode out of the West to lend aid to all females, wasn't he? Well, the other day, we went into the post office just ahead of a very pretty lady and to play the gallant one we hesitated until she caught up and held the door open for her. You know what she did? She went in the other door. The one on the left as you go in—we were holding open the one on the right. A few minutes later we started in the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Store. The same thing happened. We stepped back, held the door open and said: "Walk in." She looked at us rather pathetic and said: "Young man, if you don't mind, I'm going up the street." That did it. From this day forward if you hear of a lady having a door turned loose right in her face, you will probably be right if you say we did it.

The best stories do not always make the newspapers.

* * *

We're just waiting to see what happens when that crew of men that are digging up the streets for the new cable get to the street at the Big Four Hardware Company. That being our only outlet to the west side of town now that the Selma Road intersection is blocked will place us in quite a predictament to say the least. Second Avenue is loaded with traffice these days, even a train stop causes a minor traffie tie-up.

* * *

Learning that his colored worker had become the father of twins a man asked him if he had named them. "Yassuh, I calls the first one Adagio Tillagro, and I'm going to call the other one Encore." "Well, I see you are musical, Rastus, but why do you call the second one Encore?" "Well, you see, he wasn't on the program."

* * *

The traffic signals
Got him mixed.
He crossed the street,
Then crossed the Styx.

* * *

In speaking of the coming race for Mayor, Mr. Tom McKee says that anyone knowing what the job pays and knowing the cussing he will get and still dumb enough to run for the office hasn't got sense enough to be Mayor, so he just won't vote for anyone.

* * *

Seems S. E. Scott and James Parr were at the City Grill drinking coffee when the subject came up about the cable laying on the street outside. What James wanted to know was how they got the wires through the pipes after they had placed them in the ditch and covered them with dirt and laid the sidewalk back in place. Scott told him: "They take a cat and tie a string to his tail and place a saucer of milk at the other end of the pipe. The cat smells the milk and runs through the pipe to get the milk and draws the string behind him." Very simple, but suppose the cat smelled a rat?

PARABLE OF THE DRAG NET

The Scripture text for this parable is in Matthew 13:47-50. "Again the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind. Which, when it was full, they drew to shore and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away; so shal it be at the end of the world; the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just. And shal cast them into the furnace of fire There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth."

In this parable, the net represents the kingdom of heaven, not the Gospel of Jesus Christ; not the church, but only the kingdom. The same as in the parable of the Wheat and Tares, the field represented the kingdom, and not the church. This kingdom of heaven has been cast out into the sea of humanity, the nations of the world. Christ said that the gospel of the "kingdom" shall be preached to all nations, for a witness to all nations. There is a difference between the Gospel of Grace, and that of the kingdom. The kingdom has gathered within itself both good and bad. The same truth is depicted in the parable of the Wheat and Tares; but in this parable of the Drag Net, it is man own activity in casting the net, and fishing for, not only the good, but catching the bad also. Such is the result of the so-called high-powered evangelistic revivals or campaigns. Some good fish are caught, but in the same net the unconverted are caught also. Those membership drives always result in getting the unconverted into the kingdom as well as a few converted people.

But thank God the parable teaches a separation of the bad from among the good some day. The separation will take place when Christ shall send forth his angels to sever the wicked from among the good. The bad shall be cast into the lake of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. The good shall be gathered into his safe keeping vessels. In the Father's house there are many mansions. He has gone to prepare a place for His own.

Note: Watch for next week's sermon!

Attendance at Sunday School and B.T.U. was well attended, but there could have been lots more.

We were very glad to have Rev. and Mrs. S. O. Headley with us at B.T.U. Sunday night. We invite them back each and every time they can come.

Next Sunday is our regular preaching date by our pastor, Bro. Crumpton. Remember Sunday School isn't until 1 o'clock next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lenoir and daughter, Sharon, spent the week end with Mrs. Hattie Lenoir and family; also visited Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Higgins are the proud grandparents of twins, born on August 8th to Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Smith. They have named them Norma Helen and Homer Selton.

Miss Bettye Jean Smith of Ensley is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Lenoir.

The Thursday night singing was well attended, but we want to see more next Thursday night. We are expecting people of Mt. Pleasant to be with us. The church has bought two dozen Silver Tone song books. They are ready for use now. So everybody come out Thursday night and help in this singing.

Remember Sunday School at 1:00 o'clock; preaching at 2:00. Everyone come and bring someone with you.—Minnie Mae Davenport, Reporter.

HIGHLAND

We want to report our revival meeting held here last week. Although we received only four members into church, it was a wonderful revival.

Bro. Paul Oden brought soul-stirring messages each time. Tongue cannot tell what blessings and what joy and renewing faith we have all received because of having attended those servires.

Let's not let this revival of love for God and for each other die out of our hearts. It isn't enough just to acknowledge the great truths that have been preached to us, but we must cherish them in our hearts and put them in practice in our daily lives. Let's stay on the firing line until the end and we will continue to receive a blessing and a great reward at the end.

Bro. Mooney, a young ministerial student at the Bible Institute in Atlanta, brought a very wonderful message after the baptismal service on Sunday morning, August 22nd. It is amazing to see one so young, preach with such power and be so much on fire for God as this young preacher is. We hope he can come our way again soon.

We appreciate all the visitors and everything that anyone contributed towards the success of our revival last week.

Everyone come to Sunday School next Sunday. — Reporter.

"BATTLING" BILL BRANNER

This man Bill Branner is a professional fighter, and was at one time Middle Weight Champion of the South He has fought some of the best boys in the nation. He is known in the fight game as a clean fighter and a No. 1 sportsman.

In interviewing Mr. Branner this, in part, is what he said:

"I have never lost or won a fight on a foul. Having followed the professional boxing game for over 20 years I never did like the fighting part of it, I like it for the sport."

"I feel just this way about it: I started boxing here in Clanton and all the boys that started with me, were whipped. So if they can take it, so can I. I will be like a captain on a sinking ship, I will go down with them.

"I have all respect for Irby as a boxer and a puncher. I still can punch myself. I know when he goes back to Sylacauga he can tell the boys back home—he had a fight.

I have entered the ring over 300 times. Many times against men who were much better than I, but I still say tha 50% of the fights are won within the mind."

These bouts are sponsored by the Lions Club and all profit goes to putting a White Way here in Clanton and to help the Under-privilege Children.

Mr. Branner is a member of the Lions Club here. We say "Hurrah" for Bill, and we are backing him to the limit.

M-SGT. JOHN N. EDENFIELD

Refereeing the coming fight between Clanton's "Battling Bill" Branner and Bill Irby from Sylacauga on September 3rd, will be M-Sgt. John N. Edenfield of the U. S. Recruiting Service, Birmingham.

Edenfield is a licensed referee for boxing and wrestling in Alabama. He also holds a license in 14 other States.

At present Sgt. Edenfield is working with Promoter Joe Gunther, refereeing wrestling in Birmingham.

Edenfield is widely recognized for his fairness in the ring. He was called in Texas to referee the Leroy McGuirk-Georgeous George fight when neither could be satisfied with the officials who had been working there. The Lions Club was fortunate to secure the services of this capable and widely-known referee.

Sgt. Edenfield will also act as the official judge.

Ordinarily, three rinsing waters are necessary for thorough removal of soap and dirt from clothes. The first rinse water should be warm, the next two lukewarm or cool.

To prevent light colored fruit such as apples, pears and peaches from darkening, drop them into a vinegar solution. Use two tablespoons of salt and two tablespoons of vinegar to a gallon of water. Fruit should have a slight rinse before canning.

go with an Army job in Japan!

How times have changed.

Three years ago, when our first victorious combat men left Japan, much of it was a shambles. The Japanese people were so dazed by defeat they didn't know which way to turn. The life of an Army man often had its discomforts.

But look at him today! He's helped to start the rebuilding of Japan, to restore roads and railways, to inspire a tired and hungry people with the hope of Democracy. Under his guiding hand, courts of justice, woman suffrage and freedom of worship have been brought about. In Japan there is only one soldier for every 400 Japanese — the smallest per capita occupation army in the world.

The pay of a Private is 50% higher than three years ago, then another 20% higher overseas. And almost every cent can be banked. None of it goes for food, housing, medical or dental care, clothing, retirement annuity, or the opportunity to continue his education. The Army furnishes him equipment for organized sports. While on leave, he can ski in winter or visit summer resorts at a fraction of what these activities would cost him in the U. S.

An Army career in Japan is full of advantages such as these. Compare it with any job across the board — you'll find it hard to beat! Ask at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station for full details.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Joe Gibson, Euell Killingsworth and O. H. Lawrence, all cooperators of the North Central Soil Conservation District, are harvesting sericea quality hay. Usually the sericea is on land that formerly would not produce over 10 bushels of corn per acre. The yield of sericea hay is from one half to one ton per acre. J. N. Dennis is harvesting his kobe lespedeza and should get a sufficient crop of seed produced to re-seed the area next spring.

Audie L. Brown, Verbena Route 1, has applied most all of the conservation practices call for in his soil and water conservation form plan. Audie is now spreading compost on approximately one and one-half acres which he will plant to alfalfa this fall. Audie is one of the very few farmers in Chilton County that has too much grazing for the livestock he has.

Bretton Nelson has what he thinks is a very good pasture; and you won't have to look twice to agree with him. His cows are grazing sericea along with bottom land pasture. Every time that I have passed there, the cows are in the sericea and not on the bottom pasture.

S. D. Posey, Jemison Route 1, has applied the conservation practices cal for in his conservation farm plan, sc he and his dad have been measurin the results they have received from their sericea. S. D. state, "I am goi to sow the rest of my farm next sprin

Now is a good time to plow and drain those wet area s in your field. If land preparation is done now while it is dry, seeding can be done this fall. Put those idle and unproductive acres to work.

Bonnie Wilson has clipped the grass and weeds that were shading his young sericea. If you have a condition like his, you will profit by doing the same.

PROVIDENCE — BEAT 13

We had a wonderful revival last week. Bro. Lowery brought some stirring messages, and eight people were saved.

We will have our baptizing the third Sunday afternoon in September at Lake Forest.

We had a good crowd at Sunday School and Bible Quiz Sunday. We trust it will continue to grow.

Everybody remember our annual twilight singing next third Sunday night. We invite all singers and listeners. We are expecting the Deason Quartet from Calera and several other good singers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gore are visiting Mrs. Annis Martin and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Green over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lucas and granddaughter, Ann, from Birmingham, visited Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sample Saturday.

SHILOH

We had a very nice crowd at church Sunday and Sunday night.

All of the church's members are requested to be there next Sunday, since it is time to call a pastor for the following year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and children of Johns, Ala., visited Mr. Evans Sunday.

One Way to Make Extra Money

Ben Ryder, who owns a farm just out of town, figured a way to make extra money from that unused pasture on the highway. He opened up a trailer camp, and now has eighteen tenants on his land.

At first, Ben thought it was just a matter of putting up a sign. Then he learned he had to get a license making him responsible for sanitation, adequate plumbing facilities, clean water, wiring and anything else affecting the welfare of his tenants.

Like places selling beer, for instance. Their license commits them to definite responsibilities and subjects them to continual inspection. And the brewers themselves, under their program of Self Regulation, see that all outlets toe the line.

From where I sit, Self Regulation—whether applied to trailer camps or beer outlets—is not only a blessing to the public, it's good business practice, too!

CONSIDER GOVERNMENT LOAN ON COTTON URGED

As this year's cotton crop is to be the largest since 1937, B. L. Collins, PMA state executive officer, reminds farmers to consider the government loan on cotton.

He urges farmers to compare the advantages of this loan, a protection against serious price breaks, with the market price of cotton.

Mr. Collins says that the basic loan rate for 7-8 inch middling cotton is 28.79 cents per pound, and 30.74 cents per pound for 15-16 inch middling.

For further details, check with local PMA offices, he suggested.

PLAN TO MAKE BEST USE OF FALL RAINS

Those who plant vegetable crops in the early fall are thinking about the moisture needed to get stands.

"Of interest, then," says Lyle Brown API extension horticulturist, "are records showing that the equinox coming on September 21 usually brings rain.' He points out that over a 25-year period, a yearly average of one and one-half to two inches of rain has fallen around that date.

"This means that if land is prepared and ready for planting about September 21, you can count on enough moisture to get the fall garden off to a good start," says Brown.

HOW TO CONTROL WORMS ON CORN AND PEANUTS

Worms that have seriously damaged southeast Alabama corn and peanuts are moving northward, W. A. Ruffin, API extension entomologist, warned farmers this week.

He said growers need to use cryolite or DDT to stop these pests, which he listed as the fall army worm, velvet-

Ruffin points out that cryolite can be used on both corn and peanuts. Apply it at the rate of 25 to 40 pounds per acre, depenling upon the crop and bean caterpillar or peanut worm, and corn earworm.

size of plants. It will take 24 to 72 hours to get a good kill of worms with cryolite.

He explains that a dust containing 10 per cent DDT will give good control of these worms within 24 hours. However, he warns that DDT should not be applied to crops that are to be used for hay or forage. If DDT is to be used, Ruffin recommends that 10 to 25 pounds per acre be applied.

PLANT RUTABAGAS EARLY THIS FALL

One of the things to remember about American Purple Top rutabagas is to plant them early in the fall.

Lyle Brown, API extension horticulturist, explains that they take about six weeks longer to grow than other types. After being harvested, they can be stored in banks ilke sweetpotatoes and kept through the winter.

"Before planting, apply 4-10-7 fertilizer at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre," advises Brown. "After plants are thinned, side dress with nitrogen."

WATERPROOFING OUTSIDE WALLS

For waterproofing outside walls made of concrete blocks, use cement paint. Block walls should age at least 48 hours more before the finish coat is applied. The cement paint should be thoroughly scrubbed into the surface.

CALL FOR ENRICHED CORN MEAL

Important health-protecting vitamins and minerals added to enriched corn meal are calcium, iron, thiamin, known as vitamin B1, riboflavin, and niacin.

CHANGE TRACTOR OIL

Failure to observe the recommended oil drain practice and oil filter service will result in a clogged oil filter and lead to coated oil screens, plugged oil lines, scarred pictons, and burned bearings on your tractor.

SIMPLE CLOTHES MEAN COMFORT FOR BABIES

"Dressing up baby in fancy frills may be fun for mother," says [illegible] API extension clothing specialist, "but baby's comfort and freedom for exercise and growth should be considered."

She recommends that clothes be short, lightweight, and loose in style. For daytime wear, use simple slips rather than dresses. Slips should be no longer than toe length to allow the baby to kick and develop leg and body muscles. Roomy raglan-style sleeves give freedom for arms and shoulders.

Miss Ellis emphasizes the fact that simple clothes with few seams are both becoming and comfortable for babies.

FACTS ABOUT REMOVING DIRT FROM FURNITURE

Furniture that has had too many heavy applications of wax or polish without sufficient rubbing and polishing gathers and holds dirt and dust.

"Other ways that furniture becomes soiled,' says Alice Peavy, API extension home management [illegible] by handling, or by smoke, steam, house dust, and grease settling on the surface."

She reveals that dirt found on varnished furniture may be removed with soap and water or with linseed oil, turpentine and hot water. Furniture finished with a shellac or cheap varnish, however, should not be washed with water as it may turn white.

"Ask the local home demonstration agent for full details about removing dirt from furniture," suggests Miss Peavy.

KEEP RAINWATER ON THE FARM

Terracing, contour farming, and close growing vegetation such as small grain, legumes, and grass sod will help slow up the runoff water so that it can soak into the soil.

SALT FOR SWINE

In hot weather, pigs need salt. When they are fed enough ordinary salt, records show they gain up to two and one-half times faster than pigs that get no salt.

ATTENTION- YOUNG MEN

Any veteran, ages 35 to 64, is eligible for enlistment, providing his service in the armed forces was honorable.

TELEPHONE FACILITIES IN CLANTON TO BE ENLARGED

Installation of underground conduit is being placed on 7th Street and 2nd Ave., which will provide for the future growth in Clanton, according to Mr. C. L. Lott, District Manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

There will be 57,000 feet of cable placed throughout the entire City sufficient to permit the installation of approximately 558 new telephones. This cable is designed for expected growth for the next ten years.

The enlargement project, which will involve an expenditure of some $75,000.00 was started August 16, 1948, and is scheduled for completion December 1, 1948.

The work will mark another step forward in the telephone company' plan to expand and improve service through the Clanton area.

Mr. Lott revealed that in spite of material shortages and manufacturing difficulties, 909 new telephones were installed in Clanton during the period from July 31, 1941, to July 31, 1948.

"Our first objective is to provide service as soon as possible for [illegible] are waiting for telephones throughout the city. This will require a large amount of construction and installation of telephone equipment which will take some time to complete. However, this work is being pushed with all possible speed."

"We are making progress toward our goal of providing more and better telephone service for everybody. But we still have 684 people in the Clanton area waiting for telephones. The new equipment to be installed this year will be a big step forward in providing these people with service," Mr. Lott stated.

5,000 Extra Bonus Votes Given On Each Year Until Close Sept. 11th

Important Information Regarding Close Given Below, Read Carefully

Our exciting little Baby Contest which has created so much good natured rivalry, and aroused so much interest in this section for the past several weeks, will be brought to a close Saturday evening, September 11th, that's one week from this forthcoming Saturday.

Because of the fact that the next issue of the News will not be in your hands until a comparatively few [illegible] before the close, we want to take this opportunity to call your attention to a few pertinent facts regarding the close of this splendid baby affair, and at the same time, speak a few words of advice and encouragement to the parents and friends of the various little ones whose efforts have been expended generously for their own little treasures.

Seven o'clock in the evening of Saturday, September 11th, has been selected as the closing hour. At that time the door to our office will be closed and locked and latecomers will not be admitted until we have settled with all the workers then present and the ballot box has been turned over to the gentlemen who will make the final tabulation of votes. When this has been done, the door will be open and those interested can remain in our office until the judges have completed their work and return to announce the winners.

All certificates for votes that may be in your possession, must be in the ballot box when it is turned over to the judges, otherwise they will not be counted. And with this warning, the publisher of this newspaper refuses to accept the responsibility for any that are not in the ballot box. Don't discover after the judges have departed with the box that you have some certificates which you have forgotten to deposit; they will not be counted and the fault will be strictly your own. It probably would be a good idea to deposit them early in the day then any you may pick up later on, can be deposited as you get them. The votes found in the box will be added to the baby's last vote in the paper and that will be its final vote.

It will not be necessary for the parents to be here when the final count is made. We will be glad to have you, of course, but if you find it inconvenient to do so, be sure that your certificates, and final subscriptions, reach our office before the closing hour.

No votes can be transferred from one baby to another. If a baby drops out of the race, their votes go with it.

The final bonus will be one of 5,000 extra votes, given on each one year subscription to the News, that shall be turned in between now and the close. If you get a 2-year subscription you will be given two bonuses. These extra votes will be in addition to the regular votes and will apply to both old and new subscriptions. The list of voting shown in today's paper is the last one that will appear until the final votes are published. These votes are the ones that will be turned over to the judges to which they will add the votes found in the ballot box.

The votes shown in the list today are no indication of the real strength of most of the little ones. Many of the workers have been accumulating a reserve supply of votes to deposit the last day so don't rely too strongly on their present vote as shown today, in trying to determine who the final winners will be. One thing you can rely upon though, is that nearly every little sweetheart remaining in the list must be considered as a prospective first prize winner. Whether they prove to be or not will depend largely upon the sort of results they secure during this final period.

This method of conducting the campaign is for the safety and protection of all those who have worked hard and unfalteringly to the end that their own little darling may be acclaimed the winner in the most appealing and stirring affairs of this kind ever conducted hereabouts. Effort personality and sustained campaigning, are the only factors by which victory can be attained—and that, dear readers, is just the way it should be. No one will have any knowledge as to what any little one possesses in the way of votes, nor will they have any idea of the number they will have to have in order to win.

The contest itself, has every indication of being a very close one, so keep this fact ever uppermost in your mind during these last few days. One or two subscriptions, that you could have gotten—and did not, may be just the ones that will be the cause of baby's defeat; don't let this happen in your case at least. Get in touch with all the friends you have not solicited up to the present, search out every nook and corner where a subscription might be picked up and work as you never did before for the glory and prestige of your little one—what a wonderful cause to work for; the interest of a little child. Win or lose, it's a heart-warming thought.

The gentlemen who are to make the final count of votes are now being selected and their names will be announced next week.

CHRISTIAN TRAINING AT FIRST BAPTIST

"The World At Its Worst. . . Needs Christian Workers At Their Best" courses for pastors and lay church workers in Bible interpretation, doctrine, evangelism, preparation and delivery of messages, English, methods of carrying on church work and many other important themes.

No special requirements in previous training are made for entrance. Anyone may enroll. College credits are available for those who qualify. Howard College extension centers for Christian training are held in the following towns in Alabama: Andalusia, Anniston, Bessemer, Birmingham, Clanton, Cullman, Decatur, Dixiana, Dothan Fayette, Fyffe, Gadsden, Georgiana, Haleyville, Huntsville, Jackson, Jasper, Landgale, Lineville, Mobile, Montgomery Oneonta, Phenix City Robertsdale, Sylacauga, Tuscaloosa and Tuscumbia.

This department has been created to meet the need and the urgent demand across the State of Alabama for facilities for training preachers and lay workers in the churches. The particular aim of the department is to serve those who, for various reasons, cannot attend college or seminary. Many others who have already had some college or seminary training are also taking advantage of the courses offered in the several centers now established.

Courses are open to all religious workers without restriction as to age or academic training; but credit for the courses will be given to only those whose pevious training meets the customary standards for admission to college.

Certificates will be given for the completion of thirty-six quarter hours of work.

Much time is wasted by listening to others talk.

Believe it or not, but two-thirds of 1948 has gone.

Being careful is less painful than being injured—and less expensive, too.

Well, girls, Leap Year is two-thirds gone. How have you been making out?

Clanton may not be perfect, but then, few of her citizens are either.

There are always people who believe in hard work and low pay for other people.

Never forget that your real income is what you can buy with the money you make.

We have heard people in Clanton say they are ready for Winter weather again.

The football season and the Presidential campaign will soon fight it out for the headlines.

Business men who are too modest to toot their own horns will not continue in business long.

Laws and commandments, in the hands of a great many people, were made to guide other people.

We think it is much better for the United States to be over-prepared than to be under-prepared.

TO MAKE LIFE BETTER

It is important for us to understand the values of urban life and to appreciate the advantages that it brings to human beings. We must, of course, accept the responsibilities associated with its existence.

Here, in Clanton, we have hundreds of families, living together to enjoy the benefits which none could possess living alone. If we are to secure the maximum results from our urban civilization, we should understand the possibilities of urban civilization and make a concerted intelligent effort to capitalize upon them as far as possible.

Clanton, of course, like every other municipality, has its selfish citizens, who are here solely to get something for themselves, without having to vision to comprehend the greater benefits which would be theirs if they cooperated with other citizens for mutual profit. We do not denounce selfish individuals because we recognize that they are the product of ignorance and the result of their inability to think clearly.

We have also, in our midst, many individuals who are considered public-spirited and generous. Some of them are intelligent and some of them are as ignorant as the selfish group. It is not enough for a man or woman to be carelessly generous or haphazardly public-spirited. Urban life, to reach its full fruition, must be the result of intelligent planning, well directed energy and steady, persistent activity.

The progress of this community is not to be measured by the exceptional individual, whether they be at the top or the bottom of the social scale. Our progress depends upon the average life of those who live in Clanton, whatever that average existence might be. It is built upon the general level of intelligence, health, prosperity and the development of all peoples who live in our midst.

It is essential, in connection with planning of the progress of Clanton, that all of us understand that its progress must be based upon mass improvement, rather than upon individual achievement. A few brilliant individuals, leading the parade, are very important but more valuable is the personnel of the rank and file of marchers and extremely dangerous are the scattered spectators who, for one reason or another, do not partake of the social movement although they stand ready to swoop and secure the gains.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Once again politics warm up, but this time on a much smaller scale. This week we are referring to the local election that will be held on the 20th of this month. At the wind-up we found three men on the ticket for the office of Mayor. Taking them by their seniority as members of the human race they are: C. Fenn Jones, Mr. Arthur Taylor and Mr. Erle Ellis. You have three age groups to choose from in that line-up. (And if we don't stop talking about peoples age, we are going to get into a nasty predicament.) From the side-line where we always sit, it looks like the Ellis forces are going to put on an advertising campaign that will let the people know who their candidate is. Erle is the youngest member of the three-man ticket. Naturally there is nothing we like better than a nice warm political scrap with us carrying the publicity at so much per line. That's what keeps Chilton county peas and cornbread on our table.

* * *

Speaking of peas, our good friend, J. L. Penton, brought us a beautiful basket—or was it a sack—of peas last week. We couldn't eat them all and took most of them to those pore souls in Jefferson county who can't get the best things to eat like we folks in Chilton County. They thought they were mighty good peas too. They were the prettiest we have ever seen.

* * *

Did you hear about the two skeletons standing in the closet. We have told just about everybody; the story struck us as being funny. These two skeletons were standing in the closet talking and one skeleton asked the other skeleton why he stayed in that old hot, stuffy closet. The second skeleton answered: "Well, I'll tell you. If I had any guts I would leave."

* * *

B. N. and John Studdard promised us a picture of them with a few strings of fish, taken on their vacation last week, but we haven't seen anything of it yet. John says that it was the nicest string that we have seen in a mighty long time, but so far, that's just another fish tale—we haven't seen any proof. When we do we are going to run the picture, so you readers just keep watch. We are going to call John's bluff.

* * *

The guys with the big ditch running down the main street fooled us. You remember last week we were wondering what they would do when they reached the corner at the Big Four Hardware. Well, they turned down the hill and went out Second Avenue through West End. But no kidding, something is going to have to be done about the traffic across that railroad when a train stops there now and backs up traffic it takes as long as twenty or thirty minutes now to go two or three blocks.

* * *

One of our farmer friends the other day was talking to a local merchant who told him he had sold him a chicken that didn't have a wishbone. The farmer came back with: "That chicken didn't need a wishbone. He lived such a contented life that he had nothing to wish for."

* * *

Next week this time schools in the county will be going full blast. And if you think we don't mean "full-blast," ask any first, second or third grade teacher. Anyway, it reminds us of the od one where the little girl asked the teacher what held us on this earth. The teacher told her that it was the law of gravity. "Well," asked the little girl, "what held us on before the law was passed."

TITHING

Choosing for my subject, "Tithing, or God's Financial System for the Church." There is always a reluctance on the part of most preachers to speak on the subject of "Tithing." They are aware of the fact that they may be accused of selfishness or personal gain. But as the ministers of God, we are to declare the whole council of God. It is woe unto us if we preach not the Gospel, and Tithing is a portion of the Gospel of God.

There are two ways of supporting the ministry of the Church. One is "Tipping," and the other is the Bible way of "Tithing." To "tip" the Church, is to give a small amount of money for service received. The amount you tip shows your gratitude for what the Church, and the Gospel ministry has meant to you and your life. "Tithing, on the other hand, means paying the tenth of your net income into the Church treasury for the support of the Gospel ministry in carrying out the commission of preaching the Gospel to all nations, that whosoever believeth might be saved. The tithing system is a law as old as the devotion of the human heart, and as laudable as the highest graces of the individual soul in worship to the Almighty God.

In the Bible the words "Tithe". . . "Tenth" . . . and "First Fruit" are used somewhat interchangeably to mean the same thing. Tithe means the tenth, and refers to the tenth of our income, but when referring to the tenth of the crops and fruits, it is spoken of as the "First Fruits." The First Fruit then must be equivalent to the tenth, or tithe.

Many people, because they fail to carefully study the Word of God, have gotten the misleading idea that tithing belong only to the Mosaic Law, and the period of that law, and not to the day in which we live. But a careful unbased study of the Word of God will reveal how greatly mistaken such people are in their unbelief. Tithing does belong to the dispensation of grace. In the fourth Chapter of Genesis, nearly two thousand years before Moses was born, and hence before the Mosaic Law was given, Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord, and Abel brought of the firstlings of his flock; thus showing plainly that tithing in principle originated shortly after Adam and Eve sinned in the Garden of Eden. Please keep this in mind regarding the origin of the tithing system and principle.

In Genesis 14:17-20 we have a record that Abraham, who is the father of the faithful, and a type of the true Christian who is justified by faith in Jesus Christ, paid tithes to Melchisedec, the Priest of the most High God. And the Apostle Paul referring to this even in Gal. 3:29 says, "If ye be Christ's then are Abraham's seed, thus not only establishing the relationship between Abraham and the Christians of today, but giving us the connecting link between Christ and Melchisedec. Both Priest of the Most High God, a Priesthood abiding forever. Jesus Christ, who is the Priest forever after the order of Melchisedec, by his death on the Cross, accomplished two notable things. First, He became the end of the Mosaic Law; Second, the order of Melchisedec was restored. Abraham being justified by faith proves the abolition of the law in Christ; and the perpetuation of the law of the tithes and justification by faith. Abraham was blessed by paying tithes to Melchisedec, the type of Christ; so all true faithful Christians are justified by faith in Jesus Christ, and they are blessed in paying tithes as Abraham's seed according to promise. Tithes are to be paid into Christ's Church for the establishing of His cause and kingdom in the hearts of men. Tithing is to continue as long as Jesus Christ remains our High Priest, which is forever.

MOSQUITO CUTTING STATE EGG OUTPUT

This insect, the Culex quinquefasciatus, was found in high percentages in chicken houses on more than 200 Alabama farms last year, according to an Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station report.

This specie composed over 95 per cent of all mosquitoes found, and 95 per cent of them fed on chickens in preference to other animals.

The appearance of this particular mosquito is good reason for Alabama farmers to carry out a good sanitation prgram," said the reprt. "Since this mosquito will breed in any stagnant water, all water-holding containers such as old tin cans, barrels, buckets, and bottles need to be cleaned up around the home. Chicken houses and other outbuildings, including the barn, should be sprayed with a two to five per cent DDT solution, which will not only reduce this and other mosquitoes, but will help keep down flies."

Miss Piper and Miss Peggy Blewster, both contestants in our recent Peach Festival Queen Contest, were not participants in the contest, but were invited guests. They shared the same entertainment as the other girls, except that they did not make the trip to Cuba. Among some of the highlights of the trip were:

Dinner at Robert Richter Hotel, get acquainted party at Harvey's Club Ball, sight-seeing trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., which was sponsored by the City officials of that city.
